Editors' Note

This international seminar on Language Maintenance and Shift II is a continuation of the previous international seminar with the same theme conducted by the Master Program in Linguistics, Diponegoro University in July 2011. We do hope that the seminar with this theme can become a yearly program of the Master Program in Linguistics, Diponegoro University, as we see that this topic still needs our serious attention due to the inevitable impact of globalization on the life of indigenous languages.

We would like to thank the seminar committee for putting together the seminar that gave rise to this collection of papers. Thanks also go to the head and secretary of the Master Program in Linguistics Diponegoro University, without whom the seminar would not have been possible.

The table of contents lists all the papers presented at the seminar. The first five papers are those presented by invited keynote speakers. They are Prof. Dr. Hanna (Balai Bahasa Provinsi Sulawesi Tenggara, Indonesia), Prof. Dr. Bambang Kaswanti Purwo (Atma Jaya Catholic University, Indonesia), Dr. Sugiyono (Language Center, Indonesia), Peter Suwarno, Ph.D (Arizona State University), and Herudjati Purwoko, Ph.D (Diponegoro University).

In terms of the topic areas, there are 33 papers on language maintenance, 24 papers on language learning, 19 paper on sociolinguistics, 15 paper on pragmatics, 8 papers on discourse analysis, 8 paper on morphology, 2 papers on syntax, 2 papers on translation, 1 papers on psycholinguistics, 1 papers on phonology, and 1 papers on semantics.

Abstract

This paper is mainly aimed at finding information about the role of Kyai in Javanese Language Maintenance. It is done by studying a case study on seven Kyai/Nyai in Semarang. The writer uses two observation techniques by using questionnaire and direct interview to the respondents.

The writer uses two methods in analyzing the data, qualitative method to describe the role of Kyai in maintaining Javanese language and quantitative method to illustrate the quantity of the data. The study reveal that the role of Kyai in Javanese Language Maintenance is significance.

Key words: language change, language maintenance, the role of Kyai in maintaining Javanese language

A. INTRODUCTION

The use of Javanese Language which has a large number of speakers and supported by strong culture and tradition will not be left by its people in these days. But in the long-term this language may be endangered. It can be seen especially in the big cities of Java island Indonesia, more and more parents use Bahasa Indonesia directly to their children as a means of communication (Abdul Chaer, 2010: 228). And if there is no attention to this condition, the number of Javanese Language speakers will decrease quickly in the near future.

Language maintenance simply refers to the preservation by speech community of its language (Donald Winford in Jendra, 2010: 144). The role of certain figures in the community such as authority, political leaders, artists (i.g. Didi Kempot), writers/journalists, and religion leaders are very important, since what they do is followed by their people or followers.

The role of the Kyai in the Javanese moeslem communities is important Not only leading in the mosque prayer.. They always present in any occasion/traditional ceremony. From the pregnancy of the mother, delivering birth, circumcision, wedding to funeral, people need Kyai to carry out the ceremony. In these traditional ceremonies most Kyai still use Javanese language to deliver a speech. Since Islam is the religion of the majority (more than 80 % of the population) of the Javanese people, the role of Kyai in maintaining Javanese language is significance.

1. Who are the Kyai.

The "Kyai" are traditional Javanese moeslem leaders. Some of them are well-educated formally from well known Islamic university or IAIN but most of them are not. The terminology of Kyai comes from Javanese words "iki wae" means the selected one or not ordinary people. So if someone is called Kyai by his community, he must have done extra-ordinary things on the perception of its community. Though kyai is not a formal degree which is given by formal institution such as university, the people in the Javanese moeslem community respect it very much. Usually Kyai is someone who has very good characters such as trustworthy, humble, wise, patient and clever.

Besides the leader of moeslem community Kyai usually also teach some students which is called "santri". Some Kyai have pesantren or traditional Islamic boarding school. In some traditional pesantren the lesson is still taught in Javanese language with Javanese literature (yellow textbooks) besides Arabic literature. Pesantren is the source of Kyai in the future. In this text book all learning material (especially nahwu soroh/arabic grammar) are explained in Javanese language.

2. Objective of the Study

According to Hoffman (1991: 186) "When a community does not maintain its language but gradually adopts another one, we talk about language shift (while) language maintenance refers to a situation where members of community try to keep the language they always used". Hoffman also observed that under certain cultural, social, political conditions, a community might opt to change one set of linguistic tool to another.

One of the important factors that impact on shift and maintenance of language is attitude (Gardner, 1985 and Holmes, 2011). Attitude refer to a hypothetical construct used to explain the direction and persistence of human behavior (Baker, 1992 : 10). So it represents internal thoughts, feelings and tendencies of behaviour across a variety of contexts.

This paper is mainly aimed at finding information about the role of kyai in Javanese Language maintenance. Especially the attitude of the Kyai toward Javanese language that has impact to javanese language maintenance.

3. Significance of the Study

Many studies have established that change in language attitudes is one of the major factors affecting language shift among the linguistic communities. The finding of the study is will be useful for the readers in learning language maintenance especially Javanese Language maintenance in globalization era.

4. Methodology and Sampling

The writer uses descriptive method to analyze the data. The data are described into qualitative and quantitative data. The writer uses random sampling as technique to select the sample in which the total is seven persons. For obtaining the data, the writer uses questionnaire which done to obtain the valid curriculum vitae, environment, language acquisition, and the use of the language of the respondents and direct interview to obtain opinions and attitude toward language of the respondents. The data processing is done by thinking inductively or by explaining in words.

B. FINDING AND DISSCUSSION

The writer did survey on 7 respondents. All of the respondents are called Kyai or Nyai by his/her community in Semarang, Kyai is a man traditional moeslem leader while Nyai is a woman. Data collection was done by asking them to fill a questionnaire and interviewed them directly. This survey held in May 28 to June 9 2012.

1. Language Proficiency

Javanese Language proficiency of the respondent differs from one to another respondent. Most of them (72 percent) speak it well (including kromo speech level) and use it in delivering religious discourse, 2 of them (28 percent) use it just for introduction and closing religious discourse only. Most of them (57 percent) always use javanese language for daily conversation.in the family and in the neighbourhood But in the workplace they sometimes mix it with Bahasa Indonesia. All of them speak Arabic and understand English. All of them are multilingual at least bilingual.

2. Attitude toward Bahasa Indonesia.

Attitude toward Bahasa Indonesia of the respondents (100 percent) are positive. All of them speak Bahasa Indonesia well. They are proud and happy to use Bahasa Indonesia and do not think that Bahasa Indonesia is the competitor of Javanese Language. They use this language to deliver religious discourse in the urban area where the audiences are multiethnic. .

3. Attitude toward Javanese Language.

Attitude toward Javanese Language of the respondents (72 percent) are positive., with exception of two (28 percent) respondents which their mother tongue are Javanese Banyumas dialect. All of them respect this language and realize that this language is more communicative than any other language to Javanese people especially those who live in suburban or country side of Semarang.

4. Attitude toward Bilingualism

Attitude toward Bilingualism of the respondent are positive. Most of them often do Code-Switching and Code-Mixing in delivering religious discourse. from Javanese to Bahasa Indonesia or Arabic or vice versa in order to explain the message.

5. Language Maintenance

Language maintenance is crucial for its survival. Even tough the attitude toward Javanene Language of the Kyai are positive only 4 (57 percent) of them always use it in the daily conversation at home. So their children will not have javanese language skill as well as the parent.. This condition indicate that language loss is clear in the next generation. Since what kyai do is often followed by the people so it is good for anybody who wants to preserve or maintain Javanese language to give more attention to them.

Their effort to teach Javanese language in the pesantren a traditional moeslem boarding school is very important.

C. CONCLUSION

The use of Javanese language in delivering religious discourse by Kyai indicates their positive attitude toward Javanese Language. Unfortunately Javanese language proficiency of the younger Kyai sometimes is not sufficient to send the message of the religion, so some of them switch to bahasa Indonesia or Arabic. The audience of their religious discourse is also the factor that come to their consideration to use the language. The citizen which are multiethnic prefer to hear bahasa Indonesia to Javanese. But in the countryside the use of javanese language for religious discourse is still very important. Thus the role of Kyai in Javanese language maintenance is significance.
