

Conference 2014 Speaker Series: An Interview with Mark Watts

 blogs.lse.ac.uk/polis/2014/03/31/conference-2014-speaker-series-an-interview-with-mark-watts/

2014-3-31

Mr Watts is the Editor-in-Chief of Exaro and the co-founder of the FOIA Centre, which specialises in 'open-access law' research. He works as a journalist, author and television presenter and previously has worked as a reporter at several national newspapers. He has been responsible for revelations about MI6 lobbying, political party funding and is the author of 'The Fleet Street Sewer Rat'.

Interview by Emma Goodman, Meg Charlton, Asuka Kageura, and Kailey Fuller-Jackson.

We are grateful for the support of the Knight Foundation, the BBC Academy and the European Broadcasting Union, as well as Leuchtturm1917.

- Copyright © 2014 London School of Economics and Political Science