

Academic Costumes

The wearing of academic costumes is a custom that goes back to the Middle Ages. Since the early European and English universities were founded by the church, the students and teachers were required to wear distinctive gowns at all times. Although the custom was brought to this country in Colonial days, the requirement for students was soon dropped. The custom for professors was confined to special occasions such as graduating exercises and inaugurations of new presidents. With the increase in the number of educational institutions and the development of new subject-matter fields, some confusion arose in time about the type of gown and the specific color to denote various degrees. To introduce desirable uniformity and set up a clearing house for new developments, a commission representing leading American colleges produced The Intercollegiate Code in 1895. In 1932, a national committee of the American Council on Education revised this code into The Academic Costume Code. It was revised in 1959. Although not obligatory, most of the educational institutions in the country follow it in awarding their degrees, earned and honorary.

The most significant part of the academic dress is the hood. The color of its velvet border indicates the academic field, and it is lined with the color or colors of the institution granting the degree. The hoods of those receiving a Master of Arts or an honorary degree of Doctor of Letters have those same color indications, but each successively higher degree carries with it a longer hood. The doctoral hood also has side panels on the back.

Although most doctoral gowns are black with black velvet bars and panels, in some cases the color of the gown is that of the university conferring the degree. All such gowns have black bars and panels.

Academic fields may also be indicated by the color of velvet on the doctoral gowns; three two-inch bars on the sleeves and a five-inch border extending from the back of the neck down the two sides in front. For the degree of Doctor of Philosophy the color is dark blue; for Doctor of Medicine, green; for Doctor of Education, light blue; for Doctor of Science, golden yellow. These colors also appear in the velvet of the hood unless the hood represents an honorary degree. The Doctor of Laws has purple velvet. The Doctor of Humanities is white, as is the Doctor of Letters. The Doctor of Public Administration has a hood with velvet in pale aqua.

Caps are black. Tassels are usually black for bachelor's and master's degrees, gold for doctorates. Gowns for bachelor's and master's are plain black, but sleeves of the latter are short with 'trailing elbows.' Doctoral gowns of European universities are usually very colorful. The caps are often of some soft material like velvet and are ordinarily not of the conventional mortar-board shape. Several examples may be seen in the university faculty:

Arts, Letters, Humanities—white	Medicine—green
Commerce, Accountancy, Business—drab	Music—pink
Education—light blue	Nursing—apricot
Engineering—orange	Philosophy—dark blue
Fine Arts—brown	Physical Education—sage green
Journalism—crimson	Science—golden yellow
Law—purple	Social Science—cream
Library Science—lemon	Theology—scarlet
	Veterinary Science—gray

Commencement Profiles

Dr. Ronald G. Eaglin became the 12th president of Morehead State University on July 1, 1992. Bringing nearly 30 years of experience in higher education administration to the MSU post, he previously was chancellor of Coastal Carolina University in Conway, S.C.

A former vice chancellor for academic affairs at the University of South Carolina's Spartanburg campus, Dr. Eaglin began his career in higher education administration in the area of student life/housing and has taught both in public school and university settings. In the early 1970s, he served as southeast regional director of the American College Testing Program (ACT).

He holds a bachelor's degree in biology and mathematics from Southeast Missouri State University, a master's degree in student personnel administration from Southern Illinois University and a doctoral degree in educational psychology from the University of Utah.

A graduate of Leadership South Carolina, he is a member of the NCAA President's Commission. Active in the American Association of State Colleges and Universities, President Eaglin is a member of its Board of Directors and has served on numerous AASCU committees.

He frequently serves as a consultant and often presents workshops for colleges on student retention, leadership and academic advisement. His professional efforts have taken Dr. Eaglin to Cyprus as chair of a Fulbright High Commission delegation and more recently to Taiwan, the Republic of China.

A member of several honorary societies such as Psi Chi and Phi Delta Kappa, Dr. Eaglin also is active in his community. As president of MSU, Dr. Eaglin serves as a member of the Board of Directors of the Morehead-Rowan County Chamber of Commerce. A member of the Kentucky Council on Higher Education's Conference of Presidents, he was appointed by Gov. Brereton C. Jones to the East Kentucky Development Roundtable, an advisory working group to the East Kentucky Office of the Cabinet for Economic Development. He also is a member of the steering committee of the Central Appalachian Alliance, a partnership of energy and land holding companies with universities in Kentucky and Virginia. Additionally, Dr. Eaglin is a member of the Kentucky Appalachian Commission and the Task Force to Develop a Master Plan on Tourism for Kentucky.

He and his wife, Bonnie, have four adult children.

Tom T. Hall, who has built an international reputation as a singer, songwriter and author, will receive the honorary Doctor of Musical Arts degree today. A native of Carter County, he has been recognized with major awards from the Country Music Association and the Grammys. A member of the Songwriters Hall of Fame, he has recorded 34 albums and performed around the world with his band, The Storytellers.

His songs have been recorded by such artists as Perry Como, Loretta Lynn, Willie Nelson and Alan Jackson. A recording artist in his own right, he has one of the most enduring and recognizable voices on the country music airways.

Aside from his efforts in the music world, he has written several books and has involved himself in a wide range of other professional and personal endeavors. Hall's directness of style and believability have made him a successful advertising personality. His other business ventures have included owning a radio station, hosting his own TV show, operating a recording studio and serving on a bank board of directors.

Ricky Skaggs, who has succeeded the late Bill Monroe as the dominant figure in bluegrass music, will receive the honorary Doctor of Musical Arts degree today. When the Lawrence County native joined the Grand Ole Opry in 1982, he was the youngest member at that time to become part of that heralded troupe of country music performers.

The winner of four Grammys, eight CMA awards and numerous other honors, he was CMA's entertainer of the year in 1985. From a performance on the Lester Flatt and Earl Scruggs TV show to appearances with such artists as Ralph Stanley, Keith Whitley, J.D. Crowe, Emmylou Harris, Vince Gill and Alison Krauss, Skaggs has worked with many of country music's legends.

The singer, arranger and record producer also helped to bring country music back to its roots, blending traditional elements such as bluegrass, gospel, honky tonk and western swing with contemporary songs and state-of-the-art production techniques. Described by some as a "visionary," he accomplished this with an eye toward the future while paying respect to the past.

Academic Costumes

The wearing of academic costumes is a custom that goes back to the Middle Ages. Since the early European and English universities were founded by the church, the students and teachers were required to wear distinctive gowns at all times. Although the custom was brought to this country in Colonial days, the requirement for students was soon dropped. The custom for professors was confined to special occasions such as graduating exercises and inaugurations of new presidents. With the increase in the number of educational institutions and the development of new subject-matter fields, some confusion arose in time about the type of gown and the specific color to denote various degrees. To introduce desirable uniformity and set up a clearing house for new developments, a commission representing leading American colleges produced The Intercollegiate Code in 1895. In 1932, a national committee of the American Council on Education revised this code into The Academic Costume Code. It was revised in 1959. Although not obligatory, most of the educational institutions in the country follow it in awarding their degrees, earned and honorary.

The most significant part of the academic dress is the hood. The color of its velvet border indicates the academic field, and it is lined with the color or colors of the institution granting the degree. The hoods of those receiving a Master of Arts or an honorary degree of Doctor of Letters have those same color indications, but each successively higher degree carries with it a longer hood. The doctoral hood also has side panels on the back.

Although most doctoral gowns are black with black velvet bars and panels, in some cases the color of the gown is that of the university conferring the degree. All such gowns have black bars and panels.

Academic fields may also be indicated by the color of velvet on the doctoral gowns; three two-inch bars on the sleeves and a five-inch border extending from the back of the neck down the two sides in front. For the degree of Doctor of Philosophy the color is dark blue; for Doctor of Medicine, green; for Doctor of Education, light blue; for Doctor of Science, golden yellow. These colors also appear in the velvet of the hood unless the hood represents an honorary degree. The Doctor of Laws has purple velvet. The Doctor of Humanities is white, as is the Doctor of Letters. The Doctor of Public Administration has a hood with velvet in pale aqua.

Caps are black. Tassels are usually black for bachelor's and master's degrees, gold for doctorates. Gowns for bachelor's and master's are plain black, but sleeves of the latter are short with 'trailing elbows.' Doctoral gowns of European universities are usually very colorful. The caps are often of some soft material like velvet and are ordinarily not of the conventional mortar-board shape. Several examples may be seen in the university faculty:

Commerce, Accountancy,	Music—pink
Business—drab	Nursing—apricot
Education—light blue	Philosophy—dark blue
Engineering—orange	Physical Education—sage green
Fine Arts—brown	Science—golden yellow
Journalism—crimson	Social Science—cream
Law—purple	Theology—scarlet
Library Science—lemon	Veterinary Science—gray

Alma Mater

(The audience is invited to participate.)

Far above the rolling campus,
Resting in the dale,
Stands the dear old Alma Mater
We will always hail.
Shout in chorus, raise your voices,
Blue and Gold—praise you.
Winning through to fame and glory,
Dear old MSU.

Dr. Ronald G. Eaglin became the 12th president of Morehead State University on July 1, 1992. Bringing nearly 30 years of experience in higher education administration to the MSU post, he previously was chancellor of Coastal Carolina University in Conway, S.C.

A former vice chancellor for academic affairs at the University of South Carolina's Spartanburg campus, Dr. Eaglin began his career in higher education administration in the area of student life/housing and has taught both in public school and university settings. In the early 1970s, he served as southeast regional director of the American College Testing Program (ACT).

He holds a bachelor's degree in biology and mathematics from Southeast Missouri State University, a master's degree in student personnel administration from Southern Illinois University and a doctoral degree in educational psychology from the University of Utah.

A graduate of Leadership South Carolina, he is a member of the NCAA President's Commission. Active in the American Association of State Colleges and Universities, President Eaglin is a member of its Board of Directors and has served on numerous AASCU committees.

He frequently serves as a consultant and often presents workshops for colleges on student retention, leadership and academic advisement. His professional efforts have taken Dr. Eaglin to Cyprus as chair of a Fulbright High Commission delegation and more recently to Taiwan, the Republic of China.

A member of several honorary societies such as Psi Chi and Phi Delta Kappa, Dr. Eaglin also is active in his community. As president of MSU, Dr. Eaglin serves as a member of the Board of Directors of the Morehead-Rowan County Chamber of Commerce. A member of the Kentucky Council on Higher Education's Conference of Presidents, he was appointed by Gov. Brereton C. Jones to the East Kentucky Development Roundtable, an advisory working group to the East Kentucky Office of the Cabinet for Economic Development. He also is a member of the steering committee of the Central Appalachian Alliance, a partnership of energy and land holding companies with universities in Kentucky and Virginia. Additionally, Dr. Eaglin is a member of the Kentucky Appalachian Commission and the Task Force to Develop a Master Plan on Tourism for Kentucky.

Lucille Caudill Little, a member of a distinguished Rowan County family, will receive the honorary Doctor of Humanities degree today in recognition of her many efforts to create a better life for residents of Central and Eastern Kentucky. As a teacher, singer, actress, director and philanthropist, she has given of herself and millions of dollars to improve the educational and cultural quality of life in the region.

She was one of five children born to Daniel Boone Caudill, a prominent Morehead banker, attorney, businessman and circuit judge, and his wife, the former Rosetta Proctor.

At age 10, she began studying during the summers at the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music. Later she studied at the University of Kentucky and earned her bachelor's degree from Ohio State University. She continued her voice and drama studies at the Juilliard School of Music and Columbia University.

After launching a successful professional career in New York City as a recitalist and vocalist with a radio orchestra, she determined that the New York scene was not for her and returned home. She then began sharing her talents as a teacher of music and speech at what was then Morehead State Teachers College, where she was instrumental in starting the school's theatre department.

Following her marriage in 1937 to W. Paul Little, a Lexington horseman and land developer, she began working with the local arts community, serving on countless boards and helping to establish new organizations to foster the arts.

Her gifts to the state's educational and arts communities are numerous. At MSU specifically, the Caudill College of Humanities and Little Bell Tower bear her family names and hundreds of students have benefited from her generous support of the performing arts.

Karen M. Telford of Carlisle, a graduating senior in the Caudill College of Humanities, will be the student speaker. A dean's list student, she will receive her A.B. degree in art with honors today.

A non-traditional student, she transferred to MSU from Maysville Community College in the fall of 1995 and specializes in two-dimensional artwork, primarily painting and printmaking. Her work currently is on exhibit at the Loudon House in Lexington, William Kenton Gallery at the Kentucky Horse Park and in Images from the Mountains, a juried traveling show sponsored by Appalshop. She also has a two-person show at Maysville Community College.

Named the 1997 Outstanding Senior in Art by the department, she has assisted with the installation of various art exhibits in MSU's Claypool-Young gallery and Maysville Community College's gallery. One of her drawings has been accepted for publication in the spring 1998 edition of Inscape, MSU's student literary and arts magazine. She also received a fellowship from the Department of Art to attend an art symposium on still life painting at the Evansville (Ind.) Museum of Arts and Science.

She also volunteers with a Flemingsburg cable station producing videos and has done volunteer work with the Licking Valley Community Action Adult Day Care program.

A graduate of Villa Madonna Academy in Covington, she is the daughter of Doris Telford of Carlisle and the late George W. Telford. She plans to enroll at MSU again this January as a graduate student in art.
