

Humberstone, Barbara, Christie, Beth and Prince, Heather (2016) Editorial update. Journal of Adventure Education and Outdoor Learning, 16 (1). p. 1.

Downloaded from: <http://insight.cumbria.ac.uk/2539/>

Usage of any items from the University of Cumbria's institutional repository 'Insight' must conform to the following fair usage guidelines.

Any item and its associated metadata held in the University of Cumbria's institutional repository Insight (unless stated otherwise on the metadata record) may be copied, displayed or performed, and stored in line with the JISC fair dealing guidelines (available here) for educational and not-for-profit activities

provided that

- the authors, title and full bibliographic details of the item are cited clearly when any part of the work is referred to verbally or in the written form
  - a hyperlink/URL to the original Insight record of that item is included in any citations of the work
  - the content is not changed in any way
  - all files required for usage of the item are kept together with the main item file.

You may not

- sell any part of an item
- refer to any part of an item without citation
- amend any item or contextualise it in a way that will impugn the creator's reputation
- remove or alter the copyright statement on an item.

The full policy can be found here.

Alternatively contact the University of Cumbria Repository Editor by emailing insight@cumbria.ac.uk.

<http://dx.doi.org/10.1080/14729679.2015.1130493> 2.1.16

Humberstone, B., Christie, B. & Prince, H. (2016) Editorial Update. Journal of Adventure Education and Outdoor Learning, Vol 16(1), 1. doi: 10.1080/14729679.2015.1130493 2.1.16
Published online 14.1.16

Taylor and Francis have published JAEOL for eight years. During that time the Journal has gone from strength to strength, most notably increasing from two issues a year in 2006 to four issues in 2015 and there has been a number of special issues: Journey(s) vol. 10 (2); Outdoor and Adventure Therapy vol. 11(2); Cultural Perspectives on Experiential Learning in Outdoor Spaces vol. 12 (3); Outdoor Play and Learning in Early Childhood from Cultural Perspectives vol. 13 (3); and Space, Place and Sustainability and the Role of Outdoor Education vol. 14 (3). The forthcoming special issue focuses on Adventure and the call for inclusion in that edition closes in March 2016. A themed issue focusing on Latin America is in progress and due in 2016. If you wish to propose a special issue please visit the website and read the special issue guidelines available at http://www.tandf.co.uk/journals/pdf/education/SI\_guidelines\_JAEOL.pdf. Do refer to the aims and scope of the Journal when developing your theme.

There have also been some developments within the membership of the Editorial Board. First, we wish to thank those members of the board who have given their time and energy to support and develop the Journal. And, second, we wish to offer a special thanks to those who are moving on, in particular, Paul Wilson, Cumbria University, for his hard work as convenor, and Tim Stott, Liverpool John Moores University, and Roger Greenaway, Reviewing Skills Training, both of whom have been stalwart Board members providing support and advice over many years. Tim and Roger have generously offered to continue to support the Journal as reviewers and we thank them for their extended commitment.

Applications are invited from both experienced academics and early career researchers for appointment to the Editorial Board. If you wish to be considered please read the information on the Journal's website at <http://www.tandf.co.uk/journals/authors/RAOL-EB-membership.pdf>. Applications will be considered by the full Editorial Board.

Barbara Humberstone, Managing Editor
Beth Christie, Associate Editor
Heather Prince, Convenor

Taylor & Francis Group
an informa business