Retrospective Theses and Dissertations in Digital Commons

The screenshot displays the FIU Digital Commons website interface. At the top left is the FIU logo and the text "Digital Commons FLORIDA INTERNATIONAL UNIVERSITY". A navigation menu includes "Home", "About", "Resources", "FAQ", and "My Account". A banner image of a building is accompanied by the text: "Preserving and promoting the scholarship, creative works and history of the FIU community".

The main content area features a breadcrumb trail: "Home > UGS > FIU.ETD". The title "FIU ELECTRONIC THESES AND DISSERTATIONS" is centered. Below this, a "Reader from:" section shows a location pin for "Moscow, Moskva, Russian Federation" and the title "Exploring Thermal and Mechanical Properties of Selected Transition Elements under Ex..." by Rostislav Hrubciak. A world map shows the location of the reader.

On the right side, there is a search bar with the text "Enter search terms:" and a "Search" button. Below the search bar are options for "Advanced Search" and "Notify me via email or RSS".

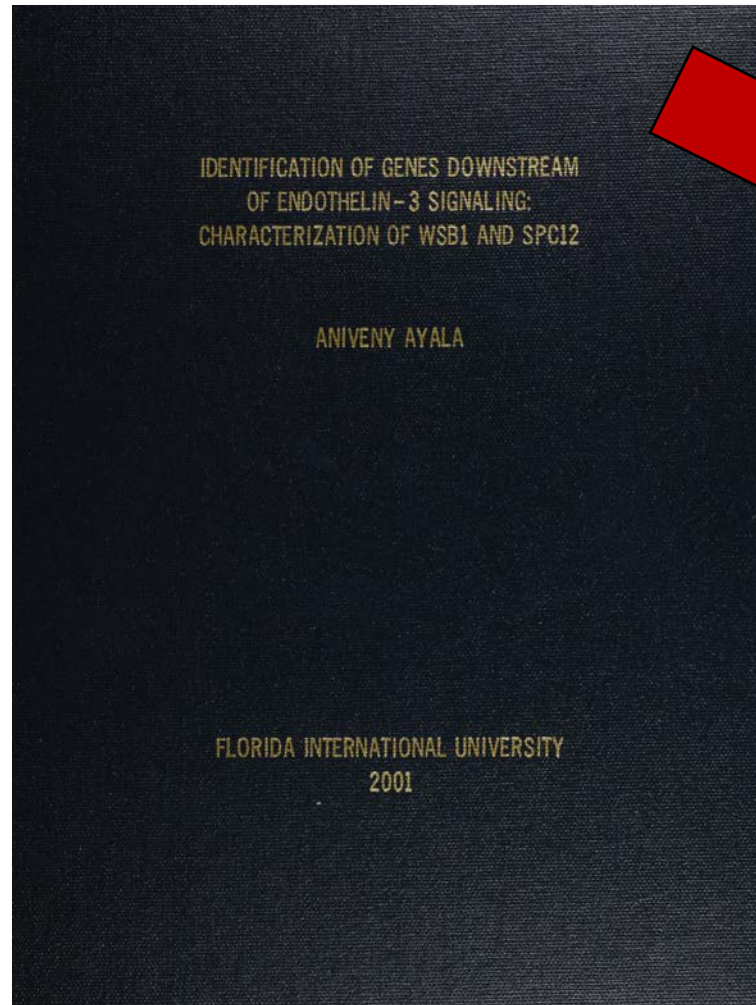

At the bottom of the page, a statistics table is displayed:

2,896 Total Papers	1,129,277 Total Downloads	216,373 Downloads in the past year
-----------------------	------------------------------	---------------------------------------

Additional elements include a "Recent Downloads" box showing "83 of 547 in the past day", a "Google" logo, and a "View Larger" button.

On the right sidebar, there are sections for "Links" (FIU University Graduate School, Florida International University), "Browse" (Collections, Disciplines, Authors), and "Author Corner" (Author FAQ, Policies).

Is clearance necessary?

- No clearance needed for theses/dissertations prior to 1978 without copyright mark
- Fair Use may not be an adequate defense
- Authors have three years after discovering document is online to initiate lawsuit

Copyright clearance

- Determine what level of clearance you need
- Check with your legal department!

I, _____, as copyright holder for the aforementioned thesis or dissertation, hereby grant specific and limited archive and distribution rights to the Board of Trustees of the University of Florida and its agents. I authorize the University of Florida to digitize and distribute the thesis or dissertation described above for nonprofit, educational purposes via the Internet or successive technologies.

This is a non-exclusive grant of permissions for specific off-line and on-line uses for an indefinite term. Off-line uses shall be limited to those specifically allowed by "Fair Use" as prescribed by the terms of United States copyright legislation (cf, Title 17, U.S. Code) as well as to the maintenance and preservation of a digital archive copy. Digitization allows the University of Florida or its scanning vendor to generate image- and text-based versions as appropriate and to provide and enhance access using search software.

This grant of permissions prohibits use of the digitized versions for commercial use or profit.

Copyright clearance

Dear Mr. Corradetti:

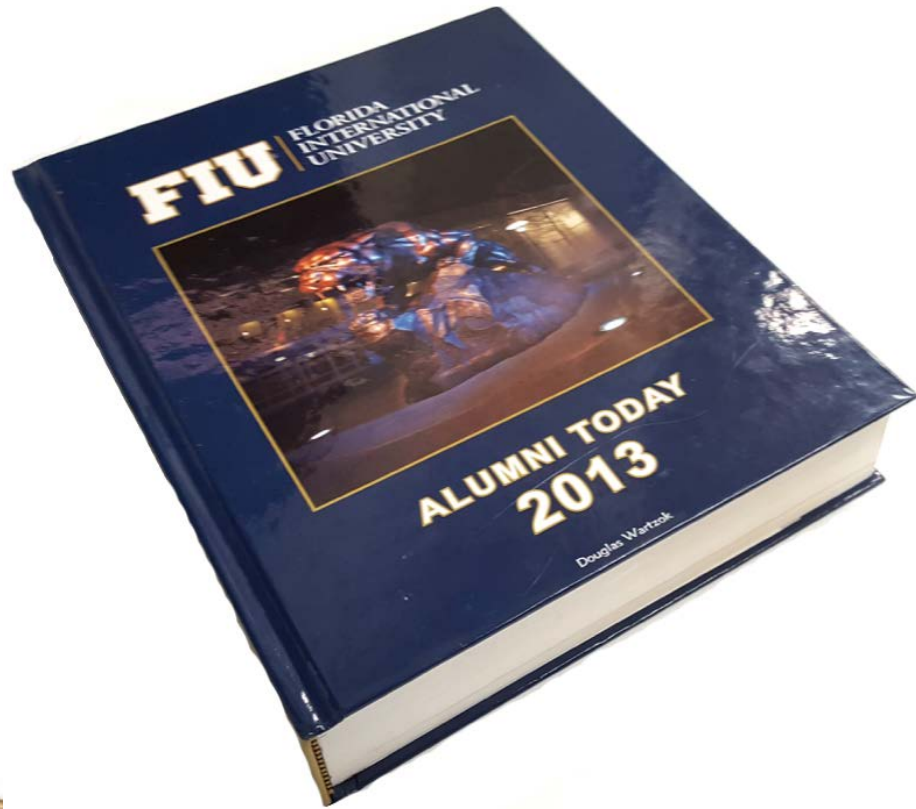

Florida International University's Digital Collections Center is offering a new service to graduate alumni: digitization of your theses and dissertations. This new service will enable your scholarship to be preserved and shared for research and educational purposes, at no cost to you, and will be made available through FIU's Electronic Theses and Dissertations on our Digital Commons website. The FIU Digital Commons is a digital repository for capturing, archiving and disseminating the research, creative and scholarly output of the Florida International University community. Our graduates' theses and dissertations are a valuable part of FIU's scholarship, and are a frequently accessed part of our digital collections.

Your 1998 thesis titled Occupational therapists' assessment of the caregivers of their elderly patients is in the process of being digitized for preservation and so that it may be made available in Digital Commons. At your earliest convenience, please reply to this email providing your authorization for your thesis to be made available online. Please be advised that FIU may make your thesis available online if we do not hear back from you within 90 days. If at any point you wish to have your thesis taken offline, please contact us at dcc@fiu.edu and we will be happy to do so. To accommodate needs such as publishing contracts and patents, FIU can also add a period of embargo, or alternatively provide only an excerpt of your thesis.

If you have any questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to contact me. Thank you for your contributions to Florida International University!

Sincerely,

Dear Dr. Chen: I work at FIU in the Green Library, and am working on a project where we are digitizing old theses and dissertations. I am trying to track down Xiaoming Chen to obtain his permission to allow us to put his 2002 Computer Science thesis ("Multimedia presentation authoring and browsing in multimedia database systems") on our digital commons website. I know that you worked with him on his theses, and I was wondering if you had a good email for him that you might be able to give me, or any way to find him? Thanks so much!

Abstract

Groebke-Blackburn-Bienayme reaction has been utilized for the synthesis of new imidazo[1,2-a]pyrimidine derivatives as novel anticancer agents. The cytotoxic activities of compounds were evaluated against human cancer cell lines including MCF-7, T-47D, and MDA-MB-231, compared with etoposide as the standard drug. Among the tested compounds, hydroxy- and/or methoxy-phenyl derivatives (6a-c and 6k) with IC50 values of 6.72-14.36 μM were more potent than etoposide against all cell lines. The acridine orange/ethidium bromide double staining and DNA fragmentation studies demonstrated that the cytotoxic effect of 3-hydroxy-4-methoxyphenyl derivative 6c is associated with apoptosis in cancer cells.

Keep track of undeliverables

The screenshot shows the Microsoft Outlook interface. The left sidebar displays the 'Inbox' with a sub-folder 'author permissions' containing 159 items. The main pane shows a list of emails, with the selected one being an undeliverable message from the 'Mail Delivery Subsystem' dated 4/13/17. The right pane displays the details of this undeliverable, including the sender's name and email address, and the SMTP error message received from the server.

Subject: FIU's digitization of your Telecommunications and Networking Thesis

Dear Abdallah El Moutia:

Florida International University's Digital Collections Center is offering a new service to graduate alumni: digitization of your theses and dissertations. This new service will enable your scholarship to be preserved and shared for research and

Please DO make it available. Adding another point of light to push back the curtain of ignorance, is what I always say. Thanks

Rebecca - how did you get this e-mail address? Makes me wonder.

I authorize! (Yay—this is cool!)

Thank you for your email! I'm so excited to hear that my thesis is being digitized. I never had a chance to make a copy of my thesis for myself so I'm happy to hear that I'll be able to see it online. I authorize you to make my thesis available online.

Good afternoon, it's an honor to have my Thesis Digitized and which will preserve my research and ultimately be available to many for years to come.

What a great news! Yes, I authorize my master's thesis to be available online.

Awesome,thank you! I approve.

Yes I consent to have it available. Will I be able to access it as well? Also how did you get this email address?

Thanks for the link and the reminder. It brings back memories of what seems to me a time long time past. Time passes more quickly now it seems to me. As an indication of my present perception of time, I was recently shocked to discover that what had seemed to me to be a period of 6 months was in fact 10. My forties zipped by and I am closing in on 50. Even if I live to be a hundred I fear that it will seem as if my life is now 3/4's over. Which means it is probably more like 7/8's over!

Well, I don't mean to depress you. Somehow I find it amusing. And, it makes my remaining time seem more precious to me.

Author Responses – families of deceased authors

Thank you for contacting us regarding my mother's thesis for her masters in dietetics. We were all very proud, on the day of her graduation, of her accomplishment which for that time period was not a common event for a mother of three return to school for a Masters degree.

We are thrilled to hear that her thesis will be digitized and grant you permission to proceed. In return if you could be so kind to send us a digital copy for our records.

Thank you for your email. I think he would have been very happy (and honored) to make his thesis available online for educational purposes. Architecture was his passion, and I witnessed the hard work that went into his thesis. You have my consent to make it available online.

Hello Rebecca – thanks so much for your thoughtful email and your condolences. I know mom would be honored to have her research available online and you have our permission to make it so. It makes me smile to think about it, so thanks so much again for reaching out.

Thank you for the message and the condolences. I am quite willing to provide consent for my wife's dissertation to be part of the Digital Commons. She greatly believed in the community of scholarship and I know she would be pleased to share her work. It pleases me, too, because a university press had wanted to publish her dissertation, but she was already too ill to make the necessary revisions and no suitable co-author could be found before she passed away. At least her scholarship will be available through this means.

Author Responses - rejections

At this time, I decline to have my dissertation made available online.

Please consider this formal notice that I DO NOT give FIU permission to make any part of my dissertation part of the digital collection at Florida International University. I am discussing publication of the dissertation as well as a second book that will include original materials as well. Please respond back to me that you have received this notice and confirm my decision regarding my dissertation within the 90 day period as stipulated.

Thanks for contacting me regarding the digitization of my copyrighted work. While I understand FIU's desire to do this for the common good, I have worked as a freelance writer/photographer for 25 years and have had to endure countless infringements upon my work in recent years. Therefore, I require a fee of $50 from FIU in order for me to grant the school the rights to digitize my work. And if not, I can't allow it to be done.

I do not wish for my Thesis to be available online at this particular moment as I am the process of publishing parts thereof as Journal Articles. Therefore, if this process could be deferred I would appreciate it.
