...make(s) it easier to communicate the system to non-specialist users and provide(s) teachers & curriculum planners with orientation points. (CoE, 2001: 24)

Ìre A2 SCEMIC

Can understand and use sentences and frequently used expressions related to areas of most immediate relevance (e.g. very basic personal and family information, shopping, local geography, employment). Can communicate in simple and routine tasks requiring a simple and direct exchange of information on familiar and routine matters, using the present and past tenses. Can ask about others' likes and dislikes. Can describe in simple terms aspects of his/her background. Can use question words correctly, although may struggle to use correct structures. Can form questions in the present and future tense using the verb bi. Can use different forms of the definite article appropriately in the nominative and dative case, provided the gender of the noun is made clear.

|--|---|
| General skills (from CEFR Companion Volume 2017) | Can express opinions on subjects relating to everyday life, using simple expressions. Can briefly give reasons and explanations for opinions, plans and actions. Can say whether or not he/she approves of what someone has done and give reasons to justify this opinion. |
| Fluency (Toraidhean ChLAG) | Planning is very evident: they are silent for around half the time they have the floor. Pausing is frequent, with a silence every 3 words. The speaker hesitates around 3 times in every sentence. The speaker does not usually need to repair or reformulate their message. |
| Complexity (Toraidhean ChLAG) | Sentences are long, up to about 10 words, and there is evidence of complexity with around one subordinate clause per sentence. |

| I can interact in a simple way if the other person is prepared to repeat or rephrase things more slowly and help me with what I'm trying to say. I can ask and answer simple questions in areas of immediate need or on very familiar topics. | I can communicate in tasks requiring a simple and direct exchange of information on familiar topics and activities. I can handle very short social exchanges, even though I can't usually understand enough to keep the conversation going myself. | I can enter unprepared into conversation on topics that are familiar, of personal interest or to with my everyday life (e.g. family, hobbies, work, travel and current events). | I can interact with a degree of fluency and spontaneity that makes regular interaction with more fluent speakers quite possible. I can take an active part in discussion in familiar contexts, accounting for and sustaining my views. | I can express myself fluently and spontaneously without much obvious searching for expressions. I can use language flexibly and effectively for social and professional purposes. I can formulate ideas and opinions with precision and relate my contribution skillfully to those of other speakers. | I can take part effortlessly in any conversation or discussion and have a good familiarity with idiomatic expressions and colloquialisms. I can express myself fluently and convey finer shades of meaning precisely. If I do have a problem I can backtrack and restructure around the difficulty so smoothly that other people are hardly aware of it. | |
