Thank you, dear Mrs Whitney, for the "Public"
which has begun to come.
I will read it attentively.
I went to hear his talk & wrote was rather disappointed - but I did not stay Near the talk after the Lecture, which I heard was my good.

I shall go to see Mrs Pankhurst again if there is a chance. She did not appeal to me as Mrs Auld did. There was too much stress laid on the pluck of the "militants" drop in London & not earned on what can be seen.
