Legislature to Get $47 Million Building Plan

ST. PAUL (AP) — State building program for the next two years to cost $47,459,428 will be presented to the 1963 legislature by the Legislative Building Commission, it was announced today.

"We have received requests totaling more than $116 million from the state institutions, colleges and departments and our recommendations are for the most urgent needs only," said Rep. Eugene P. Knudsen of Kandiyohi, commission chairman.

"More than 60 per cent of our proposed program is for the state colleges and university, where enrollment gains are placing a heavy burden on present facilities."

Largest amount, $17,035,825, would be set aside for the University of Minnesota and its branches under the proposal. This includes money for two more buildings on the west bank. State colleges would get $12,338,500 and mental hospitals $8,776,860. Other proposed allotments include $4,140,362 for children's institutions; $2,306,866 for adult correctional institutions; $1,150,695 for Youth Conservation Commission institutions; and $3,710,350 for other agencies, including the Soldiers Home and the State Parks division.

Of the proposed allotment for the university, $9,477,825 would be for use on the Minneapolis campus, $4,236,500 for the St. Paul campus, $1,961,000 for the Duluth campus, $1,113,000 for the Morris campus, and $69,000 for the Crookston experiment station.

Allotments to state colleges would include Bemidji $1,418,500; Mankato, $3,040,000; Moorhead, $1,694,000; St. Cloud $1,960,000; Winona $1,226,000 and $3 million for an over-all dormitory and food service program.

Mental hospital projects included $765,000 for Fergus Falls State Hospital, $431,750 for Rochester, $1,792,000 for St. Peter and $1,118,350 for Willmar. Among children's institutions, $1,170,000 in building projects are proposed for Brainerd, $1,757,500 for Faribault and $47,000 for Owatonna.

Proposed building spending at Youth Conservation institutions includes $704,195 at Red Wing and $225,000 at Sauk Centre and $1,522,366 would be set aside for the St. Cloud reformatory among adult correctional institutions.

Major new buildings proposed for hospitals and correctional institutions include a continued treatment building at the St. Peter State Hospital costing $1,700,000; a school department and rehabilitation therapies building at the Brainerd State School and Hospital costing $1,170,000; a new central kitchen at the Faribault State School and Hospital costing $1,667,000; a new boys' dormitory at the Faribault School for the Deaf costing $708,000; the first stage of a new service building at the St. Cloud reformatory costing $1,389,000; three new cottages at the Red Wing State Training School costing $525,000.

The proposal includes $987,000 to complete and equip a science building at Bemidji State College, $1,200,000 for a speech-music building and $1,500,000 for a library building at Mankato, $1,200,000 for a classroom building for art, music speech and dramatics at Moorhead, $1,200,000 for a fine arts classroom building at St. Cloud, and $750,000 for a library addition at Winona.

New buildings provided for in the university part of the proposal include a $4,200,000 library on the new west bank campus and $1,623,000 for one unit of an auditorium type classroom, also on the west bank. On the St. Paul campus at $2,385,000 entomology, fish and wild life building is proposed. Biggest item recommended for the Duluth campus is $985,000 for a library addition. Urged for the Morris branch is $648,000 for the first unit of a science building and $350,000 for a library building.

Parks recommended for various improvements include Charles A. Lindbergh in Morrison County, Crow Wing in Crow Wing County, Flandrau in Brown County, Frontenac in Goodhue County, Nerstrand Woods in Rice County, Sibley in Kandiyohi County, and Whitewater in Winona County.

Bitter Cold Grips Much of Nation

"LONG HANDLE" WEATHER... Ricky Predovich of Duluth, Minn., carried in a suit of winter undergarments from the backyard clothes line after temperatures plunged below zero in northern Minnesota. ## Nearly 2 Feet Of Snow Falls In Some Areas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Unseasonably cold weather and gusty, raw winds held a vice-like grip over most of the eastern two-thirds of the nation today.

There appeared little prospect of an immediate, general break in the bone-chilling weather.

Record low temperatures were reported in most of the ice belt for the second straight day. Snow depths measured eight feet in parts of northeastern Ohio.

The main core of the Arctic air centered in the North Central region. Brisk winds powered the sub-zero cold southward to the Gulf Coast and eastward to the Appalachians.

Temperatures far below zero were reported in the Dakotas, Minnesota and Wisconsin, ranging to as low as 18 below in Huron, S.D.

Below-zero marks were general in the Midwest.

The South shivered in the season's coldest weather. It was near zero in sections of North Carolina, Kentucky, Arkansas and Tennessee and in mountain areas of northern Georgia and Alabama.

Florida reeled from the abnormally low temperatures for the second consecutive day. The bitter cold threatened winter vegetables. Damage to crops varied but some estimates are in the millions of dollars. No serious damage was reported immediately to citrus crops.

The beaches in southern Florida were bare and the tourists were clothed in newly bought sweaters and coats. Miami's 38 above Tuesday was a record low for Dec. 11. It was 48 this morning.

New low temperatures for the date were set Tuesday in many sections of the icy belt. The mercury continued its downward plunge during the night and early morning, threatening record lows for today.

Much of the eastern half of the nation felt the effects of the storm and cold which packed the punch normally expected in mid-winter.

"Miserable" was the Weather Bureau's description of conditions in the Great Lakes and Ohio Valley regions.

More heavy snow was dumped along the eastern shores of Lakes Michigan, Erie and Ontario. Drifts piled up higher than four feet in some places.

A state of emergency was declared in Connecticut, in northeast Ohio, as huge drifts from the 30 inches on the ground blocked all roads leading into the community of 16,000. National Guardsmen brought a supply of food and fuel into the snowbound area and used some tanks and heavy trucks for a shuttle service to a hospital.

Generally, the Pentagon plan calls for reshaping four low-rated Guard infantry divisions into more flexible brigades and disbanding a net of 338 obsolete company-size units.

At the same time, six Guard divisions would be formed into a high-priority force, beefed up to about 80 per cent of full strength and ticketed for first callup in an emergency.

McNamara contends the streamlining is needed to bring the Guard in line with modern needs. A similar reorganization of the Army Reserves already is under way.

Guard Leaders Bow to Change

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The men who command the Army National Guard in the states appeared today to be in reluctant retreat before an unrelenting Pentagon drive to streamline the Guard.

Although the states' adjutants general maintained an outwardly solid front, they were split several ways after a two-day meeting.

Some of them indicated they could live with the plan proposed by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and the Army.

Others called it "totally unacceptable," but did not say they would hold out against it.

Some, apparently in the minority, spoke well of the Pentagon plan in private, but they wouldn't say so for the record.

The adjutant general convened Monday for the purpose of drafting some kind of recommendation to the governors. Every state except Alaska was represented.

Tuesday the adjutants general finally settled on a letter backing the problem to the governors without any firm recommendations beyond urging that a special committee headed by Georgia's Gov. Ernest Vandiver meet with McNamara soon to iron out points still at issue.

3-Judge Panel Hopes to Start Recount Dec. 19

ST. PAUL (AP) — A three-member panel of district judges which will supervise it is setting a target date of a week from today for start of the recount in Minnesota's gubernatorial contest.

The judges, in a session late Tuesday, also directed attorneys for DFL Lt. Gov. Karl Rolvaag to prepare a bill of particulars setting forth irregularities he alleged made incumbent Gov. Elmer L. Andersen the Republican winner by 142 votes.

Andersen's attorneys were requested to furnish a list of legal points they would rely on in contesting the recount.

Judges to supervise the recount are J.H. Sylvester, Crookston; Sidney Kaner, Duluth, and Leonard Keyes, Columbia Heights.

Both sides were also asked to estimate how many witnesses would be called and how much time that phase of the case would occupy.

At the same time, the panel called upon both sides to furnish today lists of ballot inspectors, plus 30 alternates. And on Friday, a joint list of 100 neutrals and 30 alternates must be provided.

This envisages vote counting teams of three persons each. It was expected that party chairmen in the individual counties would be called upon to provide lists from which the neutral inspectors could be drawn. In cases where the two sides cannot agree, the judges themselves will appoint the neutrals.

9,000-15,000 Russian Troops Remain in Cuba

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. sources estimated today that between 2,000 and 3,000 Soviet troops have left Cuba during the past few weeks.

This withdrawal leaves in Cuba the bulk of Soviet military personnel sent there for missileery and other activities.

Estimates on the number still there range from 9,000 to 15,000. The estimates on the withdrawals also range widely because of difficulty in figuring how many men may be aboard outbound ships.

U.S. officials view the withdrawal as moving at a disappointingly slow pace.

This continuing Soviet military presence in Cuba has been one of the factors keeping the U.S.-Soviet dispute lingering on after the removal of Soviet missiles and bombers.

Premier Khrushchev has written President Kennedy that Soviet units associated with the offensive weapons will be withdrawn in due course.

But this left a lot to be pinned down. Among other things, it is not known here whether the Kremlin considered the short-range anti-aircraft missiles in Cuba to be protection for the longer range offensive weapons—and therefore now intends to withdraw them.

Originally, the administration expressed the view that the Soviet military personnel entering Cuba were advisers and technicians, not troops.

Kennedy said on Aug. 28 that "we have no evidence of troops" in Cuba, and on Sept. 13, at his last news conference before the crisis. He was still referring to technicians.

The prevailing opinion in the administration was that the Cuban buildup was defensive. The anti-aircraft and other weapons had been identified as similar to those the Russians had sent to Indonesia. The Indonesian shipments were accompanied by technicians skilled in matters like training and maintenance, but not Soviet combat troops, it was stated.

The Washington assessment changed fast with the discovery of the offensive weapons in Cuba. The Russians themselves were found to be setting up the missile sites, and presumably they would man the missiles.

Khrushchev Cites Promise Not to Attack

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev declared today that if American pledges on Cuba are not fulfilled "we will be compelled to take such actions as the situation requires of us."

He was speaking to the Supreme Soviet.

The statement was made at the end of an hour of speaking in the great Kremlin hall during which the premier said the Soviet Union had demonstrated it could preserve peace.

"We will never leave revolutionary Cuba in trouble," Khrushchev said.

"We will defend the right of the Cuban people to pursue their bright future."

He paid credit to President Kennedy as having an interest in preserving peace in the Caribbean and said both were negotiating so that pledges on both sides would be kept.

It was then that he thundered out his warning that the pledges must be kept.

Khrushchev, referring to what he apparently meant by President Kennedy's "pledge," said the United States had promised "not to attack the republic of Cuba and to restrain its allies from doing so."

But despite the implied threat, the Khrushchev speech appeared to have a defensive tone. He remarked that there was no question of who won in the Cuban crisis, saying that "sanity and the cause of peace" were the winners.

Khrushchev's warning came after he had claimed the Soviet Union had prevented an attack on Cuba by "aggressive circles" of the United States to avert "the direct threat of a thermonuclear world war."

The Soviet leader, in a major foreign policy speech, called for "renunciation of war among states as a means of settling international disputes (and) their solution through negotiations."

Khrushchev called the solution of the Caribbean crisis "a major victory for the policy of peace," but he repeatedly attacked "the aggressive circles of imperialism."

And in an obvious rebuff to the Chinese Communists, who criticized the Soviet backdown in Cuba, Khrushchev asserted:

"Events have confirmed that the peace forces are able to overcome the most dangerous international crisis, to curb the imperialist aggressors."

Seated in a place of honor on the rostrum was President Tito of Yugoslavia, who was branded as a "traitor to world communism" a week ago by the Red Chinese.

Carlos Rodriguez, head of a Cuban trade delegation which arrived here Monday, was also on the rostrum.

Khrushchev couched his call again for peaceful coexistence between East and West with a charge "imperialist aggressors" were stirring up international tensions with threats and a warning that the Soviet Union had rockets to "reply to a blow by our enemies with a lightning smashing blow."

He outlined in detail the progress of negotiations conducted by urgent letters with President Kennedy, and declared at one point: "If the other side had not shown restraint, an explosion would have followed."

During the first hour of his speech he made one brief reference to Germany, saying the problem should be settled by treaty and the Berlin affair should be settled on the basis of that treaty.

But he avoided repeating a threat of an immediate signing of a separate treaty, and he withheld any demand that Berlin be made a free city and American, French and British troops be withdrawn.

The Laborite Daily Herald said Thorneycroft warned that abandoning the missile would threaten the British-American alliance as well as Britain's entire defense policy.

McNamara and Thorneycroft adjourned their conference to attend the NATO ministerial meeting in Paris opening Thursday.

President Kennedy and Prime Minister Macmillan presumably will have to make the final decision about the Skybolt at their meeting in the Bahamas Dec. 19-20.

The Skybolt is an air-to-ground missile that has cost $650 million and had an unbroken string of failures in its first five test firings. It is designed for firing by a bomber standing off 1,000 miles from its target.

Failure of Skybolt Blow To Britain

By ANTHONY WHITE

LONDON (AP) — The British-American alliance was put to one of its heaviest strains today by tentative plans of the U.S. Defense Department to scrap the Skybolt missile.

Britain has made plain that junking of the projected missile could lead to a reappraisal of British defense commitments, including the use of Holy Loch in Scotland for a U.S. Polaris submarine base, British informants said.

Reports from the conference Tuesday between U.S. Defense Secretary Robert McNamara and British Defense Minister Peter Thorneycroft said a tough, blunt argument took place. The Daily Sketch described the meeting as one of the stormiest between ministers of the two governments.

"Mr. McNamara is under no illusions as to the British reaction to any cancellation of Skybolt," a British defense spokesman said.

The Laborite Daily Herald said Thorneycroft warned that abandoning the missile would threaten the British-American alliance as well as Britain's entire defense policy.

Sales Tax Credits Cut Payments on Durand Property

DURAND, Wis.—Despite a 3-mill increase in taxes in the city of Durand, taxpayers still will be paying less in 1953 than at last year's 57-mill rate because of credits from the selective sales tax, according to Clerk Galen Lief-fing.

Credits amount to approximately 7 mills to each taxpayer, or $70 on each $1,000 valuation. Durand received total credits of $45,505, of which $21,880 is on merchants' and manufacturers' stock, and $23,625 on real estate and personal property assessments not included in the stocks credits.

The tax levy for city purposes is $23,001. This is a drop of more than $300 from last year.

School, county and state levies are up. City of Durand's share of costs of the Unified School District is $109,197, an increase of $5,859 over last year. County and state charges rose $5,670, to $99,199.

Total of all levies is $213,396, an increase of about $11,000 over last year.

The budget for city purposes of $123,516 was adopted following a public hearing Monday night. Revenues other than the tax levy of $23,001 amount to more than $100,000.

Driver Hits Tree and Dies

FOUNTAIN CITY, Wis. (Special) — Cause of the accident which resulted in the death of a 49-year-old Fountain City area laborer about 4:45 p.m. Tuesday at Community Memorial Hospital still is under investigation, according to Charles Pehter, police chief here.

Melvin A. Hund apparently was on his way home when his 1961 pickup truck went out of control to the right and hit a large maple tree in front of the Alfred Abts residence on Highway 35. That's about a block south of the entrance to Fountain City backyard. There is a slight curve in the street at that point.

DR. E. A. MEILI, Cochrane, Buffalo County coroner, said Hund died of a basal skull fracture. However, there were no outward signs of the fracture and no lacerations or other injuries. Dr. Meili said there will be no autopsy or inquest.

Officers speculate Hund received the fracture by being thrown forward and then back against the seat during the impact.

Pehter said there were no skid-marks on the blacktop roadway, and no indication where the vehicle had gone out of control. There were no witnesses to the accident.

BUFFALO COUNTY Traffic Officer Henry Zeichert, Buffalo City, who assisted with the investigation, said the roadway is about 24 feet wide at that point, with a small crown. There was no snow on the blacktop. The tree Hund struck was at the edge of the sidewalk in front of the Abts house.

The right front fender of the truck struck the tree. Then the vehicle pushed by the tree and came to a stop about a car length beyond it on the right of bluff side. Hund was proceeding north. There are marks on the right side of the truck where it scraped the tree.

Hund lived with his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Neitzel, 10 miles north of here.

ORVILLE ABTS, deputy sheriff here, was first officer at the scene. He found Hund lying face down on the seat with his feet out the door on the driver's side. His head was hanging down over the seat toward the floor, and there were indications he had been bleeding from the mouth.

Officers speculated he may have been getting out of the car when unconsciousness overcame him and he fell back in.

Abts was holding Hund when Pehter arrived, and they helped put him into a Colby ambulance. He died not over five minutes after arrival at the hospital, Pehter said.

Pehter received a call to the accident right after it happened at 4:45 p.m., he said.

He estimated damage to the vehicle at not over $400. The right fender was bent and the axle broken. The right tire had blown out. Officers believe this occurred during the impact and not before, because there were no skid marks on the highway either before the vehicle hit the tree or before it came to a stop. The steering wheel was bent slightly but there was no other exterior damage.

RELATIVES SAID this morning that Hund had been in Winona Tuesday because they found a paid bill in his billfold. He was employed as a cut and hauler by Lloyd Roehring Lumber Co., Fountain City.

The family said his health was good. The crash might have occurred when he momentarily took his eyes off the road, they said. They called attention to the cold weather and frosty windows. The driver said he was not a fast driver, and officers said the fact that the car stopped within eight feet after striking the tree indicated that he was not speeding.

There were no witnesses to indicate that he was crowded off to the right, which also may have occurred, officers said.

MR. HUND was born Nov. 18, 1913, on the farm where he still resided in Town of Cross. He was the son of Frank and Mary Gressell Hund.

Train Hits Truck; Man Walks Away

"I didn't see the train or hear the whistle," said William McCabe, 39, Nodine, following his close call with a train at 10:10 a.m. today.

McCabe was thrown out of the county highway department truck he was driving when a west-bound Milwaukee Railroad passenger train hit it at a crossing east of the Winona Aggregate Co.

LUCKILY McCabe had only slight cuts and bruises. He walked from Winona Aggregate's office to the waiting ambulance and was taken to Community Memorial Hospital. He has been admitted to the hospital for observation.

McCabe was driving south across the tracks and the west-bound train hit the rear of the truck. The impact knocked the box off the truck and threw it and the truck against a telephone pole slightly west of the road. The truck then skidded across the gravel road into the east ditch and McCabe was thrown out of the truck when the door on his side opened.

The train continued down the tracks for approximately one-half mile and the last car of the train stopped on the crossing.

McCabe was helped over to the office of Winona Aggregate and waited for the ambulance there. Sheriff George Fort was called and went to the scene after calling the ambulance. The ambulance arrived about five minutes after that and McCabe walked out of the west door of the office to meet them.

MELVIN PRAXEL, ambulance driver, and his assistant started to walk past McCabe with a stretcher. McCabe said that he was the injured man, they put the stretcher into the back end of the ambulance and McCabe got into the front seat. They left for the hospital.

Donald Dumas, Milwaukee Railroad agent, investigated the accident for the railroad. F. L. Kelley, Minneapolis, was the engineer and Henry Moe, Minneapolis, the conductor of train number 55 which hit the truck.

The train was traveling at a fairly high rate of speed, said Sheriff Fort. "They usually do when they get between Goodview and Minnesota City."

The conductor Moe and McCabe argued at the office whether McCabe had stopped for the crossing. McCabe said that he did and that he saw no train.

Worst Over

Warmer Tonight; Thursday, Too

"My car won't start. I'll be a little late." The message was a familiar one in many Winona plants and offices today as the bitter cold continued, sending the official thermometer down to 9 below for the coldest day of the winter and the coldest day since March 3 when the thermometer showed a low of -10. A week ago today it was 24 in the morning, 45 in the afternoon.

BUT THE weatherman had some good news for the area in a prediction of increasing cloudiness and warmer tonight and Thursday with a low of 2-8 above tonight and a high of around 15-20 above Thursday.

However, he forecast colder weather again for Friday but no precipitation.

The extended forecast indicated temperatures would average 2 degrees below normal Thursday through Monday with daytime temperatures around 2-25 and nighttime lows generally above zero. It will be warmer over the weekend and again colder by Monday. Little or no precipitation is indicated.

Highest temperature Tuesday — in the early afternoon — was zero and after starting its slide Tuesday afternoon, the thermometer dipped to -9 before starting up to -3 at noon today.

Last winter on only three days did the mercury fail to get above zero and those were January days. A year ago today Winona had a high of 9 above and a low of -1. All-time high for Dec. 12 was 54 in 1915 and the low -11 in 1903. Mean temperature for the past 24 hours was -5. Normal for this day is 21.

MINNESOTA reported below zero temperatures from all weather stations with Bemidji having a morning low of -21, coldest in the nation, and a Tuesday high of the low was -19. Duluth had -16 and St. Cloud -14. At Rochester the morning high was -11 after a high Tuesday of 2 above. La Crosse posted figures of -10 and 2 above for the same times.

Skies were clear in all sections of the state. Warm weather headed into the five-state area from the west today, bringing the promise of above-zero temperatures.

The Arctic high pressure system overnight was showing southeastward out of the region. Forecasters predicted there would be few, if any, below-zero temperatures by tonight except possibly in eastern Iowa.

The low pressure system moving in also brought a cloud cover, along with some light snow.

WISCONSIN'S bitterly cold weather set records in three cities Tuesday night as subzero readings prevailed in all areas of the state. Superior-Duluth recorded 16 below, the lowest in the state.

The 10 below reading at Madison was the lowest ever recorded there on Dec. 12 with the previous low of 3 below in 1903. Beloit-Rockford reported 8 below, the previous record for the date being 5 below in 1955.

Likewise, Milwaukee's 7 below record was the coldest ever to be recorded on Dec. 12, the old record being 5 below in 1956.

OTHER LOW temperatures, all below zero, were Eau Claire -12; Park Falls -11; Lone Rock -10; Racine, Wausau and Lake Geneva -9, and Green Bay -3. A 10 above zero reading at Racine was the highest temperature reported in Wisconsin Tuesday. Other highs included 7 at Green Bay, 5 at Lake Geneva and Milwaukee, 3 at Beloit-Rockford and 2 at Madison. The other high readings were below zero.

SPRING GROVE, Minn. (Special) — Switching camera production by Argus, Inc., from Ann Arbor, Mich., to the manufacturing plant here will increase employment at the Spring Grove factory by about 40 percent, Gerald Deyo, general manager, said this morning.

Four cameras now being made at Ann Arbor will be produced here, increasing employment from the present range of 200 to 360 to from 280 to 500, Deyo said.

AT PRESENT the Spring Grove plant is making movie and still projectors and viewers and is packing camera outfits, which include cameras made at their Tokyo, Japan, plant.

Herbert R. Leopold, Chicago, president of Argus, Inc., said the company is furloughing some 100 workers at Ann Arbor in switching all camera production to Spring Grove, outside of its Tokyo plant, but expects to recall the people and hire an additional 200-250 by mid-1963.

The Ann Arbor plant, which currently employs about 425 people, will expand its current production of defense products. The company's major defense item is a periscope for ground troop carriers. This plant, which also makes some special optical products, has a defense backlog of about one year's production based on current employment in those departments, Leopold said.

The camera production transfer was motivated by need for space to expand manufacturing of defense items, Leopold said. He termed current sales of the company's still cameras as excellent and said no lines will be dropped.

Salvation Army receives $360. The Salvation Army's Christmas fund has reached $360.66, Brig. George Williams reported today. The goal is $7,500.

Williams said 3,000 bags have been distributed to Winona homes. He asked people to fill them with canned goods or groceries. They will be picked up Monday and Tuesday.

The Salvation Army still is in need of high chairs, cribs and mattresses, bunk beds and toys of all kinds, Williams said.

RUSHFORD STUDENT — Theodore Robertson II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore S. Robertson, is a member of the business staff of the yearbook at Shattuck School, Fairbault, Minn.

Police Officer To Be Reinstated. James J. Hermes, 1888 W. 5th St., who was released from Community Memorial Hospital Monday, will be reinstated to the Winona police force next Monday, Chief of Police George Saward said today.

Hermes, a diabetic, had been in the hospital since Dec. 3 for a rest and for a complete physical check-up. He was suspended from the police department Dec. 1 after he had pleaded guilty to a charge of careless driving.

Sentencing Delayed On Check Charge; Man Held Without Bail. Judge S. D. J. Bruskā delayed the sentencing of Ronald L. Wheeler, 22, 464 Sioux St., until Friday following Wheeler's guilty plea in municipal court today. Wheeler was charged with petty larceny by check. He had cashed a $15 check at Randall's Super Valu Dec. 3 without funds to back it. Wheeler will be held without bail until Friday.

TIPPED ST. NICK . . . St. Nick and his sleigh took a tumble on top of the Daily News building Tuesday when cold blustery winds tipped the lively old gent from his perch. No injuries were reported, however, and he and his eight reindeer still will make their appointed rounds Christmas Eve. (Daily News photo)

Winona State Asks 3 Special Projects

Winona State College has asked for special state legislation to finance a teacher and student exchange program with a Norwegian college, a teaching machine research project, and television programs for credit broadcast from a proposed studio at the college.

The proposals were presented by Dr. Nels Mirne, Winona State president, at a budget hearing in St. Paul Tuesday conducted by Gov. Elmer L. Andersen and the State Department of Administration.

AT THE HEARING the State College Board, which represents Winona State and the other four state colleges, presented a proposed 1963-65 spending program totaling $34,610,178 of which $26,642,199 would be asked of the legislature in appropriated funds. The new budget is about $13 million higher than the current 1961-63 budget.

Winona State's requested gross budget for the 1963-65 biennium is $3,602,367. Of this, $2,670,331 would be a state appropriation. The balance would be college receipts.

The present gross budget for the 1961-63 biennium ending next June 30, is $2,457,456. The appropriation is $1,633,695 with the balance being receipts.

The increase in the new gross budget over the current one is $1,145,411. However, because of an anticipated increase in receipts during the new biennium, the requested 1963-65 appropriation is somewhat smaller than the difference between the two gross budgets. The requested appropriation is $1,036,636 higher than the present appropriation.

Dr. Roy C. Prentis, the board's executive director, said the new budget includes a 10 percent increase in faculty salaries during the first year of the biennium (the year starting next July 1) and an additional 5 percent during the second year. The budget provides for an expansion of faculties so the teacher-student ratio will be 1:18 instead of the present 1:20. The board also asked special legislation to improve the faculty retirement program. Details of Winona State's three proposals for special legislation follow:

Exchange Program — For the past three years Winona State has received grants from the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education to finance an exchange program with a teacher training college at Oslo, Norway. Teachers, students and educational materials have been exchanged. Winona State has asked an annual appropriation of $1,400 for the biennium for this program.

Teaching Machine Project — This will consider the feasibility of using a low cost teaching machine to teach certain large sections in an education course to help relieve a staff shortage. The college's division of teacher education would conduct the project. The total appropriation for the biennium would be $1,230.

Television Courses — The college would offer televised programs for credit to any person qualifying, using facilities of Winona TV Signal Co. A simple studio would be established at the college equipped with a TV camera. The firm would carry the programs on its closed circuit system via a presently unused channel. The college would lease courses on film or video tape for broadcast.

These programs would include supplemental lectures broadcast live by present Winona State faculty. Students who don't have access to the firm's service at home could use TV sets at the college. Students would be required to visit the college periodically for conferences, discussions and examinations. The total appropriation for the biennium would be $22,000, mostly for equipment and installation.

Accompanying Dr. Mirne at the budget hearing was Harold O. Mureck, the college's business manager.

$1.2 Million Building Plan Favored at WSC

A $1,226,000 Winona State College building program for the 1963-65 biennium will be recommended to the 1963 legislature by the legislative building commission, Rep. Eugene P. Knudsen, Kandiyohi, commission chairman, announced at St. Paul today.

This is part of a statewide $47,459,428 building program the commission will recommend. The Winona State College recommendation follows:

- Addition to Maxwell Hall library, including equipment . . . $750,000
- Somsen Hall remodeling, including equipment . . . 125,000
- Land acquisition for construction of future academic and dormitory buildings . . . 300,000
- Repairs and improvements . . . 18,000
- Preventive maintenance . . . 33,000

WINONA STATE building recommendation was lowest among the five state colleges. The state college building recommendation totaled $12,338,500 and included $3,000,000 for a dormitory and food service program. Proposed allocation of this sum among the colleges has not yet been announced.

The other four colleges' building recommendations follow: Bemidji, $1,418,500; Mankato, $3,040,000; Moorhead, $1,694,000, and St. Cloud, $1,960,000.

The University of Minnesota recommendation was $17,035,825. "We have received requests of over $116 million from the institutions, colleges and departments," Knudsen said, "and our recommendations are for the most urgent needs only. Over 60 percent of our program is for the state colleges and the university where enrollment gains are placing a heavy burden on present facilities."

THE $3 MILLION dormitory and food service program for the five colleges represents 23 percent of a proposed $12 million program. The $3 million would be a state appropriation. The remaining $9 million would be a State College Board revenue bond issue which wouldn't cost the taxpayers anything.

The State College Board had proposed a 50-50 split between appropriation and bond money but the legislative building commission recommended that only 25 percent of the total program be financed by an appropriation.

Whether Winona State would get a dormitory and food service facility from this $12 million program—and what kind of installation this would be—has still not been determined.

WHILE ACTION is pending on the 1963-65 college building program, legislators have already been asked by Gov. Elmer L. Andersen to readopt the 1961 state building bill, money from which has not been spent yet because of a legal technicality.

This bill allocated $1,291,000 to Winona State for building and land development. However, the money couldn't be spent until the voters approved Amendment 2 last November which permitted an increase in the state's debt limit. Since bond lawyers questioned the constitutionality of the 1961 appropriation—which was voted before passage of Amendment 2—the legislature was asked to pass the same bill over again.

Here's what this 1961-63 program provides for Winona State: • $577,000 for a new art and industrial arts building adjacent to and southwest of Pasteur Hall. • $15,000 for clearing and grading of land to be acquired in the future.

• $619,000 for a new building to house psychology, education and Guidance departments. • $80,000 for a maintenance and service building near the present heating plant. The bill incorporates an additional $250,000 for future land acquisition for the college.

Green Bay Gets Authorization to Restrict Freight

The Wisconsin Public Service Commission has authorized the Green Bay and Western Railway to discontinue less-than-carload service Jan. 15, with one exception, Vernon R. Zimmerman, the railroad's local freight agent, announced.

Here's the exception: The less-than-carload (LCL) shipment must be at least 6,000 pounds and sent by one shipper to one receiver. They must do their own loading and unloading. The LCL shipment must not require freight house handling.

Drunken Driving Plea Changed

James C. Howe, 21, 558 W. Sanborn St., changed his plea in municipal court today from not guilty to guilty to a charge of drunken driving. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 or to serve 60 days. He had posted $150 bail and $50 of the bail was refunded. Howe had originally pleaded not guilty to the charge in court Monday. He was arrested by police at Wabasha and Liberty streets at 1:02 a.m. Sunday.

Pat Heads Drive Against Coughers

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — A very funny thing happened to Joseph Cotten's exquisitely beautiful wife, Patricia Medina, while she was campaigning against "coughers" — the people who cough during plays and movies and disturb nice quiet folks like you and me.

"Those people," pretty Patricia was telling Joe recently, "should hold their coughs in or go out in the street to cough." It was very annoying to them, playing wife-and-husband whodunit about Big Business chicanery, "Calculated Risk," at the Ambassador.

"So I'm going to crusade to get the coughers out!" Patricia said — and Earl Wilson was to do a fat interview about it. "Wonderful!" I said. "I don't like to mention any people in my family but some of them do cough needlessly."

On a recent afternoon, I arrived at the Cottens' stunning penthouse in the E. 60s, ready to ensnare Pat's blistering words. "Something wrong?" I asked. "Pat's hair had been freshly done. Her diamonds had been shone. She had on—or over her—a beautiful mink. She was lying on a couch. Coughing!"

"Pleurisy," she explained. "I had it twice before. It went into pneumonia. I'm all right now—going back into the show."

"HILARIOUS!" I exclaimed. "Makes a funny column. Cough Bites Anti-Cough Actress." "Yeah!" Pat sniffled in agreement. "Everybody in the cast got coughs. We couldn't hear ourselves act. I got so I loved coughers in the audience. They gave me a chance to cough."

"Fun-nee," I said. "Glad everybody's o.k. now and you're back in the snow. Got flu shots myself. Not worried..." I went to the theater the other night to make sure she was back. Sure was. Everything was fine—except for one very, very loud cougher. He was standing in the back and finally went into the street to cough.

Wabasha Man Honored

The picture of game warden Richard Kruger and the two-day-old fawn he is holding, was used as a full page spread in the current issue of The Conservation Volunteer, official magazine of the Minnesota Conservation Department. He was selected as the game warden of today, in publicizing the diamond anniversary of the game warden service in Minnesota.

Rich is the son of Willis Kruger, Wabasha County game warden, a graduate of the University of Minnesota, and at present is Blue Earth County warden, stationed at Mankato. He is one of the father and son teams in the state warden service. The fawn was a mow-er victim which he was nursing back to health.

Kruger's career is a long jump in the span of 75 years from the pioneer game warden of the days that Joe Bricker recalled in his recent book. Joe was a pawn of politicians, kicked around at their will and often hindered by politics in doing his duty. Civil service was an unknown factor in state employment in those days. Ward or precinct heeled got the game warden appointments. Arrests that produced revenue were the only things that counted. In fact, the early wardens were paid by the fines they collected. When they wanted to eat, they went out and made an arrest.

Today's warden, The Volunteer contends, is an educator, a conservator, a sort of a scoutmaster who teaches gun safety, a welcoming chairman for state visitors and an unofficial guide to where to hunt and fish. He is a first aid instructor, a mechanic who can repair a motor, and a general public relations man for the Conservation Department.

Ice Safety Suggestions The Wisconsin Game Laboratory, Madison, has distributed to sheriffs, police and wardens, a memo sheet containing a few suggestions on ice safety. Here are some taken from the sheet that apply generally:

"Black" or five inch ice is generally safe.

Methods of Rescue Ladder — Probably best is the light ladder and line. Ladder is laid flat on ice and shoved to person in the hole. Line is used as extension if necessary. Ladder rungs make excellent handgrips for victim. Even if ice breaks under double weight of rescuer and victim, ladder will always angle up from broken ice area.

Ring Buoy — Where rescuer has to remain at some distance from victim due to weak ice, a ring buoy (or spare tire) with coil of line with weighted end can be sealed along ice to victim with good accuracy for considerable distance. To weight, use night stick, unloaded gun, stubby branch, or huge knot (size of fist). Make loop on weighted end so numbed victim can get it below armpits.

Pole — Long light pole with short length of line ending in large loop, where rescuer can get fairly close to victim.

Boat Sled — Fairly high-sided, flat-bottomed punt with ends deeply undercut, shod with several steel runners lengthwise on bottom. A cheap, very good, light weight fiberglass boat sled of this type is currently available in two sizes from Army surplus stocks. If interested, please contact this laboratory for further information on this item.

Ice Awl — Stout clasp knife driven into ice at arm's length from hole, by victim, may enable him to draw himself out and along ice to safety.

Board — Use two planks or wide boards; rescuer lies full length on one plank, shoves the

U Thant Calls For Trade Curb On Katanga

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary-General U Thant calls on the United States, Britain and Belgium today to start applying an economic squeeze to the Congo's breakaway province of Katanga.

The United States and Belgium were said to have assured Thant they would go as far as a boycott of Katanga's rich copper and cobalt exports if he feels it necessary to bring Katanga President Moise Tshombe into line.

However, informants said Britain has told the secretary-general it is unwilling to go along with sanctions or other steps that could be viewed as applying force against the province.

Britain has argued that sanctions against Katanga could bring economic disaster to the rest of the Congo and defeat Thant's plan to reunite the divided country.

Thant apparently was determined to carry out his threat despite Britain's stand. He is said to have been bolstered by expressions of support from U.S. Ambassador Charles W. Yost and Ambassador Walter Lorian of Belgium.

Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak warned in Brussels Tuesday night of the possibility of new fighting. He said that unless Tshombe takes a "decisive step which was asked from him, sanctions, very tough sanctions will then be taken."

As a first step Thant will seek to halt air traffic into Elisabethville, the Katanga capital, set up blocks on rail lines and cut off mail and telecommunication links. Belgium is being asked to pull out about 700 Belgian technicians who play a vital role in the province.

First man has both arms free; next man seizes ankles of first man with one hand, the third man seizes second man's ankles with one hand, etc. When first man has crawled to within arm's reach, he seizes victim by wrists, then the whole line of men wriggles back to safety. Note: All in chain must keep weight spread out. Hand not holding ankle helps in the edging forward and backing-up wriggle.

Spare Tire — This, even mounted on a steel rim, will support weight of four men. Slide tire along ice to victim, tie it to rope if handy.

Self-Rescue — Extend both arms on surface of ice to support body while calling for help. Victim's legs naturally tend to come up forward under ice. # Russia Charges Western Spy Plot in Moscow

By GEORGE SYVERTSEN
MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union has charged that British and American intelligence services have wormed their way into its central science administration. A Russian scientific worker has been arrested on charges of selling secret material.

American intelligence since last year, Tass news agency said Tuesday night, and had an elaborate set of spy equipment in his possession when Soviet security agents seized him.

A British businessman and two U.S. Embassy staff members were specifically accused of buying or receiving secret information from Penkovsky on scientific, technical, political and military matters.

The Americans mentioned were Richard Carl Jacob, 26, secretary of the U.S. Embassy until he was expelled from the Soviet Union last month on spying charges, and a staff member named only as "Karlson." The assistant agricultural attache since last spring has been Rodney Carlson.

The British businessman named was Greville Wynne, arrested in Hungary Nov. 2 and now awaiting trial in Moscow on spying charges.

Soviet authorities also arrested Jacob Nov. 2 and ordered him out of the country Nov. 5. They charged he was taking secret material from an apartment house mail box when apprehended. Jacob, now at work for the State Department in Washington, said he never heard of Penkovsky and that Moscow's charges were absurd.

Highway Dept. Issues Warning On Stickers

A CLEAN WINDSHIELD is not necessarily a clear windshield, especially if it has illegal stickers on it, says the Minnesota Highway Department.

To be legal, stickers must be authorized by law, by the Director of Civil Defense or by the Commissioner of Highways. At the present time, only four types of stickers are legal:

- State park
- Civil Defense
- Auto registration application
- Safety check

The state park sticker is issued, for a fee, on an annual basis and only the current year's sticker may be affixed; the Civil Defense sticker is to be displayed on the windshield as long as the owner or operator is engaged in Civil Defense activities; the registration application sticker is to be removed as soon as the license plates are received, while the safety check sticker should be removed prior to the next year's safety check.

ALL OTHER stickers, the department points out, must be removed from windshields, side and rear windows of motor vehicles in the interest of safety, regardless of any "understanding" or assumption that they are permissible.

Also on the illegal list are objects suspended between the driver and the windshield, such as baby shoes, "king size" dice, leis, etc., which obstruct the driver's view.

Parking lot stickers, or other similar identifying stickers, should be attached to the back of rear-view mirrors so that they can be seen from the front of the vehicle, or attached to the car's bumper or elsewhere on the outside of the car where they will not interfere with vision.

MANY MINNESOTANS, after touring during the summer months, return to their homes with a great number of stickers on side and rear windows of their car. All of these must be removed to comply with motor vehicle laws.

MD's Warn Of Silo Filler's Disease

THE MINNESOTA State Medical Association cautions farm workers to be on the lookout for silo filler's disease, a lung condition that sometimes strikes persons whose chores require that they enter silos where feed is stored.

The first two cases were reported in 1954, but the disease was not clearly recognized until about 1956. Even today very few individuals are acquainted with the facts about silo filler's disease and its importance.

The damage is caused by nitrogen dioxide gas, which is given off from freshly stored material in a silo. Much more is produced by alfalfa than by corn silage. Gas production reaches its peak within 24 hours, and seems to be over in about two or three days. The gas is heavier than air, so it goes to the lowest available level.

IT IS A YELLOWISH gas and in strong concentrations may be visible as a yellowish-orange haze. Its odor is pungent. Immediately on contact with respiratory passages it causes a burning irritation. Once in the lungs it unites with the moisture there and forms nitric acid, which damages tissues on contact. Two to five minutes exposure can be fatal.

Generally, in a matter of five minutes the exposure may be so great that the person becomes unconscious. With a lesser exposure, the person complains of coughing, trouble with breathing and weakness. There are two forms of the disease. In the acute form the patient is very ill from the start. In a milder case the patient seems to get over initial symptoms rapidly, except for a slight cough, night sweating and progressive weakness. In this latent type the patient becomes acutely ill in about three weeks and the disease may possibly prove fatal at this time or leave the person a chronic invalid. However, with good medical care he may regain his health after many months.

IF PEOPLE ARE made aware of the facts, silo filler's disease can be avoided. The way to prevent it is to stay out of a silo for at least seven to ten days after putting in fresh material.

Praises Selection of Duxbury as Speaker

SELECTION OF Lloyd Duxbury of California as the new speaker of the Minnesota House of Representatives when the Legislature convenes in January has assured the state of smoothly functioning House no matter who the governor might be.

Duxbury is a relatively young man for whom this newspaper has long had much admiration. He has stood for the conservative cause in the past several sessions, oftentimes greatly outnumbered. Although the liberals had firm control, the voice of Duxbury was heard often in behalf of sound, conservative government in Minnesota—Murray County Herald, Slayton, Minn.

U.S. Learns 'Brinkmanship'

By SEN. BARRY GOLDWATER

The lesson we learned from Cuba, which I discussed in my last column, is one that many nations have had to learn down through the ages.

It is not a pleasant lesson to learn or to remember, for the application of this lesson carries great risk. It always has, and until human nature undergoes some kind of radical change, it always will.

Former Secretary of State John Foster Dulles called the lesson "brinkmanship." He said there were times when, in the defense of freedom, a great nation had no alternative but to go to the "brink of war."

This is what we did when the President called Khrushchev's hand in Cuba, levied a blockade and demanded that Russia remove its "offensive" weapons from the island 90 miles off the coast of Florida. We chartered a collision course and stayed with it until the other vehicle veered away.

In this instance, the United States made proper use of its strength to uphold its own vital interests and the cause of freedom throughout the world. True, it was a long time coming, and some of us wondered whether the most powerful nation in the world would ever rouse itself in a time of recurrent peril. But it did come. The lesson was learned. The experience was applied. And we had the satisfaction of watching the Russians back down in the face of the only thing Khrushchev really understands—the employment of strength.

WHAT I AM talking about here is the initial act of calling Khrushchev's bluff. It has nothing to do with subsequent agreements and negotiations which could still leave us in the position of guaranteeing the safety of a cancerous, Communist dictatorship in Cuba. Nor am I addressing myself to the still unanswered questions about such things as a possible base for Russian submarines, the problem of on-site inspections and the puzzle of how we make sure the Soviets don't reintroduce their missiles and bombers. The possibility still exists that we could win the battle—in this case, the confrontation—and lose the war. But it is to the battle, the employment of military might and brinkmanship in a situation requiring such methods, that I am addressing these comments.

In Cuba, we have learned the worth of brinkmanship; and having learned this, the question arises of whether we will retain the device as a continuing instrument of national policy in the cold war. Put another way, the question is whether the most powerful nation on earth will make the proper use of its power in the defense of freedom in other situations. It must be remembered that one exercise in brinkmanship during the Eisenhower administration didn't convince the Communists. After it had been used when the Seventh Fleet went to the defense of Quemoy and Matsu, it still had to be employed in the Middle East when Marines were dispatched to Lebanon.

WHAT I AM saying is that one display of American firmness backed by strength is not likely to persuade the Communists into a permanent attitude of non-aggressive timidity. I suggest that they can be expected to test us time and time again, just as they did in the Dulles era.

How do you stand, sir?

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Decision Already Made To Pull Turk Missiles

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Here is the inside story that should be known along with the Saturday Evening Post's dynamite-laden charge that Adlai Stevenson "wanted a Munich; wanted to trade the Turkish, Italian and British missile bases for the Cuban bases."

What the Post authors either forgot to mention or didn't know was that well before the Cuban crisis, a decision had been made to pull our missiles out of these three countries.

This was made on a recommendation by the Joint Chiefs of Staff that we had enough ICBM's (intercontinental ballistic missiles) so that we no longer needed IRBM's (intermediate range ballistic missiles) either in Europe or the Mediterranean area. The United States had pushed ahead with its 1000-g-range missile program, had put itself well ahead of the Soviet, and the Thor and Jupiter missiles in Turkey, Italy and England have become out of date.

Their chief disadvantage is that they are stationary, cannot be moved, and the Russians know exactly where they are. Therefore they could be knocked out in the first 30 minutes of a war. All they do is create political problems for our allies, especially the British where a large segment of the population has been clamoring against Prime Minister Macmillan that these missiles make England a sitting duck.

In contrast, the Polaris missiles, launched from atomic powered submarines, are quick and mobile. An enemy has no idea where they are, so the Pentagon plan was to switch over this side the Polaris, away from the Thor and Jupiter; just as the Russians have much greater missile strength in submarines off our Atlantic and Pacific coasts than they ever had with the 42 intermediate missiles on Cuban bases.

What Stevenson proposed therefore, was to negotiate with something that we had already considered virtually worthless and were going to get rid of anyway.

Furthermore, his proposal was that we bargain with our Italian and Turkish missiles only after Khrushchev had agreed to the withdrawal of his missiles in Cuba, and then only within the framework of overall disarmament to be discussed in the United Nations.

In other words, Stevenson argued that once Khrushchev had shown his good faith by removing Russian missiles from Cuban soil, the United States should agree to negotiate regarding the missiles on Turkish and Italian soil which the Pentagon had decided we were going to get rid of anyway. But, he proposed, we should do this under the general plan for disarmament.

ACTUALLY a letter was drafted by Llewellyn Thompson, former ambassador to Moscow, along these lines. Thompson has known Khrushchev intimately, knows how sensitive he is about the Turkish missiles, which are less than 90 miles from his southern border. It was believed the offer to negotiate would open up important new avenues for disarmament and better understanding after the Cuban missile withdrawal but the letter was never sent, because President Kennedy decided that, any promise of missile withdrawal from Turkey during the Cuban crisis would look like American weakness, both to the Kremlin and to the American public, then about to vote in a crucial election.

There were many other details in this crucial discussion some of which this column will report later. However, the important fact which the Saturday Evening Post authors neglected was that Adlai Stevenson proposed negotiating with something we didn't want anyway, only after the President's demand for the removal of Russian missiles from Cuba had been accepted.

Note — Interesting aftermath is that six Thor missiles are already in the process of removal from England and the Jupiter missiles will be removed from Italy and Turkey sometime next year — unless they are held up for further bargaining purposes. Gen. Norstad is still opposed but the Joint Chiefs of Staff once more have overruled him.

IT LOOKS as if one of the chief benefactors of the $100-a-plate cultural center dinner will be the telephone company. Its bill for the hook-up of about 70 closed-circuit TV outlets will run well over $148,000. Some of the smaller communities, which joined in the President's appeal to help build the cultural center, are now stuck with a $2,000-or-so phone bill.

Harold Kleffer, in charge of physical details for the cultural drive, at first was loath to discuss telephone cost, said he didn't know what it was.

"Do you mean to say you would go into this without having some estimate in advance?" he was asked.

He then reported that the advance estimate for 2 1/2 hours showing on 65 screen locations was $148,000, but that with 70 cities finally participating the bill would be more. This is for the phone company alone.

KIEFFER suggested to the phone company that it donate its services, but got the reply that this was a tariff matter. He did not point out to A.T. and T. officials that the Kennedy administration had pushed legislation through Congress giving it a sizable chunk of the stock in the revolutionary new communications satellite corporation. Kennedy himself pushed this, despite the vigorous opposition of Senators Keftauer and Gore, Tenn., Morse, Ore., and others who organized a three-week filibuster against what they called the biggest giveaway of modern times.

If you give away your money when you are still living, you can avoid heavy taxes that otherwise your estate would have to pay when you die.

If you entertain someone at lunch who may buy goods or services from you, a deduction from taxes is authorized, but if you take a man out to lunch who might be able to help you locate a job, or even give you one, this isn't a business expense at all in the eyes of present-day law.

If you travel for your company on business, the company is entitled to tax deductions for your expenses, but if you travel every day 50 miles to and from your home in the suburbs and your office in the city, you do this at your own expense and get no tax deductions for it.

Nobody is justified in cheating the government by violating the laws, but there's a difference between evasion and avoidance. You can legally avoid taxes but you can't legally evade them.

It might be thought that equality can be achieved merely by assuming that everybody is honest and by assuming, too, that the Treasury Department also is always honest when it writes tax regulations interpreting the law — though the courts for years have been struggling to find out when a regulation is really a fair interpretation of what Congress wrote into law.

BUT WHAT is a fair tax law? Books galore have been written on the subject and many legislators have conscientiously struggled with the dilemma for decades. It may come as a surprise to the younger generation of today, but before 1913 it wasn't constitutional to levy any federal income tax at all. Yet the nation made wonderful strides in the 137 years between 1776 and 1913. It will be immediately argued that the population wasn't as big prior to 50 years ago as it is today, but it is hard to concede that unfairness become logical as the quantity of population grows.

It's like saying the Constitution or the Ten Commandments are outdated today and that equity and morality vanish when a nation gets to be over 100 million in population.

At the present system of taxation — federal, state and city — is inequitable and unfair to many people, and everyone who knows taxation concedes it. "Equal rights for all" seems to disappear when you consider that, by living in one state, you avoid taxes which you would have to pay in another.

"Discrimination!" is the accusation flung these days at any violation of "equal rights," as in housing or in the use of public facilities. Much is heard about "the equal protection of the law," but somehow there is no equal protection when taxes are levied. The Constitution gives the Congress power to levy taxes, but it's doubtful whether a convincing argument can be made that the other provisions of the Constitution — including the one about "due process of law" — have been at any time repealed just to allow taxes to be imposed arbitrarily and disproportionately.

ANOTHER discrimination hardly ever discussed in the perspective of constitutional rights is the exemption from certain federal taxes enjoyed by citizens who own the bonds and notes of states and cities. Yet the federal government has to raise tax money from everybody to defend the mili-

Tax Reform Long Overdue

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — "Equal rights for all" probably would get the highest percentage of public approval ever recorded in any Gallup poll because theoretically everybody is for the principle. But, actually, nobody connected with government today really believes in the idea when dealing with the tax life of the nation.

If, for instance, you are efficient, resourceful and enterprising, you pay considerably more taxes than if you are incompetent, inefficient and lazy.

If you give away your money when you are still living, you can avoid heavy taxes that otherwise your estate would have to pay when you die.

If you entertain someone at lunch who may buy goods or services from you, a deduction from taxes is authorized, but if you take a man out to lunch who might be able to help you locate a job, or even give you one, this isn't a business expense at all in the eyes of present-day law.

If you travel for your company on business, the company is entitled to tax deductions for your expenses, but if you travel every day 50 miles to and from your home in the suburbs and your office in the city, you do this at your own expense and get no tax deductions for it.

Nobody is justified in cheating the government by violating the laws, but there's a difference between evasion and avoidance. You can legally avoid taxes but you can't legally evade them.

It might be thought that equality can be achieved merely by assuming that everybody is honest and by assuming, too, that the Treasury Department also is always honest when it writes tax regulations interpreting the law — though the courts for years have been struggling to find out when a regulation is really a fair interpretation of what Congress wrote into law.

It's like saying the Constitution or the Ten Commandments are outdated today and that equity and morality vanish when a nation gets to be over 100 million in population.

At the present system of taxation — federal, state and city — is inequitable and unfair to many people, and everyone who knows taxation concedes it. "Equal rights for all" seems to disappear when you consider that, by living in one state, you avoid taxes which you would have to pay in another.

ANOTHER discrimination hardly ever discussed in the perspective of constitutional rights is the exemption from certain federal taxes enjoyed by citizens who own the bonds and notes of states and cities. Yet the federal government has to raise tax money from everybody to defend the miliitary security of those same states against foreign enemies. Also, the income from interest on federal bonds is not exempt from taxation by the U.S. treasury.

Tax "reform" is long overdue, but the chances are it will continue to go untouched except by the politically minded who come forward with schemes for flagrant discrimination.

If by chance all exemptions, for example, were removed and taxes were levied not on incomes but as an assessment measuring the benefits received by the citizen and his family from the federal government, everybody would have to pay something for himself and family. A scale of levies would cover more necessities and higher taxes for the enterprising and talented few. The majority do not create jobs or create sources of wealth. It is the minority who invent new methods and have the initiative to keep the economy going. They are compelled to be content, however, with whatever residue the government may choose to allocate to them from their earnings.

This system could anesthetize the economy some day, but the politicians aren't as yet worried about that contingency so long as "deficit spending" is considered a virtue and "equal rights for all" is accepted as popular in everything else but taxation.

High Blood Pressure Explained

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: What food should be avoided by a person with high blood pressure?—Mrs. M. F.

Food doesn't cause high blood pressure. Changing your diet won't prevent or correct it.

There may be special instances in which some change is helpful. The doctor may urge that you cut down on salt, because it encourages the undesirable accumulation of fluid in the body.

Or if the action of the kidneys is impaired, as sometimes occurs with the condition, it may be wise to reduce the amount of protein. The damaged kidneys have trouble removing nitrogen wastes.

If overweight, then a low calorie diet, simply for the purpose of reducing weight, is advisable.

None of these — except a reducing diet if necessary — will prevent high blood pressure.

I say this because so many people are likely to jump to the erroneous conclusion that treatment to correct or control an ailment will, if used early, also prevent it.

P. L. G.: No, there is nothing in orange juice which will cause or encourage the formation of gall stones.

Primary security of those same states against foreign enemies. Also, the income from interest on federal bonds is not exempt from taxation by the U.S. treasury.

SHELTER MARKING . . . The first five buildings in Winona County — outside the city of Winona — to be designated as approved fallout shelters were marked last week by representatives of the U.S. Corps of Engineers and Civil Defense.

Ray Johns, Lewiston, Winona County Civil Defense director, right, and two engineers here are seen placing markings at Camera Art Studio, Lewiston, the first building outside Winona to be marked. Camera Art has a capacity of 55 persons. Other shelters marked last week were Hruska Building, Lewiston, with a capacity of 90; St. Matthew's Church, St. Charles, 50; St. Charles High School, 380, and the Oaks, Minnesota City, 120.

Previously, some 30 buildings in the city of Winona — including public and parochial schools, municipal buildings and structures on campuses of St. Mary's College, College of Saint Teresa and Winona State College, had been marked. To receive designation as an approved public fallout shelter, a building must meet protective factor standards established by the Corps of Engineers. After approval and marking the buildings will be stocked by Civil Defense. (Camera Art photo)

Rambler Third In Auto Sales

DETROIT, MICH. (AP)—Automobile production standings for 1962 will show considerable change in the middle ranks from the 1961 finish.

Seven of the top 10 makes have swapped positions. Eight of the top 10 will show increased totals for the year even though some will slip a notch or two in the rankings.

The top 10 rankings will include two newcomers—the Ford Fairlane and Chevy II—which were not in full production in 1961. They replace Plymouth and Comet.

Chances of any change between now and the end of the year are slight. Here is how they stand presently, with last year's position in parentheses:

1. Chevrolet (1); 2. Ford Galaxie (2); 3. Rambler (4); 4. Pontiac (7); 5. Ford Fairlane (new); 6. Falcon (3); 7. Chevy II (new); 8. Oldsmobile (6); 9. Corvair (5); 10. Buick (10).

Automotive News production estimates put American Motors' total for the year through Dec. 8 at 424,778, compared with 343,472 at the same time in 1961. Production for second-ranked Galaxie is listed at 672,187 units. Fourth-ranked Pontiac has a count of 375,326.

Falcon and Corvair, both compact, are the only makes in the top 10 which will fail to match last year's production totals. Both were cut back to make room for new entries from their companies. At Ford it was the intermediate Fairlane and at Chevrolet it was the Chevy II, a conventional compact.

The industry will pass the 6,500,000 mark for the year sometime this week. Output is running more than 1,300,000 ahead of the similar period a year ago.

Superior Forest Program Planned

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—Forest Supervisor L. P. Neff said Tuesday that one of the largest building programs in several years will get under way this winter in Superior National Forest.

Neff said bids will be opened at Milwaukee this month on 13 projects authorized under the new federal accelerated public works program. The project's cost will be more than $500,000.

The improvements include camp grounds, residences and administration buildings at district ranger stations and some $300,000 worth of roads.

Whitehall School Switch Planned

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special)—The transition of the grades from kindergarten through sixth from the Memorial High School building to Sunset Elementary School will be made during Christmas vacation according to John Brown, administrator.

At the same time, the seventh and eighth grades will be moved to the high school from Sunset School, where they have been the past two years.

Work on the addition to Sunset School is nearly completed. Book storage cupboards will be installed by Larson Builders, Inc., Whitehall, within two weeks. At present the clock and intercommunication system is being installed by DuKane Sound System in cooperation with the local Dewey Bensed Electrical Co. There also is a small amount of plumbing to be completed.

All kitchen equipment has arrived, and the walk-in cooler has been installed. Tim Bergum, Whitehall, electrical contractor in the kitchen, is connecting appliances. Frank Kube, Arcadia, plumber, and the E. J. Colliton Plumbing and Heating Co., Whitehall, awarded the sewer and floor drain contracts, are nearly finished. The kitchen is expected to be completed by Christmas.

Many Legislators Favor Change in State Tax Setup

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
More than half the members of the Minnesota legislature who answered questions in an Associated Press survey about the upcoming session said they would favor the elimination of personal property taxes on business and farm equipment and inventories.

The personal property tax is frequently attacked as an unfavorable factor in Minnesota's business climate.

Forty-five of the 84 senators and representatives who sent replies said they believe the tax should be eliminated. Some made their approval conditional. Two said they would favor elimination if it could be done without imposition of a sales tax.

Another 11 legislators said they believe the tax should be revised to be more equitable, if it cannot be eliminated, and nine others urged careful study.

Opposing elimination were 10 legislators. Some said they would favor doing away with the tax "as a part of over all tax reform" and one said he would support such a move "only with a sales tax."

The sales tax was the most popular choice as a way to replace the revenue which would be lost if the personal property tax were eliminated. Twenty-three legislators named the sales tax, but some who favored elimination were unable to suggest a replacement.

Other suggested replacement sources included increases in income and excise tax rates, a business occupation tax, a gross earnings tax, a tax "based on ability to pay," "more taxpayers," a sales tax on restaurant meals, hotel and motel rooms, a gross inventory tax and tax revision.

Of those who answered questions 38 said they would favor imposition of a sales tax to replace some tax. Five others said they would favor considering a sales tax as part of a tax reform plan.

Forty-five legislators said they would oppose a sales tax if it were added to present taxes as a means of raising additional revenue, and only 10 said they would support a sales tax under these conditions.

Warehouse Burns In Minneapolis

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Flames heavily damaged a warehouse of Industrial Supply Co. while tying up supper hour traffic at the south edge of the downtown district Tuesday night.

Loss, estimated by the firm at $150,000, included large quantities of machine equipment such as power transmissions, chains, gears and belts.

Firemen, battling flames in subzero cold, halted them before they reached the company offices in the front part of the one-story building at 1100 3rd Ave. S. The blaze was believed to have started from faulty electrical wiring.

Arcadia District Sets School Sale

ARCADIA, Wis. — A special meeting of Arcadia school district will be held Monday at 8 p.m. to authorize sale of property no longer needed by the district.

One will be the sale of a residence and outbuildings on property adjacent to the school which has been purchased for the building program recently authorized by the voters. The American Valley school, now closed, and the land on which it stands will be sold. The board also asks authority to sell the Matt Feltes School, which is no longer in use. The land on which it stands will revert to the original owners.

Farm Management Group Names Officers

WEST CONCORD, Minn. — Lawrence Schafer, Owatonna, is the new president of the Southeast Minnesota Farm Management Service.

He was elected at the group's 34th annual meeting at the high school here Saturday. Schafer was secretary during the past year.

William Franke, Northfield, vice president and Francis Kottschade, Kellogg, secretary, also are newly elected.

Directors were named for the 14 counties served. They include Clarence Carpenter, Olmsted; Kottschade, Wahasha, and Deane Hassig, Winona.

DEAR ABBY:

Sounds Like He Is Enjoying It

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am an elderly widow. My brother (37) recently lost his first wife, so I am keeping house for him and his two children. My brother is young enough to find another good woman to be his wife and raise his children. The problem: The married women in this town don't leave him alone. Supposedly respectable married women, living with their husbands, have called him up at two in the morning and begged him to meet them somewhere. I couldn't believe it until he had me listen in on the extension. Four of them are on his trail. How can a decent man find a decent single woman when the married ones throw themselves at him? CONCERNED SISTER

DEAR CONCERNED: No woman will call a man at two in the morning and beg him to meet her somewhere unless she has had some encouragement. (One might, but not four!) There are plenty of decent widows and single women around. Your brother hasn't been looking in the right places.

DEAR ABBY: In the first place, when I call my doctor for an appointment, his office girl has to know it all. I realize she must know how much time to save for the appointment. But I have a ten-party line and do you think I want the whole neighborhood knowing my trouble? When I went to his office, the nurse gave me a shot and a bill for $9.50. I never even got to see the doctor. Are nurses doctors now? DISGUSTED

DEAR DISGUSTED: Nurses are not doctors. They only follow the doctor's instructions. Some nurses are more expert at giving shots than doctors because they get more practice. Next time, if you want to see the doctor, speak up at the office. Don't need me behind his back.

DEAR ABBY: After a seven-year courtship, the girl I love has told me she would like to be "friends." Her reason is that she doesn't think she is in love with me. Abby, I practically supported that girl. I paid a dentist $800 to fix her teeth. (She needed dentures.) I paid I don't know how many bills for her. I got her father out of jail and set her brother up in business. I proved my love for this girl in a thousand ways, and now she offers me "friendship." Doesn't she owe me marriage? How can I get her to change her mind? RON

DEAR RON: You can't. And don't try too hard or you might succeed. A fellow who has to get down on his knees and beg a girl to marry him is lucky if he gets turned down. She owes you plenty, but marriage as a "pay off" would be bad for both of you.

DEAR ABBY: With holiday time drawing near, please warn your readers to be careful when buying Christmas cards. Last year I bought fifty pretty, colorful little Christmas cards and mailed them to my friends. I later discovered the verse inside read: "This little card has come to say 'A gift from me to the way!'"

Best wishes, "HORRIFIED"

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Mazeppa Co-op Profits Decline

MAZEPPA, Minn.—Net profits of the Mazeppa Farms Cooperative Dairy Association decreased $10,000 from last year.

At the association's annual meeting here Saturday, Hans P. Larson, manager-operator, said that the decline was due to overpayment for milk during the first months of the fiscal year. Patron's net income totaled $1,984.

Total sales were $797,387 and more than $500,000 of that came from butter production.

Two directors were re-elected to three-year terms. They were Allan Arendt and Donald Lemmerman. Donald Grubick is association president.

CHOIR PARTY NORTHON, Minn.—Following their rehearsal Monday evening at Trinity Lutheran Church, members and their families held a Christmas party at the school. Gifts were exchanged and games played. Ed. Hilbert, Gensmer and Emil Benck served on the entertainment committee. Mrs. Ervin Benow and Mrs. Alvin Gensmer were on the refreshment committee.

Hi, and happy holidays! I thoroughly enjoyed my many Summer and Autumn visits to Minnesota. I had a chance to greet you personally. But it's time to be home this month in our block, we have a progressive "till the trees" party with beer, easy-fix food, and neighborly fun. Beer, you know, is enjoyed in two out of three American homes today. In fact, in national consumption, beer rates right below milk and coffee, now. Serve it often, this season!

Special Wreaths from Stuttgart, Germany: now modern reel-venting machines have invaded traditional berry-garland. I'm reminding cream cheese, whipped with a bit of green food coloring and decorated with sliced stuffed olives, can turn pretzels into tasty Christmas wreaths. You also might hollow out a whole (unpeeled) cucumber, stuff with tuna and mayonnaise, and slice. Garnish with pimiento and olive. Pass chilled beer, and there's a party!

NASON ON EDUCATION

Students Need Parents, Teachers

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D., Professor of Education, University of Southern California

If children are to get the most out of their schools, parents and teachers are going to have to get together more frequently.

Parents are not always aware of the special services offered by schools. Teachers are not always aware of special needs of individual children.

Many schools offer special training in music, art, posture, speech and remedial work. Larger communities have vocational schools with courses leading to semi-technical jobs. These opportunities are increasing.

The United States Office of Education reports the expansion of vocational school programs which override the usual school district boundaries. The response is enthusiastic. States required to match on a 50-50 basis have actually over-matched federal funds for such schools.

There is no legal restriction on the type of training to be offered—the only requirement is that there be a useful job at the end of it. (This factor alone is a powerful motivation for high school students who have lost interest in academic subject matter.) The aim is to develop a half million skilled workers, particularly for technical jobs in engineering and science.

Parents should learn about the opportunities in their locality. Here are ways in which they can cooperate with the schools:

If the student is in the lower half of his class, vocational or technical training may be a realistic goal. Don't insist that Junior go all out and become an engineer, a doctor or a scientist. He may very well be happier and more successful as a technician. The pay is excellent.

A conference with the counselor can establish goals in line with the student's potential. Should he demonstrate college ability by moving to the upper half of his class, he can change his goal. Any training he has received up to the present time still will be valuable to him. Some schools offer an hour a week or more of posture training. Parental consent is usually necessary if the student is to be assigned to this activity. Parents should consult the posture teacher on exercises for their child to be carried out at home.

SPECIAL CLASSES in speech therapy become more effective when parents lend their cooperation. Training in music may hinge on parents' willingness to rent instruments for their child and to encourage their practice. Often such an opportunity is necessary for a well-adjusted child.

These are but samples of the special opportunities available. They aren't frills. They provide an opportunity for the development of special talents. They help overcome handicaps. Often the activities give a psychological lift to the entire student body.

Interested parents must help schools guide their children into the activities that are best for them. Schools can't do it alone. And these decisions are too important to be left entirely to the children themselves.

A minor technological breakthrough has been achieved in Yellowstone National Park. Bear-proof lids, placed on garbage cans throughout the park in the summer of 1962, did all efforts of grizzlies to remove them.

Lighting Studio Asking Addition

An application by Winona Lighting Studio for variation from the city's zoning ordinance requirements to permit enlargement of its building at 528 Huff St. will be heard by the Board of Zoning Appeals at its meeting next Wednesday.

The firm, which manufactures stained glass lighting fixtures, began operations last April after receiving authorization by the zoning appeals board for non-conforming use of the building in a business district for light manufacturing operations.

Philip Conway, Winona Lighting secretary-treasurer and plant manager, said that the company wants to build a 16- by 44-foot, one-story addition to the north side of the existing building. It would be used to accommodate operations.

The matter comes before the zoning appeals board because it involves an extension of non-conforming use in the business district.

The hearing has been scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in the municipal courtroom at City Hall.

Battery-Powered Watches on Sale

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The long-embattled watch industry has a new rivalry these days—the mainspring vs. the electric battery.

In an industry where change traditionally comes slowly, the inroads of the tiny battery haven't been too striking as yet. But the makers of battery-powered watches hope to do about 5 per cent of the total business this year.

With about 20 million watches being sold annually in the United States for a dollar volume estimated at $550 million, the relatively newcomer to the competitive field isn't much of a headache yet to the makers of mainsprings.

But old hands in the industry have learned to be patient. They note it took 50 years for wrist watches to replace pocket watches in America. And the self-winding watch took some 20 years to become really popular.

The electric-battery watchmakers are counting on the big inroads that form of energy is making in many fields to attract attention to their product.

They point out that compact energy cells have taken over in many devices once dominated by motors, plug-ins or hand power. They cite battery-run electric shavers and toothbrushes. Pencil sharpeners are operated by batteries in some offices. There are battery-powered cigarette lighters for smokers and even swizzle sticks for bartenders. And you may have noted that teen-agers carry battery powered radios and record players.

Watches first appeared during the Renaissance. Until recently the source of power has always been the mainspring. For centuries this was wound by hand. The spring moves the balance wheel, which in turn moves the hands of the watch. In recent years the self-winding variety has kept the mainspring wound by the motion of the wearer's arm.

The latest watch version, as now offered by a majority of watch companies, including Bulova, Hamilton, Elgin and Timex, does away with the mainspring.

In its place a battery slightly larger than an aspirin tablet feeds power to the balance wheel. The battery lasts about a year and the owner never winds his watch, whether it is on his wrist or in a drawer. The electric current keeps the balance wheel going. A new cell costs about $1.

The Atlantic Coast Conference was founded in 1953.

Redmen, Auggies Clash Tonight

St. Mary's College opens its 1962-63 MIAC campaign tonight in Minneapolis, facing unbeaten Augsburg in St. Melby Hall.

The Redmen, a preseason possible darkhorse candidate, will have an opportunity to see just how strong their chances are against the high-flying Auggies, one of the top title contenders.

Augsburg has four victories in as many non-conference starts, the latest a walkaway at St. Olaf Monday night while the Redmen were scrambling to a 74-72 victory over visiting St. Ambrose to run their record to 3-2.

St. Mary's will have several other strong incentives for victory. First, the Redmen are still smarting from an 86-66 trimming received in Minneapolis last season after polishing off the Auggies 60-54 in Winona. Second, the Redmen are still seeking their first victory away from the home reservation, after losing successive road contests to Stout and Lakeland.

Augsburg Coach Ernie Anderson has nine lettermen, including four starters, back from last year's fourth-place finisher in the MIAC.

Captain Lloyd Raymond, a 5-8 guard, tops the veteran crew. Raymond was the leading Auggie scorer last season, averaging 13 points per game. The speedy senior tossed in 27 against the Redmen as the Auggies waited to their 86-66 victory, after being held to only seven points in the first meeting of the two schools.

Teaming with Raymond in the backcourt will be either Gary Reuss (5-10) or Steve Strommen (5-11), both lettermen.

Big Dan Anderson (6-8) handles the pivot, with assist from Roger Hanson (6-7). Completing the Auggie lineup are forwards Charlie Anderson (6-3) and Wendell Carlson (6-1).

The Minneapolis school has monogram winners Phil Hanson, 6-2 guard, and Dan Meyers, 6-foot forward, available for reserve duty along with freshman Doug Pautz (6-4), a forward.

St. Mary's Coach Ken Wittgen plans to go with the same five that started against St. Ambrose. Denny Burgman (6-5) and Roger Pylewski (6-6) will operate at the forwards, with Jim Rockers (6-7) in the pivot.

Al Williams (6-2) and Jim Clarkin (6-0) are set for guard duty.

Also due to see considerable action are forwards Tom Hall (6-2), Dan McKian (6-5), and George Valaika (6-5) and guards Mike Maloney (6-3) and Frank Meekins (5-11).

Maple Leaf Fives Sweep in 4 Tilts

Maple Leaf Conference squads enjoyed a profitable evening Tuesday night, racking up four victories in as many starts.

Co-leaders Lanesboro and Preston were joined in the winner's circle by Harmony and Wykoff, while Spring Valley and Chatfield were idle.

Lanesboro bombed Houston 66-45, Preston trampled LeRoy 60-35, Harmony trampled Spring Grove 67-38, and Wykoff squeaked by Grand Meadow 47-44.

LANESBORO 66, HOUSTON 45
Lanesboro posted three men in double figures and led all the way en route to an easy 66-45 victory over visiting Houston.

The Burros' Brian Bell dropped in 16 points, while Larry Danielson and Jim Vigness had 12 apiece. Vigness also shone under the boards.

Lanesboro enjoyed a 31:22 half-time margin.

Denny Lashine pumped in 12 points in a losing effort for LeRoy.
The "B" contest went to Preston 43-25.

HARMONY 67, SPRING GROVE 38
Bob Hutton and Bill Wickert combined for 31 points to lead Harmony to a 67-38 victory at Spring Grove.

Hutton canned 16, while Wickert contributed 15, as the Cardinal offense toppled the host Lions.

Keith Asleson chipped in with 12 for the victors, while Melvin Hornuth netted 11 points to pace the Spring Grove scoring.

WYKOFF 47, GRAND MEADOW 44
Merlin Hare dunked two free throws with five seconds remaining to cement a 47-44 Wykoff victory over Grand Meadow.

The Wykats held a 36-30 lead going into the final period, but needed Hare's charities to halt a rally by the visitors.

Roger Veerman tallied 12 points to lead Wykoff, while Duane Benson took evening honors with 20 for Grand Meadow. Bob Losey added 13 for the losers.

Grand Meadow copped the "B" game 44-37.

STEIN CRACKS 667

Ruth Hopf Clips 247 in 614 Set

It was nine degrees below zero outside but it was a lot hotter inside Tuesday night at Hal-Rod Lanes and the Winona Athletic Club where Ruth Hopf and Bob Stein almost made a shambles of Winona bowling marks for the season.

Mrs. Hopf, a housewife, mother and college faculty member, rocketed a 247 game and a 614 series in the Women's City League at Hal-Rod.

"It was unbelievable," said Mrs. Hopf of her performance in registering the first 600 of her career. It was the third in the City League, fourth of the year for Winona women and second high of the campaign. Her 247 was a new season's single game record.

Rolling for Togs 'n Toys, Mrs. Hopf started with an error and despite two splits, rolled an opening 167. She came back with 200-even and then fired her 247 with a string of six strikes from the sixth frame on.

"I haven't been bowling good all year," said Mrs. Hopf, who admits to a 147 average. "I averaged 160 last year, but changed from three steps to a four-step delivery this season. My timing has always been off—but it wasn't tonight."

RUTH TOTALED 14 STRIKES and 14 spares. She had one other open, a third frame blow in her second game. Her effort led Togs 'n Toys to a 981 game, sixth highest in the city, and a 2,644 series.

Eight other women hit 500 in the H-R loop. They were Joyce Harders 530, Marilyn Peckert 523, Grace Burley 519, Betty Schoonover 512, Nancy Jo Grukowski 511, Helen Nelson, who holds the season high of 620, 508; Irene Gostomski 506 and Esther Pozzan 506.

Stein clobbered a 248 game in his 667 set, an errorless affair, fourth high of the year. His Hot Fish mates had a 1,060 game and their 1,033 scratch is third best actual in the city. Their 3,031 stands as fourth high.

Jim Yahnke tagged an errorless 614 and Paul Plait Jr., had a 649.

HAL-ROD LANES: Lucky Ladies—Helen Nelson racked 511 for Hamm's Beer which socked 2,411. Nancy Springer's 220 for Coca Cola was a high single. Seven Up had an 857 team game.

WESTGATE BOWL: Tuesday Men's—Bob Haines notched 215—581 to spark Unknowns No. 3 to 904—2,844 and a first place tie with Trac Oil.

Hiawatha—Jim Boynton rolled 547 for Kujak Brothers, and Roger Laufenburger 210 for KAGE. Team honors went to Spur Oil with 912 and Norm's Electric with 2,629.

Wenonah—Ruby Dahl fired 176—480 for Pin Pals and Esther Hoskins had a 176 game for Hi Hopes which shot 892. Pappy's loop-leaders pelled 2,423.

3 State College Teams Win Warmup Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Despite unseasonable cold outdoors, three Minnesota college basketball teams warmed up with victories Tuesday night, mostly in non-conference competition.

Sole loser on the four-game program was Mankato State which fell 70-63 before the Augustana Vikings at Sioux Falls. Dave McCracken, making his first appearance because of illness earlier, topped 18 for the winners while Kate's George McKay and Jon Hagen had 14 each.

Moorhead State moved into the victory column for the first time in five starts by tripping Mayville, N.D., Teachers 55-49 and St. Thomas dumped Stout at Menomonie, Wis., 78-64.

In Minnesota Interscholastic Conference play, Gustavus Adolphus climbed back from a 20-23 half-time deficit to down Hamline 66-49. For the Gusties, Ken Abram had 29 and Andy Hagemann 18. Zigmund Kauls led the Pipers scoring at 15 in the first loop contest for both clubs.

Arkansaw Bows In Last Seconds

ELMWOOD, Wis. (Special) — Arkansaw fell to its fifth consecutive defeat 44-43 Tuesday night thanks to some last minute heroics by Elmwood's high-scoring forward, Jim Baier.

With five seconds remaining and trailing by one point Baier sank a jump shot for the winning tally.

Baier was the leading scorer of the night with 18 points.

The Travelers had three men in double figures, Joe Yingst, Frank Girard and Scott Hebst, all with 10 points.

Elmwood also won the "B" game.

TITLE NOT LOCKED UP YET

Packers Capture Ten Spots on All-Stars

NEW YORK (AP)—Green Bay already has locked up 10 positions on the 22-man National Football League All-Star team selected for The Associated Press although the Packers still have not clinched the Western Conference title.

The New York Giants, who meet the Western winners for the league championship Dec. 30 at Yankee Stadium, put four men on the club selected by a committee of sports writers and broadcasters from the 14 league cities. Detroit, trailing the Packers by one game with one to play, also placed four men on the team.

Green Bay wound up with full-back Jim Taylor, tight end Ron Kramer, tackle Forrest Gregg, guard Jerry Kramer and center Jim Ringo from its offensive unit on the All-Star team. The Packers' defensive group contributed end Willie Davis, tackle Henry Jordan, linebackers Dan Currie and Bill Forester and corner back Herb Adderley.

Y. A. Tittle, the Giants' quarterback, and Del Shofner, his favorite passing target, made the offensive team along with big Rosey Brown at tackle. Jimmy Patton, veteran safety man, was named on defense.

As fits a club that leads the league on defense, Detroit placed four men on that unit, led by 296-pound Roger Brown at tackle, middle linebacker Joe Schmidt, corner back Dick (Night Train) Lane and safety Yale Lary.

Jimmy Brown, Cleveland's full-back who normally is a must for any All-Star team and Green Bay's injured Paul Hornung, player of the year in 1961, failed to make the team.

Jim Parker of Baltimore, used both at guard and tackle, was picked at guard.

Don Perkins of Dallas was named to a running back job along with Taylor, who had scored 18 touchdowns, tying the league record. Bobby Mitchell, the fleet back traded to Washington by Cleveland, made it at flanker back as the leading pass receiver. The 36-year-old Tittle, with his 27 touchdown passes, rounded out the starting backfield.

Gino Marchetti, Baltimore's veteran defensive end, was the only "outsider" to crack the Green Bay-Detroit-New York axis on defense.

Vikings Sign Kosens, Defensive Flanker

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Minnesota Vikings Tuesday signed Terry Kosens, a defensive back from Hofstra College, Hempstead, N. Y.

Kosens, 6-2 and 190 pounds, was the Vikings 10th choice in the National Football League draft.

DEAL OFF GREEN, STALLARD

Bosox Get Mets' Mantilla

NEW YORK (AP)—The new-look Boston Red Sox hierarchy has stepped into the center of baseball's bustling trade mart again and peddled a pair of players who apparently fell into disfavor at Beantown — infielder Pumpsie Green and pitcher Tracy Stallard.

Green, the first Negro to play for the Red Sox, and Stallard, the man on the mound when Roger Maris hit home run No. 61 in 1961, were sent to the New York Mets Tuesday in a 3-for-1 trade that brought utilityman Felix Mantilla to Boston.

The Red Sox also will deliver a third player—a minor leaguer—to the Mets at a later date. In another transaction Tuesday, the Philadelphia Phillies acquired catcher Earl Averill from the Los Angeles Angels for outfielder Jack Davis. The trades were the ninth and 10th of the inter-league trading period, which ends at midnight Saturday.

When Boston owner Tom Yawkey made Mike Higgins vice president and installed Johnny Pesky as manager he promised, "we are ready to make every intelligent move we can to improve the Red Sox." The Red Sox have been out in the market place ever since.

The trade for Mantilla, who played all infield positions for the Mets except first base and batted .275 in 141 games, was the third of the inter-league session for the Red Sox, who have been the most active team in the dealings between American and National league clubs.

The Mets, meanwhile, continued to play their game of giving up one valuable player for two or three promising youngsters who for some reason or other have outlived their usefulness elsewhere.

"I don't think we have to apologize to anyone for any of the moves we've made to date," said Mets President George Weiss. "We have come up with seven major league prospects, all of them young, in exchange for pitcher Bob Miller to the Dodgers and infielder Mantilla who didn't figure in Manager Casey Stengel's plans for 1963."

Bear Back Bull Rookie of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Ronnie Bull, the Chicago Bears' fine running halfback from Baylor, was named Rookie-of-the-Year in the National Football League today by an Associated Press committee of sports writers and broadcasters from the 14 league cities. Bull, the Bears' No. 1 draft choice a year ago after leading Baylor in running and pass receiving for three straight seasons, started his pro career working on defense. After a succession of injuries to Willie Galimore, Rick Casares, Charley Bivins and Joe Marconi crippled the Bears, Bull moved to offense.

"He hasn't reached his peak yet," said coach George Halas recently in Chicago. "He is going to be a good runner."

Although Bull carried the ball only nine times for 26 yards and did not catch a pass in the Bears' first three games, his figures through last Sunday's 13th game show 37 yards in 103 carries for a 3.6 yard average and 29 passes for 324 yards. He also has returned nine kickoffs for 235 yards.

From the 39 panelists who participated in the rookie balloting, Bull received 17 votes. Los Angeles' Merlin Olsen, the 6-foot-3 inch, 265-pound tackle from Utah State was a strong second with seven votes. As a lineman on a last-place team, Olsen had to be outstanding to attract that much attention.

There were 12 first-year men who received votes in the rookie balloting. Ed Pine, San Francisco linebacker, had three and Irv Goode, St. Louis offensive tackle, Gary Collins, Cleveland punter and flanker back, and George Andrie, Dallas defensive end, each had two votes.

Warrior Mat Team Triumphs

Winona State opened its dual meet wrestling schedule Tuesday with a 22-6 triumph at La Crosse State.

The Warriors, under Bob Gunner, new mat coach, won six of the eight bouts. "We could have had a shutout, but Al Mauer, 167-pounder, wrestled as a heavyweight," said Gunner. "We'll be stronger now that Bob Gray has come out for wrestling and he'll go as a heavyweight with Mauer back at 167."

The Warriors were without Jerry Wilharm, 137-pounder, who will not be reporting until after the holidays.

Gunner singled out Larry Marchionda, Dave Moracco, Larry Willis and Leo Simon for impressive performances in their matches. Pat Flaherty, 177-pound NSCC champion and NAIA fourth-place winner, won but had a close scrap. The Warriors are now idle until Jan. 11 when they meet Superior State.

Sweeney Heads North Squad In Senior Bowl

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—A bulky squad headed by three players who were top choices in the pro drafts was named today to the North team in the 14th annual Senior Bowl game Jan. 5.

The threesome is composed of end Walt Sweeney of Syracuse and interior linemen Ed Budde of Michigan State and Daryl Sanders of Ohio State.

The 230-pound Sweeney was the No. 1 choice of San Diego of the American Football League.

Budde, a 250-pounder, was No. 1 of both the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League and the Dallas Texans of the AFL. He has signed with Dallas.

Sanders, who is 6-5 and weighs in at 265, was picked first by the NFL's Detroit Lions and has signed with the Lions.

The South squad, headed by All-America center Lee Roy Jordan of Alabama, was announced Saturday.

The Southerners will be coached again by Web Ewbank of the Baltimore Colts. Tom Landry of the Dallas Cowboys will be back to tutor the Northerners.

Landry will have as his quarterbacks Jerry Gross of Detroit, who completed 105 of 212 passes during the past season, and Pat McCarthy of Holy Cross, also ranked high on total offense in the nation.

The Yankee line will average 239 pounds and the backfield 194. The Southerners average out at 235 in the forward and 197 in the backfield.

The game will be televised nationwide by NBC.

Joe Schmidt, ace linebacker, has been captain of the Detroit Lions for the last six seasons.
