Dear Chris,

I recently received a copy of the Division News. It looks terrific. On behalf of the Division, my congratulations to you (and Anna) for a job well done. There is a nice diversity of information and the format is good. Perhaps as we grow, we can add even more information, and some art work.

Do you have extra copies of the newsletter? It might be good to send copies to the ASC President, President-Elect, Vice-President, Vice-President-Elect, and Executive Board members. Or at least to the present and future elected officers. They will then get an idea of what we are about, and the networking we have undertaken in earnest. I know Bill Chambliss (President-Elect) would appreciate receiving a copy. What do you think?

Did you get the finances squared away? I heard no negative comments from other Board members, and assume, therefore, that it is appropriate for you to be reimbursed for the $35 you spent. Were there other expenses? Did Anna have any expenses, or was she able to cover the costs within her program?

For reimbursement, you need to send Sarah a letter, including any receipts, indicating the costs incurred. You will receive an ASC check, but the money will be from our budget. Please send a copy of the request for reimbursement to me for the files.

Apparently there are a number of former Division members who have not yet paid dues. Your note in the newsletter urging members to sign up again was a good idea. In addition, I prepared a memo for Sarah Hall to send to former Division members re. payment of dues, and mailed that last Friday (March 13th) with instructions to send it out as soon as possible.

Nicky Rafter and I both urged Sarah to consider an alternative format to indicate that dues for the Division are to be paid annually, as it is possible that its current placement goes unnoticed. Nicky said when she paid her dues, she didn't see it. Nicky sent her a better example of the form for payment.

Perhaps the Division should send a letter to all members, maybe at the end of the year to indicate that dues for the Division are to be paid annually. Maybe Sarah could note that on the payment form as well.

It's such a pleasure to work with you, a competent, caring person.

Hope all's well in the warm sunny South.

Take care and thank you so much again for a neat facelift on the newsletter.

Warmest regards,

Phyllis Jo Baunach, Chairperson

RE: _____

The new Division newsletter arrived this week and does it ever look terrific! Congratulations on a fine job. It is so great to see how far we have come, and how professional we look now.

I especially like the graphics, and the various continuing depts, columns etc.

I looked around for you in St. Louis, but we didn't seem to cross paths. I will certainly see you in Montreal, though.

Again, congratulations on a fine job.

Peace--

Nanci

Dear Anna,

I recently received a copy of the Division News. It looks terrific. On behalf of the Division, my congratulations to you (and Chris) for a job well done. There is a nice diversity of information and the format is good. Perhaps as we grow, we can add even more information, and some art work.

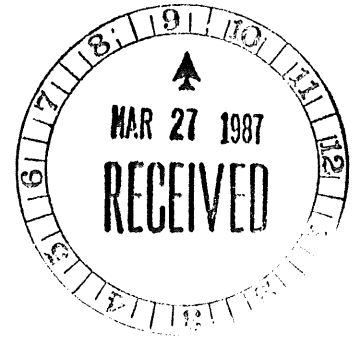

Do you have extra copies of the newsletter? I wrote to Chris and suggested that it might be good to send copies to the ASC President, President-Elect, Vice-President, Vice-President-Elect, and Executive Board members. Or at least to the present and future elected officers. They will then get an idea of what we are about, and the networking we have undertaken in earnest. I know Bill Chambliss (President-Elect) would appreciate receiving a copy. What do you think?

Did you incur any expenses for the production of the newsletter? Chris said you were going to try to absorb the costs of production in your program. Obviously, from the Division's standpoint, that would be desirable. However, if this was not possible, please let me know.

Take care and thank you so much again for a neat facelift on the newsletter.

Warmest regards,

Dear Chris,

I was delighted to hear that you have volunteered to take over the Division's newsletter. If your flyer was any indication of what we can expect, we're in for some exciting changes.

→ ① I did have two announcements whenever you do get the next issue together. The first is simply a reminder to members of the division to send in their resumés to either Merry Morash (chair) or myself for inclusion in the Fellow's Committee file. Please add that members shouldn't be shy as it's also possible that the resumé bank could also be tapped for less exalted purposes (e.g. to locate reviewers for Criminology).

② Spring '87 The second announcement is simply a request that people send me any recent work they have done on female delinquency. I'm putting together a book on the topic with Randy Shelden and would like to include as much current material as I can find.

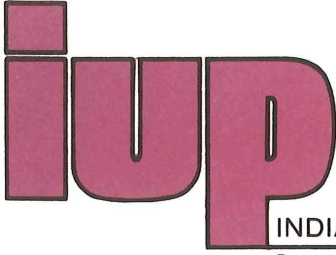

Finally, Chris, could you send us your resumé?

Thanks again and good seeing you.

Best,

Dear Chris:

Enclosed find some possibilities for the DivisioNews. (Which is still looking great by the way! Thanx for the note, the article of mine looked fine.)

First, find the blurb on the WS Encyclopedia, which is all ready to print, I think. Helen was glad we were going to include it. (Don't sign my name to it as a contributor of the newsblurb because I have articles in the Ency. [along with many other div. members] and it might look self-serving.

Second, find an abstract of a new dissertation by a new colleague of mine. I wonder if we might not print part of this? I can't remember whether we have a section for new diss.s on women & crime, along with the book reviews but it might be a good idea to start this, no?

Third, an unfinished piece. This has to do with the art series I spoke with you about last fall. There is a brief intro. to the series, and then a first piece for the series. There are things I have to do before we can go forward with this, even if you like the idea. I am going to get in touch with art historians here and find out how to get permission to reproduce, how to reproduce effectively (what I sent you is already dreadful and will never reproduce in the newsletter as is) and also more infor. on where works of Kahlo's may be viewed in America. Let me know what you think--if this turns out to be reproducible do you think it would be a fun series for DivisioNews?

I. Moyer says she is sending you the blurb on Ruth Cavan.

Did you get the material on liberal studies I sent you?

Hope your year went well.

Warmly, Nanci

hi -

here I am now - (did I meet you once?)
anyway - if possible, I'd <sup>①</sup> like more on meetings (by regions) and also <sup>②</sup> more on f's organizations (f's Bar
Assoc, f in law enforcement - or f Police Officers, etc. I know in many criminal justice areas f's groups must have formed). Both these would help professional & personal networking I feel. In that same line, networking, how about a column on? Or, list of members - by interest area - who want to connect.
Or, whatever. And, a listing of task forces. I've asked a few times and never been able to connect. Maybe a continual or periodic (but consistent, like every other issue) would help. And our own logo??
And membership list, w/ bitnets & fax?
Thank much. (Sorry the note is so brief & chaotic, in a hurry.)
