OXFORD BROOKES UNIVERSITY

Using the Library

...when you are off-campus

Harcourt Hill is the main Education and Early Childhood library for Oxford Brookes University. Even if you come to Harcourt Hill only occasionally – or never! you can still use lots of the Library's services. You can also contact Library staff for help by email, phone, live help or on Facebook and Twitter.

Where to start :

The Library Web site – go to www.brookes.ac.uk/library

Help for Education and Early Childhood students :

Choose Education or Early Childhood from the Subject Help box on the Library home page. Our page explains how to use all our online services and how to contact us. Or go directly to <https://www.brookes.ac.uk/library/subject-help/education-and-early-years---early-childhood-studies/>

Finding our resources :

Our books, e-books, journals, articles and reading lists for Education and Early Childhood, both physical and online resources, can be found through LibrarySearch on the Library home page. Just choose the tab for the thing you want (Books & E-books, Journal titles, Find a database, or Reading Lists) or use the default LibrarySearch tab to search across books and journals.

Logging in :

To get to any of our e-resources, you'll need to log in with your Brookes student number and password when prompted.

Coming to the Library :

During semesters, we're open in the evenings and at weekends as well as Monday – Friday. Detailed opening hours are on the Library Web site at <https://www.brookes.ac.uk/library/site-libraries/harcourt-hill-library/>

Borrowing books :

Most of our books are one-week loan, but they will be automatically renewed for you unless they are Held (reserved) by someone else (you need to check your Brookes email regularly for messages about books you need to return, or check on LibrarySearch in My Account at <https://oxfordbrookes.on.worldcat.org/myaccount>). You can also Hold (reserve) books through LibrarySearch (use the green Place Hold button next to the book you want) to collect when you come in, or to be sent to Harcourt Hill for you from one of the other Brookes libraries.

WWW.BROOKES.AC.UK/LIBRARY

If you live nearer to our Headington or Wheatley sites, you can get books sent to those libraries from Harcourt Hill (again, use the Place Hold button on LibrarySearch), and/or return Harcourt Hill books at those sites. Our print journals can't be borrowed, but there are photocopier/printers in the Library and you can use your Brookes Print Anywhere account if you want to photocopy a journal article.

Items not in the Library :

If you need a book or a journal article which the Library doesn't have, we can get it from another library for you via Interlibrary Loan. This costs £3.00. More details and a request form on our Web site :

<https://www.brookes.ac.uk/library/library-services/borrowing/interlibrary-loans-service/>

- we can post journal article photocopies out to you or in some cases deliver them by email, but if you order a book you will have to come in to the Library to collect it.

Using Other Libraries :

If you live nearer to another university than you do to Brookes, you may be interested in the SCONUL Access scheme. Libraries which are members of this scheme will allow part-time, distance learning and postgraduate students to borrow from them. To apply online and check which libraries you could use, go to SCONUL's Web site:

<https://www.sconul.ac.uk/sconul-access>
