

Volume 28, Issue 40

Conference Announcement

SERCI annual congress, 2006

Location : Singapore

Organizers : The Society for Economic Research on Copyright Issues (SERCI)

Major Topics : economics of copyright, fair use, piracy, digital rights management, collective administration of copyright, cultural economics

Conference Dates : 6/29/2006 to 6/29/2006

Submission Deadline : 3/20/2006

Send Submissions To : e-mail attachment to: richard@serci.org

Sponsoring Organizations :

For further information contact :

Web Page : <http://www.serci.org>

The Society for Economic Research on Copyright Issues (SERCI) will hold its 2006 annual congress on June 29th and 30th 2006 in Singapore. The invited guest lecturer for the congress is Prof. Ivan Png. Individual proposals containing papers submitted to the congress should be sent as an e-mail attachment to richard@serci.org, and should be received no later than March 20th. For the submissions process, a detailed abstract of the paper is sufficient. Relevant topics include, but are not limited to, both theoretical and empirical studies on the economic theory of copyright, efficient use of copyright, copyright law and alternatives, causes and effects of piracy, effects of digitalisation on efficient management of information, collective administration of copyright, royalty contract theory, copyright in an international context, the economics of cultural goods and copyright policy. Successful authors will be notified before April 18th, and completed papers will be required before May 16th. The website (www.serci.org) will periodically provide information on the congress.