Hematopoietic Stem Cell Transplantation
2008 Education Supplement

Letter from the Editor 1 The 2008 Education Supplement on Hematopoietic Stem Cell Transplantation
Marcel R. M. van den Brink

Section I: Graft versus Leukemia 2 The Graft-versus-Leukemia Effect—Breaking the Black Box Open
Stanley R. Riddell
4 GVL against Murine Chronic Phase and Blast Phase CML
Warren Shlomchik
5 Engineering GVL Through T Cell Gene Transfer
Michael C. Jensen

Section II: Amyloidosis 6 Amyloidosis: 2008 BMT Tandem Meetings (February 13-17, San Diego)
Angela Dispenzieri, Giampaolo Merlini, Raymond L. Comenzo

Section III: Cancer Stem Cells 12 Cancer Stem Cells in Hematopoietic Malignancies
Richard J. Jones, Scott A. Armstrong

Section IV: Memory T Cells 17 Memory T Cells
Nelson Chao

Section V: Transplant-Related Complications 23 The Contribution of Endothelial Activation and Injury to End-Organ Toxicity following Allogeneic Hematopoietic Stem Cell Transplantation
Kenneth R. Cooke, Anne Jannin, Vincent Ho

Section VI: Pediatric Cancer 33 Immunotherapy for Pediatric Cancer
Stephan A. Grupp, Michael Verneris, Paul M. Sondel, Laurence J. N. Cooper

Section VII: Alternative Pediatric Donor Sources 44 Alternative Allogeneic Donor Sources for Transplantation for Childhood Diseases: Unrelated Cord Blood and Haploidentical Family Donors
Mitchell S. Cairo, Vanderson Rocha, Eliane Gluckman, Gregory Hale, John Wagner

Section VIII: Pediatric Perspective on Immune Reconstitution and Vaccination 54 Vaccination of Children following Allogeneic Stem Cell Transplantation
Trudy Small

59 Cellular Immune Reconstitution after Haploidentical Transplantation in Children

66 Immune Reconstitution in Children after Unrelated Cord Blood Transplantation
Paul Szabolcs, Donna Niedzwiecki
Section IX: Severe Combined Immunodeficiency Diseases

73 Hematopoietic Stem Cell Transplantation for Severe Combined Immunodeficiency Diseases
Morton J. Cowan, Benedicte Neven, M. Cavazanna-Calvo, A. Fischer, Jennifer Puck

Section X: Late Effects of Transplantation in Children and Adolescents

81 Oral and Dental Late Effects after Pediatric Stem Cell Transplantation
Göran Dablöf

84 Chronic Kidney Disease after Pediatric Hematopoietic Cell Transplant
Sangeeta Hingorani

88 Late Effects following Hematopoietic Cell Transplantation for Children
Göran Dablöf, Sangeeta R. Hingorani, Jean E. Sanders

Section XI: Post-Transplant Immune Reconstitution

94 Clinical Strategies to Enhance Posttransplant Immune Reconstitution
Irwin D. Bernstein, Richard L. Boyd, Marcel R. M. van den Brink

100 Controversies in Lymphoma: The Role of Hematopoietic Cell Transplantation for Mantle Cell Lymphoma and Peripheral T Cell Lymphoma
Peter Dreger, Ginna G. Laport

108 Diffuse Large B Cell Lymphoma: From Gene Expression Profiling to Prediction of Outcome
Izidore S. Lossos

Section XII: Controversies in Lymphoma Therapy

112 Principles and Tools for Selection of Umbilical Cord Blood and Unrelated Adult Donor Grafts
Stephanie J. Lee, Naynesh Kamani, Dennis L. Confer

120 Human Polymorphism and Variable Outcomes of Cancer Chemotherapy and Transplantation
Stella M. Davies, Anne Dickinson, Jeffrey S. Miller

129 Mouse Models of Bone Marrow Transplantation
Pavan Reddy, Robert Negrin, Geoffrey R. Hill

136 T Cell Therapy in Allogeneic Stem Cell Transplantation
J. H. Frederik Falkenburg, Helen E. Heslop, A. John Barrett

142 Chronic Graft-versus-Host Disease: How Can We Release Prometheus?
Takanori Tesibina, Thomas A. Wynn, Robert J. Soiffer, Ken-Ichi Matsuoka, Paul J. Martin

Section XIII: Selecting Donors and Cord Blood Units

151 Human Stem Cells for Tissue Repair
Louisa Wirthlin, David Hess, Ping Zhou, Jan Nolta

Section XIV: Human Polymorphism and the Outcome of Therapy

154 Indications for Hematopoietic Cell Transplantation in Acute Leukemia
Stella M. Davies, Jacob M. Rowe, Frederick R. Appelbaum

Section XV: Mouse Models

165 Graft Failure after Allogeneic Hematopoietic Cell Transplantation
Jonas Mattsson, Olle Ringdén, Rainer Storb
