OBJECTIVES: The current prevalence of Total Hip Replacement (THR) in adult patients with osteoarthritis in the Slovak Republic was examined to determine the frequency of revision surgery. A total of 10,545.600 € has been spent on THR in the Slovak Republic.

METHODS: The current prevalence of THR in adult patients with osteoarthritis in the Slovak Republic was examined to determine the frequency of revision surgery. A total of 10,545.600 € has been spent on THR in the Slovak Republic.

RESULTS: The THR has a great impact on the quality of life (QoL) and the physical ability of the patient. The THR has a great impact on the quality of life (QoL) and the physical ability of the patient. The THR has a great impact on the quality of life (QoL) and the physical ability of the patient. The THR has a great impact on the quality of life (QoL) and the physical ability of the patient. The THR has a great impact on the quality of life (QoL) and the physical ability of the patient.