Editor's Note

Vol. 18 - No. 1

April 2018

First of all, we want to inform you that the JCS&T is currently moving its website to a new site based on the OJS framework, a top-reference system for scientific journal management. This new site will allow us to improve the online presentation of journal articles, the complete editorial workflow, the journal indexation, among others.

Additionally, we are very happy to announce that the JCS&T has been accepted in Latindex Catálogo index from the Latindex network an also included in the Emerging Sources Citation Index covered by Clarivate Analytics. This two good news encourage us to continue working on improving the journal quality.

Finally, this issue presents seven papers related to robotics, computer vision, software engineering, intelligent systems and databases, involving 29 different authors from 8 different Universities of Argentina, Mexico, and Nigeria. Besides, this issue also includes two PhD thesis overview and information about the 6th Conference of Cloud Computing and Big Data (Spanish initials JCC&BD 2018), the 13rd Congress of Teaching Technology and Technology Teaching (Spanish initials: TE&ET 2018), and the 24th Argentine Congress of Computer Science (Spanish initials: CACIC 2018).

Presenting this issue to the readership, we specially thank the members of the Editorial staff, the authors and reviewers and also, the Universities that collaborated with the JCS&T.
