

PREGGOVOR

Drugi broj znanstveno-stručnog časopisa "Tourism and hospitality management" izlazi u akademskoj godini kada Hotelijerski fakultet Opatija, jedina visokoškolska institucija ove vrste u Hrvatskoj, radno obilježava svoju tridesetpetu obljetnicu kontinuiranog djelovanja na osposobljavanju kadrova za visokostručne i upravljačke poslove u hotelijersko-turističkom gospodarstvu. Među srednjoškolskom populacijom prisutan je veliki interes za upis na ovu visokoškolsku instituciju, na kojoj trenutno studira oko 1800 studenata.

Do sada je na dodiplomskim studijima Hotelijerskog fakulteta promovirano 4305 diplomana od čega 2379 na studijima sa dvogodišnjim i 1926 na studijima s četvorogodinjim trajanjem. Istraživanja ukazuju da se diplomandi pretežito zapošljavaju u struci, gdje se dokazuju kao vrijedni, sposobni i uspješni visokostruni djelatnici i menedžeri. U tijeku je treća generacija polaznika poslijediplomskog znanstvenog studija "Management u suvremenom hotelijerstvu", na kojem je do danas akademski stupanj magistra ekonomskih znanosti steklo 18 magistrana, a 10 doktoranda steklo je akademski stupanj doktora ekonomskih znanosti. U pripremi je i novi interdisciplinarni međufakultetski znanstveni poslijediplomski i doktorski studij "Upravljanje kvalitetom u hotelijerstvu i turizmu Hrvatske" (Total Quality Tourism & Hospitality Management).

The Faculty of Hotel Management maintains a successful cooperation with institutions in Austria, Switzerland, Slovak Republic and England, and especially with the Wirtschaftsuniversität Wien, Institute für Tourismus und Freizeitwirtschaft, Vienna, Austria.

Impressive results have been achieved in the publication of research carried out at the Faculty of Hotel Management Opatija. A large number of books, textbooks and scripts have been published and are used today as examination literature for students as well as on-job reference literature. The Faculty encourages a broad presentation of results from projects and other related research in the areas of Tourism and Hotel and Catering at scientific and technical symposiums and in scientific and other publications.

This issue of T&HM is thematically connected to a recent international scientific and technical congress: Croatia in European Tourism, and includes articles which were presented at this congress and which have been internationally reviewed. Once again T&HM is issued in cooperation with Wirtschaftsprüfungsinstitut (WIFI), Vienna, and with the support of Wirtschaftsuniversität Wien, Institute für Tourismus und Freizeitwirtschaft, Vienna, Austria.

It should be especially mentioned that the following secondary publications have accepted T&HM as a secondary reference:

- SOCIOLOGICAL ABSTRACTS, SAN DIEGO, USA
- JOURNAL OF ECONOMIC LITERATURE PITTSBURGH, PENNSYLVANIA, USA

The publication of T&HM is available on Internet:

HTTP://HOTEL.HIKA.HR

This issue of T&HM represents the Faculty of Hotel Management Opatija's contribution to the popularisation of scientific research and technical developments in this often too little discussed area, as well as open support to the Hotel and Tourism Industry, and an effort to include the Republic of Croatia as a participant in the flow of information within the world hotel industry.

THE INTRODUCTORY REMARK OF THE CHIEF EDITOR

In the second half of the twentieth century tourism has become an economic activity increasingly important for world economic trends. It is estimated that in 1994 income from international tourism reached some 320 billion dollars, equivalent to 8% of world trade. In 1950 this income was just 2.1 billion dollars, roughly 1% of world trade. While income from international tourism has grown by over a factor of 150 during the past 45 years, the number of tourists has increased from 25 million to more than 500 million (foreign tourists). Diligent statisticians have calculated that for every 1,000 inhabitants on this planet, which we call Earth, in 1950 only ten travelled abroad, whilst in 1993 the number reached 94 - almost every tenth inhabitant of our planet now travels abroad as a tourist.

What motivates mankind, especially the richer nations, to travel abroad in such masses? Is it the need for pleasure? Is it the need to change ones habitat? The need to escape from every day routine? Recent research includes too the awareness that travelling abroad is also a valuable personal investment.

In a like way to all other similar investment in education, so too does travel give benefits which are not prone to loss through currency inflation, but rather constantly part of a process of revaluation and increasing values. Impressions and experiences gained through travel abroad are not eroded by rust, nor attacked by moths. Within us remains a lasting experience of travels through unknown lands, cultures and civilisations - new horizons and landscapes are presented to us; we are intoxicated by foreign sounds, scents and tastes; we meet new people and their cultures... All of this remains imbedded in our memory, to imbue us through out the rest of our lives - to make us happier, better and richer. And if to all this we add the aspects of health, recreational and cultural tourism, it is not surprising why tourism has expanded so much.

For over thirty years now the Faculty of Hotel Management Opatija has been educating young people who have very successfully become a part of this new economic activity, which is becoming a representative symbol for global world economic investment. The Faculty of Hotel Management Opatijas alumni have throughout all these years been up there in the front line of battle endeavouring to create an awareness in Croatia that tourism is an economic activity for which Croatia posses exceptional comparative advantages towards which its economic potentials should be directed with the aim of achieving good economic benefits for its people. Croatias tourist capacity formed over the past thirty years is, is to a major extent, a result of such endeavour by the employees of the Faculty of Hotel Management and reflects their hundreds of articles, studies, and books, built into Croatias tourism.

In spite of all this the Faculty of Hotel Management Opatija has never had its own publication in which to publish articles written by its alumni. The first important break through was made in 1995 with the publication of the Facultys Year Book in which various scientific and technical articles were published. With this a tradition was started which has been upheld to date with the publication of the biannual publication: Hotelska kuća. In 1994 the academic council of the Faculty of Hotel Management Opatija decided to commence issue of its scientific publication on a regular basis. It was deemed important to enable Croatia and the world tourism public insight into scientific work carried out at the Faculty, and to this end it was decided to commence issue of a yearly publication: Tourism and Hospitality Management. The principal aim of the title was to emphasise that publication is open to international cooperation, especially for those experts who are connected with Middle and Southern European tourism. An editorial board consisting of two employees from the Faculty of Hotel Management and seven eminent tourism experts from Middle Europe was formed. The Boards work was exceptionally successful. Board members met in Opatija, defined their working goals and the publications aims, promising to give not only their personal support to this undertaking, but to motivate also their respectable institutions to participate in the publication of future Year Books and inclusion of articles. The Editorial Board decided that articles would be published in the language used by the author, taking care that a world language is used. All the articles should have a summary written in a world language (chosen by the author) as well as in the Croatian language.

All articles will be subject to review by two referees, as a rule from countries other than the author's. Remarks and suggestions from the blind review of the article will be forwarded to the author who will revise his article accordingly. Working with international referees presents, of course, especially at the beginning, difficulties. Reviews are received with delay, suggestions are often unwillingly accepted and incorporated in already written text.

Finally, I would like to express my gratitude to all who have given their full effort and devotion, in contributing to realise our publication Tourism & Hospitality Management

UVODNA RIJEČ

Hotelijski fakultet Opatija uspio je proširiti djelokrug svojih aktivnosti. Prije se polazilo od tipične perspektive managementa u hotelijejrstvu, a sada se, međutim on sagledava kroz svoje različitosti. Ovo izdanje časopisa obuhvaća široki spektar tema od poglavlja usredotočenih na hotelijejrstvo, pa sve do makroekonomskih, povijesnih, socioloških ili antropoloških radova.

Radovi objavljeni u ovom izdanju dokaz su interdisciplinarnog pristupa studiju u okviru obrazovno-istraživačkog programa Hotelijskog fakulteta Opatija. Čak i unutar poddisciplina poslovnog managementa spoznalo se, da čak i problemi poput marketinga ili upravljanja kadrovima, zahtijevaju pomoć modela i teorija s raznolikog područja ekonomskih i društvenih znanosti. Internacionalna nastavna i istraživačka orijentacija, u atraktivnoj domeni, kao što je turizam, sigurno će privući mnogo nadarenih potencijalnih studenata.
