WIANNO,
CAPE COD, MASS.

August 20, 1902.

Dear Miss Whitney.

I am back again
re refreshed by a delightful outing.

I shall long remember my pleasant visit to Rocky Point and the hospitality, as restful to the mind as to the body. And the lovely view from your piazza is as abiding as a picture.

My call upon the Knapps was also fortunate, the family and several old friends being gathered in the parlor about a cheerful fire. The welcome was warm in a double sense and the charming atmosphere of sociability and friendship was never more marked.

I spent the night at Lexington at my son's and enjoyed my dear little grandchildren as usual.

Now I am back in time for supper and <sup>am</sup> only sorry that I had to be away on my wife's birthday and that she could not share my Plymouth experience with me.

With hearty thanks to you and Miss Manning and with all good wishes for you both, in which Mrs. Garrison joins,
Very sincerely yours,
Wm. Lloyd Garrison.
