Come hear Dr. Monika Kress talk about meteorites and the origin of habitable worlds.

Dr. Monika Kress will present the theory of solar system formation, focusing on meteorites. She will describe a first-hand account of how meteorites are recovered from the most fertile meteorite-hunting ground on Earth: Antarctica. Dr. Kress is an Associate Professor of Physics and Astronomy. She is also a member of the NASA Astrobiology Institute's Virtual Planetary Laboratory since 2003.
