Top-Up Sessions

Week	1	 1
Week	2	8
Week	3	 15
Week	4	22

* Photocopy Masters

Introduction

- These sessions are designed to provide extra support for children who have been included in the ELS Programme and assessed through the ELS 'Exit Strategy' (see ELS Book p. 156) and require some additional practice in order to consolidate skills and understanding.
- The objectives are the same as those for Weeks 9-12 (Sessions 41-60), using different texts as a focus to allow for the revisiting and application of skills and understanding in a new context.
- The arrangements for delivery of the sessions differ from the main ELS Intervention Programme. Twelve sessions are provided, to be run on the basis of three sessions per week for four weeks. Each week includes a Guided Reading session, a sentence level / high frequency word session, and a Guided Writing session.
- The sequence of each 'Top-Up' session is the same as that of the main ELS sessions.

Oral Opener	 All: What did we learn in the last session? Puppet: We learned (find out what the children can remember about things they have learned in previous sessions). Ch: What are we learning today? TA / Puppet: We are learning to listen to consonants in words and use what we know about words to help us when we are reading.
Phonics Five Hear and identify the phoneme in a specified part of a word.	 Croaker (with Pip) Tell the children they are going to help the puppet do some careful listening to the phonemes at the beginnings of words. I've got some things in the bag. Pip's going to say the word for each thing. Listen carefully to see if he says the right phonemes at the beginning of each word. Take the first picture / object out of the bag. Pip says the word, but makes a mistake. The children listen carefully and then say the correct word. Pip has another try and eventually gets it right. Words (and what Pip says): cloud (crowd); stone (scone); string (sing); present (pleasant); scarf (staff); smile (stile). So what was Pip doing wrong? He wasn't listening carefully to the phonemes at the beginning of the words. Sometimes there is more than one consonant at the beginning of a word.
Text Ten	Guided Reading Choose a book from the Book Band from which the children are currently reading. Try to choose a book with a patterned text, where refrains are repeated. The following example is from Band 4, but the teaching strategies can be adapted. Example based on Terrible Tiger by Julia Jarman, Book Band 4:
Recognise and read repeated words.	Book introduction: Look together at the front and back cover and read the title together. Ask the children to think about what might be under the bed. Do they think it is really a terrible tiger? Look at pp. 2-3. Can they find the words: terrible tiger ? Help them to identify the repeated words.
Use analogy with known vocabulary to solve new words.	Turn the pages, looking carefully at the pictures on each page. What can the boy see? Help the children to use the vocabulary on each page, e.g. head, tail, jaws, claws, etc., and describe what the boy is doing each time. Look at the word s-t-r-e-t-ch . Practise saying it as though the word has been stretched out. Stop at pp. 14-15. What do the children think the boy will do next?

Ch: What are we learning today? TA / Puppet: We are learning to spell words with two consonants at the beginning, and to write sentences using words we know.
Phonics Five Identify phonemes and spell CCVC words.	Phoneme FrameGive each child a four-box phoneme frame. Pip has one too.We're going to write some words on our phoneme frames.Pip's going to do the first one. Do you remember what he wasgetting wrong yesterday? That's right, he needs to think aboutthe consonants at the beginning of each word.Say clip. Pip writes cip on his phoneme frame.Oh nol He's forgotten something. Let's help him segment thephonemes. How many phonemes did you hear? There are four.Pip writes the letters correctly in the phoneme frame: $c - l - i - p$.There were two consonants at the beginning of the word 'clip'.Now it's your turn.Say these words: drop, from, glad, snip, step, twin.The children write each one in turn on their phoneme frame.Check they have heard the consonant cluster and written theletters correctly.
Text Ten	Guided Writing Remind the children about the sentences you were reading yesterday. Today you are going to write your own sentences like the ones I wrote yesterday.
Oral rehearsal before writing.	 The following example is based on Terrible Tiger, but could be adapted for a different book. What else could be hiding under your bed? Give the children time to think of some ideas, e.g. a bear, a monster, a vampire. What could you say in your 'I can see' sentences to give people clues? Help the children to make up two sentences using this structure. What sort of letter do you use when you write 'I'? A capital letter. The children should be able to spell: can, see and his. Remind them that they were learning these words in the previous session.

Activities/Teaching prompts or script

Encourage them to have a go at spelling the next words, e.g. sharp fangs, by saying each word and identifying the phonemes they can hear at the beginning and end

Encourage the children to read through their sentences, checking that they make sense.

Now you need to write your final sentence under the flap. You are going to tell people what is under your bed, so the sentence will go like this: 'There is a ... under my bed.' Encourage the children to attempt all the spellings. They should know: there, is, a, my, bed. They may need help to remember there and to try under. Remind them to use a capital letter at the beginning and a full stop at the end of each sentence.

These instructions are like those ones, they sound like orders. It doesn't say 'The little boy drew a lovely picture', it says 'Draw a picture'. Ask each child to find another instruction and read it out. Encourage them to look carefully at the picture to see what the children are doing.
Solve new words using print information and attention to meaning. Re-read to clarify precise meaning.	Strategy check: Talk about things you can do if you don't know a word. For example, you can say the phonemes at the beginning and end of the word; alternatively, you can read on and think about a word that would make sense, then check to see whether that word looks right and sounds right by re-reading the sentence.
	Independent Reading: Ask the children to choose a page to read. Give them a task. For example: I want you to find out how to make one thing from this book so that you can report back to the group. The children read independently while you listen and offer support if necessary.
	Return to the text: Praise the children for their problem- solving. If you heard a child re-reading a sentence and self- correcting so that the sentence made sense, praise them and talk it through with the whole group. For example: I liked the way you self-corrected when you read the last instruction. You weren't sure of the first word, so you looked at the picture and read the sentence. You tried 'mix' - that made sense, but it didn't start with 'j', so you tried again.
Fast Finisher and Take Away Talk through a sequence of events using the appropriate vocabulary.	 Quick activity: response to the Guided Reading text Pip thought that book sounded really interesting. Can you tell him how to make any of the things, because he would like to have a try? Ask the children to tell you about one thing from the book they have read. Encourage them to try to explain the instructions in sequence, using words like first, then and next. TA: What did we learn today? Ch: We learned to change the phonemes to spell new words, and to make sure that what we are reading makes sense. Ch: What are we taking away? TA: You are going to take away your Guided Reading book. You could read it to somebody at home. You could try making one of the things.

All: What did we learn in the last session? Puppet: We learned to spell words with two consonants at the beginning and to read and spell some new words. Ch: What are we learning today?

TA / Puppet: We are learning to blend phonemes together to read words, and to use words we know in sentences to write instructions.

Use a new set of Bingo cards: trap, trip, track, trick, truck; drop, drip, drink, drag, dress; spot, spell, spit, spin, spoon. Make a set of word cards for calling the words.

Give out three Bingo cards, one between two, and pens. Give an extra copy of one card to Pip.

Pick a card and call out the word. The children look for the word on their card and tick if they have it. Continue until one pair have ticked all their words and shouted Bingo! Meanwhile Pip is also ticking off words correctly.

Look at the winning Bingo card together. Check with the word cards that have been called and make sure that the children are able to blend the phonemes to read the words.

The children will write their own set of instructions to make a mini-poster (PCM). These could be the same as Pip's instructions yesterday, or be for something else. You need to choose instructions that can be written as four simple sentences.

Yesterday we looked at Pip's instructions for the washing line game. Today it's your turn. You are going to make a miniposter with your own instructions. Give each child a sheet. Where will the title go? The list of things you need? The instructions?

Remind the children about the use of 'linking' words to help you know what order to do things in. Who can remember the words we were learning yesterday? Don't forget to use them when you are writing your sentences.

(To give extra support, you could do each thing and then pause to let each child write the instruction. For example, start by putting the things you need out on the table and the children writing them down; tie the washing line across the room and then give time for the children to write their first instruction, etc.)

Help the children to say the title together and to write it in

	Each child now writes independently to complete four sentences. Encourage them to keep saying the sentences they want to write and checking that their writing makes sense. As they write, encourage them to spell words they know correctly and to use phonic strategies to attempt new words. Read through your writing. Do your instructions sound right? Remember that they need to sound like orders.

One person is going to read out their instructions and we will try to do the things they say. Work through the instructions: put up the line, spread out the letters and peg up a word. Session 3:2 (Continued)

Teaching points	Activities/Teaching prompts or script
Oral Opener	 All: What did we learn in the last session? Puppet: We learned to listen to consonants at the end of words, and use expression when we are reading. Ch: What are we learning today? TA / Puppet: We are learning to hear the phonemes in words and to read and spell words in questions and answers.
Phonics Five Hear and say phonemes in CVC and CVCC words.	Sound Buttons Today you have got to do some careful listening. I'm going to say some words. You are going to segment the phonemes and decide how many you can hear. We'll use counters to help us. Pip's going to show you how. Say a word: wing. Pip segments w-i-n-g , and places down a counter for each phoneme.
	How many counters? Let's check to see if he is right. Say and segment the phonemes together. Count them. Give each child six counters. Say these words: sink, sick, bump, went, tick, crisp, wig. Help the children count the phonemes, checking after each word. Point out that there are two consonants after the vowel
Text Ten	 in some of the words (sink, bump, went, crisp). Sentence / High Frequency Words This example is based on Where's My Teddy?, but could be adapted to other texts. Before the session, write out two questions with answers based on the Guided Reading book, using rhyming words and including the speech marks. For example: 'Where is my teddy?' said Eddy. 'It is over there,' said the Bear. Cut these into individual words.
Expect words in a sentence to make sense. Read simple questions.	I have written out one question and one answer that someone from the book yesterday might ask. I wanted to read them to you, but guess what Pip has done! He has muddled all the words up. Spread the words out on the table. Can you see the name of anyone from the story yesterday? Identify the word 'Eddy'. Eddy is asking a question because he has lost something. What do you think it could be? Collect ideas from the children and direct them to the question Where is my teddy?. Ask: Can you find the words to make that question? As the words are found, the children can help you to put them into the right order. Let's read that question together. Who is asking that question? It's Eddy. We need to find the words 'said' and 'Eddy'. Re-read all the words together.

Activities/Teaching prompts or script

Now we can use the rest of these words to make the answer. Help the children to read the remaining words and sort them into the correct order. Now we will read it all the way through. Can you do one voice when Eddy is speaking, and a different voice for the Bear?

Can you find any words that rhyme in that question and answer? Ask the children to think of words to carry on a rhyming string, e.g. Eddy, teddy, Freddy, ready, steady... / Bear, there, chair, hair, stare, pear

If there is time, ask the children to think of words that rhyme with their own names. (This will help to prepare them for the writing tomorrow.)

Quick activity: Writing Flap Cards

Before the session, select 4 high frequency words from the guided reading book and write the selected words under the flaps, e.g. where, is, said, my.

There are four new words on your Writing Flap Cards today. Give out the cards and ask the children if they can read each of the words. Practice learning the word where together. This is a tricky word to learn. Look carefully - can you find another word you know already? You could remember this word by thinking of 'w' plus ' here'.

Remind the children of the mnemonic they learned to help them to remember the word said.

TA: What did we learn today?

Ch: We learned to hear the phonemes in words, and to read and spell words in questions and answers.

Oral Opener	 All: What did we learn in the last session? Puppet: We learned to hear the phonemes in words, and to read and spell words in questions and answers. Ch: What are we learning today? TA / Puppet: We are learning to spell words with two consonants at the end, and to use words we know when we are writing questions and answers.
Phonics Five Identify phonemes and spell CVCC words.	 Phoneme Frame Give each child a four-box phoneme frame. Pip has one too. We're going to write some words on our phoneme frames. Pip's going to do the first one. Do you remember what he was getting wrong earlier in the week? That's right, he needs to think about the consonants at the end of each word. Say left. Pip writes I-e-t on his phoneme frame. Oh no! He's written 'let' instead of 'left'. He's forgotten something. Let's help him segment the phonemes: 'I-e-f-t'. How many phonemes did you hear? There are four. Pip writes the letters correctly in the phoneme frame. There were two consonants at the end of the word 'left'. Now it's your turn. Say these words: act, fact, sing, pump, thump, cold. The children write each one in turn on their phoneme frame. Check they have heard the consonant cluster and written the letters correctly.
Text Ten	Guided Writing: questions and answers Do you remember the question and answer that we had to sort out yesterday? Today you are going to write your own question and answer. We are going to think of rhyming words to use with our names. (If this is too difficult, or does not work with particular names, you could use Pip instead. For example: 'Where is my clip?' said Pip. 'It is under the chair,' said the Bear. Alternatively, you could use simple animal names, e.g. 'Where is my hat?' said the cat. 'In the box,' said the fox.)
Oral rehearsal before writing. Spell high frequency words correctly, e.g.: where, is, my, said.	 Encourage each child to have a go at thinking of their question and answer and saying it out loud before they actually write. Give out sheets (PCMs) for writing the question and answer. Support the children as they are writing in the following ways. Remind them to re-read what they have written, saying the whole sentence again and checking that what they have written makes sense. Prompt them to use the words they know how to spell, e.g. Can you remember what we were learning yesterday about how to spell 'where'? What was our special rhyme to help us remember 'said'?

Pay attention to punctuation or speech and use this to add expression.	Strategy check: Remind the children about the use of speech marks to show when somebody is speaking. Turn to p. 8 and look at the picture. Is the man putting onions into the soup? Was your guess right? Independent Reading: Ask the children to read the whole story to themselves. They should read independently while you listen and offer support if necessary. Return to the text: Praise examples of the children making predictions and cross-checking these: e.g. using the initial and final letters to make a guess, reading the whole sentence to check whether the words would make sense, and using the pictures to help check the sense. Praise examples of the children self-correcting, e.g. I liked the way you went back and read that line again with more expression because you realised that it was speech. 	Phonics Five Spell CCVC words.
