

scene one maybe --

the party was up on the hill
this side of goldstream.
damn fine party.
i started with champagne. then beer. then rum (hudson's bay 150 proof) and home brew.
damn fine party.
was twenty below out when i drove rex and richie home.
ditched the truck
three times
in the driveway.
went down the road and
around the curves
at 45 that are n't drivable at 25.
ditched it again.
got it out tho and got rex and
richie home
at last.
but i swear that the road is 8 feet wider due to my passing through.

scene two

left rex's with a cup of coffee under my belt.
slow and easy.
thought i'd take the back roads and fake out the cops since they might think i'se drunk.
took davis road slow. peg'er a little faster feelin' pretty good by the time i hit van horn.
went through the stop sign.
hell. no cars commin'.
pair of headlights turned on behind me.
i took it slow and easy till the red light started flashin'.
stopped the truck. got out and told myself. think sober.
told him no. commin' home from a concert.
