Background:
Nursing Informatics Competencies

- Governing agencies require

  - Basic computer skills

  - Clinical information management

  - Information literacy

Harnessing the LMS

- Advantages of using an LMS for IL instruction

- How an LMS supports interdisciplinary collaboration

- How we moved IL instruction to an online environment

Learning Management Systems

Challenges of Traditional IL instruction

- "One Shot" instruction vs. "Point of Need" instruction

- How-to vs. Conceptualization

- Integrating into existing courses - time constraint

Leveraging the LMS

- Self-paced

- Multiple styles of learning

- Makes face-to-face time more effective

- Reusable content breaks down time barrier

- Enables collaboration

LMS Fosters Collaboration :
Librarian Perspective

- Access entire course curriculum

- Give and grade own assignments/assessments

- Add content to course

- Communicate with students directly
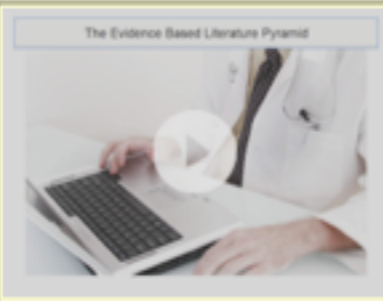

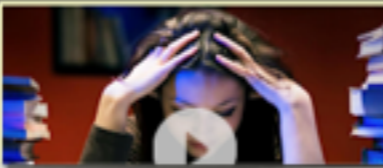

Learning Module II:

What kind of information do you use for EBP?

By the end of this module you will be able to:

- Distinguish between primary and secondary sources as well as scholarly vs. popular.
- Recognize the relationship between currency and relevance of resources.
- Recognize similarities between source types, tools, and resources and be able to apply skills learned from familiar resources to unfamiliar ones.

Instructions: View the following. When you feel you have grasped the concepts above, take the quiz associated with this module.

The Evidence Based Literature Pyramid		Watch this tutorial on the kinds of information and resources used in EBP.

LMS Fosters Collaboration :
Faculty Perspective

- Enriches course content

- Reduces content development time

- Direct connection with library resources

- Second opinion

Samples of Delivering IL Content Online

- Tutorials: Adobe Captivate

- Connecting: Chat Widget

- Support: Adobe Connect

- Assessment: Quizzes
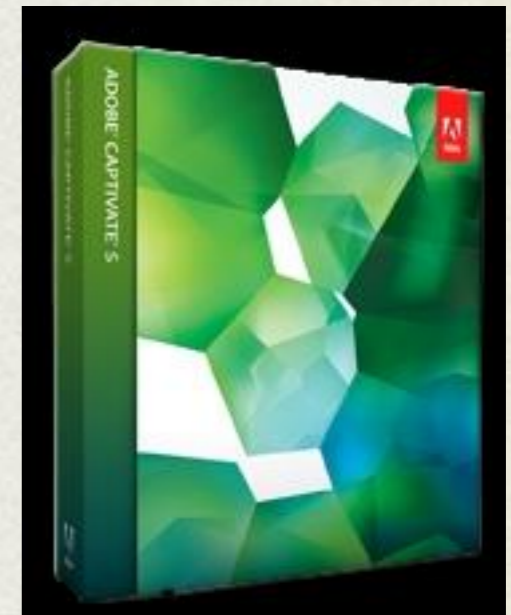

Integrating into Curriculum

- Mapped IL competencies throughout curriculum

- Task examples for level of student (1st, 2nd, 3rd year)

- Thirteen courses, varying capacity
