Editors' Note

In the international seminar on Language Maintenance and Shift III, there are some new issues. First, the committee changes the previous theme into "Investigating Local Wisdom through Indigenous Language". Through the new theme, the committee invites language practitioners to discuss the problems concerning the importance of maintaining indigenous languages because the languages function as a means of expressing local wisdom. Second, the seminar uses the new label, LAMAS, the acronym which was proposed by Prof. Dr. Bambang Kaswanti Purwo in the previous seminar, to make the participants easily remember it. Third, most of the keynote speakers come from various institutions. Those are Dr. Johnny Tjia (Summer Institute of Linguistics, Indonesia-International), Prof. Jee Sun Nam, Ph.D (Hankuk University of Foreign Studies, Korea), Prof. Dr. Mahsun, M.S. (Badan Pengembangan dan Pembinaan Bahasa, Jakarta, Indonesia), Prof. Dr. Bambang Kaswanti Purwo (Atma Jaya Catholic University, Jakarta-Indonesia), Prof. Dr. I Dewa Putu Wijana (Gadjah Mada University, Yogyakarta, Indonesia), Prof. Drs. Ketut Artawa, M.A., Ph.D (Udayana University, Denpasar, Indonesia), and Dr. Suharno, M.Ed. (Diponegoro University, Semarang, Indonesia).

There are 113 participants who present the papers covering various topic areas. Those are 38 papers on sociolinguistics, 14 papers on morphology, 13 papers on applied linguistics, 8 papers on anthropological linguistics, 8 papers on discourse analysis, 8 papers on cognitive linguistics, 7 papers on ethnography of communication, and 7 papers on computational linguistics.

We would like to thank the seminar committee for putting together the seminar that gave rise to this collection of papers. Thanks also go to the head and secretary of the Master Program in Linguistics Diponegoro University, without whom the seminar would not have been possible.

Editors' Note for Revised Edition

There are some changes in this revised edition. First, we enclose the article by Prof. Jee Sun Nam, Ph.D entitled "Retrieving Local Wisdom in Korean with the Support of Corpus Processing Software" on page 555. Second, we delete the article by Yusup Irawan 'Tiga Syarat Menuju Fonetik Modern' as he cancelled his status as a participant. These changes have an impact on the change of table of contents.

THE STRATEGY OF THE TEXT AND THE STRUCTURAL RELATIONSTO EXERCISE SUNDANESE CRITICS' IDEOLOGICAL HEGEMONY

Abstracts

The action of mind control in Media is executed to reproduce dominance and hegemony. This mind control, however, should be performed less resist and even find "natural". Van Dijk in Schiffrin (2001: 357) argues discursive, a function of the structures and strategies of text, involve in mind control. To perform it, the use of particular strategy may trigger the use of structural relation. In reality, how Ajip Rosidi acted to control Sundaneses may lead to the questions: (1) what textual strategy is applied in the discourse, and (2) what structural relations are developed to reproduce Sundanese critics' ideological hegemony.

Key words: polarization, structural relations, manipulation

1. Introduction

A word has lost its innocent when spoken. Media discourse is argued to be a means of forming power abuse by controlling public's mind. This legitimacy of power is constructed through a natural language to give the sense of the myriad of taken-for-granted of everyday life to eliminate the resistance of the addressee. The logical premises serve to present positive argumentation and to make negative other argumentation; so a hidden intention keeps coverting.

These logical premises trigger ideological conflict on readers' mind. The utterances quoted from script of Sherlock Holmes, for example, give an illustration.

Constable Clark: A grounds man saw him walking through the graves, just this morning.

Watson: I'll leave this one in your capable hands. I have tea with Mary and her parents this evening.

Holmes: It is not my reputation at stake here.

Watson: Are you taking this seriously?

Holmes: Like it or not, it's a matter of professional integrity. No girl wants to marry a doctor who can't tell if a man's dead or not.

Instead of taking his value, Watson tends to reconsider it after listening to Holmes' premises. Holmes gives an idea that Watson's reputation, professional integrity, and social value are in a risk as a result of his leaving. Watson's value changes. Holmes controls Watson's mind by manipulating.

Manipulation is suggested to enhance the power, moral superiority and credibility of the speaker as mentioned by van Dijk (2006: 380). Learning the above case, the power of Holmes is represented through the act of controlling Watson's. Consequently, Holmes's superiority and credibility arise.

In sum, mind-control to gain superiority and power may be conducted through manipulative language serving particular premises and constructed as natural as possible. The fact leads to the question, what features do support natural language. The applied strategy and linguistic mechanism provoke this study which is used analytic descriptive method.

2. Polarization and Presupposition: The Strategy of Text and The Structural Relation

As mentioned earlier, manipulative language is performed to covert the intention. Enlighten the issue, van Eemeren (2005: xii) examines that manipulation in discourse boils down to intentionally deceiving one's addresses by persuading them of something that is foremost in one's own interest through the covert use of communicative devices that are not in agreement with generally acknowledged critical standards of reasonableness. Ajip Rosidi, in related to the notion, covert his own interest through polarization strategy.

The strategy of polarization commonly represents a discourse between 'good' and 'evil'; even though, they are not directly confronted. Ajip Rosidi's text, at first, presents unequivocal and blunt utterances on the bad to suffice readers to gain necessary key words to keep in mind; to qualify the readers with put-down notions considering as bad through the picture of designed lexicals. The Sundanese are represented as a group that lives in a comfort zone, and in no consideration of the preservation of its culture, language, and political role in Indonesia; the group lives on its own.

The designed-lexicals present a particular semantic structure of the text providing insincere premises, connected by predicative relations, to imply the violation of presuppositions, and to sneak in writer's perception in the form of so-argued sincerity. The falsity of presuppositions is proposed to escape the critical awareness of the readers and limit his/her possibilities of criticism (see also Rocci, 2005: 100). The falsity is created by giving the positive arguments. Related to the Ajip Rosidi's text, the presuppositions are provided to serve the notions of awareness. It is believed that deconstruction of Sundanese's mind is effectively conducted through the notions of awareness. That is the main reason why manipulative discourse is involved in this act.

3. The Analysis of an Excerpt of Ajip Rosidi (Mangle, February 2, 2011)

The analysis may be described in the following passage taken from Ajip Rosidi's article published on Mangle on February 2, 2011; an article which coincides with the nature of Sundanese's attitude.

[...] Kuring yakin moal aya urang Sunda anu ngarasa sugema ku kaayaan urang Sunda di lingkungan Indonesia cara anu digambarkeun tadi. Tapi mudah-mudahan kagambarkeun deuih, yen memang ti beh ditu keneh peranan urang Sunda dina ngawangun jeung ngeusian kamerdikaan Indonesia henteu sabanding jeung jumlahna anu nomer dua di lingkungan Indonesia [...] Nya jadi kawajiban urang ayeuna ngusahakeun sangkan barudak Sunda anu baris cumarita di panggung nasional minangka urang Indonesia, dibekelan ku kawanoh kana sajarah jeung budaya Sunda sing cukup, miboga kareueus jadi urang Sunda tur reueus deuih ku basa Sunda jeung budaya Sunda. [...]

[...] I believe none of Sundanese feel enthusiastic by their existence in the national environment in the way it has been described earlier. However, it is well described that it was the point of which Sundanese can participate in supporting the independence, despite their second greater number [...] It is now our responsibility to awake Sundanese young generation participating in national political stage to be provided with sufficient knowledge of their own history and culture, making them confident and relieved enough to be Sundanese, to use the language, and to live the culture. [...]

The text, through its predicative relation in the negative theme, suggests that Sundanese should reconsider their existence in the environment.

This is meant to encourage and to build sentiment perspective towards their living in the so-called comfort zone. However, through its lexical selections in tapi (English: but), Ajip Rosidi provokes Sundanese awareness that they – say greater in number – can make effort to achieve the suggested intention of the writer, that is to start thinking and moving for the changes. The premises connected with predicative relation, tapi, lead to the (in) sincere presupposition,

The Sundanese provide themselves the possibility to participate in political role.

If the text is continued to be seen, the presuppositions are developed through readers' evaluation dragged by premises:

1. Sundanese must take a lip to reach the younger's awareness of indigenous culture and language;
2. Sundanese realize their own dignity;
3. Sundanese manage their effort to participate in Indonesia political affairs;
4. Sundanese are encouraged to share their ideological perceptions in national level; and
5. Sundanese are awoken of self-confidence as a second larger tribe who are provided with knowledge, values, and greatest experiences.

As a result, the arguments remain implicitly stated; therefore, the readers infer the intention without any resistance. They are led by the discursive text and think that the idea is their own by accepting the good ideas of the premises.

4. Conclusion

In this article, it is proposed that mind-control success when perlocutionary acts meets the illocutionary acts. The perlocutionary acts itself is influenced by evaluation of presuppositions. Making the expected presupposition, the polarization is applied to give the idea of good and bad value. Thus, in this framework, the propositions interrelate to the predicative relation congruously.
