UNITED REPUBLIC OF TANZANIA, ADMINISTRATIVE BOUNDARIES

Foreword

The 2012 Population and Housing Census (PHC) for the United Republic of Tanzania was carried out on the 26th August, 2012. This was the fifth Census after the Union of Tanganyika and Zanzibar in 1964. Other Censuses were carried out in 1967, 1978, 1988 and 2002. The 2012 PHC, like others, will contribute to the improvement of quality of life of Tanzanians through the provision of current and reliable data for policy formulation, development planning and services delivery as well as for monitoring and evaluating national and international development frameworks.

The 2012 PHC is unique in the sense that, the information collected will be used in monitoring and evaluating the Development Vision 2025 for Tanzania Mainland and Zanzibar Development Vision 2020, Five Year Development Plan 2011/12 – 2015/16, National Strategy for Growth and Reduction of Poverty (NSGRP) commonly known as MKUKUTA and Zanzibar Strategy for Growth and Reduction of Poverty (ZSGRP) commonly known as MKUZA. The census will also provide information for the evaluation of the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs) in 2015. The Poverty Monitoring Master Plan, which is the monitoring tool for NSGRP and ZSGRP, mapped out core indicators for poverty monitoring against the sequence of surveys, with the 2012 PHC being one of them. Several of these core indicators for poverty monitoring will be measured directly from the 2012 PHC. The census will also provide a denominator for the determination of other indicators such as enrolment and literacy rates, infant and maternal mortality rates, unemployment rate and others.

The Population Distribution by Age and Sex is the second of a series of planned publications for the 2012 PHC. The main purpose of the report is to give aggregated totals of population by age and sex at national, regional and district council level for informed decision making. The next reports in the series will present the socio-economic characteristics of the population at national, regional and district levels.

The success of the census depended upon the cooperation and contributions from the government, development partners, various institutions and the public at large. A special word of thanks should go to the government leaders at all levels particularly, Minister for Finance; Minister of State, President's Office, Finance, Economy and Development Planning, Zanzibar; Members of Parliament; Members of House of Representatives; Councilors; Regional and District Census Committees chaired by Regional and District Commissioners; Field Assistants; Enumerators; Supervisors; local leaders and heads of households.

Our special gratitude should go to the following; DfID, Government of Japan, JICA, UNDP, UNFPA, UNICEF, USAID, World Bank and other development partners for providing assistance in terms of equipment, long and short term consultancies, training and funding. We would like to thank religious and political party leaders, as well as Non-Governmental Organisations (NGOs), mass media and the general public for their contribution towards successful implementation of the census.

Last but not least, we would wish to acknowledge the vital contributions to the project by Hajjat Amina Mrisho Said, the 2012 Commissioner for Population and Housing Census and Mr. Mwalim Haji Ameir, the Census Commissar for Zanzibar. Special thanks should also go to the Management and staff of the National Bureau of Statistics and Office of Chief Government Statistician, Zanzibar. Their commitment and dedication made significant contributions to the overall efficiency of the census operations. We would also like to convey our appreciation to all other Government Officials who worked tirelessly to ensure successful implementation of the 2012 Population and Housing Census.

Hon. Mizengo Peter Pinda (MP),
Prime Minister, United Republic of Tanzania

Hon. Ambassador Seif Ali Iddi (MP and MHR),
Second Vice President, Zanzibar

Organization of the Report

The Population Distribution by Age and Sex Report is the second in a series of publications earmarked for 2012 Population and Housing Census (PHC). The Report presents aggregated totals of the population by age and sex at national, regional and district or council levels.

Chapter one gives an overview of the 2012 PHC, giving a brief history of Census undertaking in Tanzania, objectives and preparations of the 2012 PHC, enumeration and post-enumeration activities. The chapter also highlights the main challenges faced during the implementation of Census.

Chapter Two deals with evaluation of the quality of age and sex data. In this chapter, the quality of age data is examined using five dimensions, namely, line graphs, population pyramids, indices of digit preference, diagonal consistency and vertical consistency checks.

Chapter Three gives result highlights on the population distribution by age and sex. Summary results are presented on age and sex structure by major population age groups such as population under 15 years of age, population aged 15-24, population 15-64 and elderly population. Highlights are given for the United Republic of Tanzania, Tanzania Mainland and Tanzania Zanzibar and regional levels. A brief descriptive analysis of the information is also presented.

Chapter Four gives the population distribution statistical tables on age and sex by single and five year age groups at National, Regional and Districts or Councils levels.

Concepts and Definitions

Age is the number of years one had lived as at last birthday i.e. in reference to the census night.

Age-Dependency Ratio is the ratio of people in the "dependent" ages (those under age 15 and age 65 and older) to those in the "working age population" (15-64 years).

Age-Ratio Score for Females (ARSF) is defined as the mean deviation of the age ratios for females from 100 percent, also irrespective of sign.

Age Ratio Score for Males (ARSM) is defined as the mean deviation of the age ratios for males from 100 percent, irrespective of sign.

Age-Sex Accuracy Index (UN Joint Score) is defined as "ASAI = 3(Sex Ratio Score) + Age-Ratio Score for Male + Age-Ratio Score for Females"

Census Night is a reference night of the census. According to the Tanzania 2012 Population and Housing Census, the census night was the night of $25^{th}/26^{th}$ August 2012.

Collective Households: For census purpose, a collective household is a group of persons residing in one dwelling or compound having no head of household. Boarding schools, hospitals and camps are examples of collective households.

Elderly Population: According to international definition, an elderly person is the one aged 65 years and above. However, according to Tanzania National Ageing Policy, an older person is an individual who is 60 years and above.

Enumeration Area (EA): For the purpose of Census, an EA is a designated area with an average of 60 to 100 households.

Geographical Information System (GIS) is a system designed to capture, store, manipulate, analyse, manage and present all types of geographical data.

Household refers to a person or group of persons who reside in the same homestead or compound but not necessarily in the same dwelling unit, have same cooking arrangements, and are answerable to the same household head except for collective household.

Median Age is the age at which exactly half the population is older and half is younger.

Myers Index is calculated for the age above 10 years and shows the excess or deficit of people in ages in any of the ten digits expressed as percentage. It is based on the assumption that, the population is equally distributed among all ages. The theoretical range of Myers` Index is from 0 to 90, where "0" indicates no preference, while "90" indicates absolute preference.

Optical Mark Reader (OMR) is the process of gathering data by optical scanner by measuring the reflectivity of light at pre-determined positions on a surface.

Population Pyramid graphically displays population's age and sex composition. Horizontal bars present the numbers or proportions of males and females in each age group.

Post Enumeration Survey (PES) is the sample survey conducted immediately after census for the primary purpose of evaluating the census. It helps in identifying areas of deficiencies that need improvement in subsequent censuses.

Private (conventional) Household: For census purposes, a private household is a household comprising of head of household and other member(s) of household. It can also be a household of one person.

Quality Assurance includes planned and systematic activities implemented in a quality system so that; quality requirements for the product will be fulfilled.

Quality Control includes observation techniques and activities used to fulfill requirements for quality.

Sex ratio is the ratio of males to females in a given population usually expressed as the number of males for every 100 females. For example, the sex ratio of 98 for Katavi region means, for every 100 females, there are 98 males.

Sex Ratio Score (SRS) is defined as the mean difference between sex ratios for the successive age groups, averaged irrespective of sign.

Survival ratio is a proportion of persons in a specified group (e.g. age and sex), alive at the beginning of an interval (such as a five year period) who survives to the end of interval.

Urban Area: Countries differ in their definitions of urban, although it is fairly common for the urban population to consist of those living in towns and cities of a few thousand persons or more especially if the population of such areas is largely non-agricultural. For the purpose of the 2012 PHC, urban population consist of people living in areas legally recognized (gazetted) as urban and all areas recognized by Local Government Authorities as urban.

Working Age Population is the population aged 15 to 64 years.

Young People are the population aged 0 to 14 years.

Youth Population: Internationally, Youth Population is the population aged 15-24 years. However, according to Tanzania's Youth Policy, Youth Population is the population aged 15 to 35 years.

An Overview of the 2012 Population and Housing Census

1.0 Introduction

The United Nations defines a population census as the total process of collecting, compiling, evaluating, analyzing and publishing or otherwise disseminating demographic, economic and social data pertaining, at a specified time, to all persons in a country or in a well delineated part of a country.

In other words, a population census is the complete count of all persons in a country at a given time. It is the primary source of detailed data on the size, distribution and composition of population. It covers all population groups e.g. private households, institutions, homeless, and migratory populations, for all geographic and/or administrative units in the country. Therefore, data from population censuses allow analysis and presentation of statistics for persons, households and various population groups for a wide variety of geographical units.

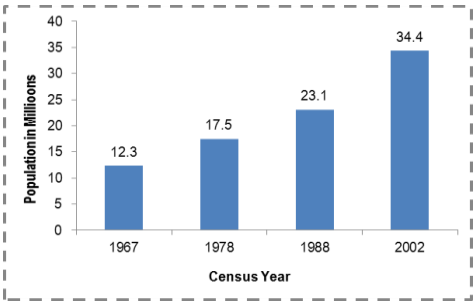
In addition, modern day censuses provide information on the supply of housing units together with information on the housing structural characteristics, amenities and household living conditions.

The United Nations recommend that countries should conduct at least one population census every 10 years. A census is an enormous and challenging national statistical activity which involves a coordinated involvement and participation of variety of national and international stakeholders.

1.1 A Brief History of Census Undertaking in Tanzania

The history of population counts or censuses in Tanzania dates back to 1910. The first modern census was conducted in 1958. After the union of Tanganyika and Zanzibar in 1964, other censuses were conducted in 1967, 1978, 1988 and 2002.

The data collected in these censuses show that the Tanzania's population almost trebled in the four decades, from 12.3 million in 1967 to 34.4 million persons in 2002. The average annual growth rate during the 1988-2002 censuses increased marginally to 2.9 percent per annum, from to 2.8 percent per annum in 1978-1988.



The 2012 Population and Housing Census (PHC) enumerated 44.9 million persons, representing a growth rate of 2.7 percent per annum during the 2002 – 2012 inter-censal period. The 2012 PHC was the fifth census to be conducted in the country after the Union of Tanganyika and Zanzibar in 1964. The census night was the night of 25th / 26th August 2012. However, the enumeration lasted for two weeks – until 8th September 2012. The last week was mainly dedicated to enumerate pockets of populations that were difficult to reach and sorting of completed questionnaires in preparation for their dispatch to the data processing center.

Consistent with the previous censuses, the 2012 PHC used a de facto enumeration methodology. Trained enumerators and their supervisors traversed (canvassed) the entire country assisted by Enumeration Area (EA) maps and guided by the respective local administrative authorities. Households, institutions and individuals in 108,000 EAs were canvassed. Most of the population was enumerated in conventional households. All persons found within the country were enumerated, regardless of their nationality or citizenship. For the first time in the history of census undertaking in Tanzania, diplomats were enumerated in the 2012 PHC.

All the post-independence Tanzanian censuses have been conducted in accordance with the United Nations Principles and Recommendations for census-taking worldwide.

1.2 Objectives of the 2012 PHC

The fundamental objective of conducting the 2012 Census was to provide the government with information on the size, distribution, composition and other social economic characteristics of the population as well as information on housing conditions. This information is important in providing updated benchmark data for formulation, implementation, monitoring and evaluation of population programmes and policies. The up-to-date information supports, among other things, the evaluation of the implementation of the Tanzania Development Vision 2025, Vision 2020 for Zanzibar as well as health, social and economic reforms in a de-centralized Government framework.

Specific objectives of the census were:

a) Increased availability and accessibility of accurate, timely and reliable data on demographic and socio-economic characteristics for policy formulation, monitoring and evaluation of development programmes;
b) Increased knowledge of stakeholders on socio-economic and demographic characteristics of Tanzania population as well as patterns and trends of growth;

c) Increased utilization of socio-economic and demographic data for designing, monitoring and evaluating development programmes; and

d) Strengthened capacity of the National Bureau of Statistics (NBS) and Office of Chief Government Statistician (OCGS) in carrying out population and housing censuses particularly in the areas of planning, collecting, processing, analysing, disseminating and utilizing census and other data.

1.3 Preparations for the 2012 PHC

1.3.1 Legal Framework

The 2012 PHC was carried out in accordance with the Statistics Act No. 1, of 2002. The Act, inter alia, mandates the NBS, in collaboration with OCGS, to conduct population and housing censuses within the United Republic of Tanzania. In this respect, the Director General of the NBS was responsible for planning the overall organization and technical administration of the Census. Furthermore, the NBS Director General was the Accounting Officer and in charge of all census operations. The Order to conduct the 2012 Population and Housing Census on 26th August, 2012 was made by the President of the United Republic of Tanzania, Hon. Dr. Jakaya Mrisho Kikwete, on 9th March 2012, and gazetted on the 20th July 2012, as directed by the Act.

H.E. the President, Hon. Dr. Jakaya Mrisho Kikwete, his wife and family being enumerated at the State House on 26th August, 2012.

1.3.2 Census Organization

A population census is an enormous and challenging national exercise with many and varied stakeholders whose participation is required at all levels of government or public administration. To ensure a successful census, careful planning, monitoring and evaluation of census activities is fundamental. A proper census organization is vital to this end.

Preparations for the 2012 PHC were facilitated by various committees established at national, regional and district levels to guide and monitor the census processes. The committees drew members from government, ministries, departments and agencies; higher learning institutions and non- governmental organizations. The main committees were: the Central Census Committee, National Advisory Committee, Technical Advisory Committee and regional and districts census committees.

The Central Census Committee, co-chaired by the Prime Minister and the Second Vice President of Zanzibar was set up to provide general guidelines and to mobilize the required resources. The members were ministers of selected ministries of both governments. The Central Census Committee was advised by the National Advisory Committee, co-chaired by the permanent secretaries from Prime Minister's Office and Second Vice President of Zanzibar. Members were permanent secretaries of the respective selected ministries of both governments. The Census Technical Committee chaired by the Director General of NBS was responsible for overseeing the technical aspects of the census. Members of this committee were from government ministries, depatments and agencies; higher learning institutions; research institutions; non-government organisations and development partners.

The Ministry of Finance was charged with the responsibility of overseeing the operations of the census project. In Zanzibar, the President's Office, Finance, Economy and Development Planning ministry was responsible. These were also the respective parent ministries of NBS and OCGS. The regional and district census committees chaired by regional and district commissioners were formed in each region and district and charged with the responsibility of ensuring that all census activities were successfully undertaken in their respective regions or districts. Members of these committees also included representatives of main religious institutions.

The Commissioner of Population Census and the Census Commissar (Zanzibar) were responsible for educating, sensitizing and mobilizing the people for the census exercise, resource mobilization and acted as a link between the Government and National Bureau of Statistics and Office of the Chief Government Statistician, Zanzibar. The Census Commissioner was also in-charge for data processing exercise of the census data.

1.3.3 Development of Census Instruments

The Census instruments (questionnaires, manuals and other census documents) were developed in collaboration with experts from higher learning institutions and other MDAs. The development of census questionnaires considered past census topics for comparison purposes, current country needs, suggestions from data users as well as other data producers, United Nations recommendations and recommendations of regional bodies of which Tanzania is a member (e.g. EAC and SADC). The questionnaires were shared with various stakeholders both in Tanzania Mainland and Tanzania Zanzibar through stakeholder workshops, discussed with the Census Technical Committee and finally presented to the National Advisory Committee and the Central Census Committee for consideration and approval.

The development of the 2012 PHC questionnaire followed the UN Principles and Recommendations for the 2010 Round of Population and Housing Censuses. To be able to cover all population groups, two main types of questionnaires were developed, namely, the Long and Short questionnaires. Other questionnaires that were used included questionnaire for special population groups, questionnaire for diplomats, questionnaire for hotels or lodges, hospitals and travelers as well as a community questionnaire that covered all social amenities, land use pattern and environmental or natural features (e.g. water towers, forest or vegetation cover).

The main topics included in the questionnaires were demographic characteristics (Relationship, Sex, Age, Disability, Marital Status, Citizenship and Place of Residence); Literacy and Education; Migration; Economic Activity; Fertility; General and Maternal Mortality; Social Security Funds; Tanzanians Living Abroad (Diaspora); Agriculture; Ownership of Assets and Housing Conditions. The 2012 PHC questionnaires were paper-based.

1.3.4 Cartographic Work

The 2012 PHC enumeration was preceded by extensive cartographic work covering the entire country. Besides its census objective, the cartographic work also had other equally important national applications. The main census–related objective of cartographic work was to delineate the entire country into Enumeration Areas (EAs) in order to produce maps required for census operations. The most important principle followed in delineating an EA was that under no circumstance should an EA cut across the existing administrative boundaries of regions, districts, wards or shehia or villages or mitaa. Adherence to this principle was necessary since the census results were to be presented according to these administrative units. The number of households in an EA in both rural and urban areas ranged from 60 to 100.

A typical Enumeration Area Map for 2012 PHC

The 2012 census cartographic work fully embraced the technological advancements in Geographical Information System (GIS) development. In particular, the census cartography used satellite imagery and aerial photography. Delineation of EA boundaries was done using a Global Positioning Systems (GPS). In addition, coordinates of prominent features existing in each particular EA were also picked and recorded. Overall, 108,000 EAs were delineated countrywide.

The field mapping staff were trained on methodology and field mapping techniques prior to the start of their work. In total there were 45 field teams (43 in Mainland and 2 in Zanzibar) comprising four persons each (supervisor, 2 mapping assistants and a driver).

1.3.5 Census Publicity and Advocacy Campaign

The 2012 PHC used intensive and extensive publicity and advocacy programmes to educate, sensitize and mobilize the people to participate in the census process. The campaign was officially launched in Mbeya by the Hon. Prime Minister of the United Republic of Tanzania on 11th May, 2012 at the start of the Uhuru Torch Race. The census message was one of the Uhuru Torch Messages.

To standardize publicity and advocacy campaigns all over the country, the NBS and OCGS developed publicity guidelines that were used during the census operations. The guidelines explained in brief the information passed on to the people, the meaning and purpose of the census, and broad topics covered by the census.

Given the importance of census publicity, the regional authorities through the Regional and District Census Committees had the responsibility of educating, sensitizing and mobilizing people in their respective areas, using the means and resources available.

The Census Logo and Slogan remained the same as those of the 2002 census: "SENSA KWA MAENDELEO: JIANDAE KUHESABIWA" that is "CENSUS FOR DEVELOPMENT: PREPARE TO BE COUNTED". The Census Logo was designed and printed for distribution throughout the country. The Logo was printed in newspapers and on calendars, stickers, leaflets, wheel covers, flags and envelopes. Stickers with the logo were placed at strategic places, including public service vehicles in order to inform and educate the public about the census process and date.

Government partnership with private media consulting firm, facilitated by UNFPA, was critical to the success of the public sensitization campaigns. With the approach of the Enumeration Day, an intensified mass media campaign was launched by the Prime Minister on behalf of His Excellency. the President of the United Republic of Tanzania on 17th August, 2012. The live and extensive media coverage of the event provided the much needed momentum that intensified the campaigns throughout the enumeration period. The campaign helped to mobilize the entire country to participate in the census enumeration.

1.3.6 Pilot Census

One of the most important aspects of the census preparations was to undertake a Pilot Census as a rehearsal one year before the actual census. The Pilot Census was intended to test all census mechanisms for the 2012 PHC. In particular it was intended to:

a) Test the suitability and adequacy of the 2012 Population and Housing Census instruments;
b) Evaluate training methodology;
c) Determine the average time required to enumerate a single household. This helped NBS to estimate enumeration period;
d) Test data processing systems; and
e) Test awareness of the public on the census and its reaction to census questions.

The pilot census enumeration started on the 2nd October, 2011 and involved a complete enumeration of the population in the 44 sampled enumeration areas (38 for Tanzania Mainland and 6 for Tanzania Zanzibar) was done. After the Pilot Census, NBS and OCGS organized an evaluation workshop with the purpose of sharing experiences among participants involved in the exercise in order to improve the preparations for the 2012 PHC. The experience shared, together with the results obtained from the Pilot Census, were important and valuable inputs in the final preparations for the 2012 PHC.

1.4 Census Enumeration Activities

Several activities were undertaken just before the 2012 PHC enumeration exercise, including recruitment and training of field personnel and distribution of enumeration materials to all parts of the country.

1.4.1 Recruitment and Training

The Regional and District Census Committees were responsible for recruiting enumerators and supervisors in their respective areas. They were given guidelines on the total number of enumerators and supervisors needed for each ward or shehia and their qualifications. A total of 200,000 enumerators and supervisors were recruited to facilitate enumeration.

The training exercise for the 2012 PHC was carried out from the 18th June to 17th August 2012. The training was conducted at national, regional and district or divisional levels.

The purpose of the training was to enable supervisors and enumerators to carry out the enumeration exercise correctly following a standardized procedure used all over the country. To achieve this, training manuals were developed to guide trainers on the procedures to be followed. Other manuals such as Instructions to Enumerators manual, Handbook for Regional Census Coordinators (RCCs) and District Census Coordinators (DCCs) as well as a Handbook for Supervisors were prepared to ensure uniformity across the country.

1.4.2 Other Preparations for Enumeration

A range of other preparatory activities were carried out in the second and third weeks of August 2012. The activities included distribution of enumeration materials to supervisors and enumerators, identifying EA boundaries and meeting the local authorities in their respective areas.

Zonal Supervisors and Regional Trainers moved around to make sure that all supervisors and enumerators were well equipped for the enumeration roles or duties.

The Regional Census Coordinators were assisted by Assistant Census Coordinators. This team, together with the Regional and District Census Committees coordinated and monitored enumeration preparatory activities in their respective areas of jurisdiction.

1.4.3 Enumeration

The target population for enumeration was all persons who spent the night of 25th/26th August, 2012 within the borders of Tanzania. The actual enumeration was conducted by enumerators and supervisors in their respective assigned areas. Two types of enumerators were used; the junior enumerators who administered the short questionnaire and senior enumerators who administered the long questionnaire. For the short questionnaire, one enumerator worked in one EA whereas two senior enumerators administered the long questionnaire in one EA. The short questionnaire with 37 questions was administered to 70 percent of all EAs while the long questionnaire with 62 questions was administered to the remaining 30 percent.

During enumeration, each enumerator with the help of village/vitongoji/street leaders, moved from one household to another, canvassing his or her entire EA, until all households were covered. Each enumerator was provided with an EA map that clearly defined the boundaries of their assigned area.

Other enumerators were stationed at mass transit points to enumerate passengers on buses, trains, airplanes and ships. Special enumeration labels or tags were issued to each traveller after enumeration to avoid double-counting. Special arrangements were also made to enumerate the homeless. As is the tradition, H.E. the President of the United Republic of Tanzania, Hon. Dr. Jakaya Mrisho Kikwete and H.E. the President of Zanzibar, Hon. Dr. Ali Mohamed Shein were enumerated on the first day of the census enumeration period and so were other national leaders from both sides of the union.

H.E. the President, Hon. Dr. Ali Mohamed Shein and his wife being enumerated at the Zanzibar State House on 26th August, 2012.

The enumerators were instructed to compile EA summaries upon completion of the enumeration and record the total population for each household and each EA in a special form: "Sensa ya Watu na Makazi Tanzania 15A" (SWMT 15A).

The earmarked duration for enumeration as per Presidential Order was 14 days, from 26th August to 8th September, 2012. In most areas the enumeration exercise was completed within the first seven days that is from 26th August to 1st September, 2012. However, in some areas, enumeration could not be completed within the 7 days period due to various reasons. Most of these areas were those where the long questionnaire was administered and some of those EAs that were located in remote areas. Nevertheless, by the 8th September, 2012 the enumeration exercise was completed in all EAs. Checking of the enumerators' work by the supervisors was a continuous exercise throughout the enumeration period.

1.4.4 Post Field Enumeration Activities

After the enumeration and after the supervisor was satisfied with the completeness of the field work and accuracy of the questionnaires, he or she collected the questionnaires and other census materials from the enumerators and handed them to the District Census Coordinator (DCC).

Once all the census questionnaires were in the district census office, the DCCs used some of the supervisors and senior enumerators to check the accuracy and completeness of the questionnaires from the field. They also compiled the population totals for each ward or shehia and district disaggregated by sex on Form SWMT 16A using the summaries from forms SWMT 15A compiled by the enumerators. The form SWMT 16A summary sheets were important inputs in confirming the correctness of the tables in this report.

Thereafter, the questionnaires and the summaries were transported to the respective Regional Census Offices from where they were in turn transported to the Census Data Processing Center in Kibaha, Pwani Region.

1.5 Data Processing

The capture and processing of the 2012 PHC data was successfully carried out at the Census Data Processing Center at Kibaha, Pwani Region. Data processing started with validation of the EAs, followed by sorting and separation of the questionnaires. The data were captured from the questionnaires electronically using the Optical Mark Reader (OMR) scanning technology, and through manual data entry for special questionnaires such as community questionnaires. The scanning of the 2012 PHC questionnaires was completed in 66 days, starting from the 25th September, 2012 to 30th November, 2012. Manual data entry was completed on 12th December, 2012.

Scanning Exercise at Kibaha Data Processing Centre, Pwani Region October, 2012

A total of 420 temporary staff were recruited as scanner operators, data editors/entrants, batch registers, box handlers and technicians. The registration and training of the staff started on 16th up to 24th September 2012. During the scanning exercise, the staff worked in three shifts of eight hours each. The whole process of data capture and compilation of basic counts was completed in three months after receipt of questionnaires from the field which began on 24th September, 2012 and was completed on 20th October, 2012. The basic counts at National level were released by H.E. Dr. Jakaya Mrisho Kikwete, the President of the United Republic of Tanzania on 31st December, 2012.

Editing, verification and tabulation of the collected data was done in phases and the first publication; Population Distribution by Administrative Units was released in April, 2013. The release of other publications adhered to the Census Results Release Calendar that was posted on the NBS and OCGS websites. The calendar was reviewed as and when need arose.

1.6 Quality Assurance Procedures

Quality Assurance procedures are extremely important throughout any data collection process, i.e. during pre-enumeration, enumeration and post enumeration. In order to minimize errors in the 2012 PHC, quality standards were established and maintained in all three stages. The quality control team from NBS and OCGS worked hand in hand with the respective regional and district census personnel to make sure that, quality was up to the required standards. A Quality Control Procedure Handbook for the 2012 PHC was developed and used throughout the census activities in pre-enumeration, enumeration and post enumeration stages.

1.6.1 Pre-enumeration Stage

At this stage planning was well organized; there were well designed census questionnaires and other related documents (manuals, control forms, etc.). During census mapping, supervisors assessed the work done by field assistants on delineation of EAs. In order to increase the quality and the accuracy of the maps, Global Positioning Systems (GPSs) were used. In most of the urban areas, orthophoto maps were used during EAs delineation. Cartographic guidelines were developed by the Geo-Information Section of the NBS to ensure the quality of the exercise.

1.6.2 Enumeration Stage

Publicity was intensified during the enumeration period through appropriate mass mobilization campaigns by leaders at all levels. Moreover, sensitization and awareness strategies through music i.e. band songs and traditional dances were intensified. Production of IEC materials in general met the required standards and recruitment of qualified field staff, intensive training at all levels and data collection was done well and according to the required standards.

Supervisors were specifically trained for checking the quality of the enumerators work. They worked hand-in-hand with the DCCs, RCCs and regional trainers to ensure that guidelines elaborated in enumeration procedures were followed.

Selection of Enumeration Areas for the long questionnaire was based on comprehensive list of all private households' Enumeration Areas. Quality control procedures were developed and monitored by the Department of Statistical Methods, Standards and Coordination of the National Bureau of Statistics.

1.6.3 Data Processing and Report Writing

At this stage, handling of questionnaires to and from the field, storage procedures, editing and coding specifications, data entry programs, tabulation and report writing were carried out according to the regulations stipulated by the NBS. Editing and validation were done to ensure the quality of the exercise.

1.7 Post Enumeration Survey (PES)

The PES is one of the activities of the census process which is used to evaluate census coverage by providing necessary information to accurately determine type, size and direction of errors.

The Specific objectives were:

a) To facilitate adjustment of some demographic indices, if and when necessary;
b) To evaluate census maps;
c) To ascertain content and coverage errors;
d) To provide credibility to census organizers; and
e) To provide assurance to stakeholders on the census coverage.

Before the enumeration, a number of pre-activities were done including, designing of PES instruments (questionnaire and manuals). The PES questionnaire was developed to test coverage and accuracy of some of the information collected during the census enumeration, such as relationship to the head of household, age, sex, literacy and education status.

The PES enumeration was conducted from the 3rd to 9th May, 2013. A sample of 210 Enumeration Areas (EAs) were used (170 EAs from Tanzania Mainland and 40 EAs from Tanzania Zanzibar). Enumerators and supervisors for the PES were trained from 15th to 25th April, 2013. The PES activities were executed under the Directorate of Field Operations, Department of Statistical Methods, Standards and Coordination at NBS.

1.8 Challenges

The Tanzania 2012 Population and Housing Census enumeration exercise was successfully completed in September 2012. However, like in many other African countries, the Tanzania census was faced with the following major challenges:

a) Threat of boycott by teachers: Historically, Tanzania has been using teachers and other public servants as enumerators; the same arrangement was planned for the 2012 PHC. However, a few weeks before enumeration, teachers threatened to boycott the Census if their demands of salary increase were not met by the Government;

b) Threat of boycott from some religious organisations: According to Tanzania Regulations, Census in Tanzania does not collect information on ethnicity and religion. In the 2012 PHC, a number of Muslims Organizations demanded the inclusion of questions that would determine the number of people by their religious beliefs. The demand was rejected by the Government and hence a threat for boycott; and

c) Untimely release of funds by the Government: The Government did not release funds on time for some census activities including enumeration due to other priorities such as the national identity registration and drafting of the new constitution exercises. The situation led to delayed completion of activities such as cartographic work and caused complaints among thousands of enumerators and supervisors during training and the enumeration period.

Chapter Two
Quality of Age and Sex Data

2.0 Introduction

The age and sex characteristics of any population are of great importance in demographic analysis, social functions and responsibilities and in socio-economic development processes in general. For instance many public and private planning decisions require separate population data for males and females, and for specific ages or age groups.

The concerns about the quality of reporting of sex data normally relates to the difference in the completeness of the coverage of the two sexes. However, in many countries, more so the developed ones, misreporting of population sex is negligible, usually under one percent.

Age, in particular, is a prime variable for making key decisions in public administration, e.g. school enrollment, registration of voters, labour force participation, provision of health services, food and shelter, and for population forecasting. Age is also arguably the single most important variable in the study of population dynamics and other aspects of demographic analysis yet is routinely misreported in African censuses and surveys.

Data from censuses portray significant clustering at ages ending in digits "0" and, to a lesser extent, "5", and corresponding deficiencies at ages ending in digit "1". The tendency of enumerators and respondents to report certain ages at the expense of others is called age heaping, age preference or digit preference. Age heaping is most pronounced among populations or population sub-groups with low literacy rates.

Age misreporting results from a variety of circumstances, ranging from ignorance of true age to digit preference or avoidance to deliberate misstatement. For example, frequent misreporting of age among adult women and the selective omission of male or female children are known to distort childhood mortality patterns, sometimes severely.

Age and sex ratios can give insights into the quality of age data. In addition, there are summary measures – such as Whipple's and Myers indices – that are used to evaluate the overall quality of reporting and the source of errors. Overall, errors in age data can be minimized by presenting the data in broad age groups (5-year or 10-year age groups), among other methods.

The Tanzania 2012 PHC data, like those in most African countries, were affected by deficiencies in age and sex reporting. The census collected information on age (in completed years) of all persons who spent the census night in Tanzania. A local calendar of events was used to estimate age, especially for the elderly persons.

In this chapter, an attempt is made to highlight general errors in age and sex reporting in the census data. A more in-depth analysis and presentation of this phenomenon will be undertaken in the forthcoming analytical reports.

2.1 Evidence of Age and Sex Misreporting

In this section, the quality of age and sex data is examined using five dimensions:

a) Line graphs
b) Population pyramids
c) Indices of digit preference
d) Diagonal consistency checks
e) Vertical consistency checks

2.1.1 Line Graphs by Age (in Single Years) and Sex

Figures 2.1 and 2.2 show the distribution of the population enumerated in Tanzania Mainland and Tanzania Zanzibar during the 2012 PHC by age and sex. Evidence of age misreporting is apparent in both cases. The patterns depict a tendency of heaping on ages ending in certain digits, and the consequent avoidance of others. Significant heaping is observed around ages ending with digits “0” and “5”, and avoidance of ages ending in digits “1”, “3’’, and “9”. Many people tend to give age in round figures like 20 or 25, instead of figures like 21, 23 or 27.

The observed saw or jagged edged pattern is a typical feature of single-year age distributions in Africa census data, and depicts age misstatement. Digit preference is observed to be higher among the female compared to the male population.

2.1.2 Population Pyramids (in Single Years)

Population pyramid provides a snapshot of the relative age distribution of a population by sex. It can be presented in single or multiple (grouped) years. In addition, a population pyramid can highlight inconsistencies in age reporting, particularly in single years. Where age reporting is accurate and migration is limited, the traditional population pyramid – in 5-year age groups – can provide useful insights into the patterns of vital events (birth and death rates) in the past. In a typical population, the relative percentage composition should decrease progressively with increasing age.

Figures 2.3 and 2.4 show population pyramids in single years for Tanzania Mainland and Tanzania Zanzibar based on 2012 PHC data. The figures portray evidence of age misreporting, and a significant preference for ages ending in digits "0" and "5" and, to a lesser extent, even numbered digits. Apparently, age misreporting is more pronounced for persons above 10 years of age, and it is more so in Tanzania Zanzibar than in Tanzania Mainland.

2.1.3 Indexes of Digit Preference

Various arithmetic devices have been developed to measure heaping on individual ages or terminal digits. These devices generally assume that individual ages are evenly (rectangularly or linearly) distributed over specific age groups and, by extension, entire age spectrum. Ultimately, the device adopted would depend on the assumption regarding the form of the true age distribution of the population over a part or entire age range.

The Whipple's and Myers' blended indexes are mainly used to measure the extent of age misreporting in many populations. The Whipple's index measures preference or heaping on ages of multiples of five (ending in "0" and "5"). On the other hand, Myers' blended method avoids the biases associated with the Whipple's index that may occur upon the population age structure or distribution for reasons other than heaping or preference (i.e. numbers ending in "0" would normally be larger than those ending in "1" to "9" owing to natural attrition (mortality) (Siegel and Swanson 2004). Myers' blended index entails determining the proportion that the population ending in a given digit ("0" through "9") is of the total population, by varying the particular starting age for any 10-year age group.

Other summary indices of digit preference include Bachi index, Carrier index, and Ramachanran index. While these have some theoretical advantages over Whipple's and Myers' indexes, they differ little as indicators of the general extent of age heaping (Siegel and Swanson 2004). Therefore, these indexes will not be pursued here neither will Whipple's index.

The US Census Bureau (1994) developed a program (Population Analysis Spreadsheet - PAS), SINGAGE, that calculates Myers', Whipple's and Bachi's indexes. The spreadsheet has been applied to generate the Myers' indexes tabulates and discussed herein.

Table 2.1 shows the Myers' index of digit preference computed from 2012 PHC data, for Tanzania, Tanzania Mainland and Tanzania Zanzibar. The table confirms non-negligible preference for digits "0" and "5" and the avoidance of digits "1", "3" and "9", in both Tanzania Mainland and Tanzania Zanzibar. Preference of even digits is generally evident. However, the avoidance of digit "4" in Tanzania Mainland and Tanzania Zanzibar and digit "6" especially in Tanzania Mainland can be attributed to the strong preference for digit "5").

Overall, digit preference is more predominant among females compared to males, and in Tanzania Zanzibar compared to Tanzania Mainland. The data indicate mild to moderate digit preference in age reporting in Tanzania.

Digit preference is more predominant among the female than male population

2.1.4 Diagonal Consistency Checks (Survival Ratios)

The quality of age-sex data collected in censuses can also be examined through the analysis of cohort and overall survival ratios. Cohort survival ratio is the ratio of the population of a particular age group [x] at a given census to the population ten years younger [x-10] in the preceding census, assuming that the two censuses are 10 years apart. Similarly, the overall survival ratio is the ratio of population above a certain age [x+] at a given census to the population aged ten years younger and above [(x-10)+] in the preceding census.

The survival ratio is usually below unity, and is expected to decrease smoothly with increasing age, in a country with no or limited in-migration. However, the survival ratio for age group 5-9 years is normally higher than that for age group 0-4 years, due to higher mortality prevailing at the youngest ages.

In Tables 2.2 and 2.3 (and Figure 2.6), it is observed that data from the 2012 PHC are consistent with this general pattern, especially basing on the overall survival ratios. However, cohort survival ratios exhibit irregular patterns with significant deviations at age group 0-4 in Tanzania Mainland, and age groups 0-4, 5-9 and 10-14 in Tanzania Zanzibar. This irregularity is attributable to the age-specific misreporting in one census relative to the other. It may also indicate relative age-specific omissions in 2002 versus 2012 PHC. The matter, however, cannot be dealt with conclusively at this point, and will be pursued in the next phase of census data analysis. Finally, the survival ratios for females are higher compared to the corresponding male ratios. This is expected due to higher overall female survivorship relative to males.

2.1.5 Vertical Consistency Checks

The percentage change in population size in given ages is expected to decrease smoothly with age in a population with no dramatic changes in population dynamics (fertility, mortality and migration), and where migration is either negligible or not age selective. Many countries use age ratio score, sex ratio score and UN Joint Score to quantify the degree of age-sex reporting errors.

Age ratio score is defined as the average of the sum of absolute deviations of age ratios from the expected 100. Age ratio is defined as the ratio of the population of a given age to the average of the number of persons in the immediately preceding and succeeding groups.

The sex ratio score, on the other hand, is defined as the average of the sum of absolute deviations of consecutive sex ratios. The sex ratio is defined by the number of males for every 100 females. For most sub-Saharan African populations, the sex ratio fluctuates between 102 and 105 at birth (with an average of 103), thereafter declining gradually with age, and eventually falling below 100 among the elderly segments of the population. Any major deviations from this pattern are attributable to age and sex misreporting, and/or to age-sex selective migration or mortality.

Finally, the UN Age-Sex Accuracy Index or UN Joint Score combines the age ratio score and the sex ratio score to result in a single index measuring the degree of accuracy of the age-sex distribution, i.e.

Age-Sex Accuracy Index (UN Joint Score) = 3*(SRS) + ARSM +ARSF

Where:

SRS is the Sex Ratio Score

ARSM is the Age Ratio Score for Males

ARSF is the Age Ratio Score for Females

The census data is considered "accurate" if the index is under 20, "inaccurate" if the index is 20 to 40 and "highly inaccurate" if the index is over 40.

This index was computed for Tanzania, Tanzania Mainland and Tanzania Zanzibar and presented in Table 2.4. The Age-Sex Accuracy Index for Tanzania was 30.9; it was 30.5 for Tanzania Mainland and 46.1 for Tanzania Zanzibar. This indicates that the quality of age and sex reporting in the 2012 PHC was "rough". In the subsequent analyses, standard demographic and statistical techniques will be used to smooth the age data. Such adjustements will not be unique to the 2012 Census, and have been used before - in the 2002 Census and in other African countries as well.

2.2 Data Editing and Tabulation Procedures

The quality of census data worldwide is affected by errors that occur during data collection and processing. Consequently, census data are routinely edited to pave way for compilation and release of reliable statistics thereafter. The United Nations recommends a variety of universally accepted statistical and demographic methods for editing census and other demographic data.

The quality of Tanzania 2012 Census data is similarly affected by enumeration errors. The boycott threats by a section of the faith-based groups and other field logistical bottlenecks led to significant enumeration challenges among certain communities. The Government then made a decision to use alternative means of enumeration of such population groups in order to count all persons resident in Tanzania on the night of 26th August 2012. Subsequently, a non-negligible number of persons with non-stated ages were observed in the Census data.

Standard data editing techniques have been used to edit the glitches in the census data. Age values for records lacking valid responses were imputed based on the following variables:

i. Geography (e.g. Region, Urban, Rural);
ii. Size of the household;
iii. Gender of the household head;
iv. Correlation between person number and relationship in the region where the record occurs.

The editing rules were equally informed by the preliminary results of the Post Enumeration Survey (PES), which provided alternative age and sex patterns for the entire country independently of the census.

To eliminate potential bias due to contiguous invalid data, the placement of households in the data was randomized within a Village/Street in order to avoid households with many invalid records being lumped together. The edits were then run against the randomly sorted data file. Age and sex distributions were then reviewed, and adopted. The tabulation procedures are based on national and global development priorities. The data editing procedures and tabulation plans used here are well documented for future reference.

2.3 Concluding Remarks

The quality of age and sex data in the 2012 PHC was examined using an array of internationally recommended methods and indices. Specifically, tabular and graphical (line graphs, population pyramids) distributions of age and sex data were examined in single years and in 5-year age groups. In addition, Myers index was used to examine digit preference, while index of age-sex accuracy (UN Joint Score) was used to quantify the magnitude of age and sex misreporting.

Subsequently, it is observed that the 2012 PHC suffered non-negligible misreporting of age and sex data. Evidence shows strong preference for ages ending in digits “0” and “5”, and avoidance of ages ending in digits “1”, “3” and “9”. Age misreporting is generally higher among females compared to males, and more evident in Tanzania Zanzibar compared to Tanzania Mainland. Overall, the age and sex data are “rough”. Nonetheless, this may not affect the quality of indicators derived from the census data as there are internationally recommended procedures for correcting the anomalies.

Age misreporting is a regular feature of sub-Saharan African census data. There is need for concerted efforts to improve the Civil Registration and Vital Statistics (CRVS) systems in Tanzania and in Africa in order to improve the overall quality of demographic, social and economic indicators.

Chapter Three

Population Distribution by Age and Sex: Results Highlights

3.0 Introduction

This chapter highlights the 2012 PHC results by age and sex. The information is critical for the implementation of national policies and programmes. Moreover, information on age and sex is essential in the analysis of demographic determinants of population change such as fertility, mortality and migration. Detailed statistical tables, up to district level, are presented in chapter four.

3.1 Age and Sex Structure

Table 3.1 presents the distribution of Tanzania's population by 5-year age groups and sex. Similar information is presented in Table 3.2 for Tanzania Mainland and Table 3.3 for Tanzania Zanzibar. The data depicts a young population age structure, with 43.9 percent of the population aged below 15 years, and 3.9 percent aged 65 years and above. The pattern is similar to that of Tanzania Mainland, that is, 43.9 percent for those below 15 years of age and 3.9 percent for those aged 65 years and above. However, in Tanzania Zanzibar those below 15 years of age accounted for 42.5 percent of the population and those aged 65 years and above were 2.8 percent of the population. The median age of the Tanzania's population is 18 years. The results also depict a higher percentage of females compared to males in almost all age groups, except below 10 years, 50 – 54 and 55 – 59 years.

The pattern exhibited by the population pyramids in Figures 3.1, 3.2 and 3.3 is consistent with the afore-mentioned young population age structure. The pyramids are broad-based, tapering off with increasing age (65 and above). This is typical of Sub-Saharan African populations with high and, sometimes, rising fertility regimes in the past. Figure 3.4 is a superimposed population pyramid of the United Republic of Tanzania against Most Developed Countries (MDCs). The shape of MDCs' pyramid indicates a population that is growing at a much slower rate than that of Tanzania.

3.2 Population Distribution by Special Age Groups and Region

3.2.1 Young Population (0-14 Years)

The proportion of young population (0-14 years) of the total population is an indicator of the "youngness" of the population. Figure 3.5 shows that the Tanzania's population is characterized by a young age structure, with 43.9 percent of the total population below age 15 years.

The percentage of population below 15 years of age for Tanzania is slightly above the average for African countries (41 percent) (Population Reference Bureau, 2012 World Population Data Sheet). The proportion is slightly higher in Tanzania Mainland (43.9 percent), compared to Tanzania Zanzibar (42.5 percent).

The Tanzania's population is young even by African standards.

The proportion of population below 15 years of age declined slightly from 45.8 percent in 1988 Census to 43.9 percent in 2012 Census. This marginal decline indicates a slow pace of fertility decline in the country during the intercensal period.

3.2.2 Regional Variations

Figure 3.6 and Map 1 show the proportions of young persons (0-14 years) in the regional populations. Simiyu region recorded the highest proportion of young population (51.3 percent), while Dar es Salaam had the lowest proportion (31.6 percent). Indeed the proportion of the young is greater than the national average of 43.9 percent in half of the regions.

More than half of the population in Simiyu, Rukwa and Geita regions is young.

Evidence from 2010 Tanzania Demographic and Health Survey (TDHS) shows that the regions with high proportion of young population also exhibit high fertility rates that are well above the national average of 5.4 children per woman.

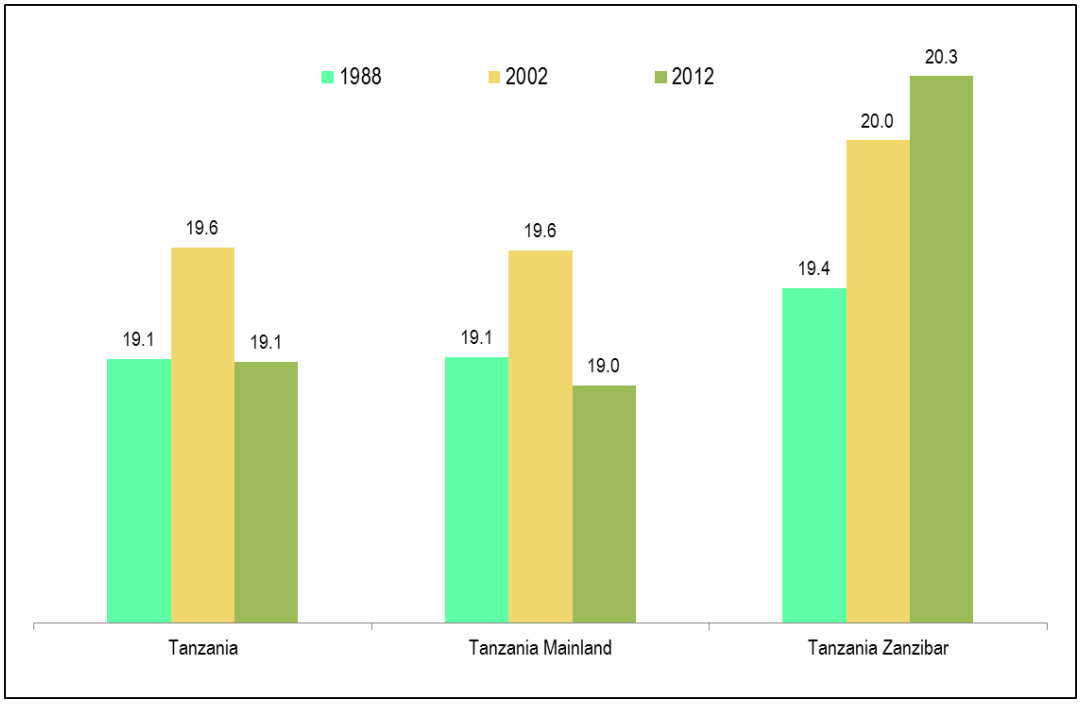
3.2.3 Youth Population

The youth represent an important stage of the life cycle, both demographically and socially. The international definition of the youth are all persons aged 15-24 years.

Figure 3.7 presents the youth population for Tanzania, Tanzania Mainland and Tanzania Zanzibar for the 1988, 2002 and 2012 Censuses. The proportion of youth population (15-24 years) in Tanzania has remained between 19 and 20 percent from 1988 to 2012.

Figure 3.7: Youth Population (15-24 Years) as a Percentage of Total Population; Tanzania 1988, 2002 and 2012 Censuses

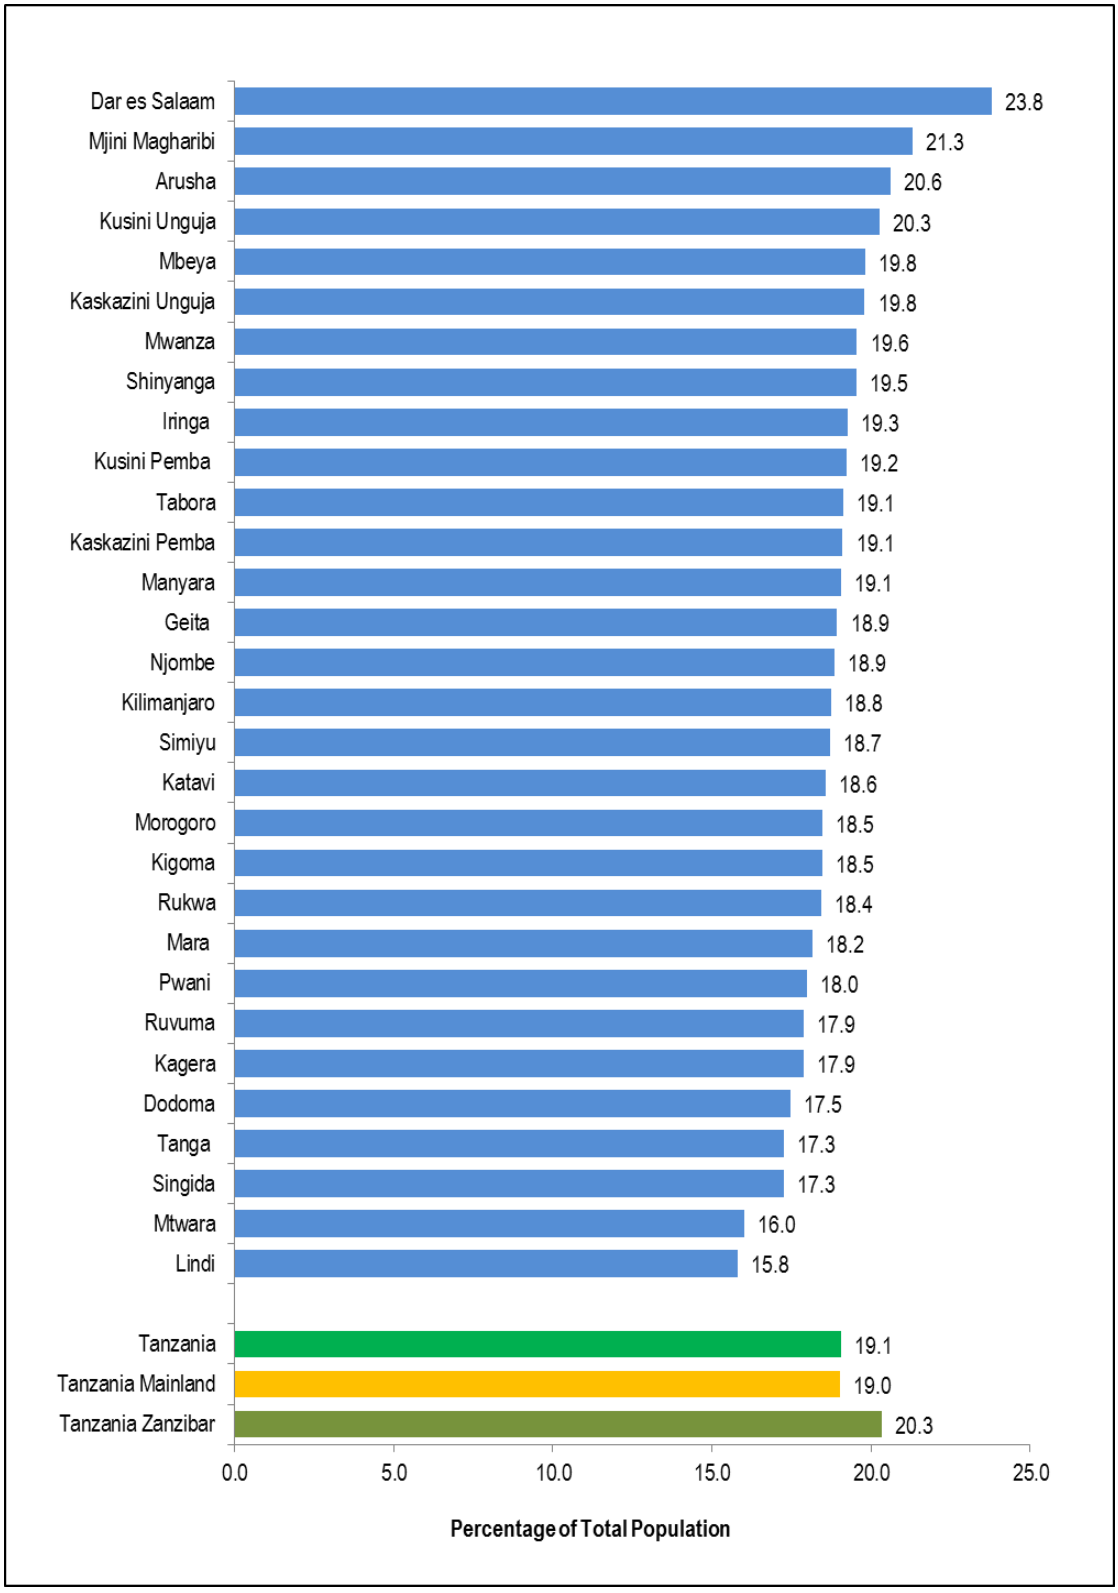


3.2.4 Regional Variations

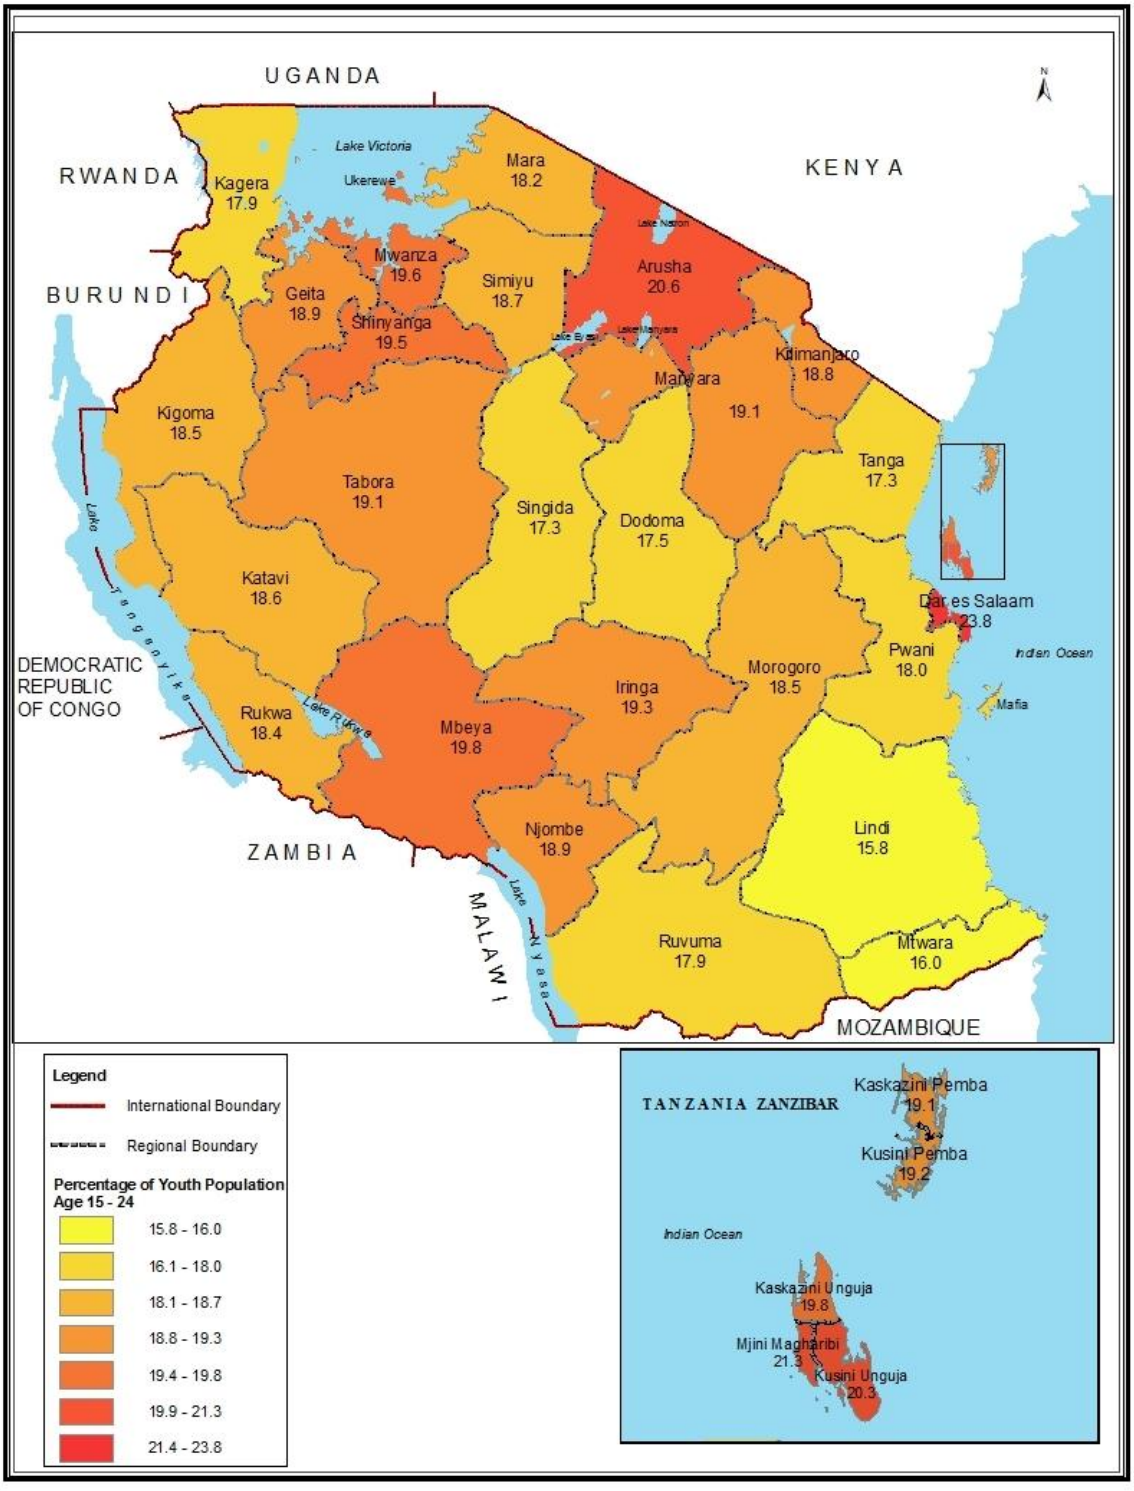
Figure 3.8 and Map 2 show the percentage of the regional population that is accounted for by youth. The percentage varies across regions, the highest being in Dar es Salaam (23.8 percent), followed by Mjini Magharibi (21.3 percent), while the lowest was in Lindi (15.8 percent).

Dar es Salaam region had the highest percentage of the total population that is youth. About one in four residents were youth.

Figure 3. 8: Youth Population (15-24 Years) as a Percentage of Total Population by Region; Tanzania 2012 Census



Map 2: Youth Population (15-24 Years) as a Percentage of Total Population by Region; Tanzania 2012 Census



On the other hand, the Tanzania National Youth Policy defines the Youth as persons aged 15 to 35 years. According to the 2012 PHC the proportion of persons aged 15-35 years has decreased marginally from 35.6 percent in 2002 to 34.7 percent in 2012. The same pattern is observed in Tanzania Mainland. However, for Tanzania Zanzibar the proportion has remained the same (36.2 percent) both in 2002 and 2012 (Figure 3.9)

Figure 3. 9: The Youth Population (15-35 Years) as a Percentage of Total Population; Tanzania 2002 and 2012 Censuses

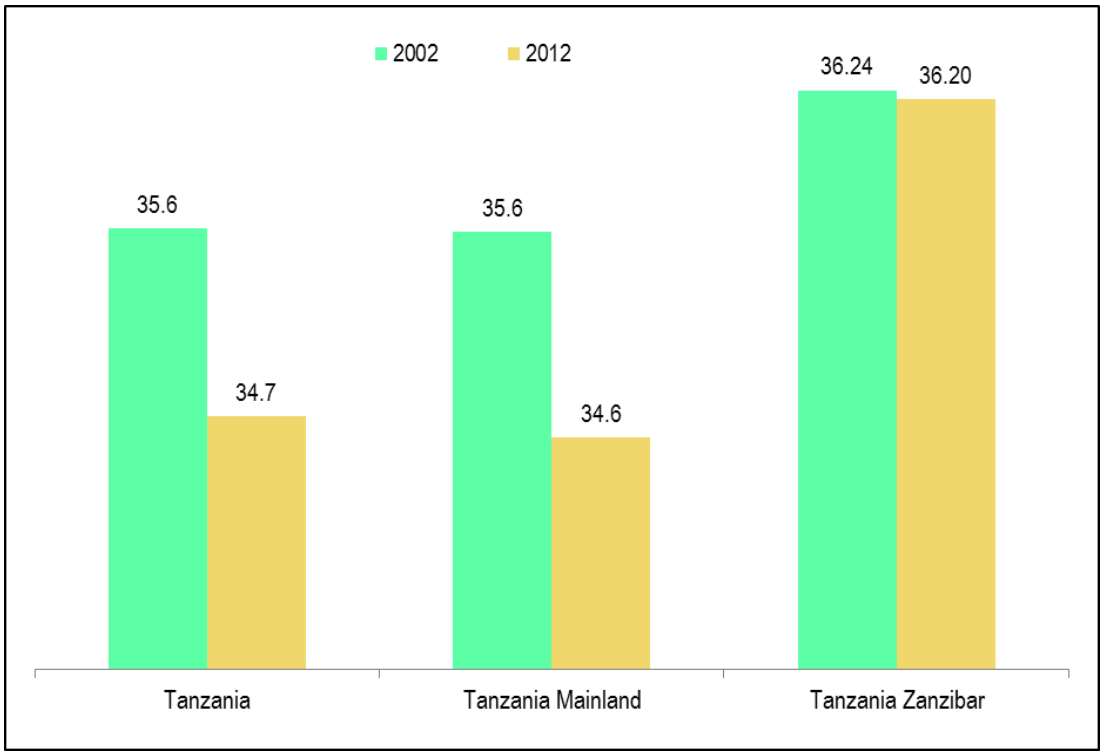


Figure 3.10 and Map 3 show that the proportion of persons aged 15-35 years varies substantially among regions. The highest proportion was recorded in Dar es Salaam (46.8 percent), followed by Mjini Magharibi (39.4 percent). The lowest proportion was recorded in Singida (30.7 percent).

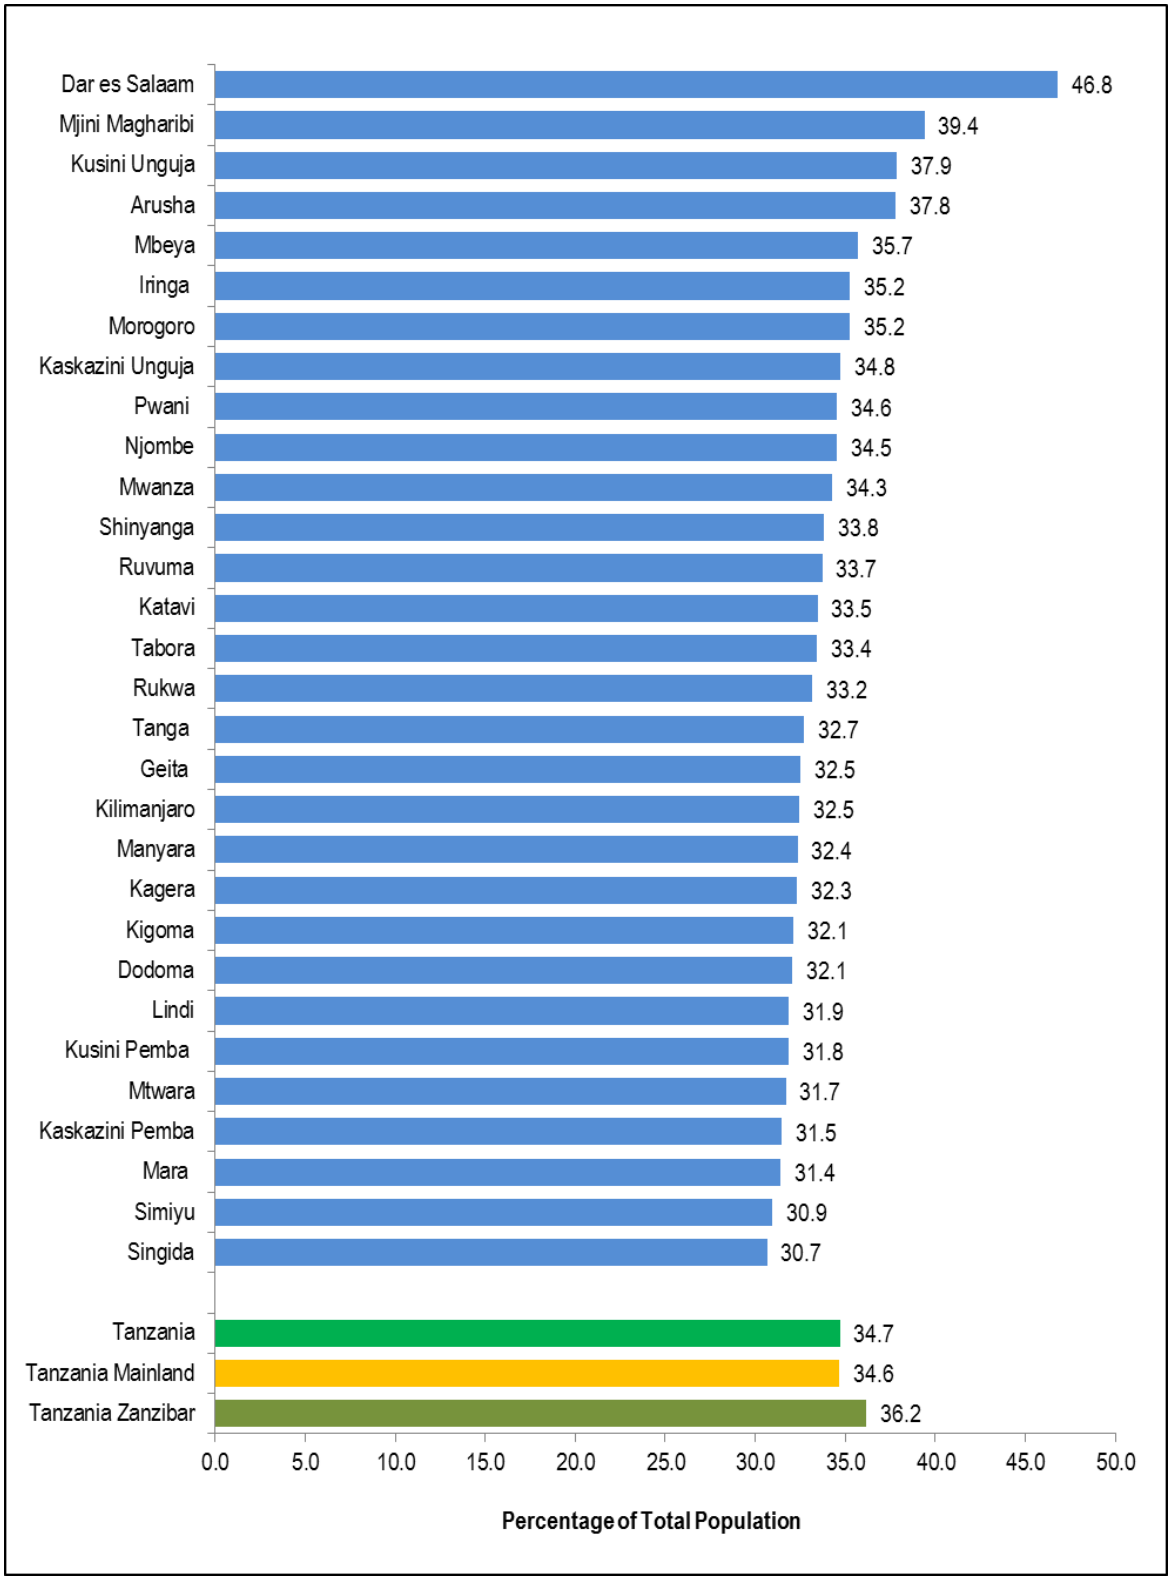
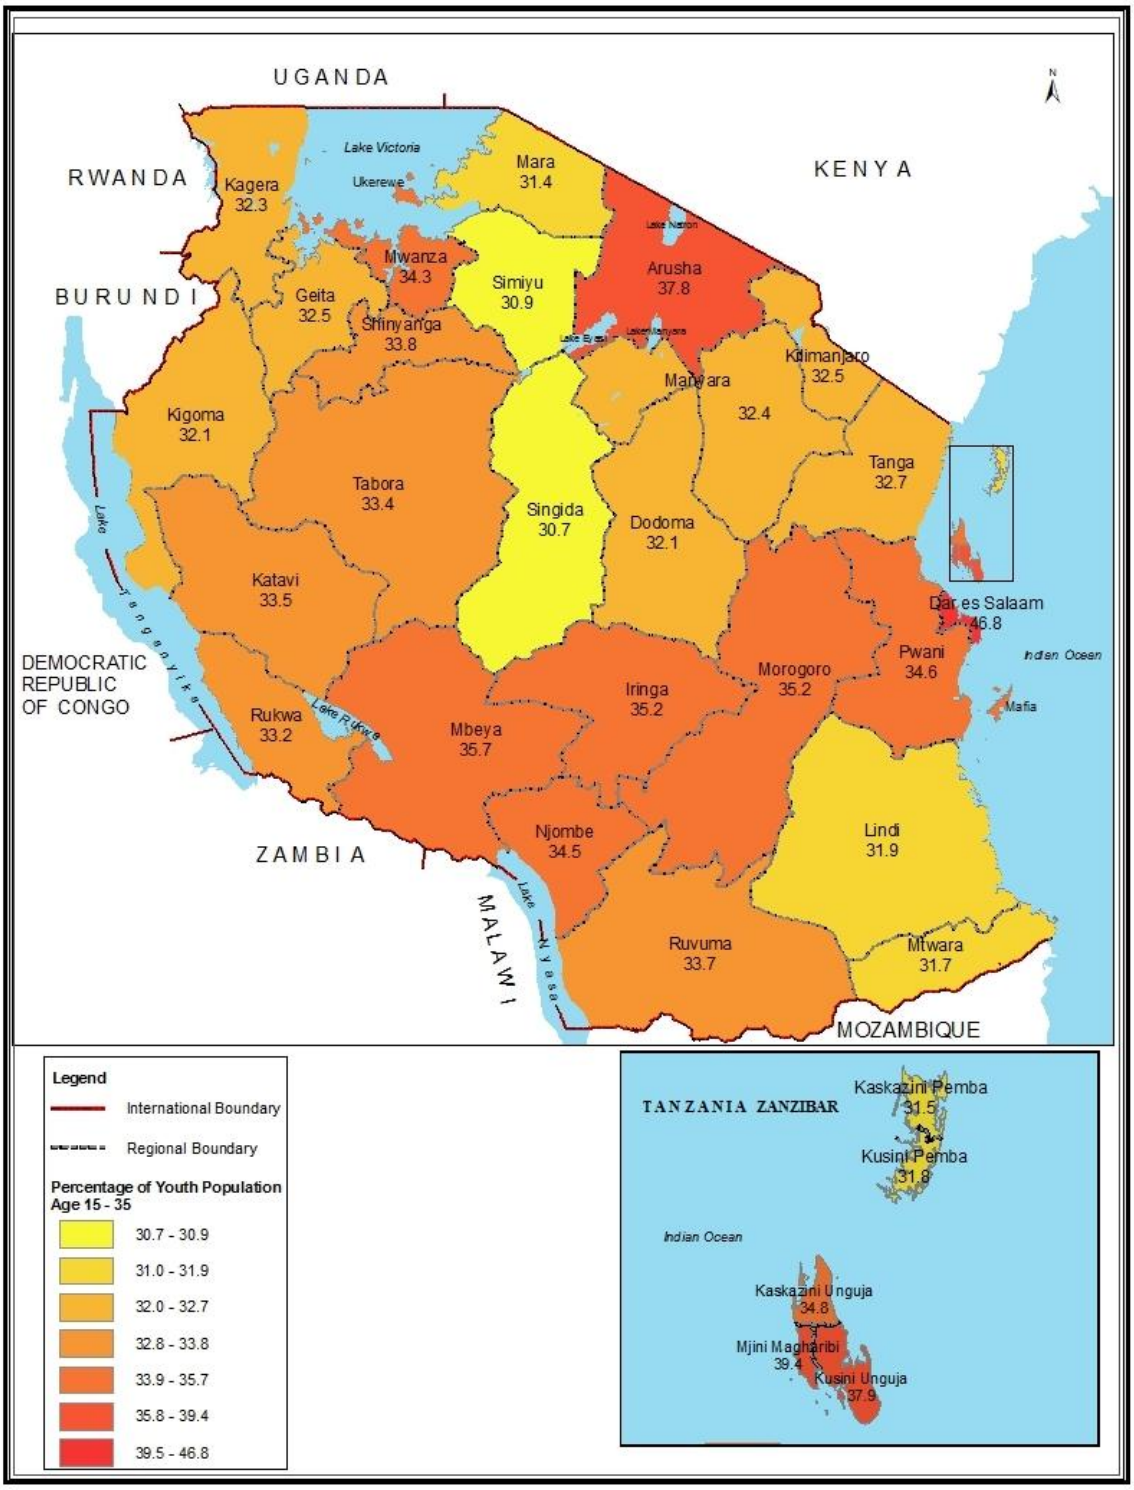


Map 3: The Youth Population (15-35 Years) as a Percentage of Total Population by Region; Tanzania 2012 Census



3.3 Working Age Population (15-64 Years)

Working age population, also referred to as economically-productive population, is the population aged 15 to 64 years. Figure 3.11 shows that the percentage of the country's total population that forms working age population (15-64 years), has remained about the same at 51.9 percent in 2002 Census and 52.2 percent in 2012 Census, but increased slightly from 49.9 percent in the 1988 Census. In Tanzania Mainland, the proportion has remained about the same in the 2002 Census to the 2012 Census at 51.8 and 52.2 percent respectively. However, in Tanzania Zanzibar the proportion increased from 52.7 percent in 2002 to 54.7 percent in 2012.

Figure 3. 11: The Working Age Population (15-64 Years) as a Percentage of Total Population; Tanzania 1988, 2002 and 2012 Censuses

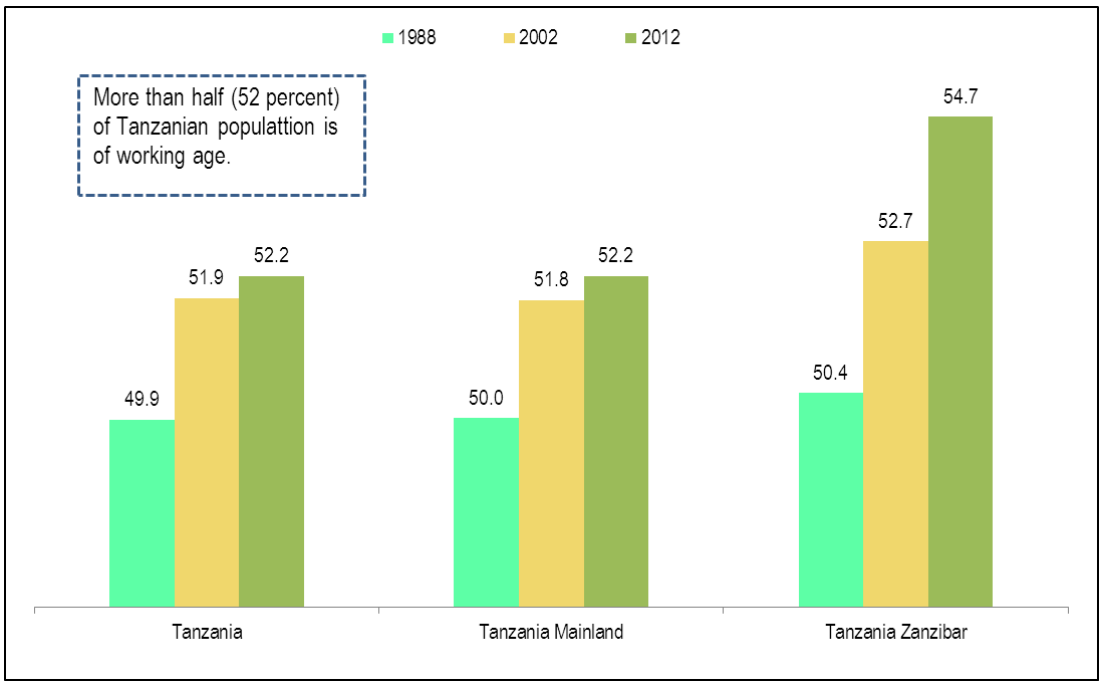


Figure 3.12 and Map 4 show that among regions, the proportion of the regional population that is in the working age population (15-64 years) ranges from 45.5 percent in Simiyu to 66.3 percent in Dar es Salaam. In 14 regions, the proportion is higher than the national proportion at 52.2 percent.

Two out of three (66 percent) of Dar es Salaam population were of working age.

3.4 Elderly Population

The percentage of the total population that constitutes the elderly (60+ or 65+ years) is an indicator of population ageing. Figure 3.13 show that 5.6 percent of the Tanzanian population is aged 60 years and above. The percentage of elderly population is the same for Tanzania Mainland, but lower for Tanzania Zanzibar (4.5 percent). Marked variations are observed among regions (Map 5). Kilimanjaro region had the highest proportion (9.7 percent), followed by Mtwara (9.5 percent), Lindi (9.0 percent) and Pwani (8.5 percent). Dar es Salaam and Mjini Magharibi had the lowest proportion of elderly population (3.5 percent and 3.6 percent respectively).

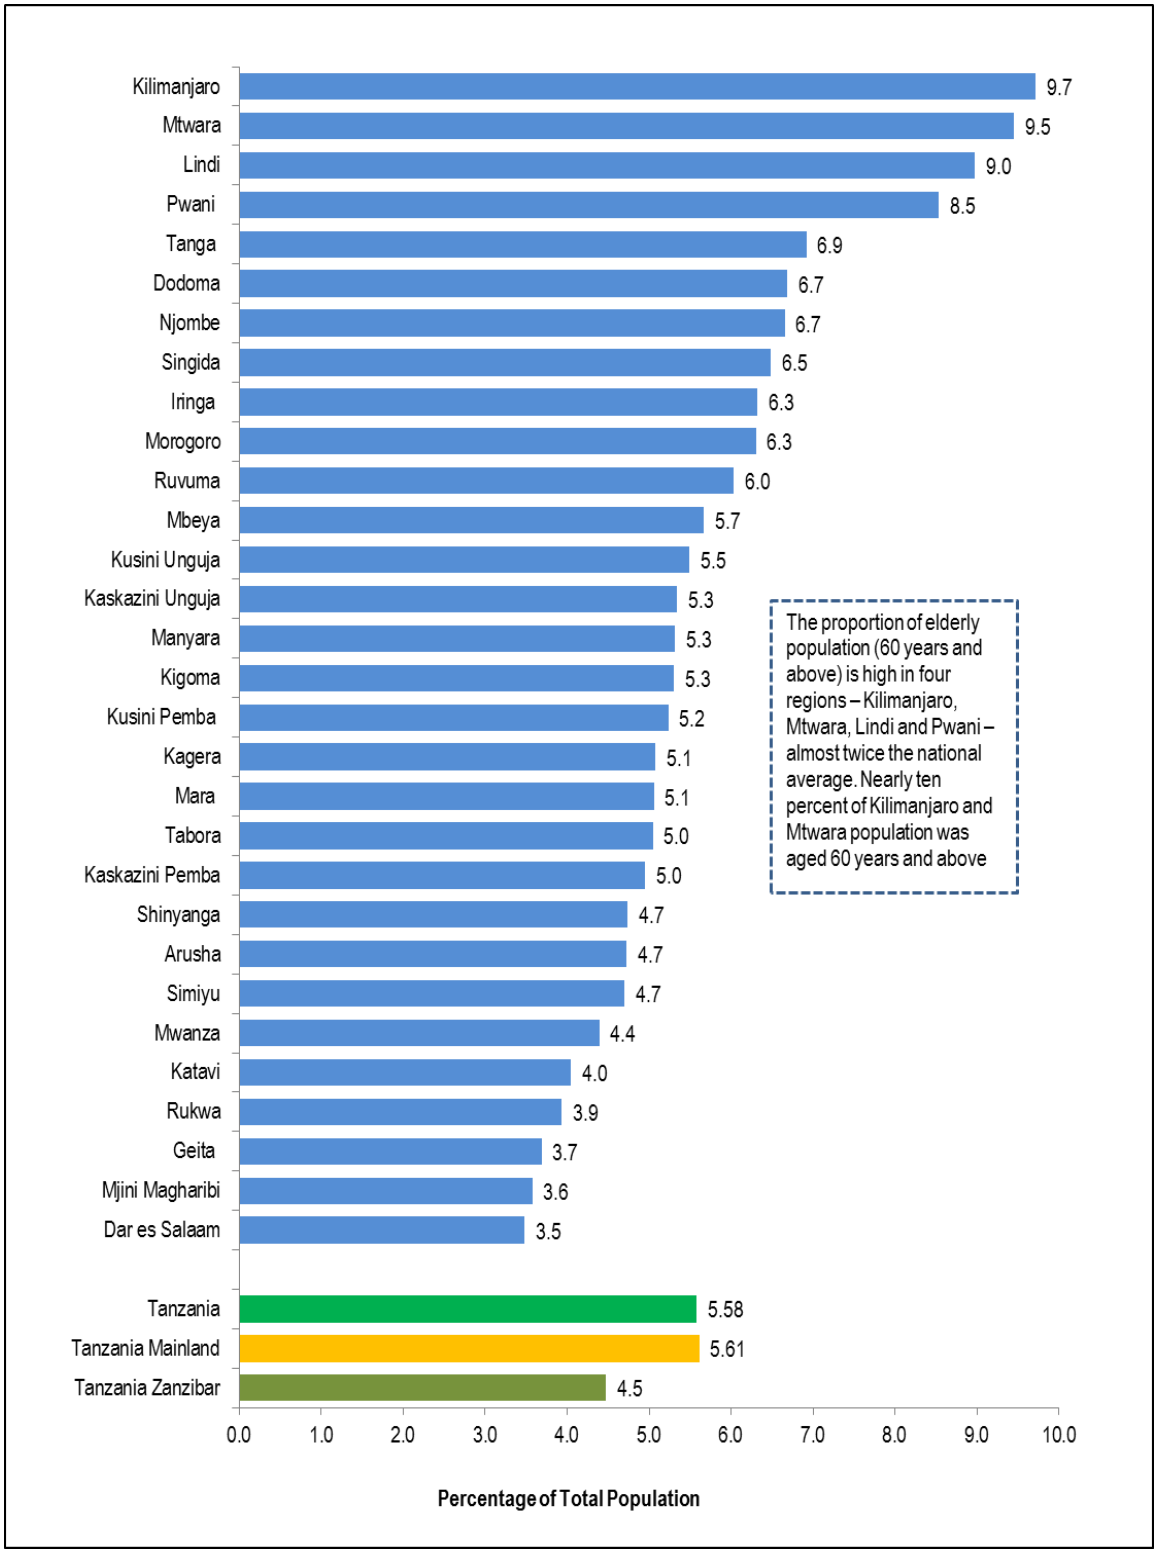
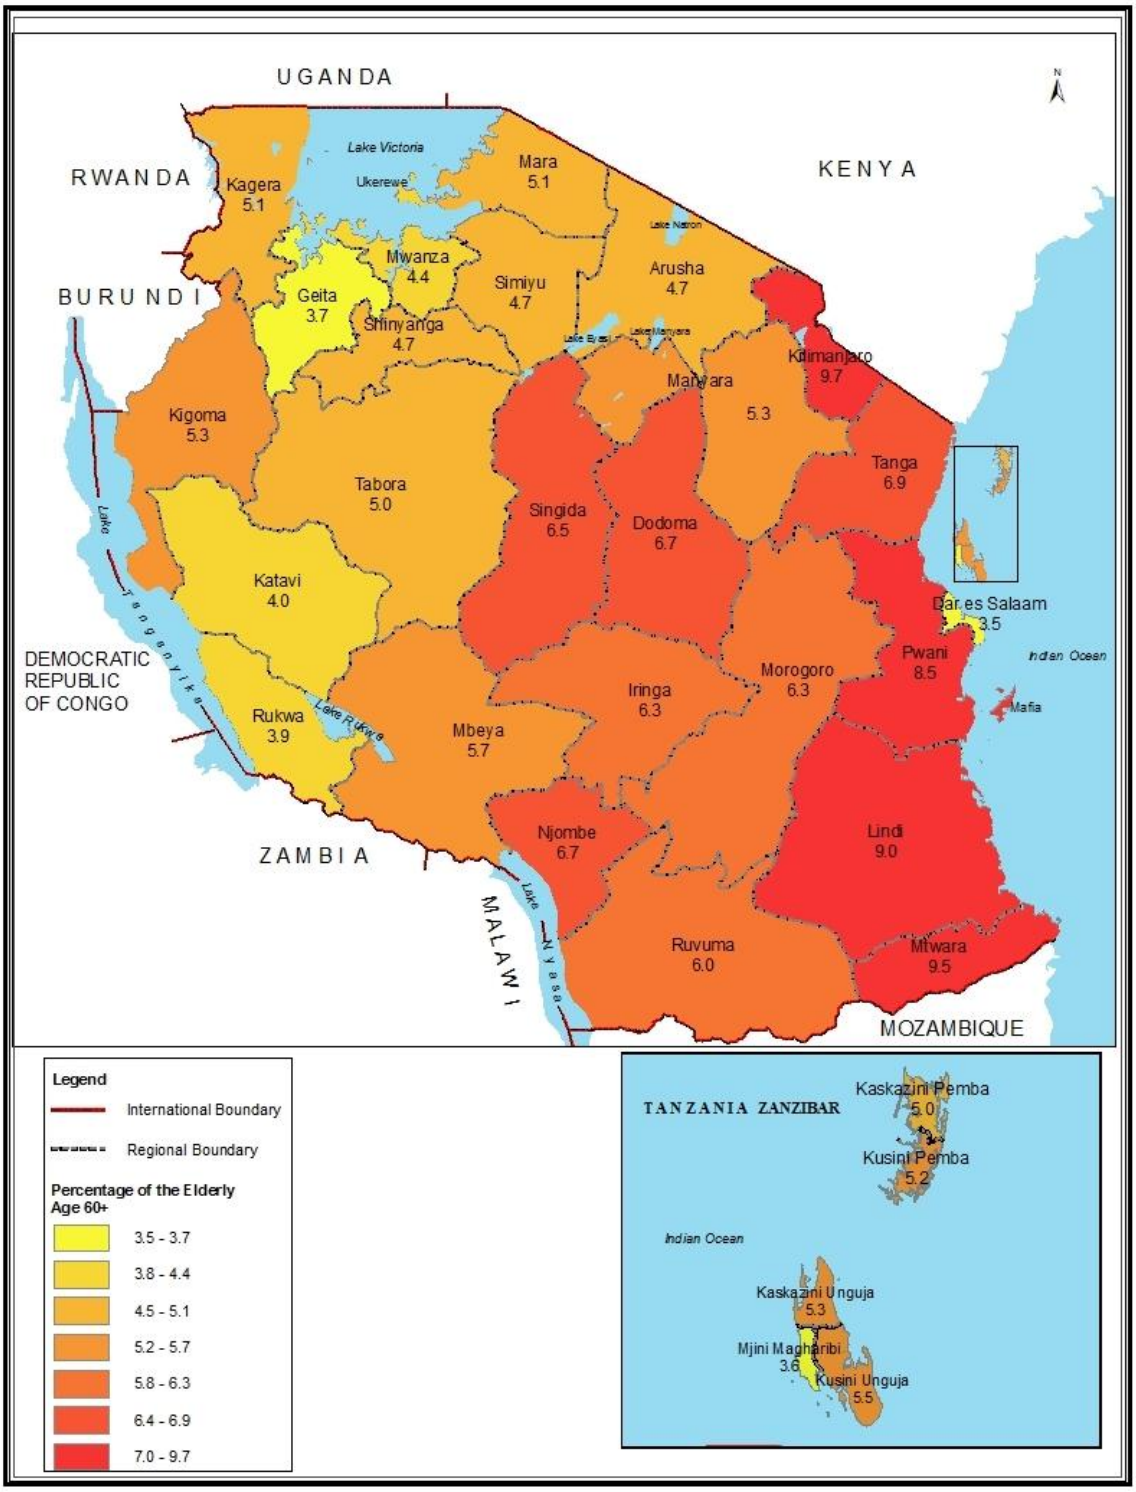


Map 5: Elderly Population (60 Years and Above) as a Percentage of Total Population by Region, Tanzania 2012 Census



The proportion of population aged 60 years and above in Tanzania and Tanzania Mainland has remained the same at about 6 percent in the 1988, 2002 and 2012 censuses. However, it declined in Tanzania Zanzibar from 6.4 percent in 1988 to 4.5 percent in 2012 (Figure 3.14).

Figure 3. 14: The Population Aged 60 Years and Above as a Percentage of Total Population; Tanzania 1988, 2002 and 2012 Censuses

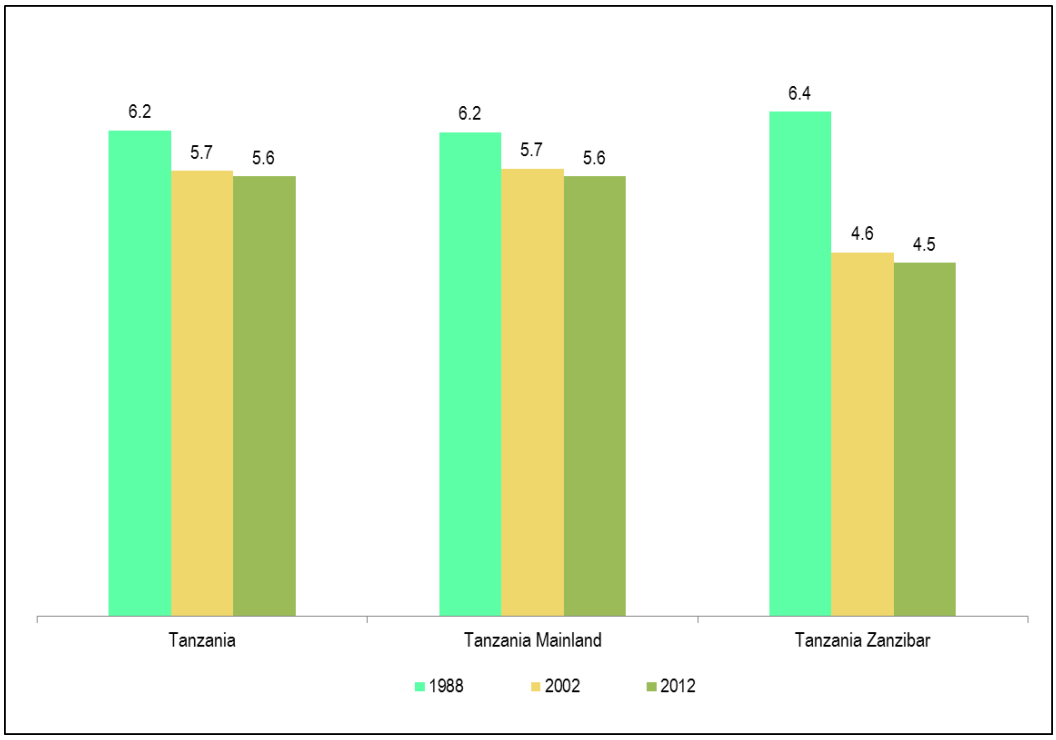


Figure 3.15 and Map 6 present the percentage of the total population that is aged 65 years and above, an alternate indicator of population ageing. Overall, it is observed that 3.9 percent of Tanzania population is aged 65 years and above. While this proportion is the same for Tanzania Mainland, it is lower for Tanzania Zanzibar (2.8 percent). Regional variations are observed, ranging from 2.1 percent in Dar es Salaam to 7.0 percent in Kilimanjaro. As expected, regions with larger urban populations (e.g. Dar es Salaam and Mjini Magharibi) also recorded the lowest percentages of elderly population.

3.5 Age-Dependency Ratio

Age-dependency ratio is the ratio of persons in the "dependent" ages (under 15 years of age and above 65 years) to the "working age population" (15 to 64 years). It is expressed as number of dependent per 100 working age population. Ratios higher than 100 are undesirable. The age-dependency ratio is a proxy indicator of the economic burden and responsibility borne by the working age population.

Figure 3.16 shows the age-dependency ratios based on the 1967, 1978, 1988, 2002 and 2012 censuses. The ratio has decreased from 98 in 1967 to 92 in 2012 in Tanzania and from 99 to 92 in Tanzania Mainland. In Tanzania Zanzibar the dependency ratio decreased from 91 in 1967 to 83 in 2012. The dependency ratio of 92 for Tanzania means that there were 92 dependents per 100 producers.

The 2012 PHC shows regional variations in age-dependency ratios. Figure 3.17 and Map 7 show that the highest age dependency ratio was recorded in Simiyu (119.7), followed by Mara (113.2), Geita and Rukwa (112.9 each) and the lowest was in Dar es Salaam (50.8). Age-dependency ratio was higher than 100 in 14 regions and higher than the national age dependency ratio (92) in 16 regions.

3.6 Women of Reproductive Age (15-49 Years)

Women aged 15-49 form a special group of the population due to its role in reproduction. According to Figure 3.18 this group, which comprises 10,905,117 women, accounts for 47.3 percent of the total female population in Tanzania. The corresponding proportion for Tanzania Mainland was 47.2 percent and Tanzania Zanzibar was 50.4 percent. In the regions (Map 8), the highest proportions were recorded in Dar es Salaam (61.9 percent), followed by Mjini Magharibi (54.0 percent), and the lowest was in Simiyu (42.3 percent).

3.7 Population Age Distribution by Rural and Urban Areas

Table 3.4 presents the distribution of population by rural-urban and five-year age groups. The proportion of young population (below age 15) in rural areas (47.1 percent) is higher than that of urban areas (36.3 percent). On the other hand, the proportion of youth population (15-24 years) in urban areas (22.9 percent) is higher than in rural areas (17.4 percent). The same pattern was observed for Tanzania Mainland (see Table 3.5) and Tanzania Zanzibar (see Table 3.6).

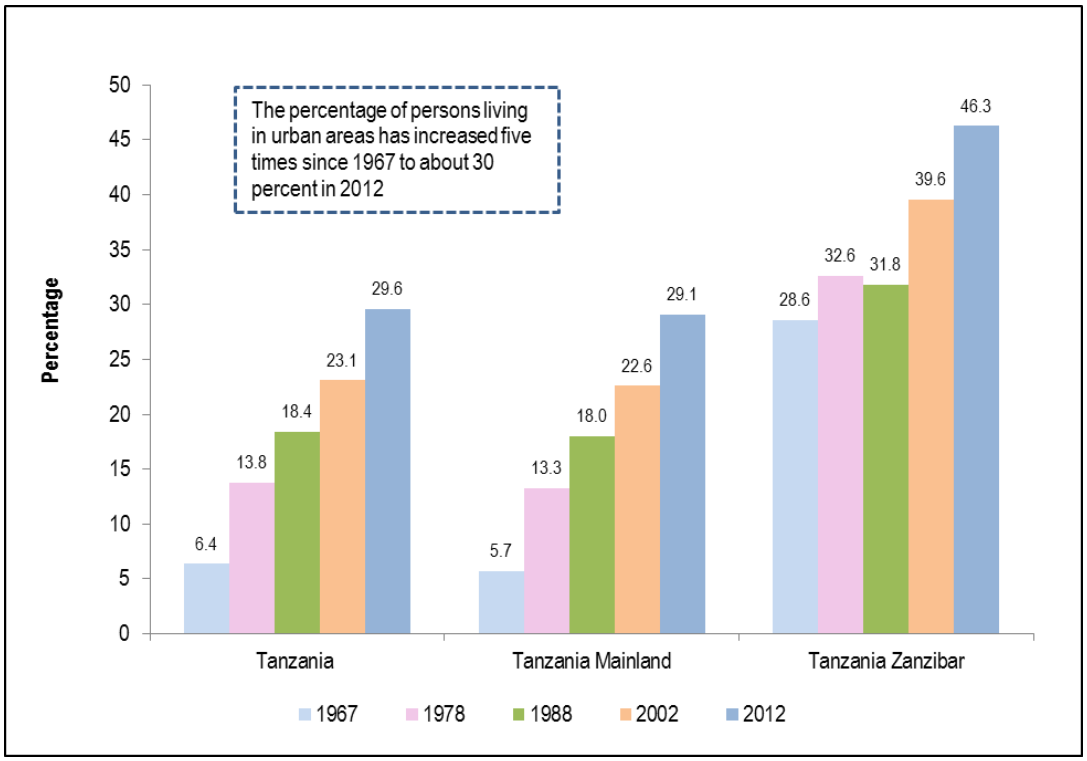
Figure 3.19 gives percentages of population found in urban areas during the 1967, 1978, 1988, 2002 and 2012 censuses. Percentage of the total population in urban areas has increased about five times, from 6.4 percent in 1967 Census to 29.6 percent in 2012 Census. Tanzania Zanzibar recorded a higher proportion of persons living in urban areas (46.3 percent) compared to Tanzania Mainland (29.1 percent).

Figure 3.19: Persons Living in Urban Areas as a Percentage of Total Population; Tanzania 1967, 1978, 1988, 2002 and 2012 Censuses



As far as regional variation is concerned (Figure 3.20 and Map 9), Dar es Salaam and Mjini Magharibi had higher proportions of persons residing in urban areas (100.0 percent and 84.5 percent respectively). The lowest proportions were recorded in Kusini Unguja (6.1 percent) and Simiyu (7.0 percent).

3.8 Concluding Remarks

The 2012 PHC results revealed that Tanzania population is characterized by a young age structure; 43.9 percent of the total population was aged below 15 years, which reflects a high fertility regime in the recent past. The youthful population age structure implies that population will continue to grow rapidly for many years even after fertility has fallen. This could exert pressure on the available resources, and adversely affect the country's socio-economic development efforts.

The growing urban population in Tanzania is largely a result of rural-urban migration as well as reclassification of new urban areas. Although urbanization has its own advantages, unprecedented migration of people from rural to urban areas increases the burden on already overburdened public services and physical infrastructure in urban areas.

Chapter Four

2012 Population and Housing Census' Statistical Tables

The chapter presents population distribution by age (in single years and five years age groups) and sex for Tanzania, Tanzania Mainland and Tanzania Zanzibar by rural-urban. The same tables are presented for regional and district or councils.
