

PAINS HILL COTTAGE,
COBHAM, SURREY.

Dear Madam

I am much interested in the proposal made by the Committee of Wellesley College, that my husband's poem, "Sohrab and Rustum", should be included in your English preparatory studies.

You ask me if the notice contained in the Pall Mall Gazette, of April 17th 1888, is correct? As a Biographical sketch, it is on the whole substantially so; but in saying this, I am sure you will understand that I merely answer your question with regard to the accuracy of facts and dates, and do not refer to matters of style or criticism, which of course are open to differences of opinion.

I well remember Mr. Arnold's visit to Wellesley College. He often spoke of it, and of the pleasure it had given him, as well as the great interest he felt, in the work that was being so successfully carried on there -

Believe me, dear Madame

Very truly yours

Frances Arnold
