

NEW COURSE IN ECON IS ADDED TO SOCIAL SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

Dr. Poytress Will Analyze Recovery Program of Present Regime

ECONOMIC STABILITY TOO Course Designed for Those Who Are Not Social Science Majors

At the suggestion of the president, Dr. W. H. Poytress, head of the Social Science department, has inaugurated a new course entitled "Recent Economic Problems."

This course has been designed to meet the needs of those students who are not Social Science majors, and who wish to know what is going on in this country and abroad at the present time. It is non-technical and may be taken without preparation. Its content will change as new economic theories are put into practice, and as new political reforms are advocated. It will be a year course.

Dr. Poytress will analyze in detail the recovery program under the present regime, and the effect of the National Recovery Administration upon the future of industry. He will also cover such subjects as economic stability, labor, finance, and the foreign problems.

Dr. James De Voss Heads "YM" Week Beginning Monday

"Back to the Y week", to be recognized in San Jose beginning Monday, September 25, and continuing until Saturday, September 30, will be engineered under the general chairmanship of Dr. James De Voss of San Jose State.

All departments of this men's organization will take part in the special program for that week to bring the Y.M.C.A. before the public. The program will be for both members and guests and will include special events in the gymnasium as well as special club activities.

A general meeting of members will feature a dinner program next Thursday night, and both members and guests are invited to attend "Old Timers' Night" on October 2.

DR. MACQUARRIE SPEAKS

Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie, president of San Jose State College, was guest speaker at a dinner meeting of the San Jose 20-30 Club last Tuesday evening.

The dinner was a celebration of the club's sixth anniversary. It was held in the Gold Room of the Hotel St. Claire.

FRESHMEN TO BE FETED TONIGHT AT PARTY IN WOMEN'S GYMNASIUM

The party for the transfer and Freshmen students to be held in the Women's gym at 9 o'clock tonight promises to be a gala affair. A clever program featuring campus talent is scheduled. Among the entertainers is Dave Wisdom, the colleg crooner. Prominent campus figures will be introduced. Sam Ziegler's Six Piece Orchestra is furnishing the music.

Refreshments in the form of Punch in an appropriate color scheme—green—will be served.

The main object of the affair is to have everyone get acquainted. Admission is free to all new students. Everyone who is able to go can't afford to miss this party; so all you new students try to be there.

Homemaking Group to Meet Tuesday

All new Homemaking students, including freshmen or transfers who have not been in residence one year, are requested to meet Miss Frances Conkey next Tuesday morning, September 26, at 11 o'clock in room 17 of the homemaking building. This also includes majors, minors and technical students.

The object of the meeting is to enable the new students to become acquainted with the department, with the faculty and with each other. The first meeting is to be strictly informal.

In the future, when other meetings are held, it is thought that some organization will be planned and a club formed.

Brilliant Spartan Pivot Man

Holding down the center position on Dud DeGroot's San Jose State Spartans when they do battle with the Stanford Indian tomorrow will be Jerry Whitaker, above. Tickets are Being Sold for Students' New Meal Tickets

Students are still buying tickets for the new Meal Club, which was innovated at the first of this semester by Miss Sarah Dowdle, in charge of the college cafeteria. The system of serving three meals a day is a great aid to college students who are interested in eating both economically and healthfully.

Breakfast is being served between 7:30 and 8:30, luncheon between 11:30 and 12:45, and dinner between 5:30 and 6:30. While under the present plan any student may enjoy luncheon in the cafeteria, only holders of the tickets will be served breakfast and dinner.

Tickets are sold for $3.00, and are good for one week, during which time fifteen meals are sold. Students who are interested in buying tickets for next week must see Dean of Women, Miss Dimmick, or Dean of Men, Charles Goddard, today.

Women Debaters to Meet Cal Co-eds in Debate Series

All women students are earnestly encouraged to try out Monday noon for the first woman's debate of the year, which will be a spirited "doubleheader" with the University of California in the near future. Coach Ralph Eckert will conduct the try-outs in the Little Theater.

A five minute talk on any debatable topic is required. A subject of current interest will be selected for the big U.C.-S. J. battle, when two State coeds will travel to Berkeley to present their argument, and two U.C. coeds will visit San Jose to retaliate—an exchange of women so to speak.

Since many debates have been scheduled for the year, it is hoped that enough star disputors to compose a large squad will be discovered at the try-outs.

DeGroot's Charges Ready to do Battle With Stanford Reds

By GIL BISHOP

With a hard two weeks of preparatory instruction and signal work behind them, Coach Dud DeGroot's fighting band of Spartan's will run into Stanford Stadium tomorrow afternoon, invading the home reservation of Stanford's mighty Indian. It will be the initial venture into big time for the San Jose eleven, who will be out to battle the Thornhill team to the proverbial "last ditch" Fired up by the idea that the gold clad gridders of State are conceded but the merest whisper of a chance to dump the highly touted men of Stanford, the DeGroot-Hubbard men will more than make up in fight and smoothness of teamwork the overwhelming odds of size and numbers presented by the Redshirts.

CORRINE DAVIS ATTAINS THE HIGHEST HONORS GIVEN PSYCHOLOGISTS

One of the highest honors attainable by a psychologist was recently conferred upon Corinne Davis, instructor in psychology at this institution. At a meeting of the American Psychology Association the last week in June, Miss Davis was nominated for membership. Soon afterwards she was informed that she had been elected to membership in the society which is a branch of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

This is a highly coveted honor, as membership is offered only to those whose work in the field of psychology has been outstanding. San Jose State College now boasts of four memberships in the Association, the other members being Dr. J. C. De Voss, Dr. R. M. Mosher, and Dr. D. H. Yates.

Y.W.C.A. Secretary Will be Introduced

At the Italian buffet supper to be held by the college Y.W.C.A. Tuesday, September 26, Miss Rose Terlin, new Y.W.C.A. executive secretary, will be introduced to the women students.

Miss Terlin has just completed two years of graduate work at the University of California. Formerly, she was the Y.W.C.A. secretary of the Minneapolis office.

The buffet supper will be held in Scofield Hall in the San Jose Y.W.C.A. building. Tickets must be secured by Monday, September 25. They are on sale in room 14, college Y.W.C.A. office for twenty-five cents.

Iota Delta Phi's Plan First Meeting

Iota Delta Phi, the French Honor Society, is to have its first meeting Monday night. Dr. A. H. Lubowski, advisor, reports that the group is to have a very active program this year.

The officers for this quarter are: Leonard Rising—President. Lois Wool—Vice President. Elena Cipolla—Secretary. Edward Phelps—Treasurer.

K-P Tea Planned For Next Monday

All Freshmen and transfer students in the Kindergarten-Primary Department, or combination Kindergarten-Primary and General Elementary students, are cordially invited by the family to a very informal tea on Monday, September 25, at 4 o'clock in room 1 of the Homemaking building.

Led by Captain Wesley "Bud" Hubbard, Sparta's captain and ace end, a veteran team will enter the fray at the opening kickoff. The definite starting lineup has not yet been announced by DeGroot, but the team will probably line up as follows:

Collins	Left Guard
Whitaker	Center
Sandholdt	Right Guard
Buehler	Right Tackle
Laughlin	Right End
Wolfe	Quarterback
MacLachlan	Right Half
Embury	Fullback

CAPTAIN HUBBARD

The two ends will be well fortified with Captain Hubbard on one extreme and Horace Laughlin on the other flank. Hubbard is a veritable demon on the defense and has little weakness on the offense. Laughlin on the other hand, has a pair of sticky fingers which are apt to grab the pigskin out of the air and plant it over into paying territory at any time. "Horse" has been bothered with a bad leg but should be in the pink of condition for tomorrow's tilt.

STRONG TACKLES

With Dario Simoni and his "Moose" Buehler, both who rated 1 and 2 on the All-Conference teams in 1932, holding down the tackle berths, Thornhill's tackle slices will go for naught. Both (Continued on page two)

Dr. J. Elder Speaks at Rotary Meeting

Dr. Jay C. Elder addressed the Rotary club at luncheon, Wednesday noon in the St. Claire Hotel. He was introduced by Sam Laverty, while Dr. James Bullitt presided.

Dr. Elder, who returned recently with Mrs. Elder from the international convention of the organization at Boston, spoke at length how the ideal of Rotary is evolving into a religion of human welfare. This agency, according to Dr. Elder, has done much to promote internationalism.

Mrs. Elder, who is an accomplished linguist, was appointed interpreter for the several foreign delegations at the convention.

Dr. Elder concluded his address by relating his observations at the meeting and stressed the point that friendship was one of Rotary's best features.

NOTICE

Tau Delta Phi will hold the first meeting of the quarter at noon Friday, September 22 in the Tower. Lunch will be served.

Teacher Training Students Notified

All teacher training candidates who have 45 units or more including all transfer students returning who are working for a teaching credential, should file application for acceptance as a teacher training candidate in room 106, immediately.

SPARTAN SPASMS

By MURDOCK & BISHOP

THE BIG TEST! Once again Far Western Conference football goes against "The Big Time". Although this is the first venture of San Jose State into the realm of first division football, several other Far Western Conference teams have tried the high spots and come off none too successfully. Nevada took a shellacking from Saint Mary's last year in addition to their annual plastering from Cal. Cal Aggies took it in the teeth from Stanford, Cal., and U.C.L.A. Pacific fell before Santa Clara.

BUT the situation tomorrow is slightly different. Stanford is getting a new start under a new coach. Dud DeGroot is an ex-Stanford man, well acquainted with the Warner system as used by Thornhill as well as with Tiny himself. State has a veteran team which is primed to take the Indian, a condition which it is doubtful if existed in the case of the other Far Western teams who gave the appearance of being beaten before they started.

Who knows but what San Jose State may be the team to firmly establish the prestige of Far Western Conference football amongst the larger colleges.

A few things which the Spartans will have to do if they expect to come out ahead of the Indians tomorrow.

1. Keep Bill Corbus, Stanford's demon All-American Guard from camping in the San Jose backfield.
2. Keep such dynamiters as Sim, Maentz, Afflerbaugh, Hamilton, Reisner, Alustiza, Hillman, and Grayson under control at all times.
3. Keep Stanford passes from reaching the fingers of such sure fire receivers as Moscrip, Norgard, Packard, etc.
4. Hold Afflerbaugh down on his punt returns. He wrecked the Cal. Aggies last year from the safety spot.

Both coaches have adopted a straight veteran policy for tomorrow's game as far as starting line-ups are concerned. Thornhill relegating his sophomores and Dud his Jaysee transfers. Both of these groups will see plenty of action, however, and they may be the deciding factors in the struggle.

Ray Abernathy, the 207 pound backfield ace from Santa Maria Jaysee, has been shifted to left half from quarter to strengthen that position made weak by the injury to Sammy Filice's shoulder. The big boy is exceptionally fast for his weight, which he carries well.

De Groot's tackle prospects have been further enhanced by the addition of "Stub" Tate, former Paso Robles High and Cal Poly star. Tate should be a valuable addition to the Spartan line, for although he does not tower into the air in the manner of other San Jose tackles, he is a burly built man who has had plenty of experience in the line.

It's quite evident that Tiny Thornhill was considerably worried over his pivot position when he took a 400 mile jaunt south after the red-thatched Bates for the center job Saturday. Bates is a veteran from last year's varsity, but certainly didn't set the world afire with his playing during the 1932 season. A glance at the center play Saturday will give us a line on just how weak the Indians are in the center of the line.

Glenn Harper, Sparta's premier distance man, has a little clipping which he will show anyone interested—said clipping establishing a fact that perhaps a few would be inclined to sneer at. Glenn bagged a 210 pound black-

In Big Grid Tussles Tomorrow

Santa Clara county will furnish football teams for two of the country's classic opening games tomorrow. Above are three players from local schools who will see action. On the left is Delos Wolfe, veteran San Jose State quarterback who will pilot the Spartans against Stanford's Indians. In the center is "Diamond Joe" Paglia who goes into action against California at Berkeley. On the right is Bobby Grayson, Stanford's sensational fullback who may spell doom for San Jose's hopes.

Spartans Enter Stanford Contest Sans Scrimmage

Coach Dud DeGroot's San Jose State Spartans will enter tomorrow's struggle with Stanford without the benefit of a single scrimmage. In an attempt to keep the squad clear of injuries, the Spartan mentor has depended upon drill in fundamentals and dummy scrimmage to prepare his squad for this all-important contest.

The boys have had plenty of bodily contact in tackling and blocking practice, but that encourager of injuries, the scrimmage has not been indulged in.

The plays which DeGroot's men are using were developed against "live" defense in spring practice, so the boys have confidence in them and are sure of their assignments. This is one of the reasons why DeGroot is depending on a veteran line-up for the Stanford game and not featuring his Junior College transfers much.

WORKED IN SPRING PRACTICE

All the plays have been run through over and over again during the past two weeks, both on the field and on the dummy scrimmage machine which means that they are refreshed in the minds of the players.

THIS LACK OF SCRIMMAGE

That this lack of scrimmage is not greatly detrimental was demonstrated in that now famous College of Pacific game last year. Both Dee Shehtanian and Mel Hornbeck went into that game without a minute's scrimmage or play behind them, and yet they were two of the greatest factors in San Jose's victory.

LOCAL ESTABLISHMENTS EMPLOY ATHLETES

The following places of business are cooperating with San Jose State's 1933 sports program by employing Spartan Athletes.

Hascall's	2
Magg's	1

Hubbard Lumber Company	2
Associated Oil Company	1

Elk's Club	1
Stearns Leathergoods Shop	1

The following canneries employed San Jose State athletes during the summer Pacific Coast Canners Barron and Gray U. S. Products Co.

Cancellation of Jaysee Game Is Announced

The game between Santa Rosa Junior college and the San Jose State frosh, originally scheduled for October 7th at Santa Rosa has been cancelled it was announced yesterday by Coach Erwin Blesh. Inability to install lights in time for the night contest was given as the reason for cancellation.

Blesh is endeavoring to negotiate a contest with California Polytechnic school at San Luis Obispo to replace the cancelled contest.

EX WEBFOOT TO ASSIST

Helping Dud DeGroot put his boys through the paces for the past week, is one Dick Reed. Reed will be remembered as captaining the University of Oregon back in 1925, and one of the outstanding ends of the time. After leaving the college he turned to professional football and stuck to that for about three years.

Reed is a man who knows football and his assistance is welcome. And it all goes to show that San Jose State is attracting wide attention when men like Reed offer their assistance, gratis.

"Prink" Callison's Conference Hopes

LOCALS PRIMED FOR STANFORD

boys have weight, experience and fight—all of which will be needed against the two big Stanford starters.

At guards Bart Collins and Karl Sandholdt look to be the selections. Bart will be paired opposite Stanford's mighty Corbus, which means that the Indian star is in for a tough afternoon. Both Collins and Sandholdt have to give away weight to the opposing linemen, but are expected to make this up by a superior charge and cleverness. Both men are lettermen.

The pivot position in the line will find Jerry Whitaker, also a letterman, taking care of the ball. Jerry also will be outweighed, but there are few smarter centers on the coast than the Spartan.

With a starting backfield of Wolfe, MacLachlan, Shehtanian and Embury in the lineup, DeGroot is banking on these four veterans to take the ball places tomorrow afternoon. Delos Wolfe at quarter will call the signals and take care of most of the blocking. At the halves "Dee" Shehtanian and George MacLachlan form an experienced pair that are expected to take care of the running assignments along with George Embury at the fullback post. Embury is figured to set the Stanford safety man back on his heels with his long spiraling kicks, besides carrying the oval for his share of the proceedings.

Besides these four, DeGroot has a second combination of Corbella at quarter, Watson and Bennett at the halves and Hines at fullback. The latter is a transfer from Modesto J.C. and is looked to fill the shoes of Jack Wool.

Tomorrow's titanic struggle will most certainly lack color as far as uniforms are concerned. The local lads will sport new gold jerseys in addition to the white helmets and blue and gold pants worn last year while Stanford returns to the red of a good many years back.

ATTEND STANFORD GAME
TOMORROW

Spartan Gridders Have Fighting Chance

Major Losses of '32 Champions in Backfield Spots

San Jose State's outstanding losses from the 1932 grid season were in the backfield. Aside from Jack Wool, who was the greatest loss of all, the Spartans will be without the services of Diet, Moore, Riley, and Griffiths all of whom won letters in the backfield last season.

WOOL'S SUCCESSOR

Coach DeGroot's outstanding problem of course is to find a man to fill Wool's shoes. George Embury, who played at both full and left half last season has been outstanding choice so far and will probably start the Stanford game tomorrow. Embury substituted for Wool on several occasions last year, and his punting and passing, and ball carrying compared favorably with that of the Spartan "mainstay". The only drawback in the case of Embury is his lack of weight. The slender fullback weighs only 148 pounds which is very light as Warner system fullbacks go.

For this reason he may be forced to give way to Johnny Hines, the 180 pound Modesto Jaysee transfer before the season is very old. Hines is an experienced triple threat man who can do everything well. As soon as he gets the hang of DeGroot's system he is likely to step into a first string berth.

Holding down the left halfback position on the first string is Dee Sheh-tanian the only regular from the 1932 backfield to return. When free from injuries, Dee starred on both offense and defense last year. Against Pacific, his smashing tackles aided greatly in the Spartan victory and against Cal. Aggies he raced forty yards to a touchdown on a brilliant run. If his knee holds up, the former Tulare and Menlo flash ought to go far this year. Backing him up are Freddie Bennett, Francis Pura, Ray Abernathy, Fritz Olsen, and Taylor, a transfer from Modesto Jaysee.

RIGHT HALFBACK

George MacLachlan, former Palo Alto and Menlo star seems to have the edge on the right halfback job so far. Pushing him are Bert Watson, sensational captain of last year's frosh; Ray Arjo, letterman from last year; Rinaldo Wren, fleet 1931 halfback who was not in school last year; and Red Wool, younger brother of the famous Jack. Wren and Watson are threats in that they are both left handed passers.

QUARTERBACK

The quarterback or up-man spot, which is primarily a blocking position under the Warner system has been held down by Delos Wolfe, veteran of many Spartan teams, so far. Threatening his job is Ted "Sarge" Corbella, the 238 pound Menlo Jaysee boy.

New Mentor In Initial Test

Coach Claude E. "Tiny" Thornhill whose Stanford Indians open their season against Dud DeGroot's San Jose State Spartans in the Stanford Stadium tomorrow afternoon. Thornhill, a former All-American tackle at Pittsburg, succeeds his former boss, "Pop" Warner as head coach at the "Farm". The eyes of the coast will be centered on this game to see how Stanford will fare under a new mentor. Mercury Herald Photo

State's Soccerites Start 1933 Practice Without Veterans

The Spartan soccer squad turned out 24 strong for the first practice of the season. Conspicuous by their absences, however, were Ernie Graff, Fred Chappell and Doug Taylor. These men will be with the squad in a few days, and until they report the team shapes up as follows:

Wings: Stafflebach, Billwiller and Perry Stratton. Insides: Robinson and Eagleon. Center forward, Mengel. Halfbacks: Johnny Stratton, Bob Clemo and Al Rhines. Fullbacks: Hayes, Hoffede. Goalie, Leland.

These men with the exception of Stafflebach, Robinson, and Hoffede, have all played for State before. Hoffede is a transfer from Sacramento, while Stafflebach and Robinson are new to the game.

Several men picked out of the gym classes last year are showing promise, among them being Charles Sleeper, Steve Crow and Donahoo. The last mentioned and Sleeper are halfbacks, and Crow is a fullback.

There is a possibility that Al Rhines will be moved from his old post at right half to fullback to plug up the gap left by the loss of Cy Wood. With Taylor moving into the center half spot, and Clemo handling the right side, the Spartan middle line will not suffer.

FRESNO SQUAD IN SCRIMMAGE

FRESNO, Sept. 20.—Exhibiting a spirit not seen on a Bulldog squad for many years, Fresno State's gridiron experts entered their second week of practice with an enthusiasm that should be a warning to their opponents. Three scrimmages were scheduled this week with Coaches Harris and Niswander driving the men hard in anticipation of the September 30 contest with Cal Tech on the local field.

Although still experimenting with several different line combinations, Harris seems to have found a backfield that furnishes everything in the way of speed, power and deception. Captain Jack Horner, 185 pounds of dangerous explosives, has been shifted from full to half, where his blocking and ball car-

STANFORD MAY SWAMP LOCALS UNDER WEIGHT OF RESERVE STRENGTH

The deciding factor in the battle between San Jose State and Stanford tomorrow may be sheer weight of numbers. The Spartans are a compact, experienced unit as far as their first string goes, but beyond that the squad is made up mostly of a heterogeneous group of Jaysee transfers, varsity subs from 1932, and 1931 men what were not in school last year. These men, although all good material, lack playing experience under DeGroot's system and can not be depended on as yet in a pinch although they will probably be of great value before the season is over.

STANFORD SQUAD

On the other hand, Stanford is five teams deep, and some of the men on the fifth string are considered excellent varsity material and may prove themselves to be such before the game is over Saturday.

The possibility exists that it may be these men who will turn the tide in favor of Stanford in the closing minutes of play providing Sparta's championship crew succeeds in holding its own with the Indian during the earlier part of the struggle.

STARTING VETERANS

It must be remembered that Thornhill's starting lineup is composed for the most part of veterans and that the much heralded sophomores will be eager to show their wares when injected into the fray which bodes no good for the local lads.

On the other hand, it must also be born in mind that San Jose has had a three weeks start on Stanford in the matter of training, but this advantage can hardly be expected to offset that of numbers.

The Stanford squad for the first three or so teams follows:

Ends—Norgard, Moscript, Smith, Packard, Trompas, Topping, Grunsky, Monsalve.

Tackles—Lettunich Palamoutain, Reynolds, Callaway, Drown, Holwerda, Keller.

Guards—Corbus, Kite, O'Connor, Tarver, Rouble, Adams.

Centers—Bates, Blanchard, Muller, Brandin.

Quarterbacks—Sim, Hoos, Leedy, Black.

Right Halfbacks—Afflerbaugh, Hamilton, White.

Fullbacks—Hillman, Grayson, Alustiza, Todd.

TURN-OUT OF MANAGERS IS DISAPPOINTING

With a scarcity of men applying for managerial positions, there are still openings left for ten sophomore managers on the varsity football squad. Manager Elmer Stoll is disappointed in the turnout of these important jobs. Sweaters will be forthcoming for all managers selected to work during the season, an incentive which should bring forth candidates in huge flocks. The sophomore managers will also be in line for junior positions next fall, with the pick ultimately getting the position of senior manager.

All those interested in trying out for these places should give their names to Miss Hall in the P.E. office as soon as possible and then report to Manager Stoll. If a little work bothers you and you don't wish to help the football coaches, manager, and the team, don't turn out. Any good men who will get in and work will be welcomed with open arms.

Concert Series

Last year the concert series brought forth expressions of satisfaction and enjoyment from those who were fortunate enough to have seen that ambitious presentation. An appreciative audience was present at each performance, and their number decisively proved that the students of State and the people of San Jose are lavish in their support of a worthwhile enterprise.

Determined not to be outdone by last season's concert series committee, those in charge of the current program have secured the services of three artists, each outstanding in his particular phase of music. From every aspect, the presentation promises to be as fully enjoyable and as unusually attractive as that which was offered last year.

Good seats are at a premium a very short time after the tickets are placed on sale, and those who trust that they will be able to obtain one after the sale has progressed are in many cases disappointed. The choice locations are at the pleasure of the early purchasers.

It would be a tragic occurrence indeed if the concert music series were eliminated from our year's program, and we have our music department to thank gratefully for once more assuring us our artists. Without question, the most appropriate means of expressing our gratitude is for us to take advantage of the concerts.

We owe our presence, not only to the sponsors, but to ourselves as well.

Times Steps Forward

Consistent with its policy of attempting to serve the students of State College with the highest quality of news it is possible to gather, the College Times has also affected several mechanical changes.

One of the most important changes is the addition of Gothic extra-condensed head type, which the Times feels is a welcome addition to the variety already in use.

It is hoped that the new type will render a pleasing contrast, and add to the enjoyment of reading the publication.

Just Among Ourselves

Note—This column is personal between the president and the college. Outsiders are requested not to make use of the material.

If you can possibly do so, be sure to take Econ 100A, Recent Economic Problems. Hope I can find time to drop in occasionally myself. Dr. Poytress is one of the few economists who know what's going on in the world, and who have the courage to indicate trends. Facts won't hurt us, and the sooner we know them the better we shall be able to use our intelligence.

I hope to see a steady growth in our interest in human problems. The social science people are alive to the need. Natural science has been going great guns for years, but social science seems to stop just short of accomplishment. Social problems are difficult. There we come to a point where logic loses out in face of the chiseler and the racketeer. However, our social and economic problems must be solved no matter how difficult. We either solve them or go down in the wreck.

Don't know but we should get up a program, a definite list of improvements for which we could all work. There is little value in generalities, hazy, misty objects which we just talk about but which no one ever expects to reach. Make this a big year in your social thinking. The college offers you a grand opportunity.

Sorry about our non-resident students. We have just received an interpretation from Attorney General's office which indicates that we shall not be permitted to accept students from any foreign land, nor from the possessions of the United States. We seem to be limited to residents of the states and territories. There is a non-resident fee of $112.50 for the first year, and $75 for each year thereafter. Too bad we must exclude our good foreign friends, but through some marvelous manipulation that seems to be the interpretation of the law.

It is no fun to be on the Personnel Committee these days. "I know I can do better if you'll just give me another chance", and we look at each other, weakening. Dr. Elder has that yearning though somewhat doubtful look. Dr. DeVoss is kindly disposed, has somewhere in the past seen a youngster who actually did it. Mr. Goddard, having been registrar once, is judicial, glad to approve if any facts warrant it. Mr. Heath suggests a try-out with a special program, but you can't find much inspiration from the record. Miss Dimmick is a bit smug, glad it's not one of her hopefuls. Mr. West and I, grim creatures of the record, point to this trial and that one, and our thumbs are down. We feel like executioners but we're a bit inclined to insist.

Tough business, this judging of other people. Sometimes I have seen a quotation which says, "Judge not that ye be not judged". That worries me a little. Don't take too big a load. You get a much better reputation by a small amount of good work than a large amount of the poorer article. Those far away hills look green, but I've seen some of them close up and they are most disappointing. If you can't have a good time, a fine wholesome, encouraging time right now, there's not much chance that the future will be different. This is your big year.

THE SEEING EYE

Mine eyes have seen: Dorothea Gussefeld at the Mark Hopkins NOT in the company of Larry Hall, if that means anything to you.

Certain males of doubtful 'entegery' hanging around the front steps.

Lois Wool sitting in her chariot, chatting with some half dozen of the strong, handsome, and not too silent men.

Many blank faced Alphas (Frosh to you) wandering about the halls in listless fashion. They may come to in a few days, but the odds are not more than even money.

There are only two times in a man's life when he should be supremely happy. They are immediately before a proposal, and immediately after, that is if she says NO.

The only reason why Dave Hutton held the spotlight so long is that the delighted (?) customers kept egging him on!

One thing that you notice on other Campi that is missing here is the well known 'come on' look that aversicious co-eds cast in the direction of unsuspecting males. You'd be surprised at the amount of home work that can be avoided by that method.

EXTRA Coach Blesh Buys Gardena For Lady.

BUT the lady happened to be Mrs. Blesh which explains just about everything.

The loss of the Tracy sisters is a hard blow for us columnists, 'cause we always lived in hope that someday one of us would get a good crack past both girls. One was at the desk and the other read proof!

A brief check up of the Library shows that the Alphas are turning out in force. Do they know what the 'Lib' is for? Only time will tell.

The seeing eye notices that one of the foremost members of the Spartan Senate, J.D. Straus to be exact, spends time talking at great length.

Tau Mu Delts Elect Mrs. Sybil Hanchett Music Society Head

Tau Mu Delta, honorary music society, announces the appointment of Mrs. Sybil Hanchett as advisor of the Tau Mu's for the coming year.

Mrs. Hanchett, popular member of the music department, succeeds Miss Maurine Thompson, who for the last two years has performed her duties as advisor very capably and understandingly.

Mrs. John Applegarth, the former Miss Jessie Sterling, who was president of the group last year, will be succeeded by Miss Evelyn Cavala. Other officers elected are Miss Aurelie Antron, vice president, Miss Marjorie Marshall, secretary, Miss Marcella Joy, treasurer, Wilma Williamson, reporter, Miss Marian Comb, guard, Miss Roberta Bubb, program chairman, and Miss Althea Harper, social chairman.

Tau Mu Delta was formed on the campus about two years ago by Miss Theda Manning. Last year the society furnished ushers for all musical programs of the college and aided materially in backing the concert series. These two things will be done again this year as well as furnishing talent for assemblies, giving a formal recital, and taking an active part in all musical programs of the college.

Honorary Music Fraternity Meets

Alumni and active members of S.J. State's music honor fraternity enjoyed a grand banquet at the Oyster Loaf Wednesday night.

Present were men who had come as far as one hundred and eighty miles to attend the meeting. They enjoyed singing, back-slapping, and hand-shaking during the evening.

Decorations for the event were re-secured from past festivities of the organization. In the limelight were paddles, presumably lost four years ago when the fraternity house disbanded, but found and restored to their owners by Mr. Thomas Egan of the college faculty. Also of interest were the historians books, covering the history of the fraternity since its origin.

Science Students Vie With Painters

Natural Science students will have to keep one or two steps ahead of the painters, Cabinet makers, etc., for a few weeks at least. In fact, a student originally assigned to a Zoology class will find himself in another room in a few days, and so on, as the workmen make their appearance.

Benches for laboratory uses will, for the present, consist of planks mounted on "horses".

Members of the Natural Science faculty are confident, however, that inside of a month or so, the building will be so equipped that students will have excellent scientific facilities with which to work.

FRESHMAN ASSEMBLY FEATURES SHORT TALKS BY FACULTY MEMBERS

The class of nineteen hundred and thirty seven had its first meeting Thursday at eleven o'clock. It proved itself to be very well behaved and it is hoped that such mannerly conduct will be continued at the following meetings.

Dean Goddard presided and in his opening remarks urged the incoming students to become part of the college and not attempt to enjoy life on the campus as a separate unit. He also asked that all Freshmen attend the party in their honor Friday night in the Women's Gym.

Coach Dud DeGroot gave a brief, witty talk concluding by stating that according to Frosh Coach Blesh the current yearling squad is considerably better this year than it was last fall.

Dr. Elder, Mr. Minssen, and Dr. MacQuarrie all addressed the group. Dr. Elder warned the class that the Freshman year was the most difficult for poor students. He then went on to define poor students and to inform the class that only one third of this year's class was what might be termed excellent teaching material.

Dr. MacQuarrie spoke briefly and concluded by wishing the class Good Luck.

Miss Fees Weds Gerald E. Arnold at Fort Collins

One of the most attractive weddings of the summer season in Fort Collins, Colorado, was solemnized when Miss Elizabeth Fee, a member of the San Jose State College faculty last year, was married to Gerald E. Arnold, of San Francisco. Rev. Leon Stewart and Rev. T. R. Aiken officiated.

Mrs. Arnold was attired in a striking gown of white satin, and wore a long veil. She was attended by a number of intimate friends. Mrs. Arnold was graduated from the Colorado Agricultural college in 1926, where she was a member of the Gamma Phi Theta sorority. She received her masters degree at Kansas Agricultural college.

Mr. Arnold, who is also a graduate of Colorado Agricultural college, is a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity. He is employed at the present time as a water purification engineer for the San Francisco Water Department.

Following the wedding the couple enjoyed an extended wedding trip in Colorado, and are now in Burlingame where they have made their home.
