JACKSONVILLE BEACH, FLORIDA

December 11, 1941

Mr. R. H. Fritscher
4745 N. Linder Avenue
Chicago, Illinois

Dear Mr. Fritscher:

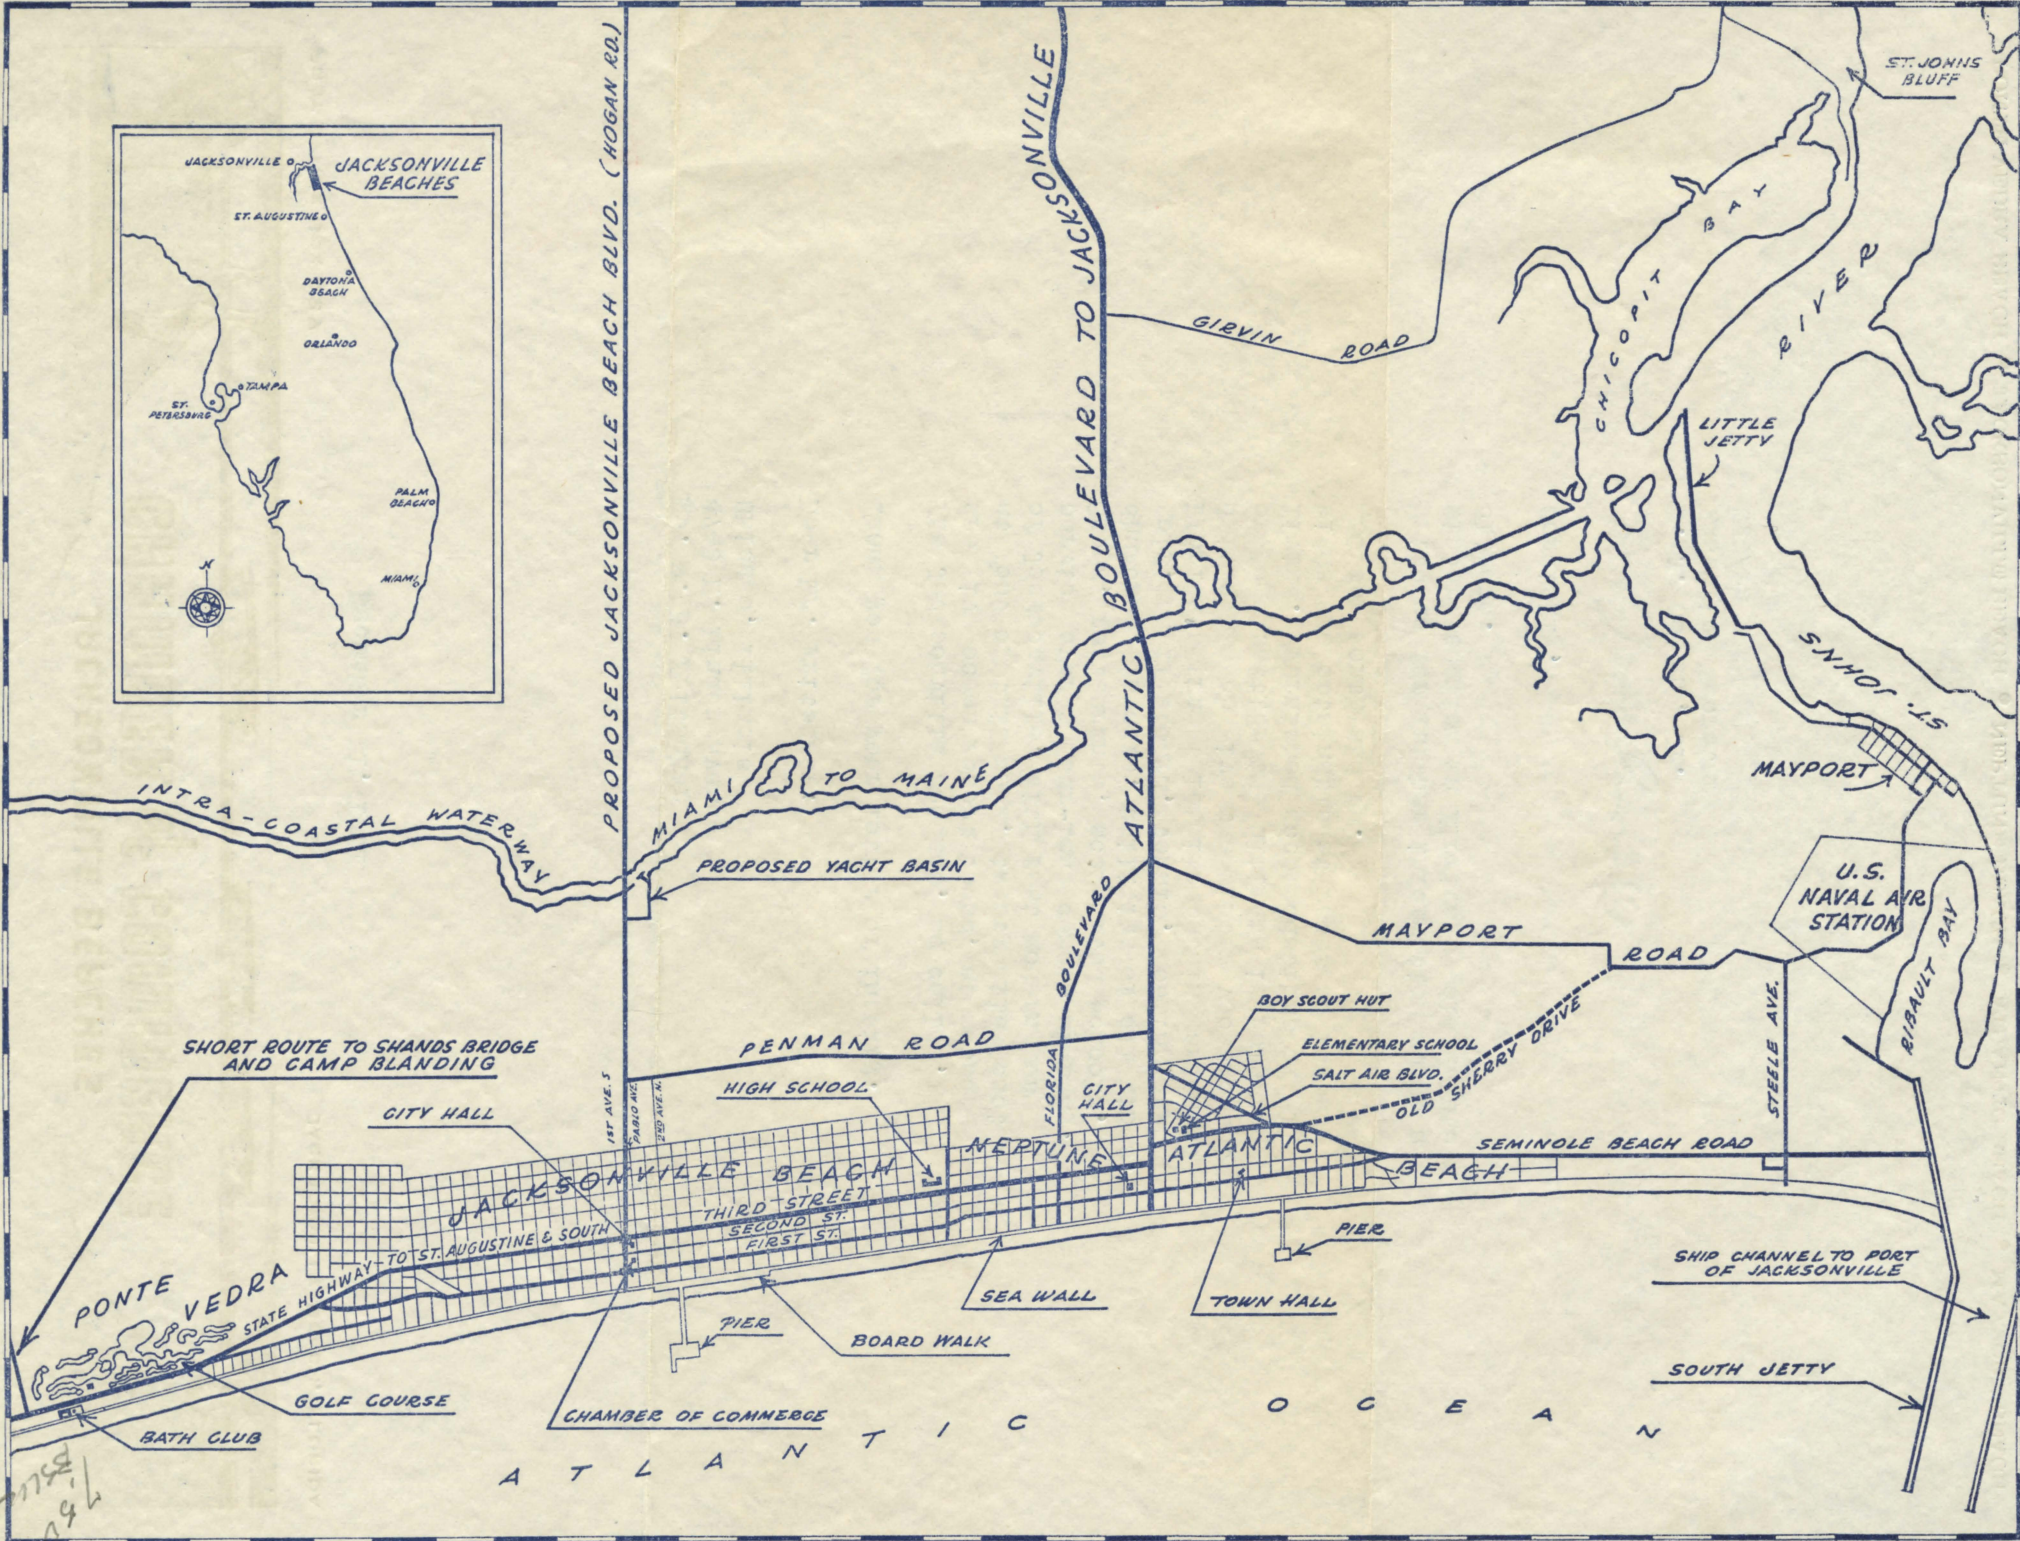

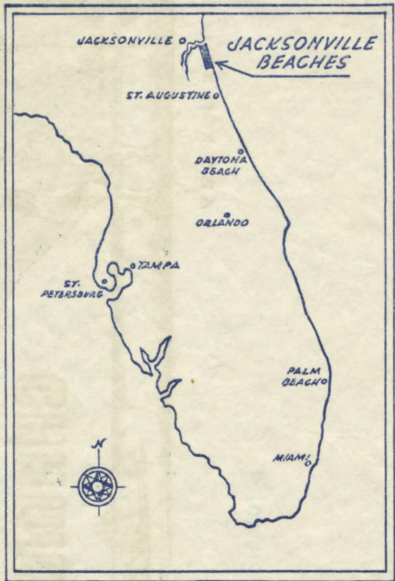

Thank you for your letter of inquiry.

The Jacksonville Beaches, so called, are five ocean resort towns, as noted at foot of this page, twenty miles east of Jacksonville, with fast modern bus service over a four-lane cement highway. Shops, restaurants, accredited schools, churches, theatre, utilities of all kinds, golf, shuffleboard, tennis, bowling, and Florida's finest 14 mile bathing and auto driving Beach give the winter vacationist or home settler the ultimate in relaxing living. Furnished accommodations of all kinds are obtainable at rates as low as $30 per month and up.

Write us for further information about a winter vacation in Florida's golden autumn climate.

Cordially,

W. J. Cozens, Jr.
Executive Secretary
