Concert Series Ticket Sale Gives Spurt as Week Draws to Close

TICKETS ARE ON SALE AT BOOTH IN QUAD EVERY DAY

Sale of Concert Series tickets at State has taken a sharp upward turn and there is every indication that this year's sale of tickets will exceed that of the preceding year. Miss Cowan, San Francisco representative of the National Broadcasting Company's artists service, is personally supervising the sale of tickets. Prominent service clubs in San Jose are interested in the project, and promise co-operation.

Tickets at Quad

Tickets are on sale at the booth in the quad. Student price for the three concerts is $1.00; those outside the school will be required to pay $1.50. The price is phenomenally low for concerts of this caliber—a single concert is worth the price paid for the three.

October 10 to October 14 is the date for reservation of seats. All holders of green State Concert Series tickets may exchange them for reserve seat tickets in the quad during that time. After 2 p. m. tickets may be reserved at Sherman Clay and Company.

The Concert Series has taken on added importance. San Jose State is the only State Teachers college in California to attempt a concert course of this type. Musical organizations in San Jose are looking to this series as the remaining spark to kindle the latent musical interest of the valley. This Series is becoming an institution here at State, and is something to be proud of.

Harry Hawes Is Appointed State College Manager

Harry Hawes has just received the appointment as State College agent for the Western Union Telegraph Company.

Telegraph blanks may be obtained at the Co-op with the State College stamp on them, and Mr. Hawes gets credit for every message on these blanks, or for any message phoned in if San Jose State is mentioned as a point of origination, or if you wish to send a telegram direct from the main office, mention the college.

Musical Half-Hour Is To Be Presented During Noon

IS FIRST OF THE YEAR'S SERIES OF HOURS FOR REST

Following what has been a successful custom for the last two years, the weekly Musical Half-Hour, sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. will be resumed this Friday from 12:30 to 1:00 o'clock, and will be held every Friday noon thereafter.

William Erlendson, pianist and a member of the music faculty, will be the artist for today's program, and will play several selections which will provide him with a wide scope for the display of his talent.

The Musical Half-Hours were begun two years ago, and since then the weekly presentations, which are held in the Morris Dailey auditorium, have enjoyed wide popularity among both the students and the faculty. There is no admission charge, and any student is welcome to come in quietly and enjoy a half-hour of music. There is no applause between numbers, and the time is one of quiet and relaxation.

The following is the program for today:

Dance of Delphi.....Debussy
Girl With the Flaxen.....Debussy
Garden Music.....Niemann
Ballade in F Minor.....Chopin

Hiking Club Is Making Plans for Activities of Coming Quarters

Plans for the coming year's hikes were discussed at a meeting of the executive committee of the Hiking Club held Tuesday, October 4. Those in attendance were: Lois Foy, Esther Earhardt, Duncan Holbert and George Lawry, chairman.

The committee wishes to extend a cordial invitation to all faculty members to accompany the hikers, and also to extend the thanks to those of the faculty that gave such whole-hearted co-operation last year.

Any student of the college is invited to attend the hikes, which are supervised by student leaders of the Hiking Club, a non-membership organization.

We're With You, Dud

Dud DeGroot leads his fighting Spartans tonight for their first Far Western Conference game against the College of Pacific.

Crew Being Assembled for Presentations of 'Anna Christie'

Rehearsals for "Anna Christie" are under way, and judging by the enthusiasm shown there should be at least no trouble in having the lines learned.

The stage construction end of the production has been placed in the hands of Melvin Newcombe, who will entirely choose his own assistants in the matters of electrician, costume mistress, stage carpenter, and all stage hands. Mr. Newcombe, having had forty years experience on the professional stage in the capacity of stage manager, should certainly contribute materially in the artistic and set-design end of the show. Anyone wishing to work back-stage should see Mr. Newcombe, who will be more than glad to oblige.

Exhibition of Foreign Dolls Now Being Held

Dolls from various countries in Europe are on exhibition in the glass cases at the entrance to the Art department. They were collected by Miss Hoisholt, art instructor, on a recent trip abroad. The dolls, dressed in colorful native costumes, represent Czechoslovakia, Russia, Holland, Norway, Brittany, and Bukkolm.

Mills College Head Is Speaker at First A.W.S. Meet

SAYS, NO PLACE FOR EGOTISM IN MODERN WORLD

"Into your hands is passing the future. It will be, American Youth, what you make of it." So Dr. Aurelia Rheinhardt, president of Mills College, gave her challenge at a woman's assembly on Thursday. The prominent educator declared, "You must realize that there is no place in the world any longer for egotism. The youth of today in Europe is addressing itself to the past, of understanding its era."

Of young people of Russia, Dr. Rheinhardt says, "They are galvanized as an entire generation for a distinct purpose." Two hundred million people are under a brief creed. Young Russians seldom smoke or drink. They do not recognize social dancing as a pastime. They have no fashions. Much of Russian youth is barefoot; some shoeless, hatless, coatless. They are too busy to notice their apparel, too poor to do anything about it.

Russia has six day weeks, the sixth day being a day, not for religion, but for service to others. Young people instruct classes in physical culture upon this day, or work upon the newspapers. Rus- (Continued on Page Three)

McGill Performs for Gaping College Audience At Benefit Program

Before the eyes of assembled and gaping spectators Ormond McGill, San Jose State's master of magic, pulled rabbits out of impossible places and made girls disappear in the show staged last night in the Little Theatre.

As advance publicity McGill conducted, at four o'clock in Washington Square, a demonstration which featured Ronald Linn extricating himself from chains and yards of rope while hung in a bag up-side down forty feet above the ground.

McGill's evening performance constituted types of magic that employ humans, such as The (Continued on Page Four)

Rooters Will Attend Special Dance Given by College of Pacific

TRAIN TO BE GREETED BY BENGAL WARRIORS AND MAIDS

Spartan rooters will trek tonight, via special train and private motors, to the jungles of Stockton where they will do some vigorous big game hunting for the Bengal Tiges. Hospitality, however, is not lacking among the natives of the College of the Pacific. The chieftain there has promised that the San Jose train will be met by the fairest of jungle maids, and win or lose, everyone is invited to the dance following the game.

Arrive at 6:45

San Jose's special train will leave, according to schedule, at 4:30 today, arriving in Stockton at 6:45. Students will then be taken to the college's dining hall for dinner, and later to the game that starts at eight. It will be followed by a dance until train time, which leaves at five minutes of twelve. The Southern Pacific extends stop-over privileges to students who live in the vicinity of Stockton and wish to stay over the week-end.

Tickets Obtainable

Tickets for the train may still be obtained from Bud Applegarth for $1.95, which includes the dinner. Frank Covello, Spartan yell leader, will accompany the rooters' train and guarantees to lead songs and informal rallies on the trip.

Applegarth urges the students who are going by train to be on time, as it is absolutely necessary that the schedule is strictly followed.

Philosophy Classes Holding Series of Dinners

Under the leadership of Dr. Robinson, a group of students are planning to hold a series of dinner forums to discuss philosophical problems.

In the philosophy class a committee of five, consisting of Smith, Sanders, Ulph, Paul and Campbell, was appointed to arrange for speakers and meals.

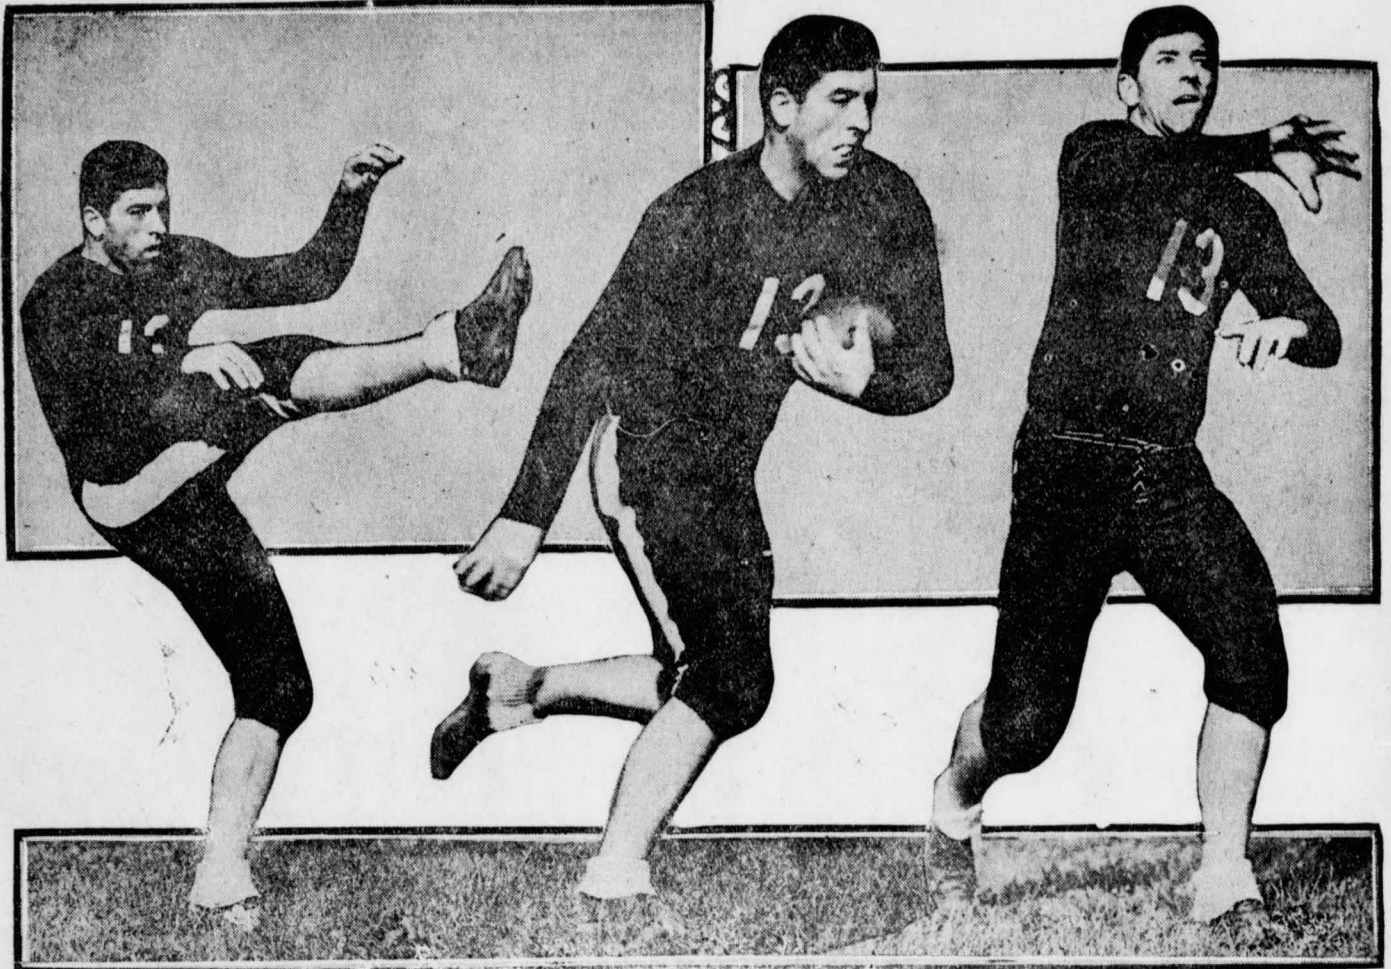

At the first meeting of the quarter, according to the report of the committee, Dr. Barry of the English department, led the discussion.

Spartan Babes Will Play Preliminary Game at Stockton

WATSON IS ELECTED CAPTAIN OF 1932 FRESHMEN GRID TEAM

Coach Blesh's San Jose State yearlings will meet their toughest assignment thus far when they clash with the first year men of the College of Pacific on the gridiron of the Tiger Friday evening at six o'clock. Under the leadership of their newly elected captain, Bert Watson, the local Frosh are looked to for the first victory of the evening—and they will be out to get it.

Jim Corson, Pacific track coach, is the head man of the Tiger Frosh gridlers, and no new opponent to Coach Erwin Blesh. The last time they met, Blesh's track team came out on top and Erwin hopes to make it two in a row Friday night.

The local Babes have been stacking up well in scrimmage against the varsity. Lompa and McAllister at guards, have been going great guns in the Frosh line. Meyers, former San Jose High star, is holding down the center post in great shape. At the tackles, beef predominates. Biddle, Jennings, and Bianco are all hefty fellows and it will take a lot of power to get through them.

In the backfield, Captain Watson is the outstanding luminary. Gregory is still out with his bum ankle and it is doubtful whether or not he will get into play Fri-

The gentleman above hardly need naming, but for the benefit of the younger generation we'll tell you that the young man is Jack Wool. Wool is one of the most feared men in the Far Western Conference, and his ability to run, pass or punt equally well, makes him a threat at all times. Last year Jack was bothered with an ankle injury all season, but 1932 bids fair to be his banner season. In 1930 Wool received honorayle mention on the Warner-Rocyne-Jones All-American, which is no mean distinction.

Spartan Spasms

By the Staff

A week or two ago moans to the following effect could be heard issuing from groups where-in football was the topic of the day. "No weight! Lots of speed, but no heft! Nothing much over 175 pounds!"

But a great change has come to pass. Coach DeGroot could now place an entire eleven on the field with an average weight of 185 pounds. A team commanding this much heft would have to ask no favors from anyone in respect to said beef. Such an outfit would have Francis, Laughlin, Buehler, Scofield, Wetsel, Collins, and Whitaker in the line. The backfield would consist of Griffin, Dieu, Moore, and Peterson.

day night. However, Jack Kellogg, formerly Paly High, looks good in Gregory's place, and will start Friday night.

Coach DeGroot Stresses Defensive Tactics in Preparation for Pacific

A squad of well trained, fighting Spartans, armed to the teeth with passes, kicks, and reverses, will swoop down on the lair of a growling, bristling Pacific Tiger tonight when Dud DeGroot's light but fast eleven tangles with the powerful Bengal grid machine in the first Far Western Conference game of the 1932 season.

Two old rivals who have clashed in football for the past ten years, will face each other under the bright flood lights in the Pacific stadium. Coach Swede Righter's orange and black eleven, always to be reckoned with as one of the more potent teams of the conference, this year are no exception to this rule, with the fastest and heaviest team in the history of the institution.

Fresh from a 20 to 0 victory over Modesto J. C., the Tigers looked mighty good to scouting San Jose coaches while losing to the Sacramento American Legion last Saturday by a 7-6 score. The Legion team is in a class with the Olympic Club and is composed of college stars from all the coast universities.

On the other hand San Jose State's 1932 football team showed flashes of real power in their season opener with San Francisco

State in winning by a score of 19 to 0.

Using the Warner system and the double wing back formation and playing on a field extremely unsuited for this type of play, the half dozen plays the Spartans used worked to good advantage whenever the ball carrier was able to hold his feet.

This taste of blood, the first in two years of play, may prove to be the foothold needed for further victories for the Spartans, and although Pacific rules a heavy favorite on the dope sheet, State supporters are playing for an upset of the proverbial apple cart.

State has a great pair of ends in Captain Bud Hubbard and Charlie Barrachi. Hubbard is fast in getting down under punts and hits a man so that he stays down. Jack Wool, of course, is State's ace in the hole and is as slick a passing, kicking, and running halfback as could be seen on any field.

After a heavy scrimmage yesterday DeGroot hinted that the following men will start the game: Guards, Sandholt, Wetsel; tackles, Simoni, Hardiman; ends, Hubbard, Barrachi; quarter, Wool; halves, Shetanian and Dieu; fullback, Griffith.

Soccer Men Expect To Have Hard Game With Golden Bears

COACH WALKER IS SHORT OF VETERANS FOR 1932 SOCCER TEAM

Tomorrow morning approximately twenty soccerites will journey to Berkeley, where State's varsity soccer squad plays the California Golden Bears in their first meeting this year. There is a possibility that the new Edwards Field will be used for the game.

In California, Coach Walker and his men are meeting a team that has been practicing some time longer than State, and has defeated San Mateo J. C. 3-0. All of which, according to the team, makes victory sweeter.

A list of the men who will make the trip is as follows:

- Goalie—Duncan Holbert.
- Fullbacks—Hayes, Wisdom, Wood, Perry Stratton, Peterson and Ryan.
- Center Halfback—Clemo and Jacobsen.
- Right Halfback—Claypool, Rhines and Jenecke.
- Right Outside—Wittenberg.
- Right Inside—Greenfield.
- Center Forward—Leslie.
- Left Inside—Eggleston and Harrison.
- Left Outside—Hay and Billwiller.
- Applegarth and Hughes are nursing leg injuries and will not accompany the squad.
