

RIJKSUNIVERSITEIT GRONINGEN

Definition Menière Groningen

a rational approach to Menière's disease

Proefschrift

ter verkrijging van het doctoraat in de Medische wetenschappen
aan de Rijksuniversiteit Groningen
op gezag van de
Rector Magnificus, dr. D.F.J. Bosscher, in het openbaar te verdedigen op
woensdag 17 oktober 2001
om 14.15 uur

door

Dionisius Jozef Maria Mateijsen

geboren op 13 februari 1964
te Tilburg

GRONINGEN
2001

Promotores:

Prof. dr. F.W.J. Albers

Prof. dr. ir. H.P. Wit

ISBN: 90-367-1428-1

Beoordelingscommissie: Prof. dr. P.B. van Cauwenberge
Prof. dr. J.H.A. de Keyser
Prof. dr. H. Kingma

Paranimfen: Drs. J.P. de Mönnink
Drs. R.P. Wong Chung

Acknowledgements

This study was supported by the Heinsius Houbolt Foundation and is part of the research program of our Department: Communication through Hearing and Speech. The program is incorporated in the Sensory Systems Group of the Groningen Graduate School for Behavioral and Cognitive Neurosciences (BCN).

Internet

An electronic version of this thesis is available on Internet
<http://www.ub.rug.nl/eldoc/dis/medicine/d.j.m.mateijssen/>

© 2001: D.J.M. Mateijssen

Printing: Universal Press B.V., Veenendaal

Voor Esther, Noortje en Sjors
Voor mijn ouders

Contents

Chapter 1	General introduction	8
Chapter 2	History and definition	13
Chapter 3	Definition Menière Groningen and Groningen Diagnostic Protocol	21
Chapter 4	Patients and characteristics	30
Chapter 5	Pure-tone and speech audiometry in patients with Menière's disease	46
Chapter 6	Limited value of electrocochleography for analysis of Menière's disease	64
Chapter 7	Evoked otoacoustic emissions in patients with Menière's disease	79
Chapter 8	Vertigo and electronystagmography in patients with uni- and bilateral Menière's disease	96
Chapter 9	Three-Dimensional Magnetic Resonance Imaging in patients with uni-and bilateral Menière's disease	111
Chapter 10	Perilymphatic pressure measurement in patients with Menière's disease	122
Chapter 11	Aldosterone assessment in patients with Menière's disease	130
Chapter 12	Definition Menière Groningen in future perspective	143
Chapter 13	Summary and conclusions	156
	Samenvatting en conclusies	168
	Dankwoord	180
	Curriculum vitae	183