Oregon State System of Higher Education

THE Oregon State System of Higher Education, as organized in 1932 by the State Board of Higher Education following a Federal survey of higher education in Oregon, includes all the state-supported institutions of higher learning. The several institutions are now elements in an articulated system, parts of an integrated whole. The educational program is so organized as to distribute as widely as possible throughout the state the opportunities for general education and to center on a particular campus specialized, technical, and professional curricula closely related to one another.

The institutions of the State System of Higher Education are the University of Oregon at Eugene, Oregon State College at Corvallis, the Oregon College of Education at Monmouth, the Southern Oregon College of Education at Ashland, and the Eastern Oregon College of Education at La Grande. The University of Oregon Medical School and the University of Oregon Dental School are located in Portland.

Each of the five institutions provides the general studies fundamental to a well-rounded education. At the three colleges of education general and professional studies are combined in the teacher-training curriculum; students who do not plan to become elementary-school teachers may devote their time exclusively to lower-division studies in the liberal arts and sciences or (at Southern Oregon and Eastern Oregon colleges of education) to approved lower-division programs in semiprofessional fields.

At the University and the State College two years of un-specialized work in liberal arts and sciences are provided on a parallel basis in the lower division. Major-curricula, both liberal and professional, are grouped on either campus in accordance with the distinctive functions of the respective institutions in the unified State System of Higher Education.

The Medical School

The University of Oregon Medical School has been in continuous operation since 1887, when it was granted a charter by the regents of the University of Oregon. Although the Medical School, because of its location in a different city from the other schools of the University, has administrative and faculty autonomy, the academic position of the school as an integral part of the University, established by its charter, is recognized under the organization plan of the Oregon State System of Higher Education.

On September 1, 1913, the Willamette University department of medicine was merged with the Medical School. Under the terms of the merger, the students of the Willamette University medical department were transferred to the University of Oregon Medical School, and upon graduation, received diplomas indicative of the consolidation. The alumni bodies of the two institutions were also merged.

The Medical School is organized into instructional divisions as follows: basic-science departments, offering instruction in those sciences basic to medicine; clinical departments, offering instruction in medicine with its various branches, surgery with its various branches, obstetrics, gynecology, and pediatrics; and the Department of Nursing Education.

Location

Portland (population 450,000), situated on the Willamette River near its junction with the Columbia, is a modern city of diverse business and industrial activities. Although 100 miles from the Pacific, Portland is an important seaport. The city is known for its beautiful homes, parks, and boulevards, and for its equable climate. The foothills of the Cascade Mountains rise on the outskirts of the city. Mount Hood, one of the major peaks of the range, towers on the southeastern horizon.

As indicated elsewhere, concentration of a number of hospitals on the campus of the Medical School and articulation of the work of the school with various health and social agencies of the city afford superior opportunities for medical study.

Campus and Buildings

Prior to 1919 the Medical School was housed in a three-story frame building at Twenty-third and Lovejoy streets near the Good Samaritan Hospital. In 1919 the school was moved to a twenty-acre tract deeded to the regents of the University by the Oregon-Washington Railroad and Navigation Company in 1914, as a campus for future development of a center of medical teaching and research.
The campus was enlarged in 1924 by the addition of Sam Jackson Park, an adjoining tract of eighty-eight acres, a gift of Mrs. C. S. Jackson and Mr. Philip Jackson in behalf and in memory of the late Mr. C. S. Jackson. The entire campus of one hundred and nine acres occupies a site of exceptional scenic grandeur, at an elevation overlooking the city and the Willamette River, isolated from noise and smoke but within one and one-half miles of the business center. It affords an ideal setting for Medical School buildings and affiliated hospitals. In 1920 the University conveyed to Multnomah County nine acres on the campus for the construction of a general charity hospital. In 1926 a tract of twenty-five acres was deeded to the United States government as a site for a veterans' hospital of 300 beds.

The First Medical Science Unit (1919) was financed through an appropriation of $110,000 by the 1917 State Legislature and by cash donations amounting to $25,000 from Portland citizens. The building is a three-story reinforced-concrete structure.

Mackenzie Hall (1922), second unit of the Medical Science Building, was financed by an appropriation of $113,000 by the 1921 State Legislature, matched by an equal appropriation from the General Education Board of New York. It is named in honor of the late Dean Kenneth A. J. Mackenzie. The building is four stories high, similar in construction to the first unit but with twice its capacity. The General Education Board appropriated $50,000 in addition for equipment.

The Doernbecher Memorial Hospital for Children (1926) was financed through a gift of $200,000 by Mrs. E. W. Morse and Mr. Edward Doernbecher in memory of their father, the late Mr. F. S. Doernbecher. This fund was augmented by other gifts totaling $120,000. The hospital provides 63 beds, and has exceptional facilities for the care of sick and disabled children of the state of Oregon.

The Outpatient Clinic (1931), connecting with the Doernbecher Memorial Hospital for Children and the Multnomah Hospital affords teaching facilities for the clinical branches of the Medical School. Funds for the construction of the building were provided through a gift of $400,000 from the General Education Board of New York.

The Multnomah Hospital (1923), constructed by the commissioners of Multnomah County, has a capacity of 275 beds and serves as one of the teaching units of the Medical School. The Multnomah Hospital group includes also the Nurses Home (1927) and the Heating Plant (1923).

The University State Tuberculosis Hospital (1939) has an 80-bed capacity and a large outpatient unit. Funds for the hospital were provided by a state appropriation of $110,000, a Public Works Administration grant of $130,900, and a gift from Mrs. Grace R. Meier, Mr. Jack Meier, Mrs. Joseph Ehrman, Jr., and Mrs. Frederick Ganz, in memory of Mr. Julius L. Meier, husband and father. The outpatient clinic of the hospital is called the Julius L. Meier Memorial Clinic.

The Library and the Auditorium (1939) were erected with funds provided through gifts of $100,000 from Dr. John E. Weeks and $100,000 from the Rockefeller Foundation, and through a grant of $163,500 from the Public Works Administration. The Library stacks provide shelving space for 100,000 volumes, and may be expanded to accommodate an additional 100,000. The Auditorium, with a seating capacity of 600, provides facilities for lectures and scientific meetings in the field of medicine for students in the Medical School and physicians of the state of Oregon and the Pacific Northwest.
The Nurses Dormitory (1943), formerly the Portland Medical Hospital, was purchased in 1943 to provide needed housing facilities for students in the Department of Nursing Education. The dormitory accommodates 95 students.

Clinical and Special Facilities

Clinical facilities are afforded by the Multnomah Hospital, the Doernbecher Memorial Hospital for Children, the Outpatient Clinic, the University State Tuberculosis Hospital, and extramural clinics. These facilities are effectively coordinated for the clinical needs of the Medical School.

Multnomah Hospital. The first unit of the Multnomah Hospital was opened in 1923. The building, erected at a cost of approximately $1,000,000, embodies the most-modern conceptions of a teaching hospital. It is a general charity hospital and accommodates 275 beds. Contemplated additional units will increase the capacity to 500 beds.

Under the terms of a contractual agreement between the commissioners of Multnomah County and the University of Oregon, the Medical School has access to the hospital for teaching purposes, and the director of the hospital is a University official. The director of the hospital appoints the professional staff from nominations by the Medical School. The arrangement provides a most-successful affiliation for teaching, research, and the care of the sick.

The Doernbecher Memorial Hospital for Children affords every facility for teaching and research in the Department of Pediatrics and in other clinical divisions. Operating funds for the hospital are provided chiefly from state appropriations.

Outpatient Clinic. Admissions, medical records, X-ray, laboratory, physical therapy, social service, and other such medical services are unified and coordinated in the Outpatient Clinic, housed in a unit connecting the Doernbecher Memorial Hospital and the Multnomah Hospital. Through this arrangement, duplication is eliminated, and the care of patients and the teaching of medical students are greatly facilitated. The history of the Outpatient Clinic began with the founding of the Portland Free Dispensary in 1907 by the Peoples’ Institute, a private philanthropic institution. The dispensary became affiliated with the Medical School in 1909. It was located at Fourth and Jefferson streets until January 1, 1931, when it was merged into the Outpatient Clinic on the Medical School campus.

The budget for maintenance and operation of the clinic is provided by state appropriations, Multnomah County, the city of Portland, and the Public Welfare Commission.

The University State Tuberculosis Hospital is an 80-bed hospital devoted to the care of patients suffering from tuberculosis. It provides medical and surgical facilities for teaching medical students, interns, residents, and nurses.

Extramural Clinics. Clinics and ward walks for small classes are conducted in a number of hospitals not situated on the Medical School campus—at Good Samaritan Hospital, Emanuel Hospital, St. Vincents Hospital, Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children, Waverly Baby Home, and Albertina Kerr Nursery.

Autopsy Service and Pathological Museum. Under a contractual agreement with the Multnomah County commissioners, the Department of Pathology of the Medical School is designated to perform and record all coroner's autopsies. This arrangement materially augments the Pathological Museum and affords unusual opportunity for teaching in pathology and medical jurisprudence, besides assuring authoritative records for medicolegal purposes. The museum has gross and tissue specimens numbering many thousands. Approximately 925 autopsies are performed a year.

Library

The Medical School Library contains more than 43,000 volumes of books and bound periodicals and a large number of unbound periodicals. More than 650 current periodicals are received. Through the privileges of interlibrary loan and microfilm service, it is possible to obtain within a few days material not in this collection. The Oregon State Board of Medical Examiners, the Portland Academy of Medicine, and the Multnomah County Medical Society contribute part of the annual operating funds.

The Library collections have been enriched by many valuable gifts of books and periodicals from individuals and organizations. Books and objects of medical historical interest are being assembled through the aid of the Women's Auxiliary of the Oregon State Medical Society and other friends of the Medical School. Public acknowledgment of gifts to the Library is made by means of a printed list on the annual Commencement program.

During the first term of the school year, students in the first-year class and other interested students are given a brief survey of the resources of the Library and instruction in their use.

The following regulations govern fines and charges in connection with the use of Library facilities:

1. If a book borrowed from the reserve department is not returned when due, a fine of 25 cents is charged for the first hour and 5 cents for each succeeding hour, or fraction thereof, until the book is returned or reported lost. A maximum charge of $1.00 per hour may be made in cases of flagrant violation of the rules.

2. A service charge of 10 cents is added to all accounts reported to the Business Office for collection.

3. If a book, which has been reported lost and has been paid for, is returned within one year, refund will be made after deduction of the accumulated fines, plus a service charge of 50 cents.

Graduate Residency Program

One of the important functions of a medical school is the training of physicians in the medical specialties. The demand for such training has greatly increased in recent years. In response, the Medical School residency program has been expanded to provide approximately 50 appointments. Residency training follows one year of internship, and consists of a course of study of two or three years devoted entirely to one specialized field of medicine. Instruction is received both in clinical departments and in related basic-science departments of the school.

All residencies have received the approval of the Council on Medical Education and Hospitals of the American Medical Association and of the respective American boards. Residencies are offered in anaesthesia, dermatology and syphil-
Postgraduate Program

The University of Oregon Medical School makes available its teaching and clinical facilities to physicians for continued postgraduate study. To meet the needs of these physicians, an extensive postgraduate program has been arranged, consisting of the following phases:

Informal Refresher Courses. For physicians wishing a review of particular phases of medicine, an informal program is offered. Instruction is given by means of clinics, demonstrations, ward walks, and observations. The physician may select the types of instruction he desires and the length of time he wishes to attend. Individual instruction is given by members of the faculty. This program may be started at any time and continued as long as desired.

Fees are $75.00 per month for the first three months, $50.00 per month for the second three months, and $25.00 per month for succeeding months.

Short Intensive Courses. A series of short intensive courses, usually of five days duration, is offered for physicians who wish to pursue postgraduate studies by taking frequent short periods from their practice. These courses are devoted to special subjects and are scheduled throughout the year. Instruction is given by lectures and demonstrations, the method of presentation depending upon the subject covered. These courses are offered in the following fields: internal medicine, general surgery, orthopaedic surgery, radiology, malignant diseases, obstetrics and gynecology, and pediatrics. Fees charged are $50.00 for the five-day courses and proportionately less for shorter courses.

Admission and Requirements

Admission to the Medical School is based upon two types of qualifications. The applicant must present evidence of good character, proper attitude, and sincere interest in the study of medicine. He must also have demonstrated sufficient intellectual ability to undertake satisfactorily the study of medicine, as judged by his premedical scholastic record.

Applicants for admission are required to have completed satisfactorily four years in an accredited high school, or its equivalent, and collegiate preparation of not less than three years of full-schedule work in an accredited college or university.
(1) High-School Preparation. The following high-school course, which meets all the formal requirements, is strongly recommended:

Foreign language is not specifically required for admission to the Medical School, but some knowledge of a major modern foreign language (German, French, Russian, Spanish) is highly recommended as part of the cultural training of the physician. Students anticipating research in the medical sciences should have a basic knowledge of German and French. The premedical student should keep in mind that some medical schools require credit in foreign language for admission.

The work in organic chemistry must include the chemistry of both aliphatic and aromatic compounds. Biochemistry will not be accepted toward meeting the requirement. Students electing additional work are advised to take a course in elementary physical chemistry. At least 25 per cent of all chemistry credit must be for laboratory work.

Human anatomy is not acceptable toward meeting the minimum requirement in biology. Students electing additional work are advised to take courses in embryology, vertebrate anatomy, histological technique, or general physiology.

The work in physics must include the divisions of mechanics, heat and sound, light and electricity. Students electing additional work are advised to take further courses in electricity or atomic physics.

The work in mathematics should be of standard college grade, and should include subjects such as algebra, elementary analysis, or trigonometry. Students electing additional mathematics are advised to take work in calculus.

The premedical student is advised very strongly against taking any medical courses in his preparation for the study of medicine. Rather, he should devote his efforts to obtaining the best possible general cultural education and, in addition, a thorough training in the basic sciences of chemistry, physics, and biology.

Recommended Elective Subjects. The student preparing to study medicine is advised to plan a balance in elective courses between courses in liberal arts and courses, beyond the minimum requirements, in subjects prescribed for admission to the Medical School. Subjects suggested are: history, economics, sociology, psychology; English, public speaking, and foreign language.

A fee of $5.00 is charged for the evaluation of transcripts submitted with the application for admission. When an applicant is accepted for admission to the Medical School, a deposit of $25.00 must be paid not later than two weeks following acceptance, in order to reserve a place in the entering class. This deposit of $25.00 applies toward the tuition fee of the first term. It is not refundable after a period thirty days following notice of acceptance.

Because of the large number of applications received from students in the Pacific Northwest region, it is seldom possible to accept applicants from other sections of the country.

Aptitude Test. Applicants for admission are expected to have taken the aptitude test given for the Association of American Medical Colleges at the various institutions offering premedical curricula. Exceptions to this rule may be allowed in the case of applicants who, because of legitimate reasons approved by the Committee on Admissions, have been unable to take the test.
Bachelor's Degree. A student entering the University of Oregon Medical School without a Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science degree must complete the work required for one of these degrees in the Oregon State System of Higher Education, or in the institution at which he received his premedical preparation, before entering upon the work of the third year in the Medical School.

The University of Oregon, Oregon State College, and most of the colleges and universities of the Pacific Northwest recognize credit earned by a student during his first year at the Medical School as credit earned in residence toward the bachelor's degree.

Special Students. Graduates in medicine may register as special students in any course. Graduates in medicine may not be candidates for the degree of Doctor of Medicine.

Students holding only academic degrees may be admitted as special students to certain courses in the Medical School upon recommendation by the head of the department concerned to the Committee on Admissions, subject to approval by the dean. Such students may not receive academic credit for work in clinical subjects.

Undergraduates may not be admitted to courses in the Medical School as special students.

Special students are required to submit credentials and secure the approval of the Committee on Admissions before registering.

Students who register for special work are charged tuition according to the amount of work undertaken and the nature of the course.

Advanced Standing. A student may be accepted for admission with advanced standing, provided his official credentials are accompanied by a statement from the registrar of the institution from which he is transferring to the effect that the applicant's scholarship in medical-school work ranks him in the upper fifty per cent of his class. An honorable dismissal and premedical preparation meeting the regular requirements for admission are also required. Students admitted with advanced standing must take at least the last year of work at the University of Oregon Medical School. In general, only transfer to the third-year class is feasible.

Promotion. In order to be promoted from the first to the second year and from the second to the third year in the Medical School, the student must receive a passing grade in all subjects and an average grade of IV or better for the work of the entire year. The status of students failing to meet these requirements will be determined by the Promotion Board. Third- and fourth-year students must receive satisfactory grades in all subjects.

Requirements for Degrees. Work is offered at the Medical School leading to Doctor of Medicine, Master of Arts, Master of Science, and Doctor of Philosophy degrees. Graduate and professional degrees earned at the Medical School are conferred by the University of Oregon, upon recommendation of the faculty of the Medical School.

M.D. Degree. A candidate for the degree of Doctor of Medicine must have completed satisfactorily the curriculum prescribed by the faculty of the Medical School. All candidates for degrees are expected to be present at the Commencement exercises to receive the diploma in person.

M.A., M.S., and Ph.D. Degrees. The Medical School offers graduate instruction leading to the Master of Arts, Master of Science, and Doctor of Philosophy degrees in the medical sciences: anatomy, bacteriology, biochemistry, pathology, pharmacology, and physiology.

The refund schedule has been established by the Oregon State Board of Higher Education, and is on file in the Business Office of the Medical School. All refunds are subject to the following regulations:

1. Any claim for refund must be made in writing before the close of the term in which the claim originated.
2. Refunds in all cases are calculated from the date of application for refund and not from the date when the student ceased attending classes, except in unusual cases when formal withdrawal has been delayed through causes largely beyond the control of the student.

REGULATIONS GOVERNING NONRESIDENT FEE

The Oregon State Board of Higher Education has defined a nonresident student as a person who comes into Oregon from another state for the purpose of attending one of the institutions under the control of the Board.

In order to draw a clear line between resident and nonresident students, the board has ordered that all students in the institutions under its control who have not been domiciled in Oregon for more than one year immediately preceding the day of their first enrollment in the institution shall be termed nonresident students, with the following exceptions:

1. Students whose father (or mother, if the father is not living) is domiciled in the state of Oregon.
2. Children of regular employees of the Federal government stationed in the state of Oregon.
3. Students holding a baccalaureate degree and working toward the M.A., M.S., Ph.D., or other graduate degree (the M.D. degree is classified as a professional, not a graduate degree).
Fellowships, Scholarships, Loan Funds, Prizes

Noble Wiley Jones Pathology Research Fellowship. This fellowship, founded in 1919, consisting of the interest on $5,000 held in trust, is the gift of Dr. Noble Wiley Jones of Portland. It is awarded annually to a medical student or resident on the basis of scholastic ability, training in pathology, and interest in research in this field.

Kenneth A. J. Mackenzie Memorial Scholarships. Five $200 scholarships are awarded annually for the study of medicine, in accordance with the following plan: one $200 scholarship is awarded each year to the outstanding premedical student at the University of Oregon in the last year of his premedical studies; if the student enters the University of Oregon Medical School and continues to maintain a high scholastic record, the scholarship is renewable for each of his four years of medical training; if the student does not maintain a high scholastic record at the Medical School, his scholarship is transferred to the outstanding member of his Medical School class who has taken his premedical work at the University of Oregon. The scholarships are a memorial to Dr. Kenneth A. J. Mackenzie, former dean of the Medical School; they are endowed through a bequest from the late Mrs. Mildred Anna Williams.

Pohl Memorial Scholarships. These scholarships were endowed in 1936 by a gift of $5,000 from Dr. Esther Pohl Lovejoy, in memory of her husband, Dr. Emil Pohl, and her son, Frederick Clayson Pohl. The original gift has been supplemented by additional annual donations from Dr. Lovejoy, which have increased the endowment to about $20,500. Awards are made to students of promise in the field of medicine. Two-thirds of the scholarships are given to men students, one-third to women students. Application should be filed with the office of the dean of the Medical School not later than April 1. Scholarships will be awarded by the dean upon the recommendation of the Scholarship Committee of the Medical School.

State Scholarships. In accordance with special authorization from the Legislature, the State Board of Higher Education awards annually a limited number of scholarships to students in the institutions of the State System who rank high in scholastic attainment and who need financial assistance. These scholarships cover tuition. Recipients must pay the building fee, the incidental fee, and special fees. Award of state scholarships to students at the Medical School is upon recommendation of the dean and the Scholarship Committee of the Medical School. Applications should be sent to the dean of the Medical School not later than April 1.

George H. Strowbridge Memorial Scholarship. This scholarship consists of the income from a bequest of $5,000 from Mary S. Muellhaupt in memory of Dr. George H. Strowbridge, a graduate of the University of Oregon Medical School in the Class of 1897. Award is made to a student of the second-, third-, or fourth-year class upon the basis of scholastic attainment and need. Application should be filed in the office of the dean of the Medical School not later than April 1. Scholarships are awarded by the dean upon the recommendation of the Scholarship Committee of the Medical School.
Frank Ralston Research Student Assistantship. This assistantship was made available in 1946 through a gift of $5,000 from Dr. Frank Ralston. The funds are devoted to research in glaucoma under the direction of the head of the Department of Ophthalmology.

Ben Selling Loan Fund. This fund, a bequest from the late Mr. Ben Selling, is administered by Dr. Laurence Selling. Applications for loans are made through the office of the dean of the Medical School.

W. K. Kellogg Loan Fund. In May 1942, the W. K. Kellogg Foundation established a $10,000 loan fund at the University of Oregon Medical School for the financial assistance of medical students. Preference is given to first- and second-year students who have demonstrated scholastic ability, character, and need. The usual loan is $250. Loans are administered through the office of the dean.

Leona M. Hickman Student Loan Fund. This fund, established in 1936, is available, by the terms of the trust, to young men who are actual residents of King County, state of Washington; the fund is administered by the Peoples National Bank of Washington in Seattle as trustee. Application should be made to the Trust Department of the Peoples National Bank of Washington, 1414 Fourth Avenue, Seattle, Washington.

Henry Waldo Coe Prize. This prize, founded in 1929, is awarded to a second-, third-, or fourth-year student in the Medical School who presents an essay on a medical subject exhibiting superiority and originality in composition. The prize consists of the interest on a gift of $1,000 from the late Dr. Henry Waldo Coe.

Joseph Lipshutz Memorial Essay Award. An award of $50.00 is made annually to the fourth-year medical student writing and presenting the best paper in the field of pediatrics. The award is supported by a $600 fund, contributed by private donors as a memorial to Dr. Joseph Lipschutz, graduate of the Medical School who gave his life for his country in World War II.

University of Oregon Loan Funds. Except in the case of a few funds which are specifically restricted to the University students at Eugene, students of the Medical School are eligible for loans from the University student loan funds on the same basis as students on the campus at Eugene. For loan regulations see the general University Catalog.

Endowment Funds

The Dorothy Strowbridge Jackson Memorial Fund (1935) was made available through a trust agreement provided in the will of Zola P. White. The trust, the income of which is to be devoted to instructional needs of the Department of Medicine, is administered by the First National Bank of Portland. The assets of the fund include property in Portland and in Clackamas County.

The Widmer Memorial Research Fund (1939) was made available through a gift from Gertrude E. and Margaret M. Widmer, residents of Eugene, in memory of their parents and brother. The invested capital amounts to $16,000. The income from this fund is utilized for the purposes of research and treatment of cancer and heart disease.

The Kenneth A. J. Mackenzie Memorial Fund (1940), amounting to $250,000, was given to the University of Oregon by the late Mildred A. Williams in memory of Dr. Kenneth A. J. Mackenzie. Of the annual income of this fund, $1,000 is devoted to scholarships for premedical and medical students, and the remainder (approximately $7,000) is devoted to the support of the Department of Surgery.

The Lola Norwood Diack Trust Fund (1938) was established by Dr. Samuel L. Diack and others in memory of Lola Norwood Diack. The income is available to the various departments of the Medical School for research.

Jones Lectureship in Medicine. The Jones Lectureship in Medicine, founded by Dr. Noble Wiley Jones of Portland, provides the income from a $5,000 fund for a series of lectures by an authority in some branch of medical science. The first lectures were given in 1920 by Professor Ludwig Hektoen, professor of pathology, University of Chicago; the second in 1921, by Professor William Ophuls, professor of pathology, Stanford University; the third in 1922, by Sir Thomas Lewis of London; the fourth in 1925, by Dr. A. E. C. Brown Trust Fund. The income from this fund, established under the will of the late Dr. E. C. Brown, supports a state-wide program of social hygiene education. The program is administered by the President of the University of Oregon.

The Matie B. Train Research Fund (1944) was established under the will of the late Matie B. Train for research in diseases of the vascular system. The principal of the fund is now about $5,400.

The David P. Mathews Research Fund (1945), approximately $20,000, was made available under the will of the late David P. Mathews. The fund is to be utilized in research and study of improved methods for the treatment and cure of asthma.
The Weeks Ophthalmology Fund (1945) was established through a gift of $5,000 from Dr. and Mrs. John E. Weeks; the fund will be utilized to establish and maintain a clinic at the Medical School for the diagnosis and treatment of anomalies of binocular vision.

Andrew J. Browning Ophthalmologic Memorial Fund (1947) was established through a gift of $3,000 to further the teaching of ophthalmology in the Medical School by purchase of outstanding art illustrating ophthalmic subjects.

Student Health

The student health service program at the Medical School is carried on under the direction of a committee of the faculty. Service to the student is provided in the hospitals and clinics of the Medical School. In addition to the general service of the entire school, arrangement is made for obtaining the advice and service of the dean and heads of departments in all student health and welfare problems. All entering students are required to take a physical examination, and all graduating students are required to take a special chest examination. A fee of $4.50 per term is charged each student for health service.

Fraternal and Honor Societies

Chapters of the following medical fraternities and honor societies are located at the Medical School: Alpha Epsilon Iota, Alpha Kappa Kappa, Nu Sigma Nu, Theta Kappa Psi, Alpha Omega Alpha (honor society for both men and women).

Alumni Association

The Medical School Alumni Association includes the graduates of the Medical School and of the Willamette University department of medicine, which was merged with the University of Oregon Medical School in 1913. A strong organization has been built up, devoted to the interests of students and graduates and to the encouragement of scientific and professional progress among members of the association and in the medical profession generally. With the faculty of the Medical School, the association is cooperating to build up a great medical center in Portland. The officers of the Alumni Association for 1948-49 are:

- DR. RICHARD F. BEGG, Portland .................................................. President
- DR. HOMER P. RUSH, Portland .................................................. Vice-President
- DR. RODERICK BEGG, Portland ................................................... Vice-President
- DR. CHARLES A. FRAZER, Santa Barbara, Cal. ................................. Vice-President
- DR. MELVIN F. FULLER, Aberdeen, Wash. ...................................... Vice-President
- DR. RICHARD D. SIMONTON, Boise, Idaho ..................................... Vice-President
- DR. RUSSELL H. KAUFMAN, Portland .............................................. Secretary
- DR. HERBERT E. MASON, Beaverton .............................................. Treasurer
THE curriculum in medicine requires a total of seven years' work beyond high school. The first three years must be satisfactorily completed before admission to the Medical School in Portland. Since facilities for instruction provide for the acceptance of only a limited number of applicants, completion of the premedical years does not guarantee admission to the Medical School.

The four years spent in the Medical School in Portland are devoted to the subjects of the regular four-year curriculum in medicine required by law.

The prescribed and recommended subjects for the three premedical years are described under ADMISSION AND REQUIREMENTS. In the first, second, third, and fourth years at the Medical School there are 4,718% hours of required work. Elective courses may be taken with the permission of the instructor in any term for which they are scheduled. Descriptions of courses are to be found under the several departmental headings.

Course-Numbering System

Medical School courses are numbered in accordance with the uniform course-numbering system of the Oregon State System of Higher Education. This numbering system, as it applies to the Medical School courses, is as follows:

- 400-499. Upper-division courses primarily for first-year students in medicine, but to which graduate students may be admitted on approval of the graduate adviser and department head concerned.

- 500-599. Courses primarily for students in basic medical science, but to which graduate students may be admitted on approval of graduate adviser and department head concerned.

- 600-699. Courses that are highly professional in nature and may count toward a professional degree, but cannot apply toward an advanced academic degree (M.A., M.S., or Ph.D.).

Certain numbers are reserved for courses that may be taken through successive terms under the same course number, credit being granted according to the amount of acceptable work done. These course numbers are as follows:

- 501. Research
- 503. Thesis
- 505. Reading and Conference
- 507. Seminar

MILITARY SCIENCE AND TACTICS

The Army Reorganization Act of June 4, 1920 provided for the establishment of units of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps in selected medical schools. An
R. O. T. C. unit was established at the University of Oregon Medical School in 1920.

The courses offered are correlated with other courses taught in the Medical School. The organization, administration, and functions of the Army in war and peace are studied. Particular stress is laid on the place of the medical department in the military organization.

Instruction is given by lectures, demonstrations, and quizzes.

General Information

THE Department of Nursing Education at the University of Oregon Medical School is organized on a collegiate basis. The undergraduate degree curriculum is designed to prepare young women for service as professional nurses in the skillful care of the sick and in the promotion of community health. The advanced professional curricula are designed to prepare graduate nurses for specialized service in the fields of public health nursing, supervision, and teaching in schools of nursing.

The Department of Nursing Education is accredited by the Oregon State Board for Examination and Registration of Nurses, the Association of Collegiate Schools of Nursing, and the National Organization for Public Health Nursing.

HISTORY

The University of Oregon introduced professional courses in nursing for the first time in the summer session of 1919. The courses were offered in Portland in cooperation with the Northwest Division of the American Red Cross Home Service Department, the Portland Visiting Nurse Association, the Welfare Bureau, and the Oregon Tuberculosis Association.

A standard course of study in public health nursing was established in the fall of 1920 as a part of the program of the Portland division of the newly organized School of Sociology; this division was known as the Portland School of Social Work.

In 1926 the University introduced a five-year curriculum in nursing leading to a bachelor's degree. The first two years of the curriculum were offered on the Eugene campus; this preparatory training was followed by two years of work in a hospital school of nursing in Portland, and a fifth year of specialized training in such nursing specialties as public health nursing, hospital administration, etc. Work in the hospital school was supplemented by professional courses in the Portland School of Social Work.

A three-year certificate program was added in 1928, for high-school graduates enrolled in accredited hospital schools of nursing in Portland. The hospital training was supplemented by basic courses of collegiate grade offered through the cooperation of the Portland School of Social Work, the Portland Extension Center of the University, and the University of Oregon Medical School. The program led to the Junior Certificate from the University. The certificate program was discontinued in 1939.

When, as a part of the reorganization of the Oregon State System of Higher Education in 1932, the Portland School of Social Work was discontinued, the program in nursing was transferred to the Medical School and organized as the Department of Nursing Education. Two-year preparatory curricula for the basic degree curriculum were established both at the University at Eugene and the State College at Corvallis. Until 1936 degree students received their clinical training in Portland hospital schools approved by the department; in that year the professional program was centered in the hospitals and clinics of the University of Oregon Medical School.

In 1943, as war measures, a diploma curriculum to which high-school graduates were admitted was established, and the degree curriculum was accelerated for completion in four years, including four terms of preparatory work. Both programs were approved by the U. S. Public Health Service, and students became members of the U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps. In 1945 the preprofessional curriculum was increased to a minimum of five terms.
BUILDINGS

Most of the undergraduate and graduate nursing classes are held in the Medical Science Building, Mackenzie Hall, and the Medical School Library. Clinical facilities include the Doernbecher Memorial Hospital for Children, Multnomah Hospital, University State Tuberculosis Hospital, and the Outpatient Clinic.

LIBRARY

The library of the Department of Nursing Education is a part of the University of Oregon Medical School Library. The librarian gives each entering class an introductory lecture on its facilities.

STUDENT HOUSING

Three residences are provided for students enrolled in the Department of Nursing Education. A residence at 840 S. W. Gaines Road has a limited number of rooms available for students in advanced professional curricula, at the rate of $20.00 a month for a double room and $25.00 a month for a single room.

SCHOLARSHIPS, LOANS, AND PRIZES

The Oregon State Board of Higher Education awards, annually, a limited number of scholarships to students in the institutions of the State System who rank high in scholastic attainment and who need financial assistance. These scholarships cover tuition, laboratory, and course fees. Recipients must pay the building fee, evaluation fee, and special fees. Application should be made to the registrar of the institution where the student is taking the preprofessional curriculum or, if the student is enrolled in the professional curriculum, to the director of the Department of Nursing Education.

Scholarships are also made available through the Oregon Federation of Women's Clubs, the "40 and 8" of the American Legion, the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Women of the Moose, the Oregon Mothers of the University of Oregon, the Portland Mothers of Oregon State College, and other groups.

The Alumni Association awards prizes of $15.00, $10.00, and $5.00 to three senior students achieving the highest scholastic standing. Awards are made by a joint committee representing the alumnae and administration of the Department of Nursing Education.

A loan fund bequeathed by the late Mrs. Fannie Frank is available to graduate nurses enrolled in the public health nursing curriculum. Applications should be made to the director of the Department of Nursing Education.

Graduate nurses may also qualify for scholarships and loans from the national nursing organizations.

The Oregon State Nurses' Association and the Oregon State Organization for Public Health Nursing have loan funds available for graduate nurses. Application should be made at the State Nurses' headquarters.

A limited amount of money is available, under a provision of the Social Security Act, for the financial assistance of graduate nurses enrolled for advanced study in the field of public health nursing, in preparation for work in this field in the state of Oregon. Application should be made to the director of the Public Health Nursing Division of the Oregon State Board of Health.

The W. K. Kellogg Foundation Loan Fund is available to students who need financial assistance for the study of nursing. Loans are made upon the recommendation of the director of the Department of Nursing Education. The maximum loan is $300 in any one year.
HEALTH PROGRAM

Before admission to any of the nursing curricula, students are required to have health examinations, including a tuberculin test, by their family physicians. Immunization against smallpox, diphtheria, and typhoid fever and the completion of all necessary dental work are also required before admission. All students in the basic curriculum receive an annual routine physical examination, including an orthopaedic examination and an X-ray of the chest. Students with negative tuberculin reactions are retested every six months; those with positive reactions are given chest X-rays twice a year.

A daily health clinic is held. In case of illness, students in the basic curriculum may be hospitalized for a limited period without charge. Students are allowed fourteen days of absence for illness during the professional training period without being required to make up the time lost. Sick leave is computed on the basis of time allotment in each clinical area.

Students in the advanced curricula are eligible for benefits under the student health service program of the Medical School.

GRADING SYSTEM

The grading system consists of four passing grades, A, B, C, and D; failure, F; incomplete, Inc; withdrawn, W. A denotes exceptional accomplishment; B, superior; C, average; D, inferior. When the quality of the work is satisfactory, but the course has not been completed for reasons acceptable to the instructor, a report of Inc may be made and additional time granted. If an Inc is not removed within a year, it automatically becomes an F. A student may withdraw from a course only with the approval of the department. A student who discontinues attendance without official withdrawal receives a grade of F in the course.

SCHOLARSHIP REQUIREMENTS

Students in the Department of Nursing Education are required to maintain a grade average of C or better throughout the curriculum. Students receiving a grade average below C in any term will be placed on probation for the following term. Students receiving a grade average below C for two successive terms will be disqualified for further work in the department. Students receiving a grade of F in any course must repeat the course; but a student will be permitted to repeat a course only if her grade average is C or above.

The faculty of the department reserves the right to request the withdrawal of students who, in the judgment of the faculty, are unsuited for the nursing profession—or, in the case of the advanced professional curricula, lack the requisite aptitude for work in their special field.

Basic Curricula in Nursing Education

The Department of Nursing Education offers a four-year curriculum leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science, and a three-year curriculum leading to a diploma. Both curricula prepare the student for state examinations for nurse registration.

Degree Curriculum. The student in the four-year degree curriculum takes the first five terms of her work at the University of Oregon in Eugene, at Oregon State College in Corvallis, or at another accredited college or university. This work is followed by eleven terms in the Department of Nursing Education on the campus of the University of Oregon Medical School in Portland. The work in Portland is coordinated with clinical education in the University of Oregon Medical School hospitals and clinics.

Students in nursing receive their degrees from the University of Oregon, with the exception that students who take the first five terms at Oregon State College receive their degrees from the latter institution.

A student seeking admission to the professional curriculum should: (1) send to the Department of Nursing Education an official transcript of her college record, with a $5.00 evaluation fee; (2) file an application (together with report of pre-entrance physical and dental examinations) on forms provided by the department, at least three months before the date of admission; (3) take the nursing-aptitude test given by the National League of Nursing Education, unless excused by the Committee on Admissions. The Committee on Admissions selects students on the basis of scholarship and personal qualifications for the nursing profession.

A limited number of transfer students may be accepted upon the recommendation of the Committee on Admissions. Approval of transfer must also be obtained from the Oregon State Board for Examination and Registration of Nurses. A three-month period of orientation in clinical experience is required in the hospitals and clinics. No time allowance or academic credit is given for this orientation period.

Diploma Curriculum. As a war emergency measure, the Department of Nursing Education instituted a three-year curriculum in nursing leading to a diploma as a graduate nurse. It is not anticipated that this curriculum will be maintained as a permanent part of the program of the Department of Nursing Education. The class work is in no way related to the degree curriculum until the student begins her clinical experience in the specialties in the hospital units of the University of Oregon Medical School. Students in this curriculum may earn 45 term hours of credit toward a Bachelor of Science degree with a major in nursing education.

A student seeking admission to the diploma curriculum must: (1) be 18 years of age; (2) be a high-school graduate and rank in scholarship in the upper third of her graduating class; (3) send to the Department of Nursing Education an official transcript of her high-school record with a $5.00 evaluation fee; (4) file an application (together with report of pre-entrance physical and dental examinations) on forms provided by the department, at least three months before the admission date; (5) take the nursing-aptitude test given by the National League of Nursing Education, unless excused by the Committee on Admissions. The Committee on admissions selects students on the basis of scholarship and personal qualifications for the nursing profession. Preference is given to applicants who have had chemistry and mathematics in high school.

Every student has one full day each week off duty and one full day off for all holidays. Clinical experience begins in the second term at the Medical School. The teaching units in which clinical experience is received are as follows:

Multnomah Hospital, a general 275-bed hospital for adults and a teaching unit for both medical students and students in nursing. In this unit, students receive experience in medical nursing, surgical nursing, operating-room technique, diet kitchen, and obstetrics. Affiliate hospitals are used for additional obstetrical experience.

Doernbecher Memorial Hospital, a 63-bed hospital for children. The students receive three months' experience in the care of acutely ill children in this unit.

The University State Tuberculosis Hospital, devoted to the care of patients with tuberculosis. The unit has an 80-bed capacity and a large outpatient department which provides both medical and surgical facilities for teaching. Students receive six weeks’ experience in this unit.

The Outpatient Clinic, affording teaching facilities in all branches of medicine. Students receive six weeks' experience in this unit, with field trips to various community health and social agencies.
Advanced Professional Curricula

THE Department of Nursing Education offers advanced professional curricula for graduate nurses in the following special fields: public health nursing, ward administration, teaching and supervision, and teaching nursing arts. The curricula are open to graduates of accredited schools of nursing. Credits earned may be applied toward a baccalaureate degree from the University of Oregon or Oregon State College.

In special cases, variations in the curricula listed below may be allowed, with the approval of the director of the Department of Nursing Education and the dean of the Medical School.

Only the professional courses are offered on the Medical School campus. Non-professional courses may be taken at any accredited college or university.

An opportunity is provided for students who have not had tuberculosis nursing to receive six weeks of theory and supervised clinical experience in the field at the University State Tuberculosis Hospital. Credit for this work (3 term hours) may be counted as elective credit in any of the several advanced curricula.

Admission Requirements. Students are admitted at the beginning of the fall and spring terms of each year. Completion of a well-rounded basic curriculum in nursing is a prerequisite to all programs. A maximum of 45 term hours of credit for work in this basic curriculum may be applied toward the Bachelor of Science degree.

Applicants must have completed 3 term hours of work in each of the following fields before admission to the professional curricula: English composition, general psychology, and general sociology. Special students who have not completed these courses may, however, be admitted to professional courses with the consent of the course director.

Students seeking admission to the advanced curricula should: (1) file an application (together with a record of physical examination) on forms provided by the Department of Nursing Education, and (2) send to the Department official transcripts of high-school, college, and school-of-nursing records, with a $5.00 evaluation fee. The Committee on Admissions selects students on the basis of scholarship and personal qualifications for the nursing profession.

All students take the National League of Nursing Education information test, which is given during registration week of the fall and spring terms. Cost of this test is $4.00. The test must be taken before the student has completed 15 term hours on the Medical School campus.

Degree Requirements. To qualify for a Bachelor of Science degree with a major in nursing education, a student must complete a total of 186 term hours of college work. In addition to professional studies on the Medical School campus, the student's program must include 82 term hours of work in the liberal arts.

The following courses are required: English composition, 9 hours; general psychology, 6 hours; general sociology, 9 hours; zoology or chemistry, 9-12 hours. Recommended liberal-arts courses are: history economics, literature, public speaking and anthropology. For detailed information see the University of Oregon Catalog.

CURRICULUM IN PUBLIC HEALTH NURSING

The curriculum in public health nursing is planned to prepare graduate professional nurses for first-level positions in this field. It is one of the programs approved by the National Organization for Public Health Nursing. The program satisfies major requirements for a Bachelor of Science degree. With the prerequisites it also constitutes the approved program of study in public health nursing specified for employment under merit systems.
DEPARTMENT OF NURSING EDUCATION

A maximum of 12 term hours of credit for professional training in public health nursing taken in another school may be transferred: (1) if evidence is presented that courses for which credit has been earned satisfy specific course requirements in the curriculum in public health nursing of the Department of Nursing Education and will fit into this curriculum as an integral part; and (2) if the courses for which credit has been earned have been completed within a period of three years, and the student has been engaged, in the meantime, in work in the field of public health nursing which has kept her informed concerning developments in the field.

It is highly desirable that the entire professional curriculum be completed without interruption. If the work is not completed within a three-year period, an application for readmission must be submitted, and the student must satisfy all course requirements in effect at the time of readmission.

Four months of field experience are included in the public health curriculum. The specific character of the field experience is determined in the light of the student's individual background and needs. Field experience is planned in cooperation with the Oregon State Board of Health, the Portland City Bureau of Health, the Visiting Nurse Association, and county boards of health.

The student must furnish her uniforms during the four-month field period. Field experience will be more valuable for the student if she has the use of an automobile.

CURRICULA IN WARD ADMINISTRATION, SUPERVISION, AND TEACHING

The primary aim of these curricula is the preparation of graduate nurses for positions of responsibility in administration, supervision, and teaching. The three programs have a common core of courses, dealing with the principles and philosophy of nursing education. The special activities and problems of each field are dealt with in a differentiated group of courses, including supervised field practice. The student selects the particular medical field in which she wishes to work. The common core of courses included in the three curricula includes:

1-99. Courses in the first two years of a foreign language, or other courses of similar grade.
100-110, 200-210. Survey or foundation courses that satisfy the lower-division group requirements in the Language and Literature, Science, and Social Science groups.
111-199. Other courses offered at first-year level.
211-299. Other courses offered at second-year level.
300-399. Upper-division courses.
400-499. Upper-division courses primarily for seniors.
500-599. Courses primarily for graduate students, but to which seniors of superior scholastic achievement may be admitted on approval of instructor and department head concerned.

Certain number are reserved for courses that may be taken through successive terms under the same course number, credit being granted according to the amount of acceptable work done. These course numbers are as follows:
