Campus Views on News

The question that is uppermost in many Americans' minds today is: will Eisenhowe be a candidate to succeed himself. At the time of this writing the growing testimony from a variety of persons including some of the Eisenhorse's high officials is that the President is not interested in the GFC quartet. If it is true that President stands for his own election, then he is the only choice for the American people. If he is not, then it is the duty of the American people to vote for a candidate who is interested in the GFC quartet.
Dead Man Holds Up Mail Coach
By Dick Logan

Hey, where’s the mail? There’s been no mail all day. This is what you would have heard if you had been around the student residence hall at George Fox College from February 22, 1966. Why? Because it was George Washington’s birthday and mail was not delivered.

You remember George, don’t you? He was the first president of the United States. He was out playing one day with the neighborhood gang when one of them suggested that they chop down the Washington family cherry tree. Then, some wise guy suggested that they “Let George do it,” and he did.

The story doesn’t end here—he is our first president. It tells us to be honest,忠心, and work hard. Every time he has been completely honest, we have prospered.

To be serious, we should be proud of our leaders. It is one thing to witness to a religious experience but it is another thing to witness to the ministry. Paul wrote to the Romans, “That Christ may be all in all.” We should be setting an example and witnessing to the ministry.

Looking back at the past, we have had many great leaders. They have ministered to us in different ways. Some have ministered in the classroom, some have ministered in the pulpit, and some have ministered in the community.

We feel that the Bruin tradition should be remembered. It is a rich tradition with many leaders. We should be proud of our leaders and continue to remember them.

We Thank You for a Job Well Done.

Forward and Upward

With the new semester begun and two wonderful weeks of Emphasis Week behind us, we are once again settling down into the routine of college life and activities. New students have a part of our campus, and we are accustomed to new class and dining hall schedules.

We must remember that our campus is not just a place to learn. It is a place to make a difference. We must be part of the Bruin tradition and continue to make a difference.

For example, we must continue to witness to the ministry. We must continue to be honest,忠心, and hardworking. We must continue to remember the Bruin tradition and continue to make a difference.

Breakfast Bugle

By Paul Morse

Did you ever stop to think which hand you hold your tooth brush in? Or are you still to asleep at 6:00 in the morning? It is a strange but true fact that we have many ways of holding a brush and doing things that are so common that we do not think about them.

Many people have a problem with their tooth brush. They often hold their tooth brush the wrong way. They hold it with the wrong hand. They hold it in the wrong position. They hold it too hard or too soft. They hold it too far back or too far forward.

I appreciate the privilege of writing for you and I am especially thankful for the opportunity to minister to the students of George Fox College.

Paul Morse

Through his high school years he was involved in various clubs and the student council. He had a part in the sophomore, junior, and senior class and all school assemblies.

At Greenleaf, Paul lettered in football, baseball, and basketball. Here at GFC, he has lettered in football and he has been a consistent”, “point-getter” for the “JVs” in basketball.

Paul hopes to be a minister in high school, class, and junior-high school and to be a senior in his junior year and president of the student body in his senior year.

We Thank You for a Job Well Done.

Cupid Strikes Again

After the Valentine’s Parade on February 5, the result of Cupid’s work was revealed on the campus by the finger of Joan DeZelig seeing her em- brace the finger of Dick Logan.

Joan has returned to George Fox this year to finish her senior year of high school. She will graduate in May. She and Dick have been seeing each other at 7:12. We will not attempt to describe the events leading up to this defense by this person’s tooth brush.

Perhaps the most common tooth brush is the one who gets up for breakfast.

Hanging Investigated

The tapestry hanging outside the office door in Wood-Mar Hall stands studded with holes. It is a copy, but it is an original. The original was painted in the 15th century, and it was burned in the 15th century. It was presented to Henry VII of England in 1506. It was given to George Fox by the Duke of Edinburgh.

The tapestry does not lie in its physical history, but in the motto it enthralls: “The memory of our people may perish and never be forgotten.”
Mary Tao Tells Of Formosan Church

Mary Tao

Christianity in Formosa has spread throughout that country in very recent years, which is evidenced by the fact that many churches are being built there now than ever before. The work done by missionaries and the hunger for a better way of life have made the people of Formosa turn to Christianity.

In order to tell you more about Christianity in Formosa, I will tell you about my own church. It is the Evangelio China Fellowship church in Taichung, Taiwan, with a membership of about three hundred families.

The members of the church take their belief in Christ seriously and are always trying to bring others to know God. They are very hard-working people. The church service in Formosa is very similar to your services here in America.

Special meetings are held whenever speakers come from other countries or churches. The doors of our church are open always, and there is much fellowship and visiting between the different churches.

Emphasis is placed on personal evangelism so that Christians are friendly not only to each other, but also to those who do not know the Lord, always advising them to come to church and to put their trust in God.

Every Thursday afternoon from two o’clock until four, we have “family worship” in which the brother and sister (members) of our church gather in private homes for neighborhood prayer meetings. Both Christians and non-Christians are welcome, and in those meetings many of our people find the Lord.

My church youth group, which meets every Sunday evening, was very good for me. The members include students from high schools, colleges and universities, and also soldiers and working people. This group makes up the choir which sings in the church service on Sunday mornings, and the Sunday school teachers are young people also. We are very active in our church and enjoy working for God.

The flame of our group translated to English means: “Think of the grace God gave us”. Since every church is a youth group, sometimes we all worship together, which is very inspiring.

In the spring and summer we have special meetings similar to your summer Bible conferences held for a few days in places of scenic beauty. There we have worship, fellowship and recreation. Our theme song is Psalm 103.

We also use eight cards on which are written songs which we call “Bible Golden Words” which we are to memorize. The worship services here have to do with God, and at these special meetings we also make Christian friends.

It is my hope that you will pray for my church and youth group that they will bring many more of my people to know Christ.

Quakerettes Revel in Basketball Schedule

- February 26—Portland university, here,
- March 2—Reed college, there.

They are also expecting return games for this schedule.

MEDICS WIN

The seemingly empty stands began to buzz; then crafty Rolly Hartley, all-confidence guard for the GPC, stole the ball and raced the length of the floor and effortlessly, tossed the ball through the net. The walls echoed the sound as everyone noticed that the score was 110 and we hope it will be raised.

As for our hustling club, we have one of the best rounds first seven ever to play for GPC. Any of them are capable of being high point man, although some are more consistent than others. The varsity's offensive average for total games is 67.3. For league play, a respectable 71.3 per game. As for the defensive, our average 31.7 for league, 12.8 for all games, near that of the nation's leading defensive team, San Diego Does, which has an average of 31 per game.

On other basketball fronts, these San Francisco Dons stretched their conservative winning streak to 46. No relief is in sight for their opponents. Rebounding was the only sound that startled all the girls playing rook in the girls' room, when Miss Carlene Richardson (supposedly intended of cheering their heroes on to victory). Anyway, the new school record is now 210 and we hope it will be raised.
