Reason: We have been contacted by the author to say that he has been contacted directly by the patient he described who has voiced concerns regarding several key points of the case report.

The patient’s concerns are as follows:

1. Patient questioned as to whether he had given consent. He had, but as he is now questioning this I would interpret this as withdrawal of consent.
2. He felt that he was too identifiable from the description of the case to people he had discussed it with.
3. Objections to the use of the term ‘euphoric’.
