Fines, Books Due

Library books must be returned and fines paid by tomorrow, Miss Joyce Backus, college librarian, said. Grades will be held until student's library records are clear.

Students needing books for use later during the week may renew them at the circulation desk.

Plan Annual Field Trip To Desert

The annual West Coast Nature school session in Death Valley, a major part of the college's extensive field trip program, will be held the first week of Spring quarter, Dr. Gertrude Cavins, professor of Chemistry and Science announced Friday.

Names of the six college faculty members to staff the school will be released next month, Dr. Cavins said.

A maximum of 200 students will be allowed to register for the trip. Two units of college credit will be given for the six-week course.

The CNS was organized in 1931 and has operated continuously except during a five-year period during World War II.

Pre-war years saw the school pile up a total of more than 500,000 passenger miles annually, Dr. Cavins said.

"The experience of seeing things in the real environment is essential to complete understanding," she says. "It is this belief that has led the college to offer such a wide program of field trips for students."

Registration for the trip to Death Valley will open Feb. 1, Dr. Cavins said.

Last year four WCNS sessions were held. They were at Death Valley, Yosemite, Fallen Leaf lake and Asilomar.

It is hoped that the epidemic of automobile trouble which marred last year's return from the Death Valley trip may be avoided.

Phogbound Visits 'Weather Bureau'

Rich Jordan, winter 1952 graduate now wire editor for the United Press San Francisco bureau, visited campus Wednesday in time to congratulate editor-elect Gerald Belcher.

Jordan was associate editor of the Spartan Daily while on campus and a distinguished military student. Phil Phogbound, philosophical Spartan Daily weatherman, was Jordan's alter ego at Sparta. He related his experiences at the bureau during an informal discussion with staff members.

Video Conference Scheduled Today

President John T. Wahlquist, and six members of the college administration and faculty were to be in Sacramento today for the first meeting of the two-day Governor's Conference on television and education.

Other SJS administrators and faculty members who were to attend the conference are Mr. Claude Settles, associate professor of sociology; Mr. Harold Seyferth, coordinator of extension services; Miss Joyce Backus, head librarian; Dr. Carl Duncan, head of the Natural Science department; Dr. Richard Lewis, professor of education and Mr. Robert I. Guy, instructor in speech and drama.

Dr. Gilliam To Speak Before History Group

Dr. Olive K. Gilliam, professor of history, will discuss "The Introductory Course in History — Shall it be World Civilization or Western Civilization?" at the annual meeting of the Pacific Coast branch of the American Historical Association, Dec. 28-30.

Dr. Gilliam is appearing in a discussion with Dr. George H. Knowles of Stanford and Dr. Richard H. Nones of Reed college.

The meeting, at which representatives of colleges in the Western states will appear, is being held at the University of British Columbia in Vancouver, Canada, Dr. Gilliam said.

"Our introductory history course is History 4, European Civilizations," stated Dr. Gilliam.

"There is a problem in making introductory history courses effective, since so many students are required to take them who never take further history courses," she said.

There is argument as to whether the courses should cover the history of the world, or concentrate on western background, Dr. Gilliam added.

"The difficulty in teaching most history courses is in the great amount of information which must be covered, and this problem is amplified when there is an attempt to survey the history of the world," she disclosed.

Dr. Gilliam, who is the first member of the SJS faculty to appear on the meeting program, also wrote a paper dealing with her experiences in teaching here and at Reed college, she said.

Eight Get Blue Key Title of 'Knight'

Eight men gained the title of "Knight" in the dinner initiation held by Blue Key honorary service fraternity at the Townhouse in San Jose last Thursday night.

"Nobody lost their pants this time," said Cliff Majersik, vice-president of the organization. When Don Curry was initiated as duke he had to retrieve his honorable trousers from a palm tree.

Initiated were Kenny Mitchell, John Pryor, Dave Doerr, John Aitken, John Landicho, Bob Cross, Bill Eckert and John Muller.

Don Curry was installing officer. Bob Custer, former duke, was guest speaker. Custer is now an announcer for KLOK. Larry Elam and Ted McCarty will be initiated at a future date.

If A Sixth Grader Can Do It...

By CLIFF HARRINGTON

"We Wrote a Symphony, So can You," claim a group of sixth grade students in a new book by that title, written by Mrs. Ruth O. Bradley, assistant professor of education.

The 54-page illustrated volume, published by the C.C. Birchard company, Boston, relates the story of Mrs. Bradley's sixth grade class at the Hester Grammar school who in 1945 planned, composed and played their own symphony. "Wings" is the title of the 10-minute work.

"Wings" was the outgrowth of the sixth grade class study of the assembly of airplanes," Mrs. Bradley explained. "The class asked for my suggestions for a class project. I suggested that they compose a symphony to be played at their graduation ceremonies."

The entire musical score is included in the publication.

"Mrs. Lydia Boothby, assistant professor of music, and

Food for Finals

The cafeteria will be open today and tomorrow from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., Mrs. Fern Wendt, cafeteria manager, announced.

The cafeteria also will be open during registration days, Dec. 29 and 30.

Journalism Executives Meet Here

Upper division journalism students were given an opportunity to learn what employers expect of college graduates Friday when the Journalism Advisory Board suspended its meeting for an hour to hold an open forum.

Members of the board include persons who are potential employers with executive positions in both journalism and advertising. Paul H. Caswell, publisher of the Salinas Californian; Kenneth S. Conn, executive editor of the San Jose Mercury and News, and Lowell E. Jessen, publisher of the Turlock Journal, reported on subjects of interest to the journalism students.

Alvin Long, director of Long's advertising service, E. E. Lovett, general manager of Peninsula Newspapers Inc., and Everett Runyon, sales promotion manager of the California Packing company, discussed advertising matters.

The discussion was opened by a general proposition by Dr. Dwight Bentel, Journalism department head, as to the value of college training. Each member of the board expressed his opinion.

The consensus was that thoroughness, attitude, initiative, ambition, a liking for people and a willingness to put out a little extra effort are expected from a college student who plans to "go places" in the field in which these men have achieved success.

Larry S. Fanning, managing editor of the San Francisco Chronicle, was unable to attend the meeting.

Seniors Pick Up Banquet Tickets

One hundred and fifty tickets for the Senior Banquet Wednesday had been picked up in the Graduate Manager's office at 4 p.m. Friday. Deadline was 5 p.m.

Thirty guest tickets also had been sold. The annual graduation dinner will be held at 7 p.m. in the Hawaiian Gardens.

Dr. John T. Wahlquist will award degrees to 135 students, Pat Dillon is banquet chairman.

Mrs. Lillian Gray, assistant professor of education, urged me to make notes as the project progressed for use at San Jose State," Mrs. Bradley stated. "The notes eventually grew into the book."

"We Wrote a Symphony" explains why creative projects should be undertaken by elementary students and lists day by day lessons plans for the teacher.

Before the publishers released the work, the project was discussed and tested in several eastern colleges, Mrs. Bradley said.

Mrs. Bradley believes that "general elementary teachers should discover and nurture talent in the average student rather than look for the genius."

She contends that a student's appreciation of art grows from creating works of his own.

"The treatise will provide the incentive for teachers to foster a creative atmosphere in their classrooms, Mrs. Bradley hopes.

The Cruellest Cut of All!

The Community Chest, which fell 16.5 per cent short of its proposed goal, will cut its allotment to the Student Y 56 per cent unless current plans are altered, it has been reported.

We hope that the chest reconsiders its monetary slash. The Y is estimated to affect 3600 students indirectly. Directly affected by the cut are 125 active members.

Since the Y has done such a fine job in the past and has continually been one of the most active groups on campus we know that many activities would be seriously affected by the cut, much to the dismay of the students concerned.

We know that the Rev. James Martin, adviser, will continue to do a fine job if the proposed slash becomes a reality, but we hope that the chest reconsiders so he won't have to work under too great a handicap.

H.E. Clubs Share Basket Project

Delta Nu Theta and Eta Epsilon, home economics organizations, jointly are preparing a Christmas basket of food, clothing, and toys for a needy San Jose family.

The basket will have enough food for a hearty holiday meal, said Miss Pauline Lynch and Miss Myrtle Asher, advisers to the groups.

Besides the outree, which probably will be a chicken, the parcel will contain chocolate, potatoes, coffee, canned and fresh fruits, and other staples to last into the new year.

Library Announces Vacation Hours

Shortened Library hours will be in effect during the Christmas vacation period, according to Miss Joyce Backus, college librarian.

The schedule is: Dec. 22 and 23, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Dec. 24, 8 a.m. to 12 noon; Dec. 25 to 27, closed; Dec. 29 to 31, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Jan. 1, closed.

Regular Library hours will resume Jan. 2, Miss Backus said.

Golden Bars Given

Two students of the college received reserve commissions during special ceremonies held Friday at the college.

George R. Smith was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Air Force reserve. Stanley H. Johnson received a second lieutenant's commission in the Military Police corps reserve.

Eta Mu Pi Meets

Eta Mu Pi, the national honorary merchandising fraternity met last night at Lucca's restaurant in Santa Clara, Mr. John Aberle, faculty adviser to the organization, announced today.

Mr. Aberle reported that Bob Coyle of the Bob Coyle Chevrolet Co. was guest speaker for the evening. The topic of Mr. Coyle's speech was, "Relations between General Motors and its distributors," according to Mr. Aberle.

Teachers Will Form Groups

The 18 members of the Faculty council will submit separate lists of nominees for the 12 proposed committees slated to take part in internal workings of the council, and the Committee on Committees will make the appointments before the Autumn quarter ends, it was announced today.

Owen M. Broyles, chairman of the Committee on Committees, will work with council members in forming groups on academic freedom, education, college culture, appointment and promotion, and faculty welfare, among others.

Chairmen of the major committees are to be Faculty council members, according to Professor Broyles. The groups are scheduled to participate in council workings until the latter part of spring quarter.

Joyce Osborn Wins 'Oral'

Winner of the Dr. Dorothy-Kaucher award for oral reading this quarter was Joyce Osborn. Presentation of the $25 award was made following the Oral Reading group's program Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Osborn, a sophomore speech and drama major from San Jose, won the award for her recitation of Stephen Vincent Benet's "Mountain Whippoorwill."

Winners of the seven sections held this year by the oral reading group competed Tuesday.

S.F. School Jobs

The San Francisco Unified School district will give an examination Feb. 14 to fill positions in junior, senior, and continuation high schools, Miss Doris K. Robinson, teacher placement officer, announced Friday.

Application blanks for the examination must be mailed so that they reach the Educational Testing Service in New Jersey on or before Jan. 15, Miss Robinson stated.

Tri-Betas Initiate

Beta Beta Beta, national biological honorary society, held informal initiation ceremonies Friday night in Room S31. Thirteen accepted invitations to become members of the group.

They are Richard Angel, Barbara Amori, Gilbert Bane, Elaine Freeburg, Walter Ivester, Loretta McKee, Rex Marsh, Howard Meneses, Fernne Oulie, Don Roberts, Leland Davis, DeWitt Hogle and Keith Trexler.

Revelries Rehearsals

Rehearsals for "Hey Mac," 1953 Revelries, to be staged Feb. 18-21, will begin Dec. 30 at 7 p.m. in the Morris Dailey auditorium, according to Dave Woods, production director.

Casting was completed Thursday with the naming of 51 chorus members. Dancers and singers include: Roberta Anderson, Dulce Grigg, Joy Mitchell, Joan DeMeo, Neva Nelson, Marlene Machado, Barbara McGee, Claudie LeFevre, Diane Miles, Audrey Goldt, Alice Massey, Marilyn Mattke, Benita Camicia, JoAnne Tracy, Joan Alcalde, Marian Lester, Donna Atherton, Carol Frewaldt, Normalee Bradshaw, Marty Darrow, LaVerne Forni, Jacqueline Basinet, Colleen Page, Shirley Sperling, Norma Lieftrink, Charlene Baetier, Maureen Watkins, Joyce Tindall, Jayne Anderson and Patsy Lieftrink.

croft, Russell Utley and John Jagger.

Jack Byers, show designer, will create costumes and the sets. Ivan J. Van Perre will be stage manager.

Staff members include Dick Zimmerman, business manager; Jim Porter, public relations director; Elaine Swanson, secretary; Susan Renzel and Gloria Bayne, stenographers; Sue Moore, property mistress; Carol Shaw, make-up manager; Norma Johnson, Revelries board director, and Ted Balgooyen, faculty adviser.

Choreography will be done by Marlene Watkins and Wanita Wilent. Jim Bernardi will be production assistant.

Promoters are Virginia Schone, Myrne Watrous, Dawn Bon-echer and Diane Tonelli.

Book of the prohibition era show was written by Woods and Marv Hall, with music by Bodwell. Woods also wrote the lyrics. The trio wrote last year's production, "Kiss Me Hello."

Spartans Defeated By OC, 53 to 46

By BILL TUNNELL

Spartan basketballers suffered their first loss of the season Friday night at the hands of the San Francisco Olympic club, 53-46, in the Spartan gym.

Coach Walt McPherson's previously undefeated five never seemed to get up steam in the game. They were obviously better drilled and in better condition than the Olympic club team, but seemed awed by their opponents. They threw away passes with regularity and only tried one set-up in the entire game, that by the way, worked to perfection for the Spartan five.

George Clark, last season's stellar center for the Washington Square team, was the high point man both for the Olympic Club and for the game with 17 digits to his credit.

The Spartans' Don Edwards was the second man in the scoring column, hitting on ten of eleven free throws and two field goals to bring his total to fourteen points. The always cool Edwards missed his first free-throw of the season in this game. He previously had a 1000 percent average for the charity tosses.

Dick Brady, who is just now recovering from a pair of wounded ankles, followed Edwards in the scoring for the game. Brady hit on six free throws and three field goals for twelve points. He also picked up his floor game in this contest. This was his best game of the current season for the Spartans.

The Olympic Club held a margin over the Raiders for most of the game until the local five finally pulled ahead midway in the final period. They held a six point lead over the Bay Area team until the final two minutes, when the Olympics again pulled ahead to sew up the victory.

The game was marred by bad officiating and rough play throughout, with 26 fouls being levied against the Bay Area squad. The local five collected 14 fouls in the contest. The officials made bad calls during the entire contest. The Golden Raiders' next contest of the season will be against the San Diego Navy five, Dec. 18, in the Spartan gym.

SC Coach Wants Open Bowl Drills

Los Angeles, Dec. 12. (UP)—Coach Jess Hill of Southern California served notice today that if Western newspapermen are barred from Wisconsin Rose Bowl practices sessions here, Midwestern writers will not be permitted to which his Trojans work out.

"We will give Midwestern writers the same treatment that they (Wisconsin) give our writers," Hill said.

Coach Ivy Williamson announced this week, when asked if Western writers would be permitted to watch Badger workouts, that Wisconsin would hold "closed" drills. He did not elaborate.

Only one Big Ten team of the six that have played in the Rose Bowl has allowed Western sportswriters to watch their workouts. That was Ohio State, two years ago.

Coach Wes Fesler, then coach of the Buckeyes, was quoted as saying this week that he would not allow Western newsmen to watch drills if he had the decision to make again.

The Football Writers Association of America has protested the "Iron Curtain" tactics to Big Ten commissioner Tug Wilson. He promised to take up the matter with member schools, but no action has resulted yet to indicate the Big Ten would officially oppose barring Western writers from workouts.

Frosh Squad Wins Another, Beats Salinas

By BILL TUNNELL

The Spartababe basketballers, just like "old man river," just keep rolling along, racked up another victory Friday night in Spartan gym at the expense of the Salinas high school five, 52-39.

Don Faussett, center for the frosh five, again was the high point man for the contest as he dunked 12 points. He has been the consistent top scorer for the Spartababes all season.

Tom Crane, who always is right on the heels of Faussett, again duplicated the feat as he hit for 11 digits to take second place in the scoring column.

Spartababe Coach Bob Wuesthoff deserves a lot of credit for his charges' consistent victories. The amiable coach, who has guided his squad to victory after victory, seems always to have the situation well in hand. As one spectator so aptly put it, if the game was in serious trouble of being lost, he for one would like to have Coach Wuesthoff on his side.

Singing Group Reveals Plans

The choral workshop will work on Alex Wilde's "Lowland Seas" winter quarter, according to Gus Lease, assistant professor of music.

The workshop, open to all students, meets on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 3:30 p.m. One unit credit is given.

"The Lowland Seas" has been produced twice before, at the National Music camp and at Brooklyn college, Mr. Lease said.

The choral ensemble will work on Mendelssohn's "Saint Paul." The ensemble meets at 1:30 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays and is open to all students.

Band Enrollment

Concert and varsity band enrollment is open to all students interested in music, according to Robert P. Olson, associate professor of music.

Call for Arts Goods Pickup

Yardage and leather goods left in Crafts 123 class should be called for at the Art Seminar before Christmas vacation begins, according to an announcement from the department office.

Students who have left goods that can be identified are: Joan Berney, Shirley Cook, Mary DeLuchi, Mary Lou Gardner, Edith Griedoux, Joyce Hirano, Margie Leeds, Leo Lemuechi, Ron MacKenzie, Phyllis Moody, Margaret Nakamura, Elvira Peterson, Mary Edith Reed and June Wright.

A few items which cannot be identified also are being held in the Art Seminar, according to the announcement.

SJS Debates Cal

Two San Jose debate teams participated in a non-decision debate with the University of California Tuesday night, according to Dr. Lawrence Mouat, director of forensics.

Luther Clark and Bill Johnson argued the negative side of the issue, which concerned fair employment practices legislation.

Competing on the affirmative side of the question were Dick Penrose and Bill Tyler.

Open Fellowship Applications

Kent Fellowships for the 1953-54 academic year amounting to $1,300 for married students or $900 for single students now are being offered, according to the National Council on Religion in Higher Education.

Applications must be filed before March 1, 1953. SJS students may apply through their department heads to the chairman of the college service funds committee in Room 114.

Some of the qualities the committee of selection will stress are intellectual and scholarly ability and promise, and interest in religion and in building a vital contact between religious faith and the scientific and intellectual disciplines.

VA Opportunities

All types of architects and engineers are needed throughout the country for the Veterans Administration's hospital construction, conversion and modernization program, according to a VA bulletin.

Among the job vacancies are positions for architects, estimators, mechanical engineers, electrical engineers, landscape design architects, and construction superintendents.

USN Wants You

Mid-year college graduates may become eligible for an officer's commission in the Navy by applying through the Officer's Candidate program, it was announced today.

To qualify, a test must be taken and physical and age requirements must be met. Applications will be taken from those who now hold a degree or who will earn one within the next four months.

Band Competition

College dance bands may obtain entrance blanks in Metronome magazine's collegiate dance band contest in the Spartan Daily office. Winning group will record with Capitol records.

Acetate records must be submitted with the entry blanks. The winning band will be selected by Ray Anthony, Stan Kenton and Billy May.

Club for Greeks

The Interfraternity Council wants all fraternity members who are not represented by a local chapter to register in the office of the dean of men, according to Dick Garcia, IFC president.

The brothers are to indicate whether they are interested in forming a "stray Greek club." The stray Greeks would then be invited to IFC functions, Garcia said.

Name, address and telephone number will be required of the registrants.
