River Barge Directory

Rev. July 2005

Forward

The Barge Terminal Directory has been prepared by the Iowa Department of Transportation's Modal Division to provide quick access to information on Iowa's river terminals and fleeting/harbor services. The information is to assist those who may need barge transportation services. The information in the directory was provided by the terminal operators. The Modal Division would appreciate any help on corrections, additions or deletions. Please contact John Fleig at 515-239-1686 or john.fleig@dot.iowa.gov to offer any revisions.

Iowa is bordered by two "coasts," the Mississippi and Missouri rivers. These two coasts are an economic and environmental resource of enormous proportion. The nearly 500 miles of the Mississippi and Missouri rivers along Iowa's borders are open for commercial navigation and provide safe, efficient and effective transportation for over 9 million tons of Iowa products, primarily the state's agriculture production. These rivers, and the terminals along them, are a gateway for Iowa to the extensive 12,000-mile inland waterway system that has access to ports throughout the country, and ultimately the world. Over 60 percent of the U.S. corn and soybean exports move on the river system through the Gulf to foreign markets.

2003 Waterborne Commerce – Iowa

Commodity	Total Tons (Shipped and received)	Percentage
Coal	1,616,187	10.65
Grain	8,376,540	55.19
Fert./Chem	749,899	4.95
Other	4,433,480	29.21
TOTAL	15,176,106

There are 65 barge terminals along Iowa, 57 on the Mississippi River and eight along the Missouri River. The ports, terminals and fleeting areas in Iowa provide jobs and income for their communities, and support Iowa industries dependent on the river for transportation. River transportation, including our harbors and terminals, are an engine for continued economic growth.
