Broome Announces Staff Placements

Retha Shirkey has been made assistant editor of the 1949 Schoolma'am announces Betty Broome, editor. Charlotte Boice replaces Retha as photography editor. Sarah Strader was recently elected junior class editor.

Schoolma'ams of former years will again be on sale in the P. O. Lobby Tuesday, November 9, from 8:30-5:30. 1948 yearbooks will be $2; all others, $1. Prints of the pictures in former annuals will also be sold. Prices will range from 5 cents-25 cents, according to size.

Antrim Names Receiving Line

The chairman of the Social committee which is sponsoring the Student Government Association's dance on Saturday evening, November 6, has released the names of the chaperones and members of the receiving line for the affair.

In the receiving line at Reed gymnasium on Saturday, the committee chairman, Bidy Antrim, will introduce Ida Hart Chappel, president of SGA, Betty Grey Scott, Betty Weller, Jinx Miller, Betty Jean Smith, Mary Shep Alberts, standards committee chairman, and Betty Lou Henshaw, Honor Council Chairman.

Chaperones at the "Cosmopolitan Ball" will be Miss Hope F. Vandever, Dean of Women, Mrs. Dorothy S. Garber, Dean of Freshmen, Miss Mary Louise Seeger, Miss Mabel Gladin, Dr. Mary Armentrout, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Eagle, and Dr. and Mrs. Glenn Smith.

Bids went on sale Tuesday with freshmen having preference.

King Decorates John Metcalfe

A recent assembly speaker at Madison College—John C. Metcalfe—has just been decorated by the King of Norway. Through his ambassador in Washington, the Norwegian monarch has awarded the St. Olav Medal to the world-famous writer and lecturer for distinguished journalistic service to the Allies during World War II.

This is the second time in the past few years that Mr. Metcalfe has received a decoration from a foreign government for outstanding achievement in journalism. In 1946, the Chilean Government awarded to him the Legion of Merit decoration, highest honor it can bestow upon a citizen of another country, for extending the "Good Neighbor" policy between the United States and Latin America.

Home Ec Club Plans Party

In an effort to unite more closely the clubs in this part of the state that are affiliated with the national organization, the Frances Sale Home Economics club plans to entertain at an informal party the members of the Bridgewater Home Economics club and the home economics students here on campus. As yet no date has been set for the party.

from the high school there, Chris Chandler, vice-president of the new class is in the Business teaching curriculum. Chris was on the annual, in the Beta and Glee clubs at her high school.

The position of secretary is held by Gracie Armisted of Portsmouth. A graduate of Craddock high school, Gracie was advertising manager of the annual, editor-in-chief of the school paper, in the Glee club, and a cheer leader.

Suffolk claims Judy Ashburn treasurer of the '52 class, although she graduated from Holland High school. A cheer leader, on the student government and the basketball team, Judy laughingly commented upon being elected treasurer, she was "real happy and surprised too!"

Warrick high school is the alma mater of Gloria Utley. There, the reporter of the freshman class, was a cheer leader, secretary of the English club, and home room president. Hilton Village is Gloria's home.

Becky Settle Announces Names Of 119 Pledges

After a week of parties and open houses, the rushees of the various sororities were issued bids Saturday afternoon. Becky Settle, chairman of the Panhellenic Council, announces the following pledges.

AST Has Banquet President To Visit

Alpha Sigma Tau celebrated Founders Day yesterday. They held a banquet at Julia's last night.

The sorority was first founded at Ypsilanti, Michigan in 1899. It was chartered at Madison, May 19, 1944.

Mrs. Carrie Staehle, national president of Alpha Sigma Tau, will arrive Tuesday. She visits the sorority every three years for inspection. Mrs. Staehle, from Columbus, Ohio, is also Alpha Sigma Tau's representative to the National Panhellenic Council. A luncheon will be given in her honor in the tearoom Wednesday. The officers of Alpha Sigma Tau, Miss Helen Frank, Miss Mary Latimer, sponsors, Mrs. Bernice Varner, and Miss Hope Vandever will attend.

Wednesday night the sorority will have a coffee hour. The officers and sponsors of other sororities, Miss Vandever and Mrs. Varner are invited.

Day Students Club Initiates Members

The Sesmae club held its initiation for new members on Tuesday evening, October 26, in the Day Students' room.

Those initiated were Lina Albrite, Jean Anne Bear, Bette Bosserman, Joyce Garber, Sarah Margaret Heatwole, Maribess Jackson, Emily Long, Lois Long, Mary Jane Menefee, Malinda Mullen, Mrs. Carol L. Reel, Alda Simmons, Genevieve Smith, Doris Stover, Mrs. Anne H. Vance, and Audrey Wheelbarger. Two others, Betty Fauber and Janice Fauber, were initiated at the club's regular meeting on November 2. On the night of the initiation, Jeanne Ann Phalen was installed as the Sesame club's new secretary.

Chairmen of the committees which planned the initiation were Lois Early, program committee; Jeanne Ann Phalen, invitations, and Greta Garber, refreshments. All were under the directions of Jackie Dovel, chairman of the social committee, and Sue Landis, president of the club.

Lowell Watkins Gives Satisfying Concert

by Mary Lester

Mr. Lowell Watkins presented a varied recital program on Tuesday evening in Wilson Hall. He is a pianist of uncommon talent who plays with vigor and exceptional tonal richness.

The program opened with the Bach Prelude and Fugue in A minor, which seems to present no challenge to Mr. Watkins' virtuosity. He plays with clean, musical emphasis, and, of course, an abundance of technical resources.

It is doubtful that an ideal interpretation of the great "Waldstein" Sonata has ever been achieved by present day artists, but Mr. Watkins gave us an alert, unostentatious performance. There was a little overagitation at the climax of the first section, but the connecting adagio was played with sensitive exactness and beautiful tone.

Combination

Mr. Watkins combined the subtlety of Ravel, the erudition of Beethoven with a tempestuous intellectuality of his own. There is no new trend of Griffes' talent to be observed in the "Night Winds," but it was impressively superior in charm and fantasy. The artist showed in this, and in the Ravel "Fountains" a keen sense of color, inflection and nuance.

The McDowell composition seemed to make no great emotional demands, but certainly gained from the force and brilliance of Mr. Watkins' capacities. The concert was prevailingly good, very satisfying.

Holland Elected Freshman Party

Mancha Holland of Franklin, Virginia, was elected president of the freshman class Tuesday. Others chosen by this group were Christine Chandler, vice-president, Gracie Armisted, secretary, Judy Ashburn, treasurer, and Gloria Utley and Florence James, as reporter and sergeant-at-arms, respectively.

The new president, who graduated from Franklin High School, was secretary of the Athletic Association, charter member of the Student Advisory Council, the Glee club, and the Monogram club.

"At this early date," she stated, "I haven't had a chance to make many plans for our class—just that we all cooperate and make our class the best ever."

Flunk Slip Fear Makes Life Rough

by Pat Ingram

Long about this time of the year the students fall into either of two categories—those who have "the flunk slip fear" and are studying their heads off in a last minute hope of preventing them—and those who have "the flunk slip fear" and aren't studying at all, being sure that it is too late and all is lost.

We fall into the former, and for days now we have been seen beating a trail from the third floor of Junior to the Library, carrying loads of books and wearing a foggy dazed expression on our face. Indeed we have been doing some fancy studying (our instructors will please note).

And after spending hours in the quiet sanctity of the library, we come wearily back to our room expecting the relaxation of a cigarette and a gossip with our roommates. But NO! Upon pushing open our door and staggering into the room with our literary burden, we are met with warning "Sh-h-h-h's" and a glance that clearly says, "Don't you dare open your mouth; we're studying." Yes, they have it, too.

Yesterday, however, there was a break in the monotonous routine. We and the roommate took it upon ourselves to waste a couple of hours in going downtown; and while browsing through Mick-or-Mack's the roommate was hit with the happy thought of preparing breakfast in the Community Kitchenette that lies not too many steps from our room. But, now, will you please excuse me while I take a Bicarb pill?

Needed: Sidewalk

Have you noticed that a great deal of campus traffic afoot takes place behind Carter, Sprinkle, and Messick houses? The girls who live in those sorority houses take the shortest way to classes, meals, the post office and the tearoom. And the shortest distance between the houses and those other places means going out the back door and walking along the path until reaching the sidewalk beside Carter house.

Most of the girls living in Junior, Johnston, Alumnae, Sheldon and Spottwood halls travel the same route on their way down town: following the path behind Carter and Sprinkle and cutting through the yard of Messick house to get to the sidewalk along Main Street.

This seems to be an established route of travel—and a convenient one, too, in that it shortens many a student's walk every day.

In rainy and snowy weather, however, this path is a mess of mud and slush. And the left yard of Messick house isn't at any time an unbroken lot of grass or snow.

A sidewalk here would seem to be a good idea. A sidewalk constructed from and connected to the sidewalk in front of Messick house passing behind Sprinkle house, and connecting with the sidewalk just behind Carter house would be a great convenience to all the campus students and especially to those who live in the three sorority houses and Junior hall.

The sidewalk would save the students' footwear and wet feet in cold weather. It would give a neater appearance to a much traveled path and would improve too the appearance of the Messick yard from Main Street.

Here is an improvement greatly to be desired—for the benefit of this year's students and for those to follow the paths after us.

Where Are Your Proofs?

Four students whose annual pictures were taken last spring have not turned their proofs back into the studio to date, five months later. Does it really matter whether or not you turn in your proofs? Yes, it does matter, and here's proof of why it matters:

A careful record is kept of every individual picture taken for the annual. This record is checked when you come for your proofs, to be sure that all proofs are delivered to the students; it is checked again when you deliver the proofs back to the studio's representative who is here for that purpose on appointed days.

If the proofs are not returned by you, the records get fouled up, proofs cannot be found, staff members have to plague you for your proofs, and the whole production schedule for your Schoolma'am is held up on your account. Furthermore, if you want a retake of your picture, there is no way of knowing, unless you turn in your proofs and express your desire. Whether or not your present proofs are to be used for the annual, whether or not you want to place an order for finished pictures, those proofs should be returned. Then, if you do want a retake, time for it will be scheduled, and the unsatisfactory picture will not appear in the annual.

Don't you see? Failure to return proofs hurts your chances of getting a better picture and may cause you much unnecessary embarrassment; it hurts the other work of staff members who have to make numerous trips to track down you and your proofs; it hurts the final outcome of your 1949 Schoolma'am. So, do get those proofs in on Wednesday and Thursday of next week; it's your part in the success of your 1949 Schoolma'am.

Do We Want Class "B" Results?

Money, money, money—That's the big controversy of the week. With so many organizations supported by campus fees and with prices constantly rising, there just wasn't enough money to meet the needs of these many groups.

All the major organizations on campus except the YWCA, receive their nurture from this source. Also included in the fees are our lycemus, and our assembly programs.

The only solution to this problem seems to be to raise our campus fees. If this is not done, THE BREEZE will cease publication on or about April 8, 1949, due to the fact that the staff did not receive the requested amount from the Finance Committee. We believe that the many other organizations will also have to curtail part of their planned programs.

The question is—shall we have fewer or decidedly inferior undertakings, and hence Class B results, or shall we dig a little deeper and give the people who have the talent, ability, and desire to do their best, a fair chance to serve you and bring to Madison the fame it deserves?

Home Ec Staff Entertains

The Home Economics staff was "at home" to all new students in the department on Thursday afternoon, November 4, from 4:00 to 5:30 o'clock.

Seniors taking the home management course assisted the staff members in receiving the guests at the home management house.

Guide Us Into The Way Of Peace

What can we, just ordinary citizens, do to obtain and keep world peace? We must realize that we are not only citizens of the United States of America, but world citizens as well. We must accept the challenge which comes with this fact.

We must realize that neither the Russians nor any other people in the world can be hoodwinked into thinking they hate or even misunderstand us. We must love our fellowmen, but how can we do this before we have conquered ourselves?

Are we intolerant of others? This is the stuff war feeds on! Do we cling to old grudges? Are we harboring old resentments? War is bred in hatred. Is there dissension, envy or strife on the campus? Strife begets war.

Do we think that the peace is in the hands of the statesmen, diplomats, and our president entirely? Then we are making a bad mistake. Peace must be won individually before hatred and fear and greed can be cleared out nationally and internationally.

We can make a beginning right here on the campus of Madison College. "Can the blind lead the blind? Shall they not both fall into the ditch?"

"Y" NOTES

Sunday vespers will be presented by Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority. Gene Savage will lead the program. All sororities, fraternities, and students are asked to attend. They are held in the recital room every Sunday immediately after dinner.

Martha Main will head the Sing-spiration program tomorrow night at 7:00 P. M. Come early and enjoy the talent of students.

Hear Ye! Hear Ye! Freshmen, don't forget Freshman Commission on Monday night in Alumnae Hall. Betty George Ramsey, president, has some good ideas and discussions planned but she can not carry them out unless you support this "Baby Y". This is your chance to take part in Christian fellowship sponsored by the Y. W. C. A.

Yes, the boys have already started working on their chapel program to be held next Friday. Linwood Good will be the main speaker and the music will also be furnished by the boys. They usually support us in the programs we present, so let's fill the auditorium.

KENNY'S KOMMENTS

by Margaret Ann Kenny

Miracles never cease. Come January, Truman will still be President of the United States. And the poll takers, political prophets, gamblers, newspapers, and the stock market all have a red face.

No one thought Truman had a chance. It was to be Dewey all the way. Well, Dewey got fooled. But so did everyone. The outcome was amazing.

What explains the Truman victory? No one knows, but we can all guess. Dewey was confident, but the American voter did not want to be taken for granted. He wanted to be worked for.

Anxious to get all the anti-Truman votes and not to offend any group no matter how small, Dewey straddled almost every issue. He did not come out and say what he stood for in plain earthy language, and no one was sure.

Before the election Truman said, "Republicans are poll happy", and charged that the polls were rigged. Maybe, so, maybe not. But at any rate they were far wrong. They got Dewey so sure of victory that he gave up the fight half way through the campaign. Not so Truman. He fought every inch of the way.

This week was witness to the biggest upset in our political history. Dewey's victory was a certainly, according to those who should know. But a big upswing to Truman took place in the last few days. Chicago, Cleveland, New York, and Boston staged big receptions for Truman and everyone overlooked their significance.

Truman proved himself to be game. He fought a losing fight against great odds and fought alone, and he won. This is his personal victory. He does not owe an individual anything. He came through with his hands free.

SHOWGOER

by Irene Munson

Johnny Belinda the poignant drama that a lot of us "neak-previewed" the other Friday night, is back for a four-day run at the Virginia, Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday next week. From what we've heard nosed around on campus by those who've seen it, it's a powerful movie with plenty of appeal and well worth the fifty-four cents (for once) that you'll have to blow on it. It has Jane Wyman as a deaf mute who has an illegitimate child, kills its father, and then stands trial, nearly friendless except for Lew Ayres, the village doctor, who is in love with her. Agnes Moorehead, Charles Bickford and Stephen McNally have the supporting roles. The setting is the rugged sea coast of Nova Scotia.

Don't know whether you'll get your fifty-four cents worth with Pitfall at the Virginia next Thursday and Friday, or not. It sounds exciting, has Elizabeth Scott and Dick Powell for love interest, and is a detective story, more or less. It should wile away those hours when you haven't a thing to do.

Deanna Durbin and Dick Haymes team up for the first time in "Up in Central Park" at the State Theatre Sunday and Monday. It is a musical adapted from the stage musical of the same name. Should be good.

"All My Sons" comes to the State Tuesday through Thursday of next week with Burt Lancaster and Edward G. Robinson.

Dr. Duke Improves

Dr. S. P. Duke, president of Madison College, was moved Tuesday from the Rockingham Memorial Hospital to his home on campus, "Hillcrest." Reports indicate that Dr. Duke continues to improve.

Alarm Clocks, Obliging Roommates Wake Madison Girls To Torture

Some have the aid of alarm clocks, others regular school bells, but others of us have roommates who obligingly shake us each morning in order to be on time for those delicious breakfasts of which Madison is so proud. (One may ask whose only "obliging roommate" hears the clock; maybe this could more easily be explained by the fact that she sleeps with it!)

Still in the second scene third act of our last dream, we stumble to the dresser, heel in ash tray, take one look in the mirror and stumble once again back to bed—this time, falling over roommate number Two whose head is hanging off the trundle bed—during this process catching a toe nail on the wire-like curlers sticking in all directions. Not having energy enough to sever connections with curlers, we lie in suspended state until "obliging" shakes us once more.

With considerable help we manage to get into our purple skirts and red sweaters, otherwise known as "the breakfast uniforms" and to tie the yellow bandanas around our own wire hair "beautifiers".

The last bell having rung, we make mad dashes cross-campus only to have Bluestone's "portals" shut in our faces—Sitting on the bottom step of Harrison six half-active specimens of

by Jean Shallcross

Here we go again, with news and views of all the stuff that's been happening on ye ole' campus!

Seems like Mary Jay Speer has been walking around in a semi-coma ever since she got back from the Wake Forest Homecoming last weekend. She's said nothing for the past three days but "God bless the Tar-Heel state!"

And do you know that Echo Crutchlow from Holland, Virginia, who attended Madison last year married Mr. Larry Milford of Jacksonville, Florida on September 25? They are now living in Jacksonville.

Dot Barger of Buchanan, Va., Ruth Simmons of Eagle Rock, and Elizabeth Philips of Evington, Va. spent last weekend at their respective homes.

Pat Overton, Emma Dofer, Mary Evelyn Barham, Jean Snedegar, and June Lyon, held to the Tech tradition on campus and attended the gala openings at V. P. I. last weekend. Lucky, lucky girls!!!

Dot and Frankie Bethal, Martha Ann Main, Mary Rudasill, and Beth Savage journeyed to Roanoke last weekend to attend the Baptist Convention. According to all reports, a good time was had by all!

Madison was well represented at the Duke-Georgia Tech game last Saturday when Lois Shifflett and Billie Jean Spangler decided to have loads of fun.

V. M. I. is first in the hearts of the Madison girls, too. At least, Anna Hileman and Nancy Fahnestock seem to think so! Enough to spend the weekend having a wonderful time.

Another Madison girl decided to make things permanent when Mary Margaret Duncan, a last year's graduate, was married Friday night to Carroll Crews of Halifax. They were married at Republican Grove Methodist Church in Virginia.

Gift To Freshmen

I know how the freshmen have been struggling lately with the formations of the singular and plural exceptions. Sympathetically, I repeat a verse I heard decades ago from a New England farmer.

THE KING'S ENGLISH

We'll begin with box, the plural is boxes,

But the plural of ox is oxen, not oxes.

One foul is a goose, two are called geese,

Yet the plural of moose is never meese.

You may find a lone mouse, or a whole nest of mice,

But the plural of house is houses, not hicc.

One is a tooth, a set are called teeth, And yet the plural of booth is never beeth.

One is a brother, two are called brethren,

But the plural of mother is never methren.

Now the masculine pronouns are he, his, and him—

So imagine the feminine—she, shis, and shim.

Madison Hockey Team Attends State Meet

The Madison extramural hockey team left today to participate in the Virginia Field Hockey Association tournament to be held at the College of William and Mary, November 5-6.

Teams from many colleges and cities in Virginia will compete in this two-day affair. The Madison team expects to play the Richmond hockey club on Friday afternoon. Carrying hockey sticks for the Richmond club are several players who traveled in England and Europe with the United States Field Hockey Touring team. Madison will also play an unnamed opponent on Saturday morning.

A luncheon is scheduled for Saturday at which some of the outstanding personalities in hockey will be introduced. The members of the All-

State and Reserve teams will be announced at this time.

On Saturday afternoon the tournament will close with an exhibition game between the All-State and the Reserve teams. These teams will represent Virginia at the Southeastern tourney in Baltimore on November 20.

Miss Davies Visits Athletic Association

Miss Meighan Davies, a member of the British Touring Hockey team to the United States in 1947, was the guest of the Athletic Association on Wednesday and Thursday.

Miss Davies, a right halfback on the All-England team in 1947, is a graduate of Bedford College of Physical Training and taught at Huyten college near Liverpool. She has also coached at Mount Pocomo Camp, at Vassar and the North Jersey and Virginia Field Hockey Associations.

This English lady made a big hit with her winning personality and excellent hockey playing and coaching. She gave instructions to all physical education hockey classes in stickwork and tactics.

A luncheon was given on Wednesday for Miss Davies by the Athletic Association. On Wednesday evening she spoke to the Mercury Club and other interested students. Miss Davies explained that English girls start playing hockey at an early age and that stickwork is stressed. She also said there were five physical training colleges in England and that graduates were thoroughly grounded in fundamentals for all the games in England.

Miss Davies coached the extramural hockey squad Thursday on the eve of their departure for the State Hockey Tournament.

The Spotlight . . .

By Margaret Chapman

Amid the banging of hockey sticks against suitcases and the shouted goodbyes of well-wishers, the Madison extramural hockey team took off this morning at 8 A.M. for the State Hockey Tournament in Williamsburg.

Getting on the bus as fast as they move down the field, we observed the Purple and Gold forward line—Bobbie Roberts, the cool, competent left wing, Mary Ellen Nethers, reliable senior right wing, Ruth Sorenson, the freshman who is showing her skill at center forward, and the "Terrific Twins," Catherine Cockrill and "Tunia" Bluett.

Tramping on their heels came "Henry" Lanier, our center half with that neat stick work, Jean Shelley, hard working right half, and Nancy Birch, speedy left half. "Dee" Pond and Jane Grant, our stalwart fullbacks, helped Marianna Howard get her goal keeper's equipment on the bus.

Also thrilled over making the trip to the colonial town were Evie Dickson (with interests, besides hockey, at William and Mary), "Jersey" Lewis, Kitty Blakemore and "Chappie" Chapman.

Mustn't forget the coach, Miss Shaffer, umpire, Miss Ulrich, Betty Moyer, business manager of A.A., and the faithful driver, Mr. Roberts.
