

Spring 2016

Riders to the Sea Design

Ethan Friedson

Follow this and additional works at: http://repository.upenn.edu/showcase\_webprojects

 Part of the Theatre and Performance Studies Commons

---

Recommended Citation

Friedson, E. (2016, April 01). Riders to the Sea Design. Retrieved from http://repository.upenn.edu/showcase\_webprojects/9

Eric Baratta's THAR 130 Introduction to Stage Design class was held in the Collaborative Classroom in Van Pelt Library.

This paper is posted at ScholarlyCommons. http://repository.upenn.edu/showcase\_webprojects/9
For more information, please contact repository@pobox.upenn.edu.

---

Riders to the Sea Design

Abstract

Course: THAR 130

Faculty: Eric Baratta

I created a scenic design concept for the 1903 one act play Riders to the Sea by J.M. Millington. This was a projected for Eric Baratta's THAR 130 class on theatre design. The model was created in Google SketchUp. A number of research images were essential to creating the design, including the backdrop image which is a painting by Ivan Aivazovsky. The play, which takes place on a small island in Ireland, features a woman whose six sons have all drowned on the sea.

Keywords

Spring 2016, Eric Baratta

Disciplines

Theatre and Performance Studies

Comments

Eric Baratta's THAR 130 Introduction to Stage Design class was held in the Collaborative Classroom in Van Pelt Library.

