Editors' Note

In the international seminar on Language Maintenance and Shift III, there are some new issues. First, the committee changes the previous theme into “Investigating Local Wisdom through Indigenous Language”. Through the new theme, the committee invites language practitioners to discuss the problems concerning the importance of maintaining indigenous languages because the languages function as a means of expressing local wisdom. Second, the seminar uses the new label, LAMAS, the acronym which was proposed by Prof. Dr. Bambang Kaswanti Purwo in the previous seminar, to make the participants easily remember it. Third, most of the keynote speakers come from various institutions. Those are Dr. Johnny Tjia (Summer Institute of Linguistics, Indonesia-International), Prof. Jee Sun Nam, Ph.D (Hankuk University of Foreign Studies, Korea), Prof. Dr. Mahsun, M.S. (Badan Pengembangan dan Pembinaan Bahasa, Jakarta, Indonesia), Prof. Dr. Bambang Kaswanti Purwo (Atma Jaya Catholic University, Jakarta-Indonesia), Prof. Dr. I Dewa Putu Wijana (Gadjah Mada University, Yogjakarta, Indonesia), Prof. Drs. Ketut Artawa, M.A., Ph.D (Udayana University, Denpasar, Indonesia), and Dr. Suharno, M.Ed. (Diponegoro University, Semarang, Indonesia).

There are 113 participants who present the papers covering various topic areas. Those are 38 papers on sociolinguistics, 14 papers on morphology, 13 papers on applied linguistics, 8 papers on antropholinguistics, 8 papers on discourse analysis, 8 papers on cognitive linguistics, 7 papers on ethnography of communication, and 7 papers on computational linguistics.

We would like to thank the seminar committee for putting together the seminar that gave rise to this collection of papers. Thanks also go to the head and secretary of the Master Program in Linguistics Diponegoro University, without whom the seminar would not have been possible.

Editors' Note for Revised Edition

There are some changes in this revised edition. First, we enclose the article by Prof. Jee Sun Nam, Ph.D entitled “Retrieving Local Wisdom in Korean with the Support of Corpus Processing Software” on page 555. Second, we delete the article by Yusup Irawan ‘Tiga Syarat Menuju Fonetik Modern’ as he cancelled his status as a participant. These changes have an impact on the change of table of contents.

Abstract

This study aimed to investigate the pattern of language used at "pondok pesantren". In order to cover this aim, the researcher formulates two main components: (i) style used by the people at pondok pesantren, and (ii) register commonly found at pondok pesantren. The research was designed as descriptive qualitative. The subjects of the research are the santris/ the students and their kyai/ public figure at pesantren. The voice recording is regarded as the data collection technique. The qualitative analysis is considered as the appropriate method in analysing the data. Due to the data, the researcher identifies five styles used at "pondok pesantren": a) oratorical style, b) deliberative style, c) consultative style, d) casual conversation, e) intimate style. Furthermore, there are special registers used by the people at pondok pesantren: (i) "komplek", (ii) "lurah", (iii) "sowan", (iv) "dhawuh", (v) "mondhok", (vi) "ziyaroh".

1. Style and register

One way communication is only talking about communication with one person while two ways communication is talking about minimally two sides of communication; speaker and hearer. Furthermore, there is concept that language and its relation to the users and their social environment or community. In this paper, there are two main components that will be discussed: (i) style, and (ii) register. These components are considered as the part of sociolinguistics. The reason is the people use those components to interact and to communicate with other people in certain community (Chaer & Agustina, 2010: 3).

The first component(--style) in language is close-related with geography and language variation. This variation is declared in conversation between speaker and hearer. Spolsky explained that style could be regarded as a variation in the pronunciation single word of phoneme, in the choice of words and grammar (Bernard Spolsky 1998: 31). Besides Holmes suggested that style is the people's choice of code, language variety, language pattern, and dialect (2001: 223).

According to the levels of formality in communicative competence, Martin Joos (1967) formulates five styles: (i) oratorical style, (ii) deliberative style, (iii) consultative style, (iv) casual conversations, and (v) intimate style (cf Brown 2000: 260). Those styles/ levels are considered as the classifications based on the subject matter, audience, speaker, context, and occasion.

The second component (--register). Holmes stated that register is variation of specific vocabularies grouped by the different situational groups. It is based on the addressee, setting, task, and topic (2001: 246). In other words, according to communicative competence, register is defined as phonological variants, vocabulary idioms, and other expressions formed by different groups or associations (Brown, 2000: 260).

2. The Common Components At Pondok Pesantren

Muchtarom stated that pondok pesantren was regarded as the Islamic institutional education (2002:12). In Javanese Island, the early pondok pesantren was found. The spreaders of Islam namely Walisongo was considered as the founder or the first creators of pondok pesantren (Sutrisno, 2007:11). Later, the people regard pesantren as the center of Islamic educational institution and the center of religious teaching and learning.

According to General Chief of Islamic Institutional Affairs (2003:8), there are some common components in pondok pesantren: (i) pondok/ boarding house, (ii) mosque, (iii) kyai/ the owner of pesantren, (iv) santris/ students, and (v) teaching activities of kitab kuning (classical Islamic books). The first component (-pondok) is that the place where the santris and the teacher/ kyai lives. The female rooms are usually separated from the male rooms. The second is mosque, means that the place where the people pray and digest Islamic knowledge. The third one is kyai, which means the owner/ the founding father/ the public figure in pondok pesantren. The next one is santris/ students, means that the people who seeks knowledge in pondok pesantren. The last one is teaching activities of kitab kuning. It means that the activities in digesting the classical books namely kitab kuning.

In this research, there are two components are considered as the focus of the research: (i) the santris, and (ii) the kyai/ public figure. The researcher aimed to identify the pattern of language used by those components in their daily activities.

3. Research Methodology

The research was designed as descriptive qualitative. Arikunto explained that descriptive research is a explorative and developmental research (2006: 239). Besides Wray Allison, et.al. suggested that qualitative research needs long term observation and usually very small numbers in research subjects (1998: 95).

The subjects of the research are the students and their kyai at pondok pesantren. The researcher uses the voice recording as the data collection technique. The transcripts of dialogue are regarded as the data. The last step is to analyze the data. The qualitative approach analysis is considered as the most appropriate method in analyzing the data.

4. Style Used At Pondok Pesantren

According to the available data and the levels of formality, the researcher identifies some styles used at pondok pesantren that is stated follows:

a. Oratorical style

This style is used in public speaking with a large audience, wording is carefully planned in advance, intonation is something what exaggerated, and numerous rhetorical devices are appropriate.

- (1) Dhumateng para rawuh, para guru, para santri ingkang kawula hormati
(Honourable for the audiences, the teachers, and the students) perjuangan macem-macem jurusane (there are many ways to do struggling) tapi mung dadi siji tujuane
(however, there is only one main goal)
negakno agomo ono ing donyane (being right in obeying the religious law in daily activities) supoyo bahagio ono ing akherate.
(in order to get great happiness in the life after dead
(Muhamad Wartono,) Context: The speech was delivered in annual ceremony at pondok pesantren namely Haflah Akhirussannah (a farewell ceremony). He wants to deliver the speech about religious matters.

b. Deliberative style

This style is used in addressing audiences, usually audiences too large to permit effective interchange between speaker and hearers.

- (2) Para sederek kulo sedoyo
(my beloved brothers and sisters)
Jaler estri enom lan tuo
(the older, the younger, the female and male ones)
Mumpung urip ing alam donya
(When there is still little time)
Saben wektu podho elingo marang Kang Maha Kuoso
(in every day, please never forget to the Most Powerful ones)
(Muhammad Wartono) Context: The speech was delivered in a lecture (pengajian) at pondok pesantren with a large audiences.

c. Consultative style

This style typically in dialogue through formal enough that words are chosen with some care.

- (3) Munir : "Kang, nyuwun pitutur e..."
(Kang, I need your guidance....)

The underlined sentence is themarking of consultative style.

- Kang* : "Sekarang komplek utara wes tak kasih pencerahan semua, mendingan dari yang dulu..nyante wae nang"
(Recently, the people at the rooms in the north side has been given guidance, it would be better than the past time..take it easy, brother..")
- Munir* : "suwun..kang"
(Thank you..kang)

(A Conversation between a student and hissenior at a nonformal context)

d. Casual conversation

This style is occured between friends or colleagues or sometimes members of family or community.

- (4) Ariya : "piye kabarmukang?"
(How are you, kang?)
- Ardi* : "sae kok kang"
(I'm fine, kang)
- (The style is casual conversation because it has been happened between santris/students, they used ngoko lugu as marking casual conversation.)

e. Intimate style

This style is one characterized by complete absence of social inhibition. This conversation is applied by close family, loved ones, and very close friends, where the inner self is revealed.

- (5) Saiful : "Jo lali sob.. sesuk meng gene kang Munir.."
(Don't forget friend..we are going to go kang Munir's home tomorrow)
- Afkar* : "siap..takziyah...nglayat to meng gene abah e .."
(I'm ready..we are going to attend at his father's funeral ceremony)
- (A conversation between students(santri) which have close relationship)

5. The Registers Commonly Found

Based on the research findings, there are some registers commonly found at pondokpesantren as follows:

- Komplek*
In common sense, komplek means that some house that are accomodated in a group (e.g. of residence) but at pondok pesantren, komplek means that some rooms where the santris live which are separated from the kyai's home.
- Lurah*
Usually, the lurah means that the head of a village, but at pondok pesantren, lurah has highest role among the students/santris. He is the chief of committee/parties in the students' committee.
- Sowan*
Usually, sowan means visiting someone in all social distance and general context but at pondok pesantren, sowan can be considered as register because it means visiting (by the santris/the students) to the kyai's home with certain purpose such as asking permission, reporting some agenda, and so on.
- Dhawuh*
Dhawuh for common people means telling, saying, and speaking. However, at pondokpesantren, dhawuh means advising (by teachers/kyai) to the students.
- Mondhok*
For the people in Javanese, mondhok means that staying at home but for the students at pondok pesantren, mondhok means that seeking for/ looking for knowledge. Furthermore, mondhok also means staying at Islamic boarding house (pondok pesantren).
- Ziyaroh*
In Javanese culture, ziyaroh means that attending at funeral's ceremony. However, the people at pondok pesantren regarded ziyaroh as visiting some friends/ some people at their home.

They considered the literal meaning (of ziyaroh) in arabic language as the concept (ziyaroh means visiting).
