Religion in print media

Gentiana Skura¹
gentaskura@gmail.com

Recently media has been highly focused in interfaith and religions relationships, based on the latest events in and out Albania. This issue is extremely highlighted because of the fact that Albania introduces quite a miscellaneous interfaith mosaic. Induced by specific cases (Charlie Hebdo, Albanian Ambassador in Vatican, use of Greek in the Eastern ritual of Orthodox Church) this article intends to report and describe media attitude for the above mentioned, opinions and analyses as well as audience attitude. This article wishes to tell the independent attitude, used language, analysis of the case and the space used for this article study.

Keywords: religion, interreligion relations, media diskurs, report, objectivism

¹ Assoc. Prof. Dr., University of Tirana, Department of Journalism and Communication.