FORTY-FIFTH YEAR NO. 29.

Fess Opposes Any Change

Congressman S. D. Fess of Yellow Springs, the leading candidate in the Ohio Republican primary for United States Senator has announced according to the Ohio Anti Saloon League, that he is opposed to the weakening of the Volstead Act. Of course most Greene countians expected just such a statement from the Dr., who has always taken a decided stand on temperance questions. His Democratic opponent will likely be Senator Foner, who has never supported the dry side of the question. The Senator refused to answer the League's questionnaire. Charles Dick, a candidate on the Republican side also has failed to answer. This means that the election this fall for Senator will be but a wet and dry fight. The cities are asking for the light wine and beer amendment and the rural vote will be against it in no uncertain terms.

Two years ago Victor Donnelly was the Democratic nominee for governor on the Democratic ticket. At that time the W. C. T. U. endorsed and worked for the Democratic candidate for governor, Monday the Association Opposed to the Volstead act with headquarters in Cincinnati, endorsed Mr. Donnelly. The question now is whether Mr. Donnelly has changed his position from last fall, or whether the good women were only misled into an alliance with the Democrats for party success? In this county marked tickets were passed out by the Union workers.

While the League will back the Fess candidacy for Senator it will also urge the election of C. A. Thompson for the Republican nomination for governor. Mr. Thompson has a clean record while in the state legislature. His private life has been clean and wholesome and his character all that can be desired. He has always stood for honest efficient government, clean politics and good citizenship. He is qualified by temperament and experience for the high office that he seeks. While there are nine candidates seeking the Republican nomination, Mr. Thompson stands above all of them in fitness. He has by far the greatest number of endorsements from Civic and Church organizations, Chambers of Commerce, Rotary Clubs and different women's organizations in the state.

The story in our last issue of the plan to nominate a dark horse at the primary for what was to be known as the short term for county treasurer, on the part of the Gowsy-Marshall faction proved to be big news to all the candidates as well as office holders. The deal was worked in a clever manner but whether any move will be made to carry it out now remains to be seen.

In former campaigns the Gowsy-Marshall faction has always posed as the only political faction in the county that supported Dr. Fess. The Schmidt-Shoup faction usually opposing him unless it was in the last regular election when there was no organized opposition. In the committee fight this year you do not hear the so-called reformers using the Dr. as a vehicle to ride into power. The real facts are that the independent movement headed by George Little to organize the committee outside of the two factions has broken with these leaders over the method in which the campaign was conducted in the county two years ago. This will be painful news to the patronage seekers who may be cautious from now on as to which route they would purchase tickets.

The contest for nominations for sheriff moves along as smooth as an electric train. Deputy Sheriff Birch is making a conservative campaign and quietly meeting the voters. His efficient manner of handling the affairs of the office is well known to the voters. Morris Sharp, World War Veteran is one of those day and night campaigners, always at it and he is covering the county not once but several times. Ed Lightizer is the dark horse in the race. An old campaigner, a good mixer, one who runs a good finish in a race. The campaign between these three candidates has not yet been marked by any outbreak of anger. It's a gentleman's break.

For State Representative M. A. Broadwater, seeking his second term, and Former Representative W. B. Bryson are calling on. It is the first time in the history of the factional disturbance in the party in the county that both factions are supporting Mr. Broadwater. Mr. Bryson is relying on a strong farmer vote as he is the head of the Greene County Farm Bureau. It is with some interest that politicians are watching just what the W. C. T. U. will do for Mr. Bryson. The organization may split between the candidates but from what we can learn the chief cook and bottle washer of the camp, Mrs. Carrie Flatter, will not wait much effort on the Bryson campaign. Mrs. Flatter tried to force Mr. Bryson to mix into another campaign but Mr. Bryson refused and of course may not get the vote that the Mrs. is said to control.

It was a great mistake that George Little did not seek the permission of Boss Marshall to run for committee-man in the Second ward in Xenia. It develops now that had he done so he would not have had opposition. Mr. Marshall says had he known that Mr. Little desired the place he would have cleared the track for him. But Mr. Little was running on his own platform without the consent of any political boss. He is out to restore the committee to free hands and have it for use in state and national campaigns, not for peanut politics.

WHEAT CROP GOOD QUALITY WITH MOST FARMERS

The quality of wheat this year is far better than most farmers expected yet we hear of considerable cheat here and there, this being the case where water stood after the rains several weeks ago.

The best crops reported by the Farmers' Grain Co. with the test are as follows: Wm. Hopping, 61; Oscar Evans, 60; Pittsick and Kavanaugh, 59; David Bradford, 60; C. H. Crouse, 59. One of the largest crops reported was Smith & Frame 1700 bushel that tested 55.

The price on wheat has been changing from day to day the elevators saying from $1.00 to $1.04.

No trouble is being experienced this year in getting freight cars yet what the future has in store can only be determined by the result of the railroad strike.

Dr. Foster J. Kyle of Springfield, a former citizen of this community, died Wednesday afternoon as a result of an accident on the Orville Shaw farm, south of Springfield, where he was assisting with the harvest. He was driving a mower and in some manner it became checked and he was attempting to clean it out, standing in front of the cycle bar.

There was a loud clap of thunder at that instant and the team jumped for a short distance but stopped on command of Mr. Kyle. The cycle bar caught his right leg above the ankle and ripped the calf of the leg to the knee. One of his hands had three fingers severed and the arm cut much like the limb.

Just how long Mr. Kyle lay in the field following the accident is not known. His wounds bled until he was so weak he could hardly describe how the accident happened.

He was rushed immediately to the Springfield City hospital but only lived about three hours. When he arrived at the institution there was hardly any pulse.

Foster J. Kyle was the second child of Roland and Anna Kyle and was born on what is now the Mechlign place in 1864. He was reared in this community and educated in the public schools following which he became a veterinarian and has resided in Springfield for about 23 years.

CANNOT DO BETTER WITH MONEY

You don't want life insurance, because you "can do better with your money." Your business pays you even now, you say, fifteen per cent on your capital.

Does it so? But money itself cannot earn fifteen per cent. Safely invested—not on hazardous speculation—it will return on the average not to exceed five per cent. The extra ten per cent is the result of your labor, your energy and resourcefulness, your superior executive ability. Death will end all that. The extra ten per cent represents the money value of your life to your family and your estate. Death would destroy that value, but life insurance will indemnify against the financial loss, just as fire insurance lessens the loss when property burns.

A SATURDAY NIGHT TOWN

Have you noticed the increase in numbers of the Saturday night crowds in town over what they were a year ago?

Cedarville has become one of the best trading places in the county and each Saturday night finds the streets packed with people and lined with automobiles as they never were before unless something special was on.

There are various reasons for the increase in trade that has been very noticeable the past few months. The most important reason is that the present school facilities and the bringing in of many new pupils has naturally attracted people this way. We heard a woman say last Saturday night that her family never came to Cedarville to trade until the children were brought here to school by the school buses.

Another reason is that we have wide awake business men. Competition is keen between them and the public is getting good goods at the right price. Never was there so many different kinds and so many business houses open to the public here. This is proof that new fields have been opened and that trade is coming this way than in the past, went to adjoining towns. Traveling men tell us Cedarville at the present is the best trading town in the county outside of the county seat. More goods are being sold our merchants than in some of our neighboring towns.

We have good markets here for the farmer's products. We are in the leading section of the county for the shipment of live stock and grain.

Not only are people attracted here for trading but the demand for residence property at present is without record. We were told the other day of a well improved residence being for sale in a neighboring town. The property is priced right but there are no takers yet at the money. We know the property and if in Cedarville in as good a neighborhood as where it stands today, it would bring $1000 more than is asked for it.

The College, our public schools the paper mill and the Magnesia Co. are making the town what it is in a business way and as a town much desired for residential purposes.

TAKE CARE OF HIM

It is a fine thing that some men make huge sums of money and give much of it away. Recently a professor in one of the State universities made application for a pension because he was unable to longer earn his salary.

"I have not a cent in the world, I have been a teacher all my life. That is wonderful but unremunerative work, and one does not grow rich either, from writing text books on chemistry." So said this quiet little man, who had found his sole reward, for trying years of worthy effort, in love of his work and in doing of gentle deeds.

They say that this man gave away all he had. He secretly supported poor students. He contributed to hundreds of charities. He never refused to give for any worthy cause. And so the golden years of productivity passed him by. One day he awakened to a realization that age gently was tapping him on the shoulder. Like all mortals, he was surprised, but simply said: "I am worn out. A younger man must take my place." No complaints, no revilings, no arraignment of Fate.

Such men are the salt of the earth. Out of the rich man's donations, let the pension come. He has earned it, and with it that something which is worth more than all the mortgages locked in all the safe deposit vaults.

WE AWAIT YOUR REPLY.

There has been much said about the management of the Republican campaign in this county during the year 1920 and also about the use of funds during the elections of that year.

L. T. Marshall poses as the boss of the present committee. He has had the direction of the committee completely under his power. He alone then should be able to answer certain questions we desire to direct to him and his answers will be given the public.

Did you, Mr. Marshall, set any money from a candidate of his manager during the primary of the year 1920?

Did you ever at any time meet a certain politician during that campaign at his room in the Neil House, Columbus?

What was the object of that meeting?

Was the question of money to be used in the primary brought up?

Did you and the politician agree on any sum of money to be turned over to you?

If so what use was to be made of that fund?

Was it turned over to the treasurer of your committee?

What sum of money did you get if any?

Was it $200?

Or was it as much as $300?

Or was it $500?

Are you willing to make affidavit that you did not receive any money?

If not how then was this money turned over to you?

Was it by check or currency?

Was it turned over to you in the room at the Neil House?

Was it delivered to you at the Union Station?

Are you willing to make affidavit that you did not have money delivered to you at the Union Station?

If you received money from this politician what proof can you offer that it was used for legitimate purposes?

Mr. Marshall we await your reply.

MACHINES NOW DIGGING COAL

Inventions Have Wrought Great Changes in the Methods of Bringing "Black Diamonds" to Surface.

With the rapid development of labor-saving methods, the coal miner, according to Popular Mechanics Magazine, is being transformed into a keen-eyed operator of a powerful machine which not only mines and loads the coal, but does it in a safer and more economical manner; after, because the coal is broken down without the use of explosives which tend to shatter the roof and make it dangerous; and more economical, because it produces more lump coal and fewer fines, and does it more rapidly.

One machine developed for this work consists of an undercutting frame with cutter chain and a shearing frame on each side of the machine. In the undercutting frame is a conveyor. There is provided a powerful ram which breaks down the coal onto the conveyor. This ram can be directed at any height of the coal face.

The machine is mounted in a pan and fed forward by means of a steel rope. When the cut has been made, the machine is pulled back in the pan by means of a rope; then this rope is hooked over a sheave on the forward side of the machine and the eye fastened to a jack at the face of the opposite rib. By this means the machine is pulled sideways the width of the cut. This requires about three minutes. The machine is then ready to take another cut.

The machine can be used in combination with a movable storage hopper provided with a loading conveyor. By this system the machine operates continuously during the time the loaded mine car is being removed and replaced by an empty one.

Those Alaska caribou, so numerous that they make river navigation difficult, are a reminder of the days in the West when one couldn't see the sun for the flights of wild pigeons that obscured the sky. Those were the good old days.—Oregonian.

Shellac. Shellac is the joint product of insects and plants and comes from India. The lac insects are about 1/25 of an inch long, a bright red in color. They suck the juices of plants, digest them and exude them in the form of resin, which soon encases the whole insect. When the young insects have swarmed out, the resin is scraped from the branches, ground, washed, mixed with colophony and arpent, cooked slowly and drawn out into the thin sheets we know as shellac.

LESSON FOR JULY 16

THE HANDWRITING ON THE WALL.

LESSON TEXT—Dan. 5:1-31.
GOLDEN TEXT—God will bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil.—Ecc. 12:14.
REFERENCE MATERIAL—Gen. 12:1-2; Ezek. 14:21-23; Acts 12:1-2.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Daniel Tells the King of His Wrong-Doing.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Belshazzar's Feast and Fate.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Judgment Against King Alcohol.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—How to Entertain the Judgment Against Strong Drink.

I. Belshazzar's Impious Feast (vv. 1-4).
1. Who attended (vv. 1, 2). Belshazzar, his wife and concubines and a thousand of his lords.
2. Behavior thereof (vv. 3, 4). (1) They drank wine; they engaged in revelry. (2) They committed sacrilege. In their drunken revelry they drank wine out of the sacred vessels which had been taken out of the temple of the house of God, which was at Jerusalem. When men are under the influence of intoxicating liquors they lose all regard for sacred things. (3) They worshipped idols. They prayed to gods of gold and of silver, of brass, of iron, wood and stone.
II. The Handwriting on the Wall (vv. 5-18).
1. The time of (v. 5). It occurred in the same hour in which they were engaged in their drunken revelry.
2. The effect upon the king (v. 6). He was greatly disturbed; he was seized with consternation. "The joints of his loins were loosed, and his knees smote one against another."
3. The king's behavior (vv. 7-10). (1) He called forth astrologers and soothsayers, offering rewards of gold and position (v. 7-9). Their utter inability to interpret the writing left the king even worse perplexed. (2) Daniel brought the suggestion of the queen (v. 10-13). "The queen here was perhaps the wife of Nebuchadnezzar who remembered Daniel's service in interpreting his dream. For that reason he was sent for and promised great reward."
III. Daniel Interprets the Writing (vv. 17-28).
1. Daniel's address to the king (vv. 17-24). He brushes aside his promised gifts (v. 17). He would not have his speech limited by the king's gifts.
2. The interpretation of the writing (vv. 25-28). (1) "Mene" means "numbered"; (2) "Tekel" means "weighed"; (3) "Peres" means "divided"; (4) "Shadrach" means "divided and given to the Medes and Persians."
IV. The Judgment Executed (vv. 29-31).
In that night was Belshazzar slain and Darius the Median took the kingdom.
The Chaldean dynasty ended with Belshazzar. So we may interpret this whole scene as pointing to the conditions at the close of the times of the Gentiles and as adumbrating the prevailing conditions. Let us note:
1. The stupidity of men. They, like people today, would not learn by example. Nebuchadnezzar's fate should have deterred Belshazzar from such frivolity.
2. The magnificent splendor. This great feast was characterized by pomp, display, parade. How characteristic of this age!
3. Luxury. The famous hanging gardens of Babylon were a noteworthy example. Signs of luxury today are on every hand.
4. Licentiousness. The king with his wives and concubines. This is notoriously prevalent today.
5. Blasphemous sacrilege. And may not the sacrilege of today be in excess of theirs, exposing itself in (1) a profession of religion for pecuniary gain, social and political preferment; (2) use of the pulpit and of the ministry for display and notoriety, even for the propagation of the doctrine; (3) dealing with the church, attending the communion, so as to cover up secret sins; (4) the use of the Word of God to give point to a joke; (5) denying that the Bible is God's Word, making it a book of errors, myths and legends; (6) sneering at the Virgin birth, repudiating Christ's deity and setting aside His vicarious atonement.
6. Drunken carousals. The handwriting is on the wall. God will not endure this forever; His judgment shall fall. Conditions in the world indicate that the time is drawing near. Are you ready?

Aspiration.
What we truly aspire to be, that in some sense we are. The mere aspiration, by changing the frame and spirit of the mind, for the moment realizes itself.—Mrs. Jameson.
Binds Volume of the Week.
Sunday is the golden clasp that binds together the volume of the week.—Longfellow.
Injuries.
Slight small injuries and they become none at all.—Fulter.
Cost of a Pound of Honey.
Few of us realize what a pound of honey means to the bees who produce it. To make a pound of clover honey, bees must take the nectar of 60,000 clover blossoms; and to do this requires 2,750,000 visits to the blossoms by the bees. In other words, in order to collect enough nectar to make one pound of honey, a bee must go from hive to flower and back again 2,750,000 times.

CARBON DIOXIDE FOR GAS VICTIM

Public Health Service Tests Method for Efficiency in Mines and Elevators.

CARBON MONOXIDE IS OUSTED

Breathing is Stimulated by Use of Inhalator Filling the Lungs With Oxygen—Inventor Sees Danger in Its Use.

New York.—Persons overcome by illuminating gas are being treated with carbon dioxide and oxygen by the United States public health service in a series of studies to determine whether or the carbon dioxide treatment should be introduced into mines and grain elevators where the life-saving devices are prescribed by the United States government.

From each person treated by the new method, which was devised by Prof. Yandell Henderson of Yale, working under the United States bureau of mines, a few drops of blood are taken at the moment when the inhalator is first applied, and a few drops more are taken at the end of 20 minutes' use of this apparatus.
"The samples of blood are sent to Doctor Henderson at Yale," said Dr. Stuart Scott, who has been assigned by the United States public health service to take charge of the test of the invention in this city, where it is being used for the first time on human victims of gas poisoning.
"There the samples are being analyzed to discover what percentage of carbon monoxide has been removed from the blood in the 20 minutes during which the inhalator is used. It will take a long course of experiments to determine this. If it is finally shown that the use of carbon dioxide mixed with oxygen is the best antidote for asphyxiation, the inhalator will probably replace the different varieties of purifier now in use in government service."

Used to Stimulate Breathing.
The function of the carbon dioxide is to stimulate breathing, which becomes extremely feeble in a patient overcome by gas. The strong breathing helps to lungs with oxygen and the faster the oxygen enters the lungs the more rapidly the blood is cleared of the carbon monoxide.
In Bellevue and other hospitals a number of experiments have been carried on in the administration of carbon dioxide to patients who have been long under ether during operations. The use of carbon dioxide with great care in such cases is said to speed up breathing, so that the patients quickly clear the ether from their systems and suffer less than the usual ill effects from it.
The average case of gas poisoning is not the best kind of which to show the beneficial effect of the inhalator, according to Doctor Henderson, because of the fact that such cases have usually been under asphyxiation for some time. During this time a certain amount of oxygen in the body often produces degenerative changes in the nerve and other body cells. The mere removal of the carbon monoxide and the restoration of the patient's breathing apparatus cannot repair the damage already done throughout the system of the patient.

The great benefit claimed for the use of the carbon dioxide process is in the early treatment of acute cases of gas poisoning, of firemen asphyxiated by smoke and similar cases of monoxide poisoning. Profound harmful changes may take place in the body of the sufferer within a short time in such cases, and slow processes of reanimation do not save the patient from after effects which may linger for life in disturbed nerve centers and elsewhere from learning how to breathe anything in a reanimating person without the use of instruments.
"The standpoint which seems to me to be justified by eight years of experience, ever since our commission first investigated the matter," he said, "is that, even if we had an artificial respiration, it would still be better to discourage and even forbid the manufacture, sale, use and introduction of such apparatus, because it leads to delay, and thus more deaths—deaths which should and could be restorations."

World's Largest Egg.
Pennsburg, Pa.—The world's largest egg was produced on the farm of Joseph Guldner of Dillingsville, near here, a sixteen-year-old high school senior, according to information given out by New York poultry authorities, who examined the egg and looked up the records. The measurements of the egg are 6 1/2 inches and 2 1/2 inches respectively. Weight of the egg is six ounces. The record egg was laid by a Rhode Island Red pullet. A second egg of similar size was laid by the same hen.

To Open New Books.
Teach the children early how to handle up the bindings of their new books. Don't let them wreck the binding open to the ruin of the book. Rest the book back down on a table and, holding the body of the leaves firm, open first a page or two at the front, then a few at the back and so on till the volume lies easily open to the center. A book put into commission in this scientific fashion has a fair chance of long life.

GOOD THINGS TO EAT.
A nice muffin which the whole family will enjoy is:

Oatmeal Muffins.—Cover two cupsful of uncooked oatmeal in a bowl, pour over one and one-half cupsful of sour milk; cover and let stand over night. In the morning add one-third of a cupful of sugar, one-fourth of a cupful of melted butter, one egg well beaten, one teaspoonful of soda, one-half teaspoonful of salt and one cupful of flour. Beat thoroughly, place in buttered hot iron gem pans, bake twenty minutes in a hot oven.

Finnan Haddie, Country Style.—Cut a two-inch cube of fat salt pork in small dice and try out; then drain. Put two tablespoonfuls of the pork fat in a saucepan, add two tablespoonfuls of flour and stir until well blended, then pour on gradually while stirring one cupful of rich milk. Bring to the boiling point and add one cupful of cooked finnan haddie, the pork scraps and the yolks of two eggs, slightly beaten, add one and one-half cupsful of potato cubes which have been cooked in salted water and tender, then drained. Season with salt and pepper and heat; serve hot.

Fig Souffle.—Cook five washed figs in a light sugar syrup until very soft, drain and cut in very fine bits. Beat the whites of four eggs until stiff, add one-half cupful of sugar and a pinch of salt; continue beating until well blended then fold in the figs and add grated orange peel to flavor. Turn the mixture into buttered and sugared custard cups, set into a pan of water and bake until firm. Serve with sugar and whipped cream.

Cake Crumb and Cocoa Pudding.—Take a well buttered baking dish and cover the bottom with a cupful of cake crumbs, sprinkle with cocoa and sugar with a grating of nutmeg; repeat until the dish is nearly full, then pour one cupful of milk and two well-beaten eggs, adding a pinch of salt. Place in the oven and bake until firm.

PRACTICAL EDUCATION

The child's brain is susceptible of the highest development, but it should be developed along the lines of its inclinations and for practical purposes. If ever there was a time when early education was needed, now is that time. Our schools and colleges are educating the youth of this land away from the natural tendencies and from the human instincts of well developed boys and girls.

The education of today seems to destroy initiative, self-reliance, courage, and a desire for self-support. The educational system of today has apparently destroyed the desire of the child to be contributing members of society. They seem to think that the state owes them something because it gives them a free education. There are very few boys learning to be master mechanics. The majority are trying to find an elevator by which they can ride to the top story of Success. Success was never reached by an elevator. The mountain peak of Success can be reached only by climbing over the rocks and by enduring the hardships, dangers, and difficulties.

If the manufacturing plants of this country had to depend upon

American master mechanics, the factories of the land would have to close. The majority of the master mechanics controlling the factories today have been trained in foreign schools. There are very few apprentices. We have permitted the tyrannical labor unions of the country to destroy the school of apprentices. The idea of organizations or institutions arbitrarily saying how many apprentices they will permit to be trained! Such a tyrannical suggestion from an organization should not be permitted. Such a doctrine is a damnable curse to the manufacturing plants of this land.

Men of brains and money should spend their time and money and their energy in founding, erecting, and directing technological schools for the training of boys and girls in the great mechanical trades of life. There should be a great technological school in every city of this land, and our boys should be encouraged to learn trades, to master trades, and to become masters in their trades.

We have too many counter jumpers, too many clerks, too many nonentities, and too few technically trained mechanics coming from the public schools of our country.

INSECT ENEMIES OF HOME GARDEN

Some of Pests Devour Nearly Every Form of Vegetation and Do Immense Damage.

CUTWORMS INJURE TOMATOES

Arsenic and Paris Green are Deadly Poisons and Must Be Handled With Great Care—Rotation of Crops is Advisable.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

From the standpoint of their food plants, injurious insects may be grouped roughly into two classes. First, those which are choice feeders and ordinarily attack only a single crop, or crops of a single class, although when they are extremely abundant they may resort to other crops or weeds. Examples are the asparagus beetle and asparagus miner and the large tomato worms, which confine their feeding to plants of a single family. Second, those known as general feeders—insects which are not particular as to their food plants. Some of these devour nearly every form of vegetable that grows in the garden. These include cutworms and other caterpillars.

Tomatoes, sweet potatoes, and other truck plants, particularly when started under glass, are likely to be injured by cutworms when transplanted. These appear in great numbers in the spring and early summer, and the injury is often complete before the gardeners notice it. The chief injury is due to the severing of the stems of young plants at about the surface of the ground. One cutworm can destroy many plants in a single night by cutting off more than it can devour.

Control.—The best remedy is what is called "poisoned bait." For use in a small garden take 1 peck of dry bran, add 4 ounces of white arsenic or Paris green, and mix thoroughly with 2 gallons of water in which has been stirred half a gallon of sorghum or other cheap molasses.

For a large garden, use 1 bushel of bran to 1 pound of the arsenical mixed

The KITCHEN CABINET

"Give thine own strength to leaders strong, Make world-wide brotherhood their aim; Show them the righteous way through wrong, For nations' jealousies to shame: Oh, save us yet in love to live; And at the last, O God, forgive!"

"SWEETS TO THE SWEET"

The candy which anyone can make in the home kitchen is just as delicious and twice as cheap and fully as wholesome, if not much more so, than that bought "at the confectioner's." The following recipes are worth while cherishing and trying occasionally.

College Nuggets.—Take one pound of brown sugar, one cupful of water, boil until it makes a ball in cold water, then pour boiling over the well beaten white of an egg. Continue beating until the mixture is creamy, then add flavoring of vanilla and chopped nuts. Drop on a buttered sheet before it gets too hard.

French Fondant.—Take one pound of sugar, one-half cupful of water, two tablespoonfuls of white corn syrup or an eighth of a teaspoonful of cream of tartar. Boil until a soft ball is made when dropped into cold water. Set away to cool, then stir until creamy. Place in a buttered bowl, cover with a cloth and let stand for a day or two to ripen. This fondant may be used for any number of candies. Flavor with peppermint, melt over hot water and drop on waxed paper, for peppermint patties. Wintergreen patties may be prepared the same way with wintergreen flavoring. Chopped pineapple added to fondant made into balls and dipped in chocolate, also melted over hot water, is delicious.

Cream Candy.—Take one cupful of cream and two cupfuls of sugar. Roll to a soft ball stage, flavor to taste, then beat and pour into a greased dish, or drop from a spoon.

Mock Cherry Pie.—Mix one and one-half cupfuls of cranberries cut in halves, three-fourths of a cupful of raisins, chopped, one cupful of sugar and one tablespoonful of flour. Place this mixture in a pastry lined pie plate, dot with bits of butter, add two tablespoonfuls of orange juice, cover with an upper crust and bake thirty-five minutes in a hot oven.

Origin of "White Elephant."—The king of Siam in years gone by would send a white elephant to a courtier whom he disliked and whose fortune he wished to destroy. The man could not sell the elephant and the expense of keeping it eventually "broke him up." From that custom was handed down our present day saying, "He's got a white elephant on his hands."

Poem by Uncle John

ATTENTION TO DETAIL

When a feller pays attention to the commonest of things, there's a powerful sight of comfort in the happiness it brings. If we overlook the details in the rush of gettin' there, we may face the grim necessity of bringin' up the rear.

In the thousand little ventures that a feller undertakes, it may be plantin' flowers, or it may be killin' snakes. Our hand may grasp the saber, or the handle of the plow—but we don't accomplish anything, without a knowin' how!

The man that borrows money at a triflin' rate per cent, may dissipate his wages till he don't know how they went. But the careful money lender, as he figgers the amount, might illuminate the spender, on the little things that count.

I reckon there is women that's disposed to keepin' house, They'd entertain the elephant an' squall about the mouse! They fight the little red ant, while they love a dog, by jings, but that's the way with women—they aspire to greater things!

Dan Williams, Farmer-Labor Candidate For Governorship

Dan W. Williams of Jackson is the only Republican candidate for governor west and south of Columbus. The other eight candidates are bunched in the cities marked in the northeast corner of the state. This is what he stands for:

- Platform? The Governor should serve, not rule.
- Policy? He should give the state a human administration.
- Labor? The test of a law is its effect on wage earners.
- Child? Care for the children; they will care for the future.
- Women? She should have equal civil rights.
- Workers? Security in his job means safety for the state.
- Soldiers? He took the risk; we took the profits. Share.
- Crime? Certainty of prosecution is better than severity of punishment.
- Courts? Appeal to the courts should never be abridged.
- Commissioners? Take judicial functions from political commissioners.
- Laws? Repeal or amend vicious and questionable laws.
- Offices? Abolish needless and duplicating offices.
- Contracts? Squeeze out waste, neglect and graft.
- Wages? Demand a hundred cents of service for each dollar spent.
- Unionism? Don't patch; appoint the ablest men to draft a new system.
- Primary? Make it secret and sacred. Jail hoodlums.
- Referendum? Strengthen it and extend it to the nation.
- Officers? Give them home rule in their own affairs.
- Legislature? Give each member a single district.
- Needs? Build permanently, but remember rural districts.
- Suburbs? Build up rural suburbs to check exodus from the country.
- Farmer? Protect him. Bankrupting the farmer ruined Greece and Rome.
- Ohio? It is time to plan for a state of ten million people.

with 8 gallons of water containing half a gallon of molasses. This is enough for treating 4 or 5 acres of cultivated crops.

After the mash has stood for several hours, scatter it in lumps the size of a marble over the garden where the injury is beginning to appear and about the bases of the plants set out. Apply late in the day so as to place the poison about the plants before night, which is the time when cutworms are active. Apply a second or third time if necessary.

It is advisable to keep young children, live stock, and chickens away from this bait.

Clean cultural methods and crop rotation are advisable, as are also deep fall plowing and disking, to prevent recurrence of cutworm attacks. Experienced growers become expert in detecting cutworms and remove them by hand. This often can be done with profit on small patches.

White Grubs. When new land is used for planting vegetables, especially land that has been in sod or grown up with weeds, white grubs are almost certain to make their appearance, sometimes in large numbers, doing great damage to plants from the time they attain any growth until the fruit is Penny as Financial Barometer. The cent is the barometer of business, and it is interesting to note that during financial depression a large number of these coins accumulate in the treasury. Even a big storm or a strike will cut down the number of pennies in circulation, for the penny circulating public is indoors, or else forced to save for "rainy days" that threaten. It is a sign of prosperity when large numbers of pennies are in circulation.

The Cedarville Pillbusters, a newly organized ball team composed of Cedarville boys, traveled to Clifton last Friday to play the Clifton All Stars. The local team was defeated by a score of 7 to 1. Light hitting and poor base running were responsible for the defeat. The All-stars played a fair brand of ball. "Thunderclap" Hazlett pitched a good game for Clifton. The batteries were: Clifton: Hazlett and Mills. Cedarville: Bratton, Nagley and Wisecup and Acton.

The following afternoon the All-Stars played us a return game, they seemed confident of another victory but when the game ended it was found that the Clifton boys were on the short end of a 10-4 score. The Pillbusters seemed to have received their batting eye for several of the boys got safe hits and Bratton, Wisecup and Acton hit the sphere for two bases. Nagley pitched a good game for Cedarville. The batteries were Clifton: Mills and Harris; Hazlett and Mills. Cedarville: Nagley and Wisecup.

Irish Landlords Get Out.
Lord Gough, like many another Irish landowner, is leaving his home in the old country. Lough Curra castle in County Galway has lately been dismantled and its fine old contents disposed of.

The castle, which stands overlooking the Lough, is wonderfully picturesque. It was built for Lord Gort by Nash himself at a cost of $40,000 and was purchased by the Goughs after the Irish famine of 1847, when the vicar of his day, Dr. Dwyer, was in the endeavor to feed his starving tenants. The present home of the Gorts in the Isle of Wight, East Cowes castle, was built by Nash, who designed it for his own occupation.

Another valuable property to go is Sir Hew Hamilton Dalrymple's romantic home, Luchin, on the ruins of Tantallon castle, which figures in "Marmion." The property, with a fine acreage, includes the greater part of North Berwick. Sir Hew, it is good to hear, is at least not selling the Bass Rock in the Firth of Forth, which is his London Mall.

Products of India.
The principal agricultural products of India include wheat, rice, oil seeds, cotton, jute, sugar, tobacco and tea. In British India (in 1919-1920), 255,000,000 acres had crops growing on them, about 31 per cent being rice crops; 9 per cent wheat; 38 per cent other pulse and food grains; 7 per cent cotton, jute and other fibers, and 5 per cent oil seeds. Jute cultivation has been very profitable. The mineral products, besides mica, rubies and jade, include salt, the production of which is about 1,891,000 tons. In 1919 the output of coal in India was 22,628,000 tons, nine-tenths of it coming from Bengal, Orissa and Bihar; crude petroleum (chiefly from Burma), 800,000,000 gallons; manganese ore, about 538,000 tons; saltpeter, 18,000 tons; wolfram, 3,577 tons; monazite, 2,024 tons, and gold, which is nearly all from Mysore, about 807,000 ounces.

Comparatively Little Water in Lakes.
All the lakes in the world are estimated to contain only 2,000 cubic miles of water, compared with 324,000,000 cubic miles of water in the oceans.

HONEY PHILOSOPHY FOR 1922

Here was young Jim Jones just went into his back garden to see how his grape vines were coming along, and every one of them was dead—not a leaf in sight. He was sure he had doped the whole thing out so he would have a wonderful grape juice crop this year. He got the finest vines, planted them with the greatest care, and then gave them a dose of manure he was sure would make them come up great. In the winter months he dug around them, and gave them more manure to keep them going through the cold spell. "Burned up," remarked old Jake when he saw them. "Ain't nothin' better'n manure, but too much kills. Plants are like humans. Grapes most of all—grow best when they have to fight, and don't get rich food too easy."

Coats Money to Keep Mines Dry.
One of the big expenses of a coal mine is the continual pumping of water to keep it dry. In the average anthracite mine, 18 tons of water are hoisted from the mine for every ton of coal mined, and in some mines it runs up to 27 tons.

World's Debt to American Saller.
The famous Wind and Current Charts, published by Lieut. Maury, of the United States navy, in the middle of the last century, were immensely valuable to mariners in pointing out the quickest and safest routes for sailing vessels. British shipping alone is said to have benefited from them to the extent of $10,000,000 a year.

Origin of Drinking Foxes.
Mixing with other wine was really nothing more than the survival of the fittest. The custom of parties drinking together in ratification of a bargain. It is in this sense that some Jewish and Russian couples drink wine at their betrothal ceremonies. The Hebrew, after drinking, dashes the vessel to the ground in memory of the destruction of the Temple; whereas the Russian tramples the glass beneath his feet, with the pious wish: "May they thus fall under foot and be trodden to pieces who shall endeavor to sow dissension and discord between us."

Raising Foxes on Ranches.
Raising ranch-bred foxes is an industry that is being carried on extensively in all the Canadian provinces, in at least a dozen of the northernmost states of the United States, and beginning in Japan and Norway, all lying in much the same climate belt, adapted to domesticating the black fox, under the most favorable conditions.

Accidental French.
An American lady in Paris wanted some water, but could not make the maid understand she wanted it hot. After several vain attempts, she explained in disgust: "Sho!" The maid brightened up suddenly, went off and returned with a pitcher of hot water. It was not until some time afterward that the lady learned from a friend that the girl had evidently mistaken "Sho" for "chaud," which is the French for "hot."—Boston Transcript.

BRAND BREAD LAW

What is more important than bread?

Senator Brand found bread selling over the State in most cases in twelve thirteen and fourteen ounce loaves in place of the full sixteen ounces. He put a law through the Legislature forcing full-weight bread and the law is now in effect.

When the size of the loaves was raised, there was no advance in price and the people are now daily getting on an average three ounces more bread without any extra cost.

Mr. Brand also fought down the prices of hard surface roads.
