

Spartans Flunk Campus Current Events Test

By KEN ROED

As a result of a Spartan Daily student poll held on campus this week, there was an indication that college students are not too well informed on current matters of national and international significance.

Through the cooperation of Dr. George G. Bruntz, professor of history and international relations, 20 questions were formulated and asked to a cross-section of SJS students. The questions dealt with events which Dr. Bruntz felt the average American should know.

Of the 20 questions, an average of eight were answered correctly by those students interrogated.

The questions and answers, together with the percentage of right answers received were:

1. Who is the Prime Minister of England and to what Party does he belong? Churchill-Conservatives, 97 per cent.

2. What is Senator McCarthy noted for? Investigations of alleged Communists in government, 86 per cent.

3. Who is Mao Tze Tung, Communist leader in China, 83 per cent.

4. Who are the permanent members of the U.N. Security Council? England, USA, USSR, France, and China, 79 per cent.

5. Who are the men who have declared themselves prospective presidential candidates for the Republican and Democratic parties? Kefauver, Stassen, Taft, Warren, and Eisenhower, 73 per cent.

6. What is the significance of Panmunjom? Korean peace negotiations, 64 per cent.

7. What country recently held American flyers for ransom? Hungary, 64 per cent.

8. Who is the chief U.S. delegate to U.N.? Warren Austin, 45 per cent.

9. Who are the two senators from the state of California and to what party do they belong? (or the senators from your home state) Nixon and Knowland—Republicans, 45 per cent.

10. Who is Mossadegh? Iranian Premier, 41 per cent.

11. To what does Point IV refer? Economic aid to foreign countries by the U.S., 41 per cent.

12. What is the total budget recommended by President Truman last week? 82 billion, 31 per cent.

13. What are the essential features of the Schuman Plan? The breaking down of tariff and other restrictions which hinder trade and cooperation among European nations, 31 per cent.

14. How many members are there in the President's cabinet today? Nine, 27 per cent.

15. How many members are there in the U.S. House of Representatives? 435. How many seats has California in the U.S. House of Representatives as a result of the 1950 census, 30, 27 per cent.

16. Who is Konrad Adenauer? Chancellor of West Germany, 18 per cent.

17. What office is held by John Foster Dulles? U.S. roving ambassador (U.N. representative), 14 per cent.

18. How many members are there in the Security Council of the U.N.? 11, 14 per cent.

19. What is "NATO"? North Atlantic Treaty Organization, 14 per cent.

20. What position does Charles Malik hold? U.N. representative from Lebanon, 0 per cent.

No one questioned could correctly identify Charles Malik.

Practically all mistook him for the Russian U.N. representative, Jacob Malik.

In one instance, Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt was tabbed as being the chief U.S. delegate to the U.N. Panmunjom was identified by one as being "some kind of world leader," and Adenauer was named as "a Dutchman under investigation in Washington."

Three persons referred to the "NATO" as being the National Association of Theater Organizers.

When asked the number of members in the House of Representatives, one woman student asked, "Is that the one which has two from each state?" Another student guessed 150.

After missing a majority of the questions, one student quipped, "Sure hope my showing doesn't go back to the Poly Sci. department."

Student Council Votes 'Yes' on New By-laws, ASB Budget Increases

Signup for Desert Trip Will Be Held Tomorrow

Registration opens tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock for the West Coast Nature school's six-day trip to Death Valley Mar. 16-22. Applications for admittance into the session must be made in $100.

Because the nature school is not sponsored by the state, each student is not considered officially registered for the trek until a $15 tuition fee has been paid, according to Dr. Gertrude Cavins, nature school secretary.

Ducats on Sale For Comedy

Tickets may still be purchased for tomorrow night's opening performance of the comedy "What Every Woman Knows," according to Mrs. Virginia Vogel, Speech department secretary.

They are on sale at the Speech office, Room 57. Price is 60 cents with ASB card. General admission is 90 cents.

First major drama production of the quarter, "What Every Woman Knows" is scheduled to run through next Wednesday, excepting Sunday.

Curtain time for the play is 8:15 p.m. It is under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Loeffler, assistant professor of speech, and features Judith Levy and Warren Blomseth in the top roles.

UP ROUNDUP

Korean Casualties Mount to 105,001

Washington, D.C. — American battle casualties in Korea now total 105,001, an increase of 357 over last week's report, the Defense department announced yesterday.

The total includes 18,177 deaths, 74,396 wounded, 10,862 missing, 175 known captured, and 1391 previously missing but returned to service.

Hurricane Kills 30

Sydney, Australia.—The hurricane which wrecked Suva, capital of the romantic Fiji Islands, killed at least 30 persons and injured 200, it was reported yesterday.

Spartans Will Discuss Merits of Liquor Laws

San Jose State college students soon will have an opportunity to give the Board of Equalization a piece of their minds concerning the liquor laws that govern local drinking habits.

Next week the Second All-College Open Debate tournament will give Spartans a chance to discuss the question: Resolved—That the Legal Age for the Purchase of Alcoholic Beverages Should Be Lowered to Eighteen Years of Age.

A transcript of the championship round will be sent to the BOE for its consideration.

Sponsored by the college Forensic squad, under Wilbur F. Luick, the debate is open to any two undergraduate ASB members who wish to form a team and enter. John Mix, chairman of the tournament, emphasized that no forensic experience is necessary to enter the debate.

Names of the winning team members will be recorded on a perpetual trophy, which will remain in their possession until spring.

Application blanks for the tourney may be obtained from the Speech office, Room 57, or at Room 165A. They must be returned to the same place, or left in Box F at the Student Union, not later than 4 p.m. tomorrow.

First round of the tournament will be held next Wednesday, Feb. 6. It will run through Feb. 20, Mix said.

Each team must be prepared to argue both sides of the question, Mix added.

Revelries Fund Gets Approval

Passage of the new by-laws to the ASB constitution and the elimination of this year's 10 per cent budget cut for all student body organizations highlighted the activity at yesterday's meeting of the Student Council.

The acceptance vote for the by-laws came after they had been laid on the table and reviewed by the council for the last three weeks. Treasurer Bill Severns moved to abolish the 10 per cent budget cut, which had been made last fall on all ASB group budgets. The council passed the motion after it was explained that money now is available to restore the budgets as they originally had been submitted.

In other matters before the council, the issue concerning whether the Social Affairs committee's student body dance, scheduled for Apr. 12, will conflict with the Junior Prom of May 3, was referred to the College Life committee for review. The Social Affairs committee is seeking a big name band for its dance, which would be free to ASB members. The junior class, which will sell bids to its function, also is seeking a well-known band.

The Revelries budget of $1729 for its coming functions was submitted by Seymour Abrahams and approved by the council. Abrahams said that there already is $1050 in the Revelries fund.

Discussion arose at yesterday's meeting in regard to whether pins for council members should be purchased.

Abrahams and Tom Evans expressed the opinion that the pins, which will cost $7.07 apiece, are not essential and should not be purchased. In opposition to this view, other council members stated that the presentation of these pins would, among other things, act as an incentive for students to take part in student government by running for council positions.

The Weather

In shrewd manipulations yesterday, Albert P. Garbunkle cornered the dehydrated water-kress and used mushroom market.

"Water-kress futures just looked right," commented the financial wizard, "and used mushrooms is always a good, stable market."

Albert P., who stands to make an easy 63 yen on the deal, didn't even grimace as he predicted showers and such for today.

She urges students who are interested in making the journey to apply for entrance to the West Coast Nature school immediately because registration for this 46th session "might close two days after it opens. We have closed the registration the day it opened, before," she said.

Dr. Cavins said the Natural Science division has already received this quarter "hundreds and hundreds of inquiries" concerning the Death Valley trip.

This year, the camping group will number 180 students plus most of the staff members, she stated.

All students making the journey, whether they have previously made the Death Valley trip or not, will receive upper division science credit of two units, Dr. Cavins said.

Students who have made the desert visit with the school previously will have a different field trip schedule than the regular group. These trips will be planned to cover entirely new areas in the region, such as treks to Skidoo, the Old Coke Mines, Rhyolite Ghost Town, and Titus Canyon.

All students of the West Coast Nature session will stay at the same central base of operations in the desert, she said.

According to Dr. G. A. "Desert Rat" McCallum, professor of biology and the camp group director, the entire cost of the trip should run the students "$15 for tuition, about $12 for grub, and add your share of transport cost—which may run anywhere between $7.50 and $15 dependin' on yer style of travel. Throw in a couple of meals both goin' and comin', plus a few milkshakes."

The first Death Valley trip was organized in 1931, and was operated annually except for five years during the war. The 1952 trek marks the 17th time in which the school has functioned.

month be set as the maximum for rotation under an armistice.

The Reds agreed in principle also to give priority to the exchange of sick and wounded prisoners.

Paper Deficit Imperils Daily

Because of a shortage in sizes of newsprint rolls needed to print the Spartan Daily, the paper may not have complete control over the number of pages in editions in the near future, according to William E. Gould, Spartan Daily adviser.

Mr. Gould explained that the type of equipment used by the Spartan Daily necessitates publishing editions of four pages or multiples of four. The size of newsprint roll needed to print a four page paper is 17½ inches, and there is a shortage of this size in the San Jose area, he said.

There is an international shortage of newsprint now, he said, because of greater demand caused by increased circulation and lack of adequate supply from former newsprint sources.

A Skilled Civic Leader

Gen. Douglas MacArthur said in a letter written recently that the people should elect as president a "skilled civic leader . . . someone with demonstrated capability in the science of civil government."

Senator Robert A. Taft read the letter with interest and approval, evidently suffering under the delusion that these words applied to him.

We think that those SJS students who gave the nod to Governor Earl Warren in a recent Spartan Daily poll had the right idea as to who is our top "skilled civic leader."

Governor Warren is a bulwark of the new Republican element, the liberals—the element that must prevail if the GOP is to recover its stature in the eyes of the people.

The Governor's platform could stand by itself. His outlook and policies are revealed through material accomplishments, not oratory.

At the helm of California government, he has worked wonders. Social services in this state are unequalled. At the same time, the Governor has balanced the state's billion dollar budget, despite a proportionate cut in taxes.

Governor Warren favors bi-partisan policy in both foreign and domestic matters. His record shows that in state affairs he has many times appointed Democrats to high posts, despite the fuming of dis-hard Republicans. We believe he would continue judging men on their abilities to fill important positions, rather than on their party prestige.

Californians are a lucky bunch. Whether Governor Warren succeeds or not, they will all know, if they cast a ballot for him, that they have voted for the best man in the race.

Navy Changes Reporting Date

The reporting date for class number seven for unrestricted line candidates at Navy's officer candidate school, Newport, R.I., was changed from early June to June 30, and the quota of candidates was increased until further notice, the Navy department announced recently.

The reporting date was changed so that a maximum number of June graduates may be considered for the class.

The acceptance of applications is authorized 120 days prior to the expected date of graduation. For information, March and June graduates should contact the Office of Naval Officer Procurement, Room 358, Federal Office building, Fulton and Leavenworth streets, San Francisco. They should telephone Market 1-382, extension 434, if they do not care to write or make a trip, the announcement said.

Applications must be completely processed and forwarded to the Bureau of Naval Personnel, Washington, D.C., prior to receipt of orders for induction.

Smith Attends Survey Meet

Dr. Ralph J. Smith, head of the Engineering department, is in San Luis Obispo today attending sessions of the recently formed committee for the survey of state college engineering departments.

The survey committee was created at the request of the Conference of State College Presidents to determine whether the present objectives of state college engineering departments meet the needs of business and industry. The committee also will suggest possible modifications of objectives and curricula.

The survey began today at California Polytechnic college in San Luis Obispo. Dates of surveys for the four other colleges offering engineering will be released at the conclusion of the present meeting.

Other engineering departments to be surveyed are those of Fresno State college, San Diego State college, Los Angeles State college and San Jose State college.

Dr. Smith will return tomorrow.

Students to Review Convention Issues

The highlights of the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship Missionary convention, held at the University of Illinois in Urbana, Ill., Dec. 27-31, will be reviewed by three State students before the local Inter-Varsity group, the Collegiate Christian Fellowship, at its meeting today at 12:30 p.m. in Room 39, according to Joanne Galbraith, publicity chairman of the organization.

The three students, Don Jamieson, Caroline Coleman and Darlene Dodds, were among the 1550 attending the conference, which attracted delegates from 44 states and 20 foreign countries.

Riflemen Outshot By Santa Clarans

In a small-bore match Tuesday night, varsity riflemen dropped a close decision to the Padre Rifle club of Santa Clara. The local marksmen fired for 905 points, while the more experienced Santa Clarans scored 920.

Bill Winter, a varsity shooter, was top individual marksman, hitting the target for 189 points. Chet Stamper's 187 was high for the Padres. The varsity's next match will be with USF Feb. 7.

Alumnus Praises Team For Hawaiian Invasion

Dear Editor:

By way of introduction, I am Ken Alford ('44), now in the employ of Station KGU, the NBC outlet in the Pacific area.

A fighting bunch of Spartans came to town last week for three games against Hawaiian basketball teams in the University Invitational Conference. I am happy to report it was a successful "invasion" of Hawaii.

Secondly, San Jose was the first mainland cage team to accomplish a three-game sweep in the UIC series. Over 7500 cage fans crammed the Honolulu Civic auditorium to witness the highly-touted Spartans' conquest of the three local quintets.

Shortly before the Spartans came to town, we rallied the alumni forces here to greet them and support the team at the games. An enthusiastic group met the plane carrying the 10 cagers and my good friend, Coach Walt McPherson.

We banded together some 35 "rooters" for their initial game Wednesday night when they edged the University of Hawaii. Incidentally, ol' Alford, a retired SJS yell leader, exercised his "creaking bones" to lead a few cheers at half-time.

Speaking for the individual alumni members and former students of San Jose, I can say it was great to meet such a fine group of young men representing our old alma mater. San Jose just couldn't have anything but a winning basketball team with fellows like those on the Hawaii trip.

In closing, may I say that the San Jose visit has added much to the local basketball picture. They provided thrills, excellent ball handling, some great shooting, and the will to win when the chips were down.

Best wishes go to each member of the team and Coach McPherson for a highly successful season!

Respectfully,
 Ken Alford ('44).

INDIANS TRIP SJS FIVE, 71-66

Schorr Sparks Spurt Stanford Cagers Outlast Spartans

By DAVE GOODWIN

STANFORD PAVILION, Jan. 30.—Despite a fourth quarter rally ignited by the red-hot shooting of Mort Schorr, the San Jose State Spartans bowed last night to a speedy Stanford five by a score of 71-66.

Schorr, diminutive Spartan guard, connected for 18 points, 14 of which he meshed in the second half. High man for the race-horse Indians was Ed Tucker who marked up 16 counters for his evening's work. Jim Ramstead, Stanford center, and Duane Baptiste both tied for third place honors with 13 apiece.

The Spartans came closest to overtaking the Indians, who led all the way, in the middle of the third quarter when Schorr, and Elmer Craig counted with successive lay-ins and Lee Jensen hit two free throws. The score stood at 38-40 at that point.

The Indians then scored six quick points to extend their lead, but Schorr kept the Spartans within range with two lay-ins and a long two-handed swisher.

Ahead 54-46 as the fourth quarter began, the Indians increased their lead to 70-56. But a hook and free shot by George Clark and two stolen-ball lay-ins by Schorr, along with Baptiste's field goal brought the Spartans close as the final buzzer sounded.

At the end of the first quarter, the Indians led 22-13 and again at halftime, 37-30. The Big Red machine hit 13 out of 15 free throws in the first half, and finished the game with a phenomenal 23 out of 30 charity tosses. San Jose State scored 10 out of 17 free throws.

Clark scored 12 points, most of them in the first half, but was held out of a good part of the second half because of four fouls incurred early in the game. Stan Wacholz and Baptiste alternated at the pivot post in his place.

In the preliminary game, the Stanford Braves handed Coach Bob Wuesthoff's Spartababes their fourth loss of the season, 37-30. Bud Hjelm tallied 11 points to lead the jayvees.

Novice Weigh-in

Weigh-ins for next week's novice wrestling tourney will be held today in the Men's gym from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Wrestlers may weigh in more than once tomorrow if they have trouble making the weight, Coach Ted Mumby said.

Reuter Hurts Knee While Wrestling; Servicemen Next

Boxing team hopes received a crippling blow Tuesday afternoon when Paul Reuter, light-heavyweight, tore a cartilage in his knee in wrestling class. Reuter was being counted on to oppose Minnesota's Ron Bruch in next Tuesday's match.

Coach Dee Portal will probably move big Vince Malone into the 178 lb. gap. Reuter has split even thus far this season, winning by a TKO at Cal Poly, and losing by the same route against Michigan State's NCAA champion Chuck Spieser Friday night.

The team is preparing now for its meeting with three service teams, Alameda Naval Air Station, Treasure Island, and Moffett Field, who come to Spartan gym tomorrow night. Little is known of the strength of these clubs, but Portal is expecting an evening of close matches.

Approximately 23 bouts have been scheduled, but they are subject to change. Reuter's bout will be scratched, as will Jerry Stern's. Mike Guerrero will replace Doug Stewart as 132 lb. representative in the Treasure Island match. This service outfit is coached by Stan Smith, former Spartan boxer.

Intramural Cage

Intramural games scheduled for tonight: 6:30, Phi Sigma Kappa plays Sigma Pi, and The Hotshots meet Kappa Tau.

7:30—Delta Upsilon meets the Jets and the Grizzlies clash with the Hamburgers.

Sigma Sigma tangles with the Tijuana AC and Alpha Tau Omega goes against Kappa Alpha in 8:30 action.

Mumby Lists Top Wrestlers For Two-night Mat Tourney

Kay Toyota and George Lao won challenge matches yesterday to earn starting posts for the wrestling meets slated for Spartan gym Saturday and Monday nights.

Toyota won a spot on the varsity team by defeating Jonas Robledo in a 115 lb. meeting. Lao, winner of the recent Junior Novice 123 lb. title at Berkeley, turned back Joe Ross for the 123 lb. berth.

Ted Mumby, Raider wrestling coach, announced yesterday that he would replace the injured Ralph Morrocco with the veteran Joe Thornley in the 157 lb. class.

The rest of the starters will include Joe Tiago, classy freshman from Hayward, 130 lb.; John Jackson, 137 lb.; John Melendez, 147 lb.; Frank Waxham, 167 lb.; Jim Van Houten, 177 lb.; Al Cadena, 191 lb.; and Jean Snyder, heavyweight.

Sam Della Maggiore, Santa Clara coach, named a three-man team to compete in the two-day mat festival.

Mumby describes these cross-town rivals as "good wrestlers." They will include Don Ornellas in the 130 lb. class; Bob Ratliff, 137 lb.; and Paul Backman, heavyweight.

DU Grid Champs

After being rained out eight times, Delta Upsilon defeated Pi Kappa Alpha, 6-0, for the intramural football title yesterday in a hard fought contest.

DU paved its way on the ground for the lone score, Bill Watts finally going over for the tally.

Williams Gets 42 Candidates For Ball Nine

A turnout of 42 baseballers greeted Coach Walt Williams Monday as the first week of preparation got under way for the coming baseball season.

Williams has been running his candidates hard this week, prepping for the season's opener Feb. 23, against the Spartan alumni.

By the first game, Williams will cut the squad to 25 men to enable him to maintain a working team.

Back from last year's squad, which won 10 and lost 17, are Jim Collings, pitcher; Ed Hallberg, 1b; Cookie Camara, ss; Bob Graves, 3b; Andy Miller, Ralph Cleland, Joe Bonfiglio, outfielders, and Rod Fielder, catcher.

To be released soon is a 35 game scheduled for the Spartan horsehiders this spring.

I.R. Director Tells Aids To Seeking, Keeping Job

Is it possible for a graduate of San Jose State college to rise rapidly in the work for which he has prepared himself? Preston Royer, director of industrial relations for Owens-Corning Fiberglas corporation, could answer that question.

Mr. Royer himself rose rapidly after he graduated from San Jose State college 16 years ago. He majored in mathematics here and then took time to secure an M.A. from the Stanford university School of Business.

Ice Cream Is Display Topic

"Ice Cream, America's Favorite Dessert," is the name of the exhibit now on display in the Home Economics building. The project is the work of Jeanne R. Murphy, home economics major, and will be shown the week of Jan. 28 to Feb. 1.

"Ice cream—we all eat a lot of it, but what is in it?" is the theme of Miss Murphy's exhibit. Shown is a map representing the production and consumption of ice cream in the United States, and a chart comparing its calories to other popular desserts. Other subjects covered are: "What Is in Ice Cream," "How It Is Packaged in the Store," and "How It Can Be Made and Stored in the Home."

Visiting Professor Will Tour Library

Dr. Robert D. Leigh, visiting professor of library service at Columbia university's Library Service school, will visit the college Librarian department today, according to Miss Dora Smith, head of the department.

Dr. Leigh is conducting a survey on training of librarians in California. He recently concluded an inspection of the University of California's library school. After his work here, Miss Smith said, he will move next to USC and UCLA.

Among Dr. Leigh's past endeavors is the recent completion of a public library inquiry of the Social Science Research council, Miss Smith said.

ROTC Instructors Attend Meeting

Lt. Col. Howard E. Brown, professor of air science and tactics, and Lt. Col. Joseph E. Terry are at Hamilton Air Force base today, attending the second session of a three-day Air Force ROTC conference.

Department heads and instructors in Air Sciences from all Pacific Coast colleges and universities offering Air Force ROTC programs are attending the meeting. Both general and individual problems are being discussed.

Besides his position with Owens-Corning, Mr. Royer at the present time is president of the Santa Clara Valley Personnel Managers association, president of the Santa Clara Chamber of Commerce, and president of the Industrial Managers club.

Mr. Royer appeared before the senior orientation class Tuesday morning and boiled down the answers to their questions. This is what students must do when they seek a job, according to Mr. Royer: They must ask themselves, "What can I do for a company?" They must take the company's viewpoint and decide whether they can fulfill its need.

Mr. Royer stressed that attitude is all important. Qualifications of the majority of applicants are standardized. If one has an important qualification that many others lack, namely the gift of getting along with people, he has an advantage, Mr. Royer said.

Four things which they may do now and after they are graduated will benefit students in any chosen objective, according to Mr. Royer. They are:

1. Study and practice the art of getting along with others.
2. Learn to organize thoughts and communicate them to others.
3. Learn to ask for and benefit by criticism.
4. Keep alive study habits.

Protagonist Discusses Role In Forthcoming Barrie Play

By KEITH GARDNER

Obviously a patient man, Warren Blomseth was resolutely emptying his cup when a 15-minute-late reporter sidled into Dave's Caffein Emporium.

Plasma was ordered, apologies proffered and accepted, and the meeting was called to order.

Blomseth will be remembered as "that rat Ben" by those who saw the college's production of "The Little Foxes," as a Latin-like character by those who saw last quarter's "Othello," and as the prototype of all Scotsmen by those who will see "What Every Woman Knows," the play which opens tomorrow night in the Little Theater.

At present, his principal interest is the character of John Shand, the protagonist of James M. Barrie's comedy of a Scottish family at the turn of the century.

"John Shand is an ambitious young Scot working his way unsuccessfully through college. He's about to give up school for lack of money when he sneaks into the Wylie family's library to read—he can't afford his own books," Blomseth reports.

"The family catches him at it, but instead of calling the cops, they offer to put him through college. They stipulate, however, that he must marry their unmarried daughter." (Lovers of similarities and jumpers to conclusions can stop here. Blomseth is not a Scotchman. His college career is patently successful—he owns his own books. And he remains unwed.)

Leaving the foibles of John Shand to those willing to pay 60 cents (with ASB card) to witness them, Blomseth turned to comment: "It's a good role though," he said. "The situation isn't necessarily funny."

but the humor comes from the character himself.

"The biggest difficulty is to be consistent with the accent," he said with a slight burr, "yet not to try so strong that it becomes unintelligible."

(Of the cast of "What Every Woman Knows," Blomseth is not alone in this squawk. The play contains three different accents—French, British and Scotch. The Biblical Tower of Babel was a model of quiet simplicity in comparison.)

A graduate of Fremont high school in Oakland, where he took part in student drama productions, Blomseth is a general secondary major who wants to return to the same type of work. But as an instructor-director rather than a student-actor.

Games to Inspirit Co-Rec Program

Volleyball, badminton, and table tennis will be featured at tonight's Co-Rec activity program, to be held from 7:30 to 10 o'clock in the Women's gym. Instruction in beginning social dance will be given from 8 to 9 o'clock in Room 22 of the Women's gym.

Students wishing to play badminton or volleyball must wear soft-soled shoes.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

POOR PAUL was having a fowl time. Even his best gal didn't give a hoot for him. "Wise she hate me so?" he asked his roommate. "Simple, you stuffy old bird—because your hair's always ruffled up! Better try Wildroot Cream-Oil hair tonic. It's non-alcoholic. Contains soothing Lanolin. And does three things: Relieves annoying dryness. Removes loose, ugly dandruff. Grooms hair neatly and naturally all day long. (Even limbers up your scalp. And helps you pass the Finger-Nail Nest-er, Test!) Paul got Wildroot Cream-Oil and now he's a 'owling success. So why don't you take a taxi-dermist to any drug or toilet goods counter to get a bottle or tube of Wildroot Cream-Oil. It's your hair's best friend! And ask for it at your barber shop. Then there's no talon how the chicks'll go for you.
