HONORARY DOCTOR OF HUMANE LETTERS

The Honorary Doctor of Humane Letters is Virginia Commonwealth University's highest form of recognition. Awarded by the President at Commencement, it recognizes the Commencement speaker as well as others who have made outstanding contributions to society through scholarship, humanitarianism, science, art, and public service.

The Honorable James S. Gilmore, III

Commencement Speaker

Governor Jim Gilmore was born and raised in Richmond. He graduated from the University of Virginia and went on to serve in the Army in West Germany, where he was awarded the Joint Service Commendation Medal. After his Army tour was completed, Governor Gilmore returned to Virginia and earned a law degree at the University of Virginia Law School.

After graduation, Governor Gilmore returned to the Richmond area with his wife Roxane, where they raised two sons, Jay, now 15, and Ashton, 11. The Gilmores are members of River Road Methodist Church, located in Richmond.

After a decade of civic and community involvement as an attorney and small businessman, Jim Gilmore was elected in 1987 as Commonwealth's Attorney for Henrico County. He was overwhelmingly reelected in 1991. Two years later, he was elected Attorney General of Virginia, where he achieved real accomplishments in the areas of education, consumer protection, public safety, and the environment. In November of 1997, he was elected to the state's highest office on the promise of cutting taxes and raising the quality of education for all Virginians.

In the first year-and-a-half of his administration, Governor Gilmore has enacted the largest tax cut in Virginia's history and won approval of a 20-percent tuition cut at Virginia's colleges and universities. He fought for higher-quality education for public school students by implementing the nationally acclaimed Standards of Learning and fulfilling the state's longstanding promise to return lottery profits to localities for education. He continues to press for reducing class sizes in Virginia's classrooms by hiring 4,000 new teachers.

Governor Gilmore has begun major improvements in Virginia's long-neglected mental health system in keeping with his promise not to leave anyone behind as we move into the next millenium. He has also taken groundbreaking measures to ensure that Virginia is a global leader in the information technology industry and has cemented Virginia's status as the Internet Capital of the world.

Governor Gilmore created the nation's first-ever State Secretary of Technology, serves on the Technology Committee of the National Governors' Association, and has been named Chairman of a new, national Advisory Commission on Internet Policy.

Lord Butterfield

Professor William John Hughes Butterfield, Lord Butterfield of Stechford, has established a distinguished career in science and medicine over four decades. Now retired from active teaching and medical practice, he continues to conduct diabetes research.

Lord Butterfield studied medicine in 1939 at Oxford University and in 1942 at John Hopkins University. In the late 1940s, he joined the Royal Army Medical Corps where he led a biomedical research laboratory for the Scientific Advisor to the Army Council.

From 1950 to 1952, while on leave from the Medical Research Council of Britain, Lord Butterfield worked with Dr. Everett I. Evans, an internationally recognized burn researcher, and his research team at the Medical College of Virginia. At MCV, Lord Butterfield contributed to pioneering work in new treatments for burns.

Since that time, his career has included numerous academic and research appointments in medicine, which have led to top posts in academic administration in the United Kingdom, including serving as Vice-Chancellor of both Cambridge University and the University of Nottingham.

Daphne Maxwell Reid

Daphne Maxwell Reid recently co-founded New Millennium Studios with her husband actor/writer/producer Tim Reid and two Virginia businessmen. It is the first full-service film studio to be established in Virginia.

A graduate of Northwestern University, Ms. Reid started a modeling career in New York, becoming the first African-American woman to be featured on the cover of Glamour magazine. In 1979, she moved to Los Angeles to develop her acting career.

Ms. Reid's successful career in television includes her most recent roles as Aunt Viv on NBC's hit comedy, "The Fresh Prince of Bel Air;" as Hannah Griffin on the CBS comedy series, "Frank's Place," in which she co-starred with her husband; and as Mickey Dennis on "Snoops" for CBS, again co-starring with Tim Reid.

In addition to her work at New Millennium Studios, Ms. Reid, an accomplished seamstress, was a regular guest co-host on ABC's "Home Show" and has collaborated with the McCall Pattern Company to produce a video and pattern kit called "Suddenly You're Sewing." In 1992, the kit won the prestigious PCM award for the best new product from the home-sewing and craft industry. Ms. Reid also designs a biannual line of patterns for the McCall Pattern Company.

John Randolph Shreves, Jr.

John Randolph Shreves, Jr., is the president of Jefferson-Pilot Communication's television group. He is a graduate of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Mr. Shreves began his career with Jefferson-Pilot in 1969. He has worked with WWBT-12 in Richmond, a Jefferson-Pilot subsidiary, for many years. In 1990, he became vice president and general manager of the station. Under his tenure, WWBT-12 built on its strength as Richmond's top-rated local news station. In May 1998, Mr. Shreves was appointed president of Jefferson-Pilot's television group.

Mr. Shreves has been a major influence in the community. Organizations such as the United Way Services of Greater Richmond and Southside Virginia, the Greater Richmond Chapter of the American Red Cross, Bon Secours of Richmond, the YWCA, the Virginia Home, and the University of Richmond have all benefited from his personal commitment.

Mr. Shreves also has been a strong supporter of Virginia Commonwealth University and has served on many advisory boards, including those for the School of Business, the School of Mass Communications, and, most recently, the Massey Cancer Center. He is committed to VCU's mission and advancement and has been instrumental in advertising the accomplishments of the University and the Children's Miracle Network.

Academic costume worn today at American college exercises derives from the Middle Ages. The oldest universities of northern Europe, such as Paris and Oxford, grew out of church schools, and both faculty and students were regarded in the Middle Ages as a part of the clergy. They wore clerical costumes, largely borrowed from the monastic dress of that day, not just on special occasions but as their regular costume.

The head covering of the academic costume developed from the skull cap worn by the clergy in cold weather to protect their tonsured heads. In the universities, the skull cap acquired a point on top, which evolved into a tassel. The bonnet with tassel is still worn by degree holders of European universities. In America, it has been replaced by the familiar mortar board, which still retains the medieval tassel.

The hood (the medieval caputium) was originally a covering worn over the head in bad weather, otherwise dropped on the shoulders as the monk's cowl. At first it was worn by faculty and students alike, but in the early sixteenth century it was restricted to graduates, thus becoming the mark of a degree holder. Today, each college has its distinctive hood lining by which its graduates may be recognized in academic processions. Anyone with a degree from Virginia Commonwealth University may wear a hood showing a black chevron on gold background.

The gown worn today is the medieval robe and seems to have been borrowed from the habit of the Benedictine monks. In the Middle Ages, undergraduates, bachelors, and masters could be distinguished by the simplicity or intricacy of their gowns. The doctor's gown was often furred, which survives today in the ornamentation found on the doctoral gown. Usually the gown is black, but some colleges have colored gowns.

The wide velvet borders extending down the front of the doctoral gown, the velvet bars on the sleeves, and the borders of most hoods are colored according to the scholarly field of the wearer.

Serving as a perpetual symbol of Virginia Commonwealth University, the University Medallion is worn by the President at ceremonial occasions. The Egyptian Building, a historic and architectural landmark on the Medical College of Virginia Campus and the oldest medical education building in the South, is the centerpiece of the medallion. Egyptian hieroglyphics and images surrounding the building stand for medicine, the arts, the home, the community, writing and wisdom, measures and numbers, time, knowledge, and the sciences. These images represent VCU's mission of teaching, research, public service, and patient care.

Due to rigid time requirements, this program must be printed before the final list of degree candidates and final graduation honors status for undergraduate students can be determined. The exclusion of the name of a student is not to be taken as indication of official status as a non-graduate, nor is the inclusion of the name of a student to be taken as certification of official status as a graduate.

Only undergraduate students are eligible for honors designations. These designations do not apply to the degrees received by graduate students.

Virginia Commonwealth University is committed to excellence in teaching and research and their role in public service and patient care. To realize and recognize academic excellence is VCU's highest priority. The University Honors Program was established to help fulfill this objective by meeting the needs of academically talented undergraduate students.

VCU bestows University Honors on graduating students who have attained distinction through impressive achievement in course work as well as other formal and informal educational experiences. To be considered for University Honors, students must complete a rigorous prescribed curriculum and submit an academic dossier that reflects their commitment to learning in the best University tradition. Their petition to graduate with University Honors must be approved by the faculty serving on the University Honors Council.

Phi Kappa Phi is a national honor society founded in 1897. The Virginia Commonwealth University Chapter was established in 1976. The primary objectives of this society are to promote the pursuit of excellence in all fields of higher education and to recognize outstanding achievement by students, faculty and others through election to membership and various awards for distinguished achievement.

Phi Kappa Phi typifies the honor society ideal, characteristic of American higher education, as it exists for the dual purpose of recognizing and honoring those students who attain high scholastic achievements, and encouraging those students who are capable of doing so.

Phi Kappa Phi is unique because it recognizes scholarship in all academic disciplines, and does not restrict its membership to a specific field. Its interest and eligibility are extended across all subjects offered at the modern university and, by so doing, highlights the importance of appreciating and understanding more than a single limited specialty.

VCU

VIRGINIA COMMONWEALTH UNIVERSITY is supported by Virginia to serve the Richmond area, the state, and the nation through teaching, research, service, and patient care.

VCU combines comprehensive undergraduate, graduate, and professional programs with one of the largest academic health centers in the nation. With more than $100 million in annual research funding, VCU is a Carnegie Research-I University, one of only three in Virginia to be ranked in the top category for higher education in the United States.

More than 23,000 students pursue 134 degree programs through the University's ten schools and one college. VCU has a full-time instructional faculty of more than 1,500 who are nationally and internationally recognized for excellence in the humanities, the arts, science, engineering, education, social work, business, and all the health-care professions.

With an annual budget of more than $1 billion and with more than 14,000 employees, VCU is a significant economic enterprise in the Richmond area. Two-thirds of VCU's more than 100,000 alumni also live and work in Virginia.

VCU is in progress with A Strategic Plan for the Future of Virginia Commonwealth University, a long-range planning initiative begun in 1993 and now in its second phase. The goal of the strategic plan is to enhance VCU's national stature as well as its contribution to the community, particularly through collaborative initiatives and partnerships.

One of the University's recent strategic collaborations is the School of Engineering, established with the academic, business, and governmental sectors of Virginia. VCU's engineering school was included in state incentives that attracted the microelectronics industry to Virginia. Motorola, Inc. donated $6.5 million to the Virginia Microelectronics Center at the School of Engineering and named VCU one of its global partnership universities.

VCU also is collaborating with academic, state and local government, and business leaders to develop the Virginia Biotechnology Research Park, which is serving as a catalyst for the biotechnology industry in Virginia. Located next to the Medical College of Virginia Campus, the Research Park will represent more than $500 million in capital investment over 34 acres in downtown Richmond, and provide employment for 2,500-3,000 researchers, scientists, engineers, and technicians.

The MCV Campus includes MCV Hospitals, one of the most comprehensive teaching hospitals in the nation. In 1998, MCV Hospitals was ranked in The Best Hospitals in America and in the annual national study, 100 Hospitals - Benchmarks for Success. In 1996, the Virginia General Assembly passed legislation that established the MCV Hospitals Authority, a change in the hospital's governance and management. This legislation has allowed the teaching hospital to form partnerships with the health-care community, enabling the academic health center to compete more effectively in a rapidly changing marketplace and to enhance the quality of patient care in the Commonwealth.

Congratulations To All!
