6.1 Heritage Liked to identity:
In articulating the value of heritage in contemporary life public surveys is placed on the importance of “heritage protecting our identity”, which UNESCO (2007) also affirms this conflation by saying: Understanding world heritage can help us become more aware of our own roots and of our cultural and social identity.

Vamik Volkan (Professor of Psychiatry) said the: The link between heritage buildings and identity has been expressed psychoanalytically as a trans generational transmission, through the passing on of shared identifications with stories, symbols or other aspects of heritage that what is constitute Our identity, which Heritage and Identity are not essences within any single person they are manifested and performed through interpersonal relationships.

6.1.1 Identity:
Identity of Heritage Buildings: A set of attributes that characterize each heritage building as a witness to the historic or cultural event or a big impact on social life.

Does place-the built environment with its connotative meanings-have any particular effect on a person's identity? If so, what kind of effect, and by which mechanisms? Many factors--genetic, social, and cultural as well as the built environment--combine to shape identity. Is the identification of people with places that powers both residents attachment to place and a place specific tourism.

There is an assumption that the creation of heritage places possessing high built-environmental amenity and distinctive local collective identities delivers an ‘identity dividend’ which is reflected in residential preferences, location advantages for some appropriate businesses, real estate values and even some social and community-based benefits.

The absence of competition between visitors and residents with consequent alienation and displacement, as well as the existence of a positive relationship between places of high heritage-induced identity value and the quality-of-life of both their residents and their transient users.

To redevelopment we have to Activate the historical content to confirm the identity as an important element to revive and return the place and society identity, place should engage with place Memory because place is a theater to many events that exist in individual and society memory to become a place that has a meaning (A soul).

6.1.2 The concept of identity:
Identity is about how individuals or groups see and define themselves, and how other individuals or groups see and define them, it’s about formed through the socialization process and the influence of social institutions like the family, the education system and the mass media.

The concept of identity is an important one, as it is only through establishing our own identities and learning about the identities of other individuals and groups that we come to know what makes us similar to some people and different from others, and therefore form social connections with them.

How you see yourself will influence the friends you have, who you will marry or live with, and the communities and groups to which you relate and belong.

6.2 Heritage Linked to Tourism:
Heritage as the contemporary uses of pasts is called upon to satisfy many contemporary needs. Among these are providing modifiable resource for sale on tourism markets and contributing towards the shaping of unique senses of place for tourists and residents alike.

6.2.1 Tourism
It’s an activity done by an individual or a group of individuals, which leads to a motion from a place to another. From a country to another for performing a specific task or it is a visit to a place or several places in the purpose of entertaining which leads to an awareness of other civilizations and cultures, also increasing the knowledge of countries, cultures, and history.

Tourism has a direct impact on the national revenue for all touristic countries, it creates work opportunities, industries, and several investments to serve and raise nations performance and cultures, also distributes their history, civilization, and traditions.
6.2.2 Types of tourism:
1. Cultural Tourism.
2. Religious Tourism.
3. Medical Tourism.
5. Summer Tourism.
6. Winter Tourism

6.2.2.1 Cultural Tourism:
Cultural tourism (or culture tourism) is the subset of tourism concerned with a country or region's culture, specifically the lifestyle of the people in those geographical areas, the history of those people, their art, architecture, religion(s), and other elements that helped shape their way of life.

The movement of persons to cultural attractions away from their normal place of residence, with the intention to gather new information and experiences to satisfy their cultural needs. These cultural needs can include the solidification of one's own cultural identity, by observing the exotic.

6.2.3 Tourism and Investments:
Investment needs in the tourism industry to a huge volume of capital because of the high cost of infrastructure and its equipment which Investment environment where it's the overall political, economic and legislative situation which these variables are the investment climate.

6.2.3.1 Is there an investment in the infrastructure of Amman?
1. External: Amman was chosen to be a leader in the area of foreign direct investment, Growth due to several factors: stay in Jordan, political environment Stability and economic system, legislation, international conventions, an increase in the number of free zones, manpower, infrastructure, investment facilities.
