Strategic priorities of regional investment activity

Kvon G., Faleeva L., Pyrkova G., Alyakina D., Mustafina A., Kryukova N., Blekus V.
Kazan Federal University, 420008, Kremlevskaya 18, Kazan, Russia

Abstract

© Authors. The purpose of the paper is to study the regional investment strategy development based on the identified strategic priorities for its development. Methods of the problem under research include statistical and methods of system and logical analysis, comparative and retrospective methods, methods of analysis and synthesis, methods for conjugate effects accounting. The paper presents the study results of the regional investment activities strategic priorities, taking into account its investment environment functioning features. The conducted study is based on the most important strategic documents, reflecting the long-term goals of regional development. In order to justify the possibility of implementing the strategy, the conditions for implementing investment projects aimed at the regional infrastructure developing and its socio-economic development indices improving are considered. The studies were carried out on the analysis basis of the major national economic complexes investment structure in the region. The paper also presents the region's target state indicators in the context of various forecast scenarios for its development, which include inertial, basic and optimistic ones. At the same time, a basic scenario aimed at overcoming resource constraints is considered in the context of the regional economic complexes. The conclusions are made on the compliance of the regional investment activities' strategic priorities with the potential for its development. The paper materials are of practical value for specialists engaged in the development, analysis and implementation of the regional investment strategy.

http://dx.doi.org/10.12973/ejac.2017.00235a

Keywords

Investment strategy, Priority directions of investment policy, Region, Social and economic development

References

