Modifying records

- R2 report (Study of the North American MARC records marketplace, R2 Consulting)

“Cataloguers have an almost unstoppable urge to improve, tweak, customize and “localize” national-level records; redundant work is still widespread”

- Connie McGuire, Vicki Dillon (Univ. Michigan)

Modifying records

The screenshot displays the homepage of the 'Defining Gender, 1450-1910' website. The title 'Defining Gender, 1450-1910' is prominently displayed in a serif font at the top left. To the right, there is a 'Document Search' section with a search input field, a 'Search' button, and two dropdown menus labeled 'All Centuries', 'View Names', and 'View Topics'. Below the search area is a horizontal navigation menu with buttons for 'Introduction', 'Essays', 'Documents', 'Biographies', 'Chronology', 'Teaching', 'FAQs', 'Help', and 'Microfilm index'. The main content area features a large, colorful illustration depicting various historical scenes: a woman in a blue dress writing at a desk, two men boxing, a man in a blue coat holding a glass, a woman in a yellow dress, and a child. A book titled 'RULES of CIVILITY' is visible in the background. At the bottom left, the 'Adam Matthew DIGITAL' logo is present, along with a small copyright notice '© Copyright 2007'.

Marc Record Download Site for Legislative Library of British Columbia electronic resource records

Below are the LLBC Marc records, originally provided by the Legislative Library of British Columbia. (See their FAQ for details about the original records) and modified by the University of Victoria Libraries into a Provider Neutral electronic resource record. The Provider Neutral record standard was created by the BCCATS community, specifically University of Victoria, University of Northern British Columbia, Kwantlen Polytechnic University, University of British Columbia and Simon Fraser University. For background on this project, see Nancy Stuart's article in the BCLA Browser.

If you experience any problem with the Provider Neutral records, please contact cats@uvic.ca
