Campbell University

Today's ceremony marks the 116th graduation exercises of Campbell University. Established in 1887 as an academy with a charter-class enrollment of sixteen students, Campbell University has developed into a major university that will enroll more than 8,500 students during the 2002 academic year. Students hail from all one-hundred North Carolina counties, fifty states of the United States and fifty-three countries of the world.

Established as a liberal arts college which initially awarded the Associate and Bachelors degrees, the academic program of Campbell University was greatly expanded in 1976 when the trustees authorized the establishment of graduate programs in education and business and the awarding of the Master of Education and Master of Business Administration degrees.

Doctoral programs were authorized by the trustees in 1976 with the establishment of the Norman Adrian Wiggins School of Law and the awarding of the Juris Doctor degree. The Doctor of Pharmacy degree was approved in 1985 with the establishment of the Campbell University School of Pharmacy and the Doctor of Education degree in 1985 with the organization of the Campbell University School of Education.

The university's newest and sixth school, The Campbell University Divinity School, was established on October 25, 1995 and enrolled the charter class in August, 1997.

Because of the university's strategic location, Campbell provides educational opportunities for servicemen and women at military installations located at Fort Bragg, Pope Air Force Base, New River Air Base, and Camp Lejeune.

In keeping with the university's commitment to global education, Campbell University students regularly enroll in international programs in Malaysia, Great Britain, France, Italy, and South America. Currently, more than 3,000 students from Malaysia are enrolled in Campbell University at Tunku Abdul Rahman College in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia.

Supported by the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina, Campbell University is committed to the mission of providing its students with a Christian worldview and a charge to be "the salt of the earth and the light of the world." Open to all qualified students, Campbell's student-body includes persons from more than forty different denominations and faiths.

The second largest private university in North Carolina and the third largest Baptist university in the world, Campbell University is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, the American Bar Association, the American Council on Pharmaceutical Education, the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education, North Carolina Department of Public Instruction, the Professional Golf Association Commission on Education, and associate membership in the Association of Theological Schools, and the Council on Social Work Education.

Throughout its 116-year history, Campbell University has been led by three presidents: Dr. James A. Campbell, Dr. Leslie H. Campbell, and the current president, Dr. Norman Adrian Wiggins.

Honorary Degree Recipients

Stephen Cannaday Dedrick

Doctor of Science

Stephen Cannaday Dedrick is the Director of Pharmacy at Duke University Hospital in Durham, North Carolina. Though his undergraduate and graduate degrees in Pharmacy were earned from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, he has held a variety of positions with Duke University Hospital since 1987. His association with the Campbell University School of Pharmacy also goes back to 1987, when he first began as an Adjunct Professor of Pharmacy Practice. The years since that point have brought only a deepened relationship with Campbell University and its School of Pharmacy, where he sits on its Board of Visitors.

Mr. Dedrick has invested tremendous energy in his profession as his lengthy list of presentations and publications will attest. He also has been an active member of several professional organizations. Two of these should especially be noted: The North Carolina Society of Health System Pharmacists, where he served two terms as president, and the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association, where he served multiple terms on its Executive Committee.

Mr. Dedrick is a member of St. Luke's Episcopal Church in Durham. He and his wife, LaRue Draughon Dedrick, have two children: Austin and Stephanie.

John Elvin Hedgepeth

Doctor of Divinity

John Elvin Hedgepeth is the pastor of Northwood Temple Pentecostal Holiness Church in Fayetteville, North Carolina. Mr. Hedgepeth holds degrees from Emmanuel College and East Carolina University. He pastored in Whiteville, North Carolina and in the Princeton-Goldsboro area before coming to Northwood Temple in 1968.

His ministry at Northwood Temple has been phenomenal. He has seen the church grow from 100 to over 4,000 members. Its ministries are extensive, reaching broadly across barriers of age, gender, education level, etc. Its ministries have also reached world-wide, particularly through medical and educational teams to Third World countries.

In addition to his work as pastor and preacher, Mr. Hedgepeth is also a popular educator and motivational speaker. He and his wife, Fay, have three children and six grandchildren.

Young Sup Yoo

Doctor of Laws

Young Sup Yoo is the President of Aloemaiim Company, one of the largest cosmetic and natural food companies in Korea. Established in 1994, it has hundreds of agents working throughout the peninsula of Korea. Aloemaiim is the major grower of the aloe plant in Korea, the substance that is used in their products.

Mr. Yoo holds a degree in Economics from Inha University in Incheon, Korea. He is a deacon at Ju-ahn Presbyterian Church, and is a board member of the Far East Broadcasting Company. He has distinguished himself in a nation of over 49 million people and one of the most rapidly expanding economies in the world. Mr. Yoo and his wife, Hea Sil Hong, are the parents of two children: a son, Joo Hyun Yoo, and a daughter, Joo Hea Yoo.

Algernon Sydney Sullivan Awards

For half a century, the Algernon Sydney Sullivan Foundation has worked to perpetuate qualities reflected in the life of the nineteenth century New Yorker after whom the foundation was named.

Lawyer, devout Christian, mediator, orator, philanthropist, and family man, Algernon Sydney Sullivan, in the words of a friend, "reached out both hands in constant helpfulness to men." And many were touched by him -- from street beggars and Sunday School children to the most powerful businessmen and politicians of the city. With all of them, he commanded affection and respect.

In 1890, three years after his death, a memorial committee (including former President Grover Cleveland among its 77 members) was established. Its members charged themselves with keeping alive the exemplary traits of Mr. Sullivan. When their ranks began to thin, in the late 1920's, they passed along the task to the New York Southern Society, of which Sullivan had been the first president. Each year the society's Algernon Sydney Sullivan awards were given to deserving students and outstanding citizens at colleges and universities in the South.

The Southern Society is now gone, but ever since 1934, the Algernon Sydney Sullivan Foundation has continued to help both students and worthy institutions. Mr. Sullivan's son, George, never married, and the Sullivans left no direct descendants. Nonetheless, there have been heirs - three generations of scholarship and award recipients across the South. Through them, Algernon Sydney Sullivan and his wife, Mary Mildred, still live and still influence the lives of others.

Suzanne Lynn Nelson

Suzanne Lynn Nelson of Hawthorne, New Jersey, is the recipient of the outstanding senior Government Pre-Law award. Through her years at Campbell, Ms. Nelson has excelled as a student-athlete. She has held academic scholarships, including Campbell's Presidential Scholarship. She holds membership in several honor societies, including Phi Eta Sigma, Epsilon Pi Eta, Pi Sigma Alpha, Phi Alpha Theta, Pi Gamma Mu, and Phi Kappa Phi.

Ms. Nelson has also excelled as a Track athlete. She holds Campbell University indoor and outdoor records for the high jump, she has been an All-Conference performer, and a three-year All Academic All-Conference recipient.

Ms. Nelson has served in the Student Government Association and on the Student Athlete Advisory Committee. She also has been active in assorted community service projects both at Campbell and in New Jersey. She plans to attend law school after graduation.

David Kemp Clark

David Kemp Clark was instrumental in building Clark Brothers, Inc., a petroleum marketer and commercial property development company. He is also associated with Camp Clearwater, one of the largest commercial campgrounds in North Carolina.

Mr. Clark is a member of the North Carolina Aeronautical Council and has been heavily involved in the Elizabethtown area, including membership on its Chamber of Commerce, its Airport and Economic Development Commissions, and on the White Lake Planning and Zoning Board. He is a longtime member and deacon of the Elizabethtown Baptist Church.

Mr. Clark has enjoyed a long relationship with Campbell University, having served as both a trustee and a member of the Presidential Board of Advisors. He currently serves on Campbell's Board of Trustees. He is married to the former Miriam Mitchell of Kelly, North Carolina. They have four children and four grandchildren.

The graduation program and diploma are ceremonial documents and are not intended to be the official verification of graduation. The appropriately signed and sealed university transcript is the certification of a Campbell University degree.

The Academic Procession

The centuries-old pageantry of the academic procession dates from ancient traditions rooted in the early universities. Since the first academic ceremonies were predominantly in charge of the clergy, they followed the familiar order of the religious procession: the younger and newer groups preceded the older. The highest honor was to be placed at the end of the procession.

Today's academic procession, in order of appearance, is composed of the candidates for degrees; members of the faculty; members of the Board of Trustees; members of the Presidential Board of Advisors; and members of the platform party.

Campbell University Purpose

Campbell University is a university of the liberal arts, sciences, and professions which is committed to helping students develop an integrated Christian personality characterized by a wholeness that includes: a method of critical judgment; an appreciation of our intellectual, cultural, and religious heritage; and a sensitive awareness of the world and society in which they live and work with persons.

Campbell University is a Baptist university affiliated with the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina. Both in and out of the classroom, the University endeavors to present Christian principles to students and to foster their application to daily life.

The purpose of Campbell University arises out of three basic theological and Biblical presuppositions: learning is appointed and conserved by God as essential to the fulfillment of human destiny; in Christ, all things consist and find ultimate unity; and the Kingdom of God in this world is rooted and grounded in Christian community.

Therefore, the mission of Campbell University, as a community of Christian scholars, is to:

Provide students with the option of a Christian worldview;

Bring the Word of God, Mind of Christ, and Power of the Spirit to bear in developing moral courage, social sensitivity, and ethical responsibility that will inspire a productive and faithful maturation as individuals and as citizens;

Transfer from one generation to the next the vast body of knowledge and values accumulated over the ages;

Encourage creativity, imagination, and rigor in the use of intellectual skills;

Affirm the University's commitment to the belief that truth is never one-dimensional but in wholeness is revelatory, subjective, and transcendent as well as empirical, objective, and rational, and that all truth finds its unity in the mind of Christ;

Frame University teaching in the context of a liberal arts education seeking to free persons to live more abundantly and securely in an ever-changing social order;

Foster stewardship in nurturing the gifts of the mind and in developing aesthetic sensibilities;

Equip students with superior vocational skills, productive insights, and professional integrity;

Provide a community of learning that is committed to the pursuit, discovery, and dissemination of knowledge to serve the region as well as national and international communities;

Prepare students for purposeful lives through undergraduate, graduate, and professional instruction including terminal graduate and professional programs;

Provide services to the general community through research efforts, continuing education, and cultural programs;

Cooperate with other educational institutions for the advancement of mankind.

This University sees the human vocation as living by faith under grace, with no conflict between the life of faith and the life of inquiry.

The Campbell University Mace

An academic custom that originated in the sixteenth century is part of today's commencement ceremonies. The academic procession is led by the Commencement Marshal, carrying the official Mace of Campbell University. Although not as ornate as the first Mace presented by Queen Elizabeth I to Oxford University in 1589, the Campbell University Mace is steeped in tradition and purpose.

The Campbell University Mace, a gift to the university by the Board of Trustees, was designed by John Satterfield of Greenville, North Carolina.

The design of the Mace incorporates features signifying the Christian purpose of Campbell University. The Mace's boss is a Sphere topped by the Celtic Cross and supported by six flanges. The Celtic Cross represents the early and continuing faith of the Christians who settled the Cape Fear Region and who were instrumental in establishing Campbell University.

The Sphere represents the world which Campbell University is committed to serve, through sons and daughters of the alma mater, and the daily work of the faculty and staff of the university. The flanges represent the support of friends, churches, foundations, institutions, alumni and the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina. The seals within the flanges represent the history of Campbell University since its inception in 1887 and are the authority under which the university bestows degrees.

Originally an instrument for battle, the Mace has a fascinating history in academic ceremonies. In 1589, the first record of a Mace being awarded to a university occurred when Queen Elizabeth I visited Oxford University. At a special convocation held in her honor, the students, speaking in Latin, were lavish in their praise and flattery of the Queen, pretending to love her. They assumed she was unfamiliar with Latin. As a gesture of her thanks, Queen Elizabeth I stood and gave an eloquent speech in flawless Latin and presented Oxford with her royal Mace.

The second record of a Mace being presented to a university was in 1629 when King Charles I presented his royal Mace to Cambridge. Thereafter it became customary, in the British Isles and throughout Europe, for the Mace to be used at all ceremonial academic occasions. In the United States, the Mace came into use during the nineteenth century when academic ceremonies were modeled on European customs and became more elaborate.

Today's bearer of the Mace is Samuel L. Engel, Assistant Professor, School of Education.

The Presidential Medallion

The Presidential Medallion and Chain were commissioned by the trustees and designed by John Satterfield of Greenville, North Carolina.

The Chain bears six seals representing the different stages of the academic growth of Campbell University from an academy to a university, along with the seals of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina and Tunku Abdul Rahman College of Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia.

The Medallion represents the design of the University Mace. The University Seal is supported by two phalanges and supports the Celtic Cross. The Presidential Medallion and Chain are symbols of the office of the President of Campbell University.

The Tradition of Academic Attire

Academic festivals, like today's commencement ceremonies, have their roots in medieval Europe. Medieval institutions of higher learning customarily were operated by monastic orders where students, as well as their instructors, wore monk's habits. In 1321, the University of Coimbra (Portugal) required all bachelors, licentiates (masters), and doctors of theology to wear monastic gowns -- the first such recorded injunction. It is still the custom of students and instructors at the ancient universities of the British Isles - Oxford, Edinburgh, Aberdeen, and St. Andrews -- to wear their gowns to lectures and in their daily affairs.

Originally, the hood was a head covering, the monk's tippet, and was worn by holders of either a master's or a doctoral degree. When caps came into fashion during the fifteenth century, the hoods were draped down the back and ornamented with rich silk or velvet linings and edgings.

The cap was first conferred as a symbol of the master's degree and varied greatly in style from institution to institution. Some were stiff, some soft, some square, and still others round. All were decorated with a tuft at the center; today's tassel is an elaboration of that tuft. The mortarboard style, generally followed throughout the United States, was borrowed from Oxford University, where the flat-topped cap is customarily worn by those holding the Master of Arts degree.

In the United States, the practice of wearing academic dress dates from 1754, when King George II chartered King's College (now Columbia University) and transferred the academic regulations from the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge. Colonial colleges, however, rejected the scarlet robes of the English institutions in favor of black ones as preferred by Puritan clergy.

During most of the nineteenth century, American colleges and universities had no standard style of academic dress. Only rarely did undergraduates wear gowns during commencement exercises. Many faculty wore the garb of the English institutions where they received their degree, while others wore robes of their own, often eccentric, design. Few faculty wore hoods and mortarboards. These were assumed to be articles of ecclesiastical dress, more appropriate for bishops than professors.

In 1895, a commission of leading American educators, mostly from the Ivy League colleges, was established to devise a standard for academic attire. As a result, black was adopted as the standard for academic robes. Undergraduates were required to wear a simple, unadorned black robe with a mortarboard and black tassel. Candidates for the degree of Master of Arts were required to wear a simple robe with the sleeves cut through exposing the hands and lower arms. Holders of the doctorate were to wear full robes with full sleeves. Panels of velvet down the front and on chevrons appearing on the sleeves gave them a more richly ornamented appearance.

The hoods of those receiving graduate degrees vary in shape and size. The larger, more heavily decorated hood signifies the doctoral degree. The trimming around the edge of the hood varies in color and designates the particular discipline of the degree holder. The colors used in the satin linings are drawn, customarily, from the official colors of the granting institution. The linings in hoods conferred by Campbell University are orange and black.

The American Council on Education established official colors for academic fields and include: white for arts and letters; scarlet for theology or divinity; drab for business administration, commerce and accountancy; copper for economics; light blue for education; brown for fine arts; purple for law; lemon for library science; green for medicine; silver gray for oratory; dark blue for philosophy; sage green for physical education; yellow-gold for science; citron for social science; and pink for music.

THE STAR-SPANGLED BANNER

Francis Scott Key

Oh, say can you see, by the dawn's early light
What so proudly we hail'd at the twilight's last gleaming!
Whose broad stripes and bright stars thro' the perilous fight
O'er the ramparts we watch'd were so gallantly streaming,
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air
Gave proof thro' the night that our flag was still there.

Chorus

Oh! say, does that star spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave!

LEAD ON, O KING ETERNAL

Henry T. Smart

Lead On, O King Eternal, The day of march has come;
Henceforth in fields of conquest, Thy tents shall be our home;
Through days of preparation, Thy grace has made us strong,
And Now, O King Eternal, We lift our battle song.

Lead On, O King Eternal, We follow not with fears;
For gladness breaks like morning, Where'er Thy face appears;
Thy cross is lifted o'er us; We journey in its light,
Thy crown awaits the conquest; Lead On, O God of Might. Amen

Alma Mater

We hail our gracious Alma Mater
Singing this glad refrain
We'll honor her with all our might,
And cherish every vein.

Chorus

Come and sing to dear ol' Campbell,
Pledge a tribute too.
We'll praise her for all her merit,
And honor her with truth.

We yield to her our true allegiance,
Raising her banner high.
We'll stand with her thru peace and strife,
Her name will never die.

Chorus
