2011 Information-Based Complexity Young Researcher Award Committee

This annual award is for significant contributions to information-based complexity by a young researcher. The prize consists of $1000 and a plaque which will be awarded at a suitable location. Any researcher who has not reached their 35th birthday by September 30th the year of the award is eligible.

The members of the Award Committee would appreciate nominations. However, a person does not have to be nominated to win the award.

The deadline for nominations for the award is September 30, 2011. Nominations should be sent to Joseph Traub. The award can be for work done in a single year or a number of years. The work can be published in any journal, number of journals, or monographs.
