Is citizenship secular?
Wagenvoorde, Reinie Alida

IMPORTANT NOTE: You are advised to consult the publisher's version (publisher's PDF) if you wish to cite from it. Please check the document version below.

Document Version
Publisher's PDF, also known as Version of record

Publication date:
2015

Link to publication in University of Groningen/UMCG research database

Citation for published version (APA):

Copyright
Other than for strictly personal use, it is not permitted to download or to forward/distribute the text or part of it without the consent of the author(s) and/or copyright holder(s), unless the work is under an open content license (like Creative Commons).

Take-down policy
If you believe that this document breaches copyright please contact us providing details, and we will remove access to the work immediately and investigate your claim.

Downloaded from the University of Groningen/UMCG research database (Pure): http://www.rug.nl/research/portal. For technical reasons the number of authors shown on this cover page is limited to 10 maximum.
Is Citizenship Secular?
Conceptualising the relation between religion and citizenship in contemporary Dutch society

Proefschrift

ter verkrijging van de graad van doctor aan de Rijksuniversiteit Groningen op gezag van de rector magnificus prof. dr. E. Sterken en volgens besluit van het College voor Promoties.

De openbare verdediging zal plaatsvinden op donderdag 17 september 2015 om 16.15 uur door

Reinie Alida Wagenvoorde
geboren op 4 september 1985
te Zuidhorn
Promotor
Prof. dr. A.L. Molendijk

Copromotor
Dr. C. Jedan

Beoordelingscommissie
Prof. dr. K.I. van Oudenhoven-Van der Zee
Prof. dr. F. de Lange
Prof. dr. W.G.J. Duyvendak
TABLE OF CONTENTS

Acknowledgements ........................................................................................................ v
List of abbreviations concerning Dutch institutions ............................................. ix

Introduction

1. Religion and good citizenship in contemporary Dutch society .................... 3
   1.1 Wondering about Dutch society ................................................................. 3
   1.2 Research aim, goals and audience .............................................................. 5
2. Theoretical and methodological considerations ................................................. 9
   2.1 The notion of citizenship ........................................................................... 9
   2.2 The Big Five model of citizenship ............................................................. 10
   2.3 The relation between religion and citizenship ......................................... 14
   2.4 Looking from different angles: structure of the book ......................... 17
      2.4.1 Philosophical and political interpretations of citizenship: Part One 18
      2.4.2 The views of Dutch citizens: Part Two ........................................... 20

Part One: Philosophical and political thinking on citizenship

3. Setting the stage: backgrounds for thinking on citizenship ......................... 25
   3.1 Contemporary thinking on citizenship ....................................................... 25
   3.2 Four approaches to citizenship ................................................................. 27
4. Political philosophical theories on citizenship .............................................. 29
   4.1 The liberal focus on law-abidingness and tolerance ............................... 29
      4.1.1 Liberal elements of citizenship ......................................................... 31
      4.1.2 The fact of pluralism and the issue of religious expressions ............... 32
   4.2 Communitarianism and in-group identity ............................................... 35
      4.2.1 Religious freedom and the issue of plurality ..................................... 36
      4.2.2 Shared identity and social engagement .......................................... 40
   4.3 Neo-republicanism and ‘The Unknown Society’ ..................................... 41
      4.3.1 Neo-republican obligations of citizenship ....................................... 43
      4.3.2 The matter of consensus and religion in the public domain ............ 45
   4.4 Liberal nationalism and the issue of national identity ............................ 47
      4.4.1 The liberal nationalist approach to citizenship ............................... 50
      4.4.2 National identity versus religious identity ...................................... 51
5. Government framing of good citizenship ..................................................... 55
   5.1 Changing paradigms in integration policies ......................................... 56